Body-fluid analysis could lead to killer

By DONYA CURRIE
Alligator Staff Writer

Blood and semen samples taken from the apartments where five students were stabbed to death could lead police to the killer, a state investigator said Monday.

Those samples are just part of the 500 possible clues being analyzed in a laboratory, said Steve Platt, bureau chief for the Florida Department of Law Enforcement's Jacksonville crime lab.

"We are faced with what could be likened to three very complex puzzles we're trying to piece together one at a time," Platt said Monday. "It's a slow, painstaking effort."

Authorities closed down their investigations in the three apartments over the weekend, returning the homes to the complex managers and personal property to the victims' families, Alachua County Sheriff's spokesman Lt. Spencer Mann said.

As police closed the door on one part of the investigation, UF was beginning to get a handle on the damage done by the wave of fear that rolled through students after the murders.

After an estimate last week put the number of withdrawn students at 100, UF spokesman Larry Humes said Monday that 670 students have left school, many because of the murders.

"We're estimating about 500 students have withdrawn due to the crisis," Humes said. "We're not exactly sure. This is not something we normally look at because it hasn't been a concern. Withdrawal is a normal process."

"We're certainly concerned about them as students," he said. "Some have expressed interest about coming back already."

They're going to be given priority."

Managers at two of the three crime scenes said they hope, like UF, that the healing process will draw students back to the community. The managers said Monday they plan to rent the apartments sometime in the future.

"We're just going to renovate it, everything that needs to be done," said Gatorwood Apartments manager Carol Hyde. UF students Manuel Taboada and Tracy Paules were found murdered in apartment 1203 on Aug. 28.

At Williamsburg Village Apartments, where UF freshmen Sonja Larson and Christina P. Powell were found mutilated Aug. 26, manager Johanna Yarborough said she doesn't know when she will rent apartment 113.

"It's not a good time to be guessing that right now because no one is looking for apartments right now," Yarborough said. "There's got to be work done in there."

The murders have not haunted the complex, Yarborough said, because a tenant moved into the apartment across the hall from the stabbings last week.

The owners of the duplex at 3533 S.W. 24th Ave., the site where police found the body of Christa Hoyt, could not be reached Monday afternoon. Hoyt, a Santa Fe Community College student, was found decapitated in the home Aug. 27.

Within seven hours after the discovery of Hoyt, the third victim to be found, several local and state agencies formed a murder task force and began analyzing evidence, Mann said.

About 20 people are working in the Jacksonville lab with evidence from the three murder scenes,

Faculty evaluate superiors

By DEBBIE CENZIPER
Alligator Staff Writer

About half of UF's faculty members had the rare opportunity last month to grade their bosses on everything from personnel practices to academic attitudes.

The bosses scored well.

Four deans and 40 chairmen in the colleges of Education, Health and Human Performance and Liberal Arts and Sciences, as well as the UF Libraries, all received scores ranging from "average" to "very high."

About 780 faculty members were given the nine-question survey, distributed by UF's chapter of the United Faculty of Florida. Of those, 388 responded to the poll, which supplied instructors with a formalized voice that administrators only offer every few years.

Liberal Arts and Sciences Dean Willard Harrison ranked highest among the four deans when faculty were asked to rate their deans compared to all other administrators they have worked with during the academic year.

Harrison, who has served as dean for more than two years, said he's not paying much attention to the survey because there are "many good people here."

Zoology Department Chairman Frank Nordlie received almost perfect scores from the 15 faculty members in his department who rated him.

Nordlie said his job is to act as spokesman for his department, and he must constantly keep the lines of communication open with faculty. The survey is just "one more piece of information to see whether there's positive feedback," he said.

UFF chapter President Jane Brockmann said the survey was finally a chance for faculty to rate their superiors and suggest improvements in their colleges. The survey is one of the only ways instructors formally can express their opinions, she said.

"There's a lot of faculty who feel they want to say something to their supervisors, and really there was no way they could do that," Brockmann said. "Many faculty feel that administrators should be evaluated and get some feedback from the people they're

Leaders respond to task force's recommendations

By MIKE BRUSCELL
Alligator Staff Writer

Many UF administrators, faculty members and students say they're tired of asking why blacks and Hispanics are not succeeding on campus in numbers proportionate to whites — so they spent Monday morning trying to find answers.

"If we don't serve as the people to give answers, who will?" said UF Quality of Life Task Force Co-Chairman Simon Johnson.

