Platform Support Limitations

TIBCO's ability to support some platforms (operating systems / hardware) will be limited due to certain circumstances, for example:

- the platform is no longer supported by the vendor
- the platform is no longer available to purchase
- the platform has no / minimal use
- the platform is no longer strategic to the direction of the product

When cases are logged against platforms with limited support (during standard support or extended support), our investigation will be subject to certain limitations. For up-to-date information regarding these platforms and the associated support limitations, please refer to the following Support Knowledge Articles:

About this document

- This document contains End of Support dates for TIBCO Integration Products – TIBCO ActiveMatrix BusinessWorks and the products that work with Business Works, such as plug-ins and adapters.
 - For end of support information for TIBCO products not listed in this document, please see <http://supportinfo.tibco.com/docs/TIBCOEndofSupportInformation.pdf>
- The End of Support dates listed for the current release of a product are not intended to communicate any plans to retire that product. These dates are intended to let customers know the minimum time that we intend to support the current release. If a release remains the current, supported release, the End of Support date will be extended as appropriate.
- This document generally lists the End of Support information for TIBCO Integration Products. TIBCO components that are required when using certain TIBCO products (e.g. TIBCO Runtime Agent (TRA), TIBCO Designer, TIBCO Administrator) do not have separate End of Support and End of Extended Support dates. If you are entitled to support for a TIBCO product that requires a TIBCO component, support for the required component will be included with the support (or extended support) of the TIBCO product that requires it.
- For end of support information for any integration product version not listed in this document, please contact TIBCO Support.
