I. Executive Summary

The New Mexico Energy, Minerals and Natural Resources Department (EMNRD) protects and conserves the state's natural resources and provides recreational opportunities throughout the state.

The department officially adopted the "Protecting and Promoting New Mexico's Environment Groups, Tribal Communication and Collaboration Policy" on December 18, 2009.

In January 2019, EMNRD began the process of revising its tribal collaboration policy to meet changing times and to address the changed circumstances in many tribal nations.

The revision, completed on August 23, 2019, makes a distinction between consultation (the formal relationship dictated by state and federal law) and collaboration (day-to-day working with tribes). The new policy encourages the latter while elevating the former out of the individual divisions and into the Office of the Secretary.

Fiscal Year 2020 (FY20) included consultations and collaborations with tribes regarding mining permits, oil and gas drilling permits, methane regulation, energy efficiency, renewable energy development, state parks construction projects, and wildland fire training. Additionally, collaborations included technical assistance on forest and watershed health programs and renewable energy programs.

II. Agency Overview & Background

A. Mission Statement

The Energy, Minerals and Natural Resources Department strives to become a national model for an energy and natural resource agency with deep policy expertise, transparent processes, and a cohesive mission that balances conservation and development. The five divisions housed in EMNRD, Energy Conservation and Management, Forestry, State Parks, Oil Conservation, and Mining and Minerals, play a crucial role in managing natural resources for future generations, ensuring responsible development, and expanding renewable energy.

B. Agency Overview

New Mexico Energy, Minerals and Natural Resources Department (herein EMNRD) protects and conserves the state's natural resources and provides recreational opportunities across the state. EMNRD was created in 1987 through a merger between the Natural Resources and Energy and Minerals Departments. The agency contains nearly 500 full-time employees across six divisions.

The Agency is home to five programmatic divisions, one support division, two administratively attached departments, and one affiliated program:

- Energy Conservation and Management Division (ECMD)
  - o WIPP Transportation Safety Program
- State Forestry Division (SFD)
- Mining and Minerals Division (MMD)
- Oil Conservation Division (OCD)
- State Parks Division (SPD)
- Program Support Division
- Administratively attached (not covered by this report)
  - New Mexico Department of Game and Fish
  - Youth Conservation Corps

Energy Conservation and Management Division (ECMD)

ECMD develops and implements effective clean energy programs including renewable energy, energy efficiency and conservation, and alternative transportation and fuels. ECMD promotes environmental and economic sustainability for New Mexico and its citizens. To this purpose, the division provides technical assistance and plans, and administers statutorily required state and federal clean energy programs. The Division also regulates all geothermal activities in the state.

ECMD houses one of EMNRD's affiliated programs, the Waste Isolation Pilot Program (WIPP) Transportation Safety Program. WIPP is a cooperative effort among shipment-corridor states, tribes, local officials, and the United States Department of Energy (DOE). Its goal is the safe and uneventful transport of radioactive materials.

State Forestry Division (SFD)

State Forestry promotes healthy, sustainable forests in New Mexico for the benefit of current and future generations. The Division assists communities by evaluating those most vulnerable to damage from wildfire and forest insect diseases. Additionally, SFD develops management programs and implements mitigation projects to improve the overall health of the state's forests and watersheds.

The Division has statutory authority for wildfire suppression on all non-federal, non-municipal, non-tribal lands (approximately 43.5 million acres), and provides technical assistance to private landowners and tribal nations on forest and watershed management issues. SFD is divided into nine field offices: Bernalillo, Capitan, Chama, Cimarron, Las Vegas, Los Lunas, Silver City, Socorro, and Santa Fe. Additionally, the Division operates the New Mexico Forest and Watershed Health Office in Albuquerque and the Smokey Bear Historical Park in Capitan.

Mining and Minerals Division (MMD)

The Mining and Minerals Division promotes public trust by ensuring the responsible utilization, conservation, reclamation, and safeguarding of lands and resources affected by mining. The division regulates coal and hard rock mining, reclaims abandoned mine lands, and provides public information on mining.

Oil Conservation Division (OCD)

The OCD assures the protection, conservation, management, and responsible development of oil, natural gas, and associated natural resources through dynamic regulation for the benefit of all New Mexicans.

The Division regulates oil and gas production activities, provides a clearing house for production data, permits new wells, establishes rules of operation, and monitors underground injection wells while maintaining a robust and extensive environmental oversight schedule. The OCD has four field offices in Artesia, Aztec, Hobbs, and Santa Fe.

Program Support Division

Helps all other divisions meet their goals and objectives by providing administrative services as well as policy direction and management. Program Support consists of the Office of the Secretary (OFS), Administrative Services Division (ASD), Office of General Counsel (OGC) and Information Technology Office (ITO).

These administrative units provide legal, human resources, fiscal, and information technology support to all EMNRD.