Former interim UF President Robert Bryan created the task force last year to suggest "specific ways the university can enhance (black and Hispanic students') success," according to a report Johnson and co-chairman Gerardo Gonzalez submitted in April to UF President John Lombardi.

About 200 campus leaders, including Lombardi and UF Provost Andrew Sorensen, reviewed the report's 23 recommendations Monday morning in the Reitz Union, UF Student Affairs Vice President Art Sandeen said.

Most of the participants praised the recommendations, but discussed fine tuning specific points within the proposals, such as creating an elective class examining multicultural diversity.

Some defended the original proposal, saying task force members feared students would resent being force-fed information. Others said the racial misconceptions held by many students can only be wiped away by a mandatory course.

"We can start to be a little more sensitive when we're a little more educated," said Margaretha Micha, a director at the International Student Center.

Others, concerned about "preaching to the choir" with a separate course, recommended adding a multi-culture perspective to existing classes in areas such as English and history.

But Sorensen, who moderated the discussion, said each department should choose their own path toward cultural awareness.

"The style President Lombardi and I have is not to issue an edict from Tigert Hall and say 'It will be done,'" Sorensen said.

Another proposal, hiring 10 black and 10 Hispanic faculty members each year until UF employs a number mirroring black and Hispanic populations, met almost unanimous approval. But the support was tempered with concerns of "how" and "when."

—Andrew Sorensen
UF provost

UF's College of Law, whose administration boasts of an increasingly diverse faculty, has the answers, law professor Barry Currier said.

"You just have to decide that's what you're going to do," he said.

And while White Student Union leader Mark Wright told members of the group that setting minority hiring goals boiled down to "a meeting on how to discriminate," history chairman Kermit Hall said the talk was a step toward respecting diversity.

"The time for rhetoric's over," Hall said. "The time for action is now."

Other suggestions during the three-hour meeting included filling a vacant recruiting position with a Hispanic, bilingual candidate. UF Vice Provost Gene Hemp said he was confident such a candidate for the position existed.

Lombardi agreed with Hall's remarks, and

Liberal arts to include new degree

By JOANNA GOLTZMAN
Alligator Writer

If you're interested in how women and men interact socially or how women have made their marks in history, then UF may have the degree for you.

Late last spring, UF added an interdisciplinary degree — composed of courses offered by several departments such as anthropology, English, sociology, and religion — in Women's Studies to its list of academic majors.

The degree, which is open to both men and women, draws from all disciplines in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and offers students a well-rounded liberal arts education, said Linda Wolfe, an anthropology professor and director of the Women's Studies Program.

"With a degree in women's studies, you can do anything anyone else majoring in the liberal arts can do," Wolfe said. "Lines are being broken down between English, anthropology, sociology, and all the other departments. They all run into each other so that you end up with the same set of knowledge as anyone else who majors in liberal arts."

Classes such as Human Sexuality and Culture, Women in Literature and Marriage and Family are just some of the courses required for a degree in Women's Studies, she said. To earn the degree, students must complete 21 hours of course work and 7 hours of thesis after fulfilling their general education requirements.

Previously, students could earn a certificate in Women's Studies, which required 15 hours of approved courses, and had the option of earning the degree by taking an individualized program, Wolfe said. Now, because of the increasing popularity of the program, the WSP formalized the degree's requirements.

"It could have been done at any time," Wolfe said. "This was the right time because more courses are being offered ... because of the increasing number of faculty interested in using gender as a theoretical approach to understanding human nature."

No opener confirmed for Fleetwood Mac concert

By JACK REJTMAN
Alligator Writer

Tickets for the Fleetwood Mac Homecoming kick-off concert go on sale today, even though the group hasn't named an opening band.

Students can buy tickets for $10 at the University Box Office and the general public can buy tickets for $19 at all TicketMaster locations. Tickets, which go on sale at 10 a.m., are limited to four a person.

The pop group Squeeze was scheduled to open the concert, but Student Government Production Chairman Raul Mateu said last week that Fleetwood Mac's booking agent told him Squeeze would not be the opening band.

Fleetwood Mac tour publicist Julie Wheeler said she believed Squeeze will be the opening act, although she didn't have it confirmed.

Booking agent Michael Piranian said he expects to release the name of the opening band sometime this week.

For students standing in line this morning, Kiss 105 is scheduled to provide free coffee and cinnamon rolls at 8 on the Reitz Union Colonnade.

Construction on the colonnade will not interfere with ticket sales.

"Students can enter from the first floor of the Union or they can go up the staircase by the Orange & Brew and enter the south side," Mateu said. "We've posted signs showing where to enter."

