IT'S A WOMAN'S WORLD

Craft articles in abundance are the outstanding feature of the new idea in souvenir shops being exhibited this year at State Fair by the Woman's Program of the State Commerce Department. TAKE-HOME TREASURES is the name of the shop -- and also just what the Woman's Program believes souvenirs should be.

"Our shop is based on the idea that craft articles are -- and can be further developed as -- delightful and useful souvenir items truly representative of the State," Miss Guin Hall, Woman's Program head, explained. "Too many souvenir items now available to travelers are shoddy and meaningless articles sold from New York to California. They have no genuine connection with our State or the area in which they're offered; and the purchaser, when home, soon discards them.

"Good craft articles, on the other hand, typically New York, would be permanent and cherished momentos," she believes.

Handcrafts of all categories are displayed in the TAKE-HOME TREASURES shop: ceramics, woodware, jewelry, weaving, and leather gathered by the Woman's Program staff. Other examples of possible souvenirs were obtained from N.Y.S. industries -- Corning cookware and Steuben Crystal, Revere copper and steel serving and cookware, Syracuse china, and Oneida Community silver and pewter.

A Take-Home Treasure shop should have something for everyone's taste, according to Miss Hall, who says that the shop's layout was planned to make browsing and buying easy. "It has a 'Male Here' section, with masculine items such as gun racks, hand-woven ties, decoys, and men's jewelry," she explained; "a Ladies' Lane' full of pottery, china, glass; a 'Children's Corner' with toys and puzzles; and a 'Christmas Cupboard' crowded with hand-crafted decorations for Christmas." A "Bachelor Uncle Department" is for articles costing more than $10, and another area promotes New York State foods as excellent souvenirs.

Distributed free at the exhibit is a new Woman's Program booklet telling how to start and operate a Take-Home Treasures shop. Miss Hall says the booklet also contains a wealth of ideas for potential shop owners and craftsmen who would like to develop similar "take-home treasures" to sell. She emphasized that New York is "rich agriculturally, historically, architecturally -- and, most of all, in the inventiveness of its people" and pointed out that this forms "an inexhaustible mine of ideas and motifs for craft articles truly indigenous to New York."

The Woman's Program of the State Commerce Department was established in 1945 as a free business advisory service for New York women and has offices at 112 State Street, Albany, and 230 Park Avenue, New York City. Miss Hall is Deputy Commerce Commissioner in charge of the Woman's Program, and Miss Jane H. Todd, its former head, is Special Program Consultant.

ALL ABOUT BABIES

A Public Service of the National Baby Care Council

DOING DIAPERS AT HOME
 By Margaret B. Long
*Supervisor, Home Economics
 Education
 Jacksonville, Florida*

Again we turn to the one individual who more than any other has gained the confidence of today's new mother when it comes to those puzzling little questions about baby. We are, of course, referring to the diaper service routeman or route woman.

That new mothers confide in the man or woman who delivers baby's diapers is mainly because in modern mobile America, most young families live at some distance from their own parents. To meet this unique responsibility, the nation's diaper service industry trains its routemen and route women to answer most questions that are asked about baby, except those that seek medical advice. Here again are some of the questions new mothers ask most often:

Q. Can I tell in advance the color of baby's eyes?

A. There's no way to accurately predict the permanent color. At birth it's usually slate-blue.

Q. When baby sneezes is he getting a cold?

A. Not necessarily. Sneezing is baby's way of cleaning his nose.

Q. How much weight should baby gain a day the first month?

A. It varies but an ounce a day is said to be average.

Q. When will baby be able to roll over?

A. Usually late in the fifth or early in the sixth month.

Q. When may I begin punishing baby for misbehavior?

A. When baby is old enough to know better.

Q. Can diaper rash be prevented?

A. Good diaper hygiene to prevent diaper rash can be practiced simply and surely by diapering baby with correctly processed diapers and following a fastidious diapering routine as long as baby wears diapers.

Q. When will baby be ready for a high chair?

A. Usually in about the sixth month, if he's able to sit without tiring.

Q. When will baby start holding his own bottle?

A. He may make his first attempt to help you hold his bottle at about the age of four months and be able to do it himself at about eight months.

Q. Is there a crawling state?

A. Baby may crawl at about eight months but not all crawl, some walk instead.

Q. How often does a new baby get hungry?

A. On the average, about every three hours.

Q. Must a new baby cry?

A. Crying is baby's way of expressing discomfort.