State Parks Division (SPD)

Protects and enhances natural and cultural resources, provides first-class recreational and education facilities and opportunities, and promotes public safety to benefit and enrich the lives of visitors.

Outdoor recreation is a driving force in New Mexico's economy and State Parks is a key player. Connected to communities statewide, New Mexico's 35 state parks are often economic drivers for local businesses, towns and cities. Many rural communities rely upon a state park as a major source of economic development.

State Parks employs dedicated staff to ensure that parks are cared for and preserved to the highest professional standards.

C. Any Department – Specific Tribal Collaboration/Consultation policy your agency might have adopted in addition to STCA (11-18-4.C (1))

EMNRD's tribal consultation policy revision was completed on August 23, 2019, now codified as OFS-139. Appendix A

III. Agency Efforts to Implement Policy (11-18-4.C (1)(3))

A. Describe agency's efforts to communicate, collaborate and consult with tribes as described in your Tribal Collaboration and Communications policy (Division specific efforts to build meaningful dialogue and collaboration with tribes)

Energy Conservation and Management Division (ECMD)

WIPP staff were invited to attend the Tribal Radioactive Materials Transportation Committee (TRMTC) meeting in January 2020 held in Scottsdale, Arizona. Tribes from New Mexico in attendance included staff from Jemez Pueblo, San Ildefonso Pueblo, Tesuque Pueblo and the Navajo Nation. The meeting focused on tribal issues related to radiological and nuclear waste transportation across tribal lands.

WIPP Staff attended a site visit with the DOE-CBFO in July 2019 at Nambe Pueblo, Tesuque Pueblo, San Ildefonso Pueblo, and Pojoaque Pueblo. Discussions included a "road show" with the WIPP truck at one location with all four pueblos. Additionally, ECMD staff encouraged Tesuque Pueblo to participate in a Cooperative Agreement with the DOE regarding WIPP Transportation Safety. The pueblo is now directly funded via a Cooperative Agreement with the DOE-CBFO.

ECMD staff continue to engage with the Indian Affairs Department on climate work:

- ECMD met with Deputy Secretary Nadine Padilla to discuss IAD's role in the Task Force and Climate Action Teams;
- ECMD coordinated with Kalee Salazar and Deputy Padilla to include an Indigenous community representative presentation at the methane Community Impacts Meeting in March;
- IAD designated Eldred Lesansee and Aurora Martinez to serve on the Cultural Heritage and Economic Transition Climate Action Teams, and they have been an integral part of the Action Plan;
- ECMD have also communicated with Eldred about how to better engage Tribal Liaisons in Action Plan work and review, particularly for adaptation and resiliencefocused teams, and how to incorporate tribal governments and communities in longer term stakeholder outreach plans.

• Eldred agreed to join the hiring panel for our Resilience Coordinator position.

ECMD worked with the Policy, Legislative and Communication Bureau Chief of the Indian Affairs Department as part of the competitive application process for the Rocky Mountain Institute eLab Accelerator Program. EMNRD's application was chosen as runner-up to attend but the program was postponed because of COVID-19.

PV on a Pole installations were completed at Nambe Pueblo providing solar energy to two homeowners as a pilot program that could be expanded to provide solar to other tribal community residents. This concept project will continue in FY 2020 to strengthen EMNRD's relationship with the Nambe Pueblo, and provides a demonstration of what could be done at tribal projects in other areas of the state.

The Navajo Nation inquired about the program and promotion of the concept. Unfortunately, the pandemic halted the discussions for installations on Navajo lands.

One off-shoot of this project has been an effort to install PV on a Pole systems in Humboldt County, California. Humboldt County is the home of the Blue Lake Rancheria – a Native reservation. The Humboldt project was moving forward with $75k of funding, but again, the pandemic has curtailed the effort for the moment.

State Forestry Division (SFD)

The Forestry Division, Energy, Minerals and Natural Resources Department worked closely with 16 tribes, nations, or pueblos in fiscal year 2020.

A Tribal Status Report Forms describe the work with each tribe.

Reports in Appendix B include work performed with:

- Jicarilla Apache Nation
- Mescalero Apache Tribe
- Navajo Nation
- Ramah Navajo
- Alamo Navajo
- Pueblo of Isleta
- Pueblo of Jemez
- Pueblo of Sandia
- Pueblo of Santa Clara
- Pueblo of Taos
- Pueblo of Tesuque
- Pueblo of Zuni

The Division had several opportunities to work on various projects impacting Tribes, Pueblos, and Nations as a group. These included:

- Consultation on the Division's update to the 2020 Forest Action Plan with tribal participation and comment included:
  - o Pueblo of Santa Clara
  - Pueblo of Tesuque
  - o Mescalero Apache Tribe
  - o Pueblo of Acoma
  - o Pueblo of Isleta
  - o Pueblo of Jemez
  - o Pueblo of Laguna
  - Pueblo of Nambe
  - o Pueblo of Sandia
  - Pueblo of Santa Ana
- Participation in the East Jemez Mountains Collaborative in April which brought together several interagency partners and tribal organizations to discuss burned area restoration and reforestation strategies and efforts throughout the East Jemez Landscape.
- Outreach to present on collaborative opportunities and partake in a tribally organized Reserved Treaty Rights Lands (RTRL) collaborative group.