Saddam offers Third World free oil

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Iraq's Saddam Hussein, unable to sell his crude oil because of U.N. sanctions, offered Monday to supply Third World countries with oil free of charge, an offer U.S. officials called a transparent attempt to deflect attention from his invasion of Kuwait.

"We declare we are prepared to supply Third World countries with oil free of charge," an Iraqi Information Ministry spokesman said Monday on Iraqi television.

The action — taken a day after President Bush and Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev declared they would work together to pressure Iraq to withdraw itself from Kuwait — was described as an act of solidarity with Third World nations whose economies were being hurt by huge oil prices resulting from the Persian Gulf crisis.

The countries should apply to Iraq, indicating the quantity and type of oil they want, and then should send their own ships to fetch the oil because Iraq would not be able to transport it, a spokesman said.

In Washington, White House press secretary Marlin Fitzwater asserted the U.N. sanctions against Iraq do not "delineate between free exchanges or those paid for" and called Saddam's offer "a transparent attempt to deflect the focus of world attention from his blatant aggression against another country."

"It is an affront to all countries for Saddam to think that they would sacrifice the principles of freedom and non-aggression for the Iraqi oil or the oil that he has taken through his naked aggression against Kuwait," he said.

A Western diplomat in Cairo called the offer "a ploy" by Saddam to win support from poor countries.

But the free-oil offer was welcomed by Jordan, according to the Iraqi news agency INA. It quoted Jordanian Prime Minister Moudar Badran as saying, "The move will foil efforts by some oil companies and oil-producing states to manipulate the situation to harm the economies of the Third World countries."

Meanwhile, the British Foreign Office announced that a joint U.S.-British charter flight on an Iraqi Airways jet is expected to take women and children out of Kuwait and Iraq Wednesday.

Secretary of State James Baker Monday asked foreign ministers of NATO countries meeting in Belgium to step up sanctions against Iraq and to send ground troops to the gulf to bolster the multinational force gathered to counter Iraqi aggression.

New AIDS drug gets wider release

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The free distribution of the promising AIDS drug DDC is being widened to include possibly thousands more patients, a drug company announced Monday.

In June, the Food and Drug Administration gave Hoffmann-La Roche Inc. of Nutley, N.J., permission to provide DDC to AIDS patients who cannot take the two currently available drugs to combat the AIDS virus. Those drugs are AZT, the only fully approved AIDS-fighting drug, and DDI, an experimental drug already offered through a similar expanded-access program.

About 100 people with AIDS or advanced AIDS-related complex have been receiving DDC through that route, and another 1,000 patients are taking the drug in the more strictly monitored tests required for government drug approval, said Paul Oestreicher, a Hoffmann-La Roche spokesman.

Now, the drug maker is dropping the requirement that a doctor must demonstrate that a patient cannot take DDI before being allowed to start DDC. That move will likely increase the number of patients in the expanded-access program.

"It could potentially be thousands more," Oestreicher said.

So far, the most serious side effect of DDC has been pain in the nerves of the feet and hands. About 10 percent of patients eventually have to stop therapy because of side effects, Oestreicher said.

DDI can cause similar pain, but also poses the risk of potentially life-threatening inflammation of the pancreas. The side effects associated with AZT include bone marrow suppression and anemia, and more than one-third of patients have to stop treatment due to side effects.

The distribution of DDC is considered a model for the "parallel track" system of testing AIDS drugs proposed by the government in May.

Under the plan, which is not yet final, some experimental AIDS drugs would be provided to AIDS patients who have no other treatment options, but who cannot take part in traditional drug tests for medical or travel reasons. A second track would consist of more strictly monitored tests.

Shuttle prepared for launch next week

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Engineers replaced three suspect fuel pumps aboard the grounded shuttle Columbia Monday, presumably eliminating a hydrogen leak and clearing the way for yet another launch attempt next week, officials said.

On nearby launch pad 39B, meanwhile, a two-day practice countdown began Monday for the shuttle Discovery, with engineers recommending the ship be launched as is around Oct. 5, despite a slow leak in a critical cooling system.

While Discovery's mission to launch the European Ulysses solar probe is NASA's highest priority, agency managers are especially eager to get Columbia off the pad and into orbit around Sept. 17 to end a four-month launch hiatus.

Columbia's seven-man crew was grounded last week when sensors detected hydrogen gas leaking into the ship's engine room the night before liftoff. Engineers believe the leak came from a package of small pumps used to keep hydrogen circulating through critical engine systems before launch.

The suspect pumps were removed over the weekend and replaced with a spare package.

While initial tests on the original pumps failed to duplicate the leak blamed for grounding the spaceship last week, NASA officials were optimistic that more extensive checks at the Johnson Space Center in Houston would resolve the issue once and for all.

"They didn't find a thing," NASA spokeswoman Lisa Malone said of tests on the original pumps. "We shipped it out last night. The new one is in, it's been bolted down and we're making the final connections."

If all goes well, Columbia's oft-interrupted countdown could resume at 1 a.m. EDT Friday for a launch attempt at 1:27 a.m. Sept. 17, more than three months behind schedule because of repeated fuel leaks and trouble with an on-board telescope.

The Air Force, meanwhile, is believed to be gearing up to launch a powerful unmanned Titan 4 rocket from the Cape Canaveral Air Force Station. Launch had been scheduled for around Sept. 17, but whether the flight might be moved up a few days or delayed until after Columbia's flight was not immediately clear.

As for Discovery, launch preparations slipped into high gear Monday with the start of a practice countdown that sets the stage for blastoff next month of the $750 million Ulysses mission.

Engineers decided Monday to recommend that Discovery be cleared for flight as is, without making major repairs to fix a leak in one of the ship's two cooling systems.

Voter drive sets goal to register 1,000 UF students

Deadline for choice in gubernatorial race Oct. 8

By KEVIN DOYLE
Alligator Writer

To help students increase their voice in local politics, Student Government's Community Affairs Cabinet and Florida Blue Key are sponsoring a voter registration drive this week on campus.

UF students who want to vote in the November general election need to register by Oct. 8 to be eligible, Alachua County Supervisor of Elections Buddy Irby said Monday.

Students can register from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. today through Friday at Little, Matherly and Turlington Halls, as well as on the Reitz Union's first floor, said Glenn Shapiro, co-director of the cabinet.

In order to register, students must bring a driver's license and must swear that they are 18 years old or older, Irby said.

Students also must be Alachua County residents, U.S. citizens and not convicted felons. Registering more than once is a felony, he said.

Students who fill out registration cards will receive their cards in the mail, Irby said.

Shapiro said the drive's goal is to register more than the 600 students who registered in the summer.

"I would like to get 1,000 and (Monday) we got 250, which is fantastic," he said.

Shapiro said registering for the upcoming election is important not only because of the gubernatorial race between Lawton Chiles and Gov. Bob Martinez, but because it could help a student win a local election in the future.

"The lack of student turnout has hurt students running in the past," Shapiro said. "Students should register to vote here because we make up a large portion of Gainesville's population and the laws affect all of us."

Earlier this year, former UF and Santa Fe Community College student LaMonte White failed to get his name on the ballot for the U.S. House of Representatives when he could not raise enough student signatures before the qualifying deadline.

Later, White announced his candidacy for the Florida District 23 House seat held by Sid Martin, a Democrat representing Hawthorne. Again, he could not get enough signatures to place his name on the ballot.

DEAR STUDENTS,

Alpha Xi Delta extends condolences to the University of Florida for the losses your community recently experienced. Our sympathy extends to the parents and friends of those young people whose lives were ended so suddenly. Because of circumstances, Alpha Xi Delta, "The New Sorority" has postponed its reconolization rush. The new schedule is as follows:

Sunday, Sept. 16

International Night

3:30 or 5:00 or 6:30 Reitz Union, Rm 363

OPINIONS

All-in-one not for everyone

Students who want to use computers at UF's Center for Instructional Research Computing Activities had better get in line for an all-in-one ID card.

Although many students still haven't purchased the $5 cards, CIRCA is requiring students to show the ID before they can use the 520 computers CIRCA oversees.

CIRCA contends that the new ID cards, complete with name, picture, bar code on front and magnetic strip on back, provide an easier method to check who is using the facilities.

The old method, which used a picture ID and library card, is confusing because operators can't tell if students have paid their fees, a CIRCA official said.

But UF hasn't yet mandated that all students purchase the card, which only debuted this summer.

UF officials hope the card eventually will go beyond its ID capabilities to more advanced uses, such as football ticket pickup and, someday, a vending-machine debit card.

The card soon will be a required purchase for students — maybe even by next semester. But until everyone has to buy the card, a portion of the student body shouldn't be forced to purchase it just so they can have access to UF's computer system.

Too much talk

The only thing we can say about Friday's "Donahue" show is that we wish the seven seconds that the show went off the air could have lasted about 55 minutes longer.