Abandoned Mine Lands (AML)

The New Mexico Abandoned Mine Land (AML) Program, and national counterparts, were formed by the passage of the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act (SMCRA) on May 2, 1977 (amended in 2006). This law places a fee on active coal mines that varies depending on whether it is surface-mined coal or underground-mined coal. These monies are placed in a fund, the Abandoned Mine Reclamation Fund, which then finances projects to reclaim coal mines abandoned prior to the enactment of SMCRA. Under certain conditions, abandoned non-coal mines may also be reclaimed.

During FY20, the AML Program received consultation responses from the Pueblo of San Felipe regarding the extent of AML safeguard efforts across the state. Other than completing consultations OSMRE-ACHP-NMSHPO-EMNRD PA, no other project tribal consultations occurred during FY-2020.

Mining Act Reclamation Program (MARP)

The Mining Act Reclamation Program (MARP) was created under the New Mexico Mining Act of 1993 to regulate hard rock mining reclamation activities for all minerals except the exploration and extraction of potash, sand, gravel, caliche, borrow dirt and quarry rock used as aggregate in construction; the exploration and extraction of natural petroleum in a liquid or gaseous state by means of wells or pipes; the development or extraction of coal; the extraction of geothermal resources; smelting, refining, cleaning, preparation, transportation or other off-site operations not conducted on permit areas; or the extraction, processing or disposal of commodities, by product materials or wastes or other activities regulated by the federal Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

During FY20, the MARP program made numerous consultations on a variety of projects. A detailed list can be found in Appendix C.

Oil Conservation Division (OCD)

The Oil Conservation Division consulted and met with tribes and nations regarding the state of the oil and gas industries in New Mexico, specifically within the San Juan Basin and on Jicarilla Apache and Navajo Nation lands. OCD performed joint inspections with representatives from the tribes for inspections, environmental sampling and well testing. OCD also performed oil and gas well testing and notified the Jicarilla Apache Nation prior to testing so they could be present for the testing. Where well integrity issues were identified the OCD worked with the Jicarilla Apache Nation and Jicarilla BIA to address them on a united front with the operator.

The OCD consulted with the Navajo and Jicarilla Apache Nations and the Federal Indian Minerals Office (United States Department of Interior) concerning various environmental releases in which the OCD provided cleanup consultation to both the tribal entities and operators.

State Parks Division (SPD)

Almost all State Parks projects that involve ground-disturbing programmatic activities (maintenance excluded) require consultation with the State Historic Preservation Officer and any tribes that have expressed an interest in a given area (denoted by county). This requirement is based on language in the National Historic Preservation Act (for federal lands) and in our own internal policy (for state lands). Please see Appendix D for SPD projects that were consulted upon in FY20.

The following are current State Park projects for which SPD is consulting with tribes, as of this writing:

- Erosion control project at City of Rocks State Park, Cienega Area
  - This is the second half of an erosion control project at the park. Small check dams were placed in the bottoms of major arroyos and structures were constructed within feeder channels to slow and eventually reverse erosion in the Cienega area of the park. The SPD archaeologists carefully monitored the work to ensure that archaeological and historic sites were not impacted.
- New campground at Coyote Creek State Park
  - An archaeological survey was conducted in 2017 for a large area designated to become a new campground at the park. Seven sites were documented during that survey. In October of 2019 the project was finalized, and SPD entered into consultation with all interested/listed tribes.
- Tree thinning at Hyde Memorial State Park
  - Tree thinning at the park occurs often and is necessary to maintain a healthy forest while also reducing fuels for potential wildfire. Because tree thinning can be a ground disturbing activity, an archaeological survey was required prior to the project beginning. One previously documented historic site and three newly documented historic sites were present within the project area. Recommendations for avoidance were made and SPD began consultation with tribes based on the treatment recommendations for each site.
- Tree Thinning at Coyote Creek State Park
  - Tree thinning at the park occurs often and is necessary to maintain a healthy forest while also reducing fuels for potential wildfire. The area has been surveyed multiple times and SPD marked the boundaries of known archaeological resources for avoidance during the thinning project.
- A proposed solar array at Hyde Memorial State Park
  - O SPD is proposing to install a solar array and associated infrastructure at Hyde Memorial Park (Hyde) in Santa Fe County, New Mexico. It is the intent of SPD to power the entire park with this proposed installation, becoming the first park in the state to be off grid. The need for the array is evident in the history of power failures at the park. The entire area has been recently surveyed, so no new work for this installation was recommended in our consultation.
- Archaeological survey and ethnographic study at Pecos Canyon State Park