We're not advocating vandalism, but we certainly recognize the spirit behind the unidentified person's act.

The last thing Gainesville needed was a sensationalist talk show full of mistakes being broadcast nationwide.

Phil Donahue said before his show that he wasn't there to use the city's recent murders as entertainment, but to show the rest of the country how well Gainesville is "holding on."

But with one of his guests advocating that a primary way to stay safe is to buy a gun, we'd rather let the country learn about Gainesville's welfare some other way.

We're glad Student Body President Michael Browne, Gainesville Mayor-Commissioner Courtland Collier and Gainesville Police Chief Wayland Clifton — originally scheduled as guests — refused to appear on the show.

Letters Policy

Letters to the editor should not exceed 200 words (about one 8-by-10 page). They should be typed, double-spaced and signed. They should include a typed name, address and telephone number. Names will be withheld if the writer shows just cause. If you have any questions call the editorial page editor at 376-4458.

Haunted by the ghost of Earth Day

I'll be the first one to admit that I had more than my ecologically-sound level of Earth Day hype at the end of last Spring semester. Whether you were here, at another school, or off on a great adventure, I'm sure you didn't miss the environmental parade. More than likely you had enough green to last you a lifetime.

Well, the ghost of Earth Day is back to haunt us. However, this time it has nothing to do with glitz, hype and the national media. Now is the time to determine whether or not it was all worth it.

We stand at the beginning of a new semester. A beginning for all of us freshman, seniors, graduate students and faculty. In the next week or so, consciously or not, we will all make decisions about how we are going to spend the remainder of this semester.

Hopefully, we will all spend some time studying and going to class. Having fun should take out another big chunk of time. The question that remains is: What will happen with the rest of our time?

Some will pursue new world-record Nintendo scores, and others will develop intimate relationships with Days of Our Lives. What will you do?

The whole world played environmental cheerleader last April: GO EARTH! . . . yeah! . . . whoope! Then on April 23 the editorials asked whether it was all worth it. Those of us who planned the activities could not honestly answer. We just went straight into finals, packed up, and went home. The question still hasn't been answered, and the ghost of Earth Day is asking.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Comic strip was not in good taste

Editor: If it was supposed to be funny, I'm not laughing. If it was an attempt at satire, it missed the mark.

If sound editorial judgment had been exercised, I don't believe it would have ever made it to print. I am referring to the Andrew "Dice" Capp comic strip that appeared in The Alligator on Sept. 7.

Women in our society, particularly those on this campus who have endured the tragic events of the past few weeks, don't need any help from Brian Harmon and Craig Baxter in finding reason to be suspicious of the attitudes and actions of the opposite sex.

The portrayal in their comic of a wife-beating alcoholic leaving his battered spouse at home while he goes off to the local pub to spend the rent money with impunity lacked not only humor, but any sense of good taste as well.

Interestingly enough, The Alligator saw fit to run a three-page feature article on date rape in the same issue.

At the top of a list of precautions that potential victims of this all too frequent crime should take was this warning: Don't stay around men who make negative comments and sexist jokes about women. If the women on this campus take this advice to heart, Harmon and Baxter are looking at a very long, lonely winter.

UF should drop suit against A-Plus

Editor: We find UF's suit against A-Plus Notes an outrage. The university should be helping students, instead of trying to take away a very helpful study aid.

A-Plus Notes clarify for students what professors do not. This is very evident in the case of TV replay classes, where students have no opportunity to interject questions.

UF, stop wasting your time and our money on this ridiculous charge, and start focusing on campus lighting or a more efficient procedure for Drop/Add.

A-Plus Notes is a plus. Please leave this worn-out issue alone.

CONSIDER THIS

— Benjamin Pargman

What will you do with your time this semester? What did you do last semester? Whatever it was, did you enjoy it? Are you a better person because of it? Is the world a better place because of what you did last semester?

Our campus, community and planet are full of problems; some environmental, some others. Chances are that you cursed a few of them. Think what you could accomplish this semester, if you focused the time you wasted last semester on just one small project. The entire Fall '90 semester lies ahead of us.

Please don't let the chains of apathy and the power of Nintendo waste your valuable time — you can make a difference on our campus and on our planet.

The Environmental Action Group can help you make the difference. Its first meeting is this afternoon in Turlington Hall Room L005 at 5.

Have a great semester. Learn something, have a good time and if you want to, help change the world.

Benjamin Pargman is president of the Environmental Action Group and promises not to write anything else about Earth Day.

Ghetto helped by extra police

STOP program started to curb high number of burglaries

By MATTHEW SAUER
Alligator Writer

Gainesville police tried to put a STOP to a slew of burglaries in the Student Ghetto last month and may have succeeded, but they say criminals who have laid low because of the recent flurry of police activity in Gainesville could be back in business again.

City commissioners authorized Gainesville police to deploy a Strategic Targeting Offenders Program team in the Ghetto in late August, after apartment landlords in the area complained of a growing crime problem.

Though police records show there were no burglaries in the Ghetto last week, Gainesville police Lt. David Huckstep said that a lull in the predominantly student community could reflect a lack of crime data rather than an actual decrease in crime rates.

Some officers responsible for compiling crime data have been added to the task force investigating the murders of five local college students, Huckstep said, so recent police statistics may not be accurate.

"It could be that the individual committing these crimes just wasn't active during the past week, or it could be we just aren't aware of the crimes," he said.

Police did confirm three burglaries in the area over the weekend, and suspect most of the crimes are the work of one individual, he said.

"We have been targeting the area because of the increased number of burglaries in recent months," Huckstep said. "A STOP team goes in with the intention of catching someone committing a crime. The idea is that if you go in at certain times, then you have a good chance of catching someone."

Huckstep said the STOP team used in the Ghetto is also responsible for patrolling the downtown area and Treehouse Village Apartments, 117 SE 16th Ave., where burglaries also have occurred recently.

STOP teams are an emergency measure, he said, and are not meant as a long-range solution.

"A STOP team jumps from one fire to the next and puts out the fires," he said. "They can be used to deal with fights and brawls, drug activities or anything that requires a squad of officers."

Huckstep said he does have a larger pool of officers available from which to draw STOP volunteers since Tuesday and Thursday training sessions for new police officers were canceled as a result of the recent murder investigations.

A STOP team usually consists of two to four officers for day patrols and four to six for night patrols, he said.

A team used in the Duck Pond neighborhood in northeast Gainesville also included two officers on bicycles.

"STOP teams are a very high-profile unit," he said. "They are made up of very disciplined officers who are proactive and don't need to be supervised. They do interviews, stop possible suspects and actively look for crimes in progress."

Property owners and citizen's groups in the Ghetto have asked city commissioners to add a City Oriented Policing unit to the area.

A COPS unit is similar to a STOP team, but is assigned to a neighborhood or area on a more permanent basis.

"We have been targeting the area because of the increased number of burglaries in recent months."

Fair to familiarize students with city

By KEVIN DOYLE
Alligator Writer

UF students unfamiliar with the city they live in for nine months a year can find out about services available and learn how to get involved in the community today during Getting to Know Gainesville Days.

Today, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on the Reitz Union North Lawn, about 30 groups from Gainesville and Alachua County — ranging from Cox Cable to the Gainesville Chamber of Commerce to the Civitan Regional Blood Center — will have displays informing students about the city they're living in while they attend UF.

The new event, sponsored by Student Government's Community Affairs Cabinet, also will bring Gainesville Regional Utilities, airlines at Gainesville Regional Airport and the Lions Club to campus, Community Affairs Cabinet Co-director Suzanne Rogoff said.

The purpose of the event is to increase students' awareness of the off-campus community and make them become more involved, Rogoff said.

Students also can get information from such city and county agencies as the Downtown Redevelopment Agency, the Alachua County Animal Control Center, the public health unit and the city and county's Parks and Recreation Department, she said.

Alachua County Fire-Rescue will display a fire truck and the Gainesville Police Department will bring a Corvette outfitted with a siren and lights.

Gator Dining Services also will have displays and coupons from Little Caesar's Pizza and I Can't Believe It's Yogurt.

Tonight at 7, members of the city and county commissions will be visiting campus to meet students and then will attend the Student Senate's 7:30 meeting in the Senate room on the Union's third floor.

SG to review election changes

Informal campaigning part of Browne's code amendments

By CARRIE SEGAL
Alligator Writer

Student senators will vote tonight on changes to the election codes that, if passed, will allow candidates running for Student Government positions to announce their intentions as far in advance of the elections as they want.

Senators will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the Reitz Union Room 349 to discuss Student Body President Michael Browne's amendments to the codes that a committee revised this summer.

Browne appointed the committee that worked two months to clarify vague rules and inconsistencies in the codes. But because he didn't have enough time to review the changes, Browne vetoed them and offered his amendments.

including the extended campaigning period.