- O Prior to the creation of the park, an archaeological and ethnographic study were undertaken. This resulted in the documentation of new historic sites and updating of known historic sites. Ethnographic data were gathered regarding a traditional cultural property in the canyon. Consultation with tribes was a collaborative effort between the Department tribal liaison and the New Mexico Department of Game and Fish tribal liaison.
- O Currently, SPD continues consultation with Jemez Pueblo regarding the use of a traditional cultural property located within the boundary of Pecos Canyon State Park. For example, in the past year, State Park staff and the Department tribal liaison participated in a formal meeting with Jemez tribal government leaders with the Department of Game and Fish to discuss management and operation of Pecos Canyon State Park and tribal concerns. In addition, consultation with the Jicarilla Apache tribe, and San Felipe Pueblo regarding traditional cultural properties in Pecos Canyon continues.
- IV. Current & Planned Programs and Services for Native Communities (11-18-4.C (5))
  - A. Provide a description of current and planned programs and services provided to or directly affecting Native communities and the funding for each program

State Parks Division (SPD)

SPD has historically been a partner with a variety of Native American communities throughout the state. As part of our planning and marketing for the Girl Scouts Love State Parks events in New Mexico this fall, SPD and the Girl Scouts will be specifically reaching out to the large Native American communities near Bluewater Lake State Park to encourage their participation.

The Outdoor Classroom Program (OCP) provides funding for transportation and parkbased educational programming to school districts throughout the state, including those on tribal lands.

B. Main agency accomplishments and challenges regarding work with tribes and Native organizations including significant state-tribal issues, recommendations and/or priorities addressed in FY20.

With regard to project specific tribal consultation, largely EMNRD has not received negative feedback from tribes or pueblos. However, a common challenge found across all divisions is a limited response from tribal governments.

We would like to work more closely with the Indian Affairs Department to augment tribal relationships and help facilitate communication.

C. Goals for fiscal year FY21 relating to tribes and Native organizations.

- Continue successful compliance consultation, and education with tribes as related to all EMNRD programmatic activities.
- Create a focus on Native school districts within SPD and improve their participation in the Outdoor Classroom Program.
- Create a focus on Native communities and increase their visitation to State Parks and participation in park-based outdoor education and recreation.
- Initiate dialog with local tribes regarding the transfer of State Park-owned lands at Manuelito Canyon to the tribe(s). Note: Manuelito Canyon was purchased in the 1930's as part of a plan to create a National Monument. The "checkerboard" nature of land ownership in that area has created difficulties for local Native American landowners who are interested in securing utilities (e.g. electric, water) for their homes across state-owned lands.
- Reach out to tribes and/or pueblos as related to interpretive programs and exhibits in State Parks to ensure that consultation is undertaken in a meaningful way and changes made as recommended.
- Continue to integrate activities under the STCA with federal policies and regulations, and to expand STCA notification to include all federally recognized tribal governments that have an interest in EMNRD activities. This would include those governments within Oklahoma, Colorado, and Arizona.

V. Training & Employee Notification (11-18-4 (4)(6))

A. STCA Training and Certification

The EMNRD policy is designed and implemented to ensure that all EMNRD agency managers and employees who have ongoing communication with tribal government entities complete the training provided by the State Personnel Office. Employees will be trained and certified to promote effective communication and collaboration between State and tribal governments.

Additionally, EMNRD is developing its own training program designed to supplement those offered by the State Personnel Office and the Indian Affairs Department. This training would focus on EMNRD specific situations that could involve Native tribes, nations, and Pueblos.

B. Employee Notification about STCA

To ensure that all employees are aware of EMNRD's policy pursuant to the State-Tribal Collaboration Act the policy is posted on the department's intranet, possible revisions have been discussed with appropriate staff, and shall be incorporated into future new employee trainings.

VII. Relevant Statutes & Mandates

- A. Agency specific and applicable state or federal statutes and mandates.

  (Ex. State Tribal Collaboration Act, Transfer of Water Rights, National Historic Preservation Act, etc.)
- 1) State Parks is required to conduct tribal consultation on a state level through EMNRD as well as its own policy (State Parks Section 9A). State Park's programmatic actions also fall under the New Mexico Cultural Properties Act (NMAC IV, ch. 10). Because State Parks manages federal property and/or receives federal funding, the National Historic Preservation Act

Archaeological Resources Protection Act (ARPA) also apply.

B. A list of any current or pending agreements with tribal nations, the site location

Programmatic agreement between EMNRD, Office of Surface Mining and the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation for all Abandoned Mine Lands (AML) program grants.