"Informal campaigning will allow for students to garner support by word of mouth, but they will not be allowed to solicit," Browne said. "But students shouldn't be bothering people (with official campaign materials) running to and from class three months before elections."

Another change Browne wants is to extend formal campaigning time to one and a half weeks, not two and a half weeks — as the committee wanted.

Other minor changes will clarify and define certain words to make the codes more straightforward, he said.

Browne said his changes will be submitted to the Senate in a package deal that will be sponsored by Judiciary Committee Chairman Adam Tanenbaum.

"I don't know how anybody gets through college today without a Macintosh. Sometimes I have so many assignments that I barely have time for sleep. Yet my Macintosh allows me to get my work done on time—without making sacrifices.

"Working on my dissertation and field studies means collecting an incredible amount of information. So jumping from one program to another with ease is imperative, as is quickly making charts and graphs. By enabling me to do these things, Macintosh probably saves me an hour and a half each day.

"Another great thing about the Macintosh is that it makes you feel technically confident. Remember putting toys together when you were a kid? Who reads the directions? Nobody. You look at the picture of the bike and you know exactly what to do. The Macintosh operates the same way. I actually taught a friend to use one in two minutes. "What would my life be like without a Macintosh? Scary."

supervising."

The numerical evaluations were sent to the appropriate deans, chairmen and the Office for Academic Affairs, she said. And confidential, written comments also were distributed, but only to the corresponding deans and chairmen.

The surveys act as a communicative liaison between faculty and their bosses, she said.

"In many colleges, (evaluations) do not involve asking an individual faculty member what they think of their dean," she said.

Vice Provost Gene Hemp said the surveys are just one more piece of information on dean and chairman performance. Colleges conduct their own internal evaluations every few years, five of which were turned in this year, Hemp said.

Nordlie said while the survey is not a "tell-all" evaluation, he puts more emphasis on personnel relations and interactions.

Education Dean David Smith, also a high scorer, said it's important not to let a single survey affect his overall thinking, but he's always pleased when his faculty thinks well of him.

But the survey has limitations because one-third of his department didn't respond, Smith said, and he still must be concerned with their views. Another drawback, he said, is that evaluations sometimes reflect working conditions, not administrators.

Brockmann said the survey will be conducted next year for the other half of UF — business, communications, fine arts and engineering colleges.

SEARCH

Platt said.

Although crime specialists have called the scenes bare, Platt said every criminal leaves behind some kind of clue.

"We're generating information daily, hourly," he said.

Investigators won't say if they have found a potential murder weapon or what evidence they are using from a search of Edward Lewis Humphrey's Gainesville apartment and family home in Indialantic. Humphrey, 18, is one of eight top possible suspects, police said.

Platt said a potential murder weapon, such as a knife, would be put through at least three steps. First, the knife would be checked for traces of skin cells, blood, hair and other fibers. Next, technicians would use chemicals and photography to check for fingerprints. Some evidence also is scanned with a laser to detect faint prints and other particles, he said.

"It's a very time-consuming process," Platt said. "Just the nature and size of the crime scenes (and) the grievous nature of the crimes has made our job difficult."

About 250 clues gleaned from the murder scenes have been completely analyzed, he said.

Police still say they don't know when they'll charge someone with the murders.

"We are not going to make hasty decisions," Mann said. "We are not going to let time dictate the investigation. We have to be right. We cannot be wrong."

be performing at Growl, billed as the nation's largest student-run pep rally, almost one-fourth of the student tickets still remain unsold.

About 5,600 tickets remain of the 22,500 allotted by Blue Key to the stadium ticket office. Students who didn't order tickets through the mail can purchase them for $6 at Gate 13 of Ben Hill Griffin Stadium, Growl ticket director Elizabeth McArthur said.

"Friday is the last day to fill out an order form," she said. "If they are not sold out by then, they will be available Oct. 8th and 9th for $8 as guest tickets."

Blue Key, UF's leadership honorary that organizes Growl, hired comedian Jeff Foxworthy in July to perform at the show. His Southern humor earned him the "1990 Stand-up Comic of the Year" award from nightclub owners and patrons at the American Comedy Awards.

For the first time in UF history, Blue Key gave students the opportunity to buy Growl tickets through the mail along with their football tickets, and the new system has worked well, McArthur said.

"In the past, you would wait all day in the sun with people fainting, and students would feel pressured because they would have to skip class," she said. "But now students are assured a coupon if they fill out a form at the stadium or in the mail."

Under the new system, students enrolled for nine or more hours can purchase tickets any time before Sept. 14.

Students must pick up Growl coupons between Sept. 17-28 and then redeem them for tickets Oct. 8. Guest tickets include unsold tickets and unredeemed coupons.

Applications and coupons for Growl bloc seating, available for all student groups of 12 or more, must be turned in by Oct. 8 and picked up Oct. 11 at Gate 13.

Stadium ticket manager Bill Holloway said ticket sales have been steady and there shouldn't be any problem selling the extra tickets.

"Last week the ticket office was crazy," Holloway said. "It was the busiest I've seen it in a long while."

"More students are signing up for these classes."

About 20 students are enrolled in the certificate program.

In addition to the program, a student group was formed last summer to support the program's continuance, Wolfe said. The group — the Women's Studies Association — will present speakers, films and workshops on women's issues.

The Women's Studies Program was formed in 1979 "to start introducing women to the social sciences and women's history," said Wolfe. "This university was set up by men, for men. The Women's Studies Program balances what has always been an education for men."

pledged UF's commitment to serving all community members.

"One of the best ways to avoid action is to talk too much," Lombardi said during the meeting's closing speech.

But a few more words will be exchanged between UF faculty and administrators when Lombardi and Sorensen meet with campus deans in the next few days to "develop a plan of action," Sorensen said.

And after meeting with task force co-chairmen Gonzalez and Johnson, Sorensen and Hemp will determine what UF can afford to do.

Encountering racial and ethnic discontent on campuses is nothing new for Lombardi, who said he has seen the problem for more than 25 years.

Although solving UF's problems is a goal that would require more than his lifetime to attain, Lombardi said that doesn't excuse him or campus leaders from trying.

"There is no timetable," Lombardi said. "This is an endless process. You've got to do this every day."

Career Expo '90 Helps Students Meet Employers

Fall 1990 Career Expo is Friday from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the O'Connell Center. More than 300 representatives from 150 companies in technical, nontechnical and accounting fields will be on campus to meet and recruit UF students.

Freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors are encouraged to investigate opportunities for full-time and summer employment, internships and co-op experience as well as trends in the job market for their area of study.

A Pre-Expo, designed to show students how to get the most out of Friday's Expo, will be held Wednesday from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in University Auditorium. Barry Shiflett, assistant director for business placement at the Career Resource Center, will speak, and Martin Marietta Space Launch Systems Director Wendell Fields will address career issues at Pre-Expo.

For a list of companies attending Fall Expo or additional information, contact Vicki Tyson at 392-1601 or stop by the Career Resource Center, Room B-1, Reitz Union.

Community Agencies Set Volunteer Drive On Union North Lawn

UF students will get a chance to become more involved with the community during "Volunteer Circuit '90," from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Wednesday on the North Lawn of the Reitz Union.

The fair, sponsored by Omicron Delta Kappa, the Division of Student Affairs and the Volunteer Center of Alachua County, has been a regular fall event for the last three years.

Some 35 agencies, including the Girls Club, Big Brothers and Big Sisters, American Cancer Society, Scouts, Corner Drug Store and AIDS Network, will participate in the volunteer drive. Students may choose volunteer work to meet their personal needs and to fit their class schedule. Gator Dining Service will serve refreshments.

For more information, contact the Office of Student Affairs, 392-1265.

Register This Week To Vote In November

Florida Blue Key and Student Government Community Affairs Cabinet, in cooperation with the Alachua County Supervisor of Elections, are conducting a fall voter registration drive this week on campus.

Registration booths will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. through Friday at Little Hall, Matherly Hall, Turlington Hall, the College of Law and the first floor of the Reitz Union. Only a drivers license is needed to register.

For more information, call Student Government, 392-1665.

Info Given On Financial Aid, Jobs, Office Hours

Although UF's Office for Student Financial Affairs has now committed most 1990-91 funds for campus-based programs, students can still apply for financial aid through some programs. They include the federal Pell Grant program, the Robert T. Stafford Loan program (formerly Guaranteed Student Loans), the Parents Loan for Dependent Undergraduate Student program, the Supplemental Loans for Students program, the College Work-Study Program, Other Personnel Services employment and off-campus jobs. Students who would like Stafford Loans for the Spring semester must apply by Oct. 12. Applications are available at Student Financial Affairs in Anderson Hall.

OFFICE HOURS

The Office for Student Financial Affairs is open from 9:30 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. weekdays. For students' convenience, the office has a drop box at the main entrance to Anderson Hall. Students can place information such as applications, verification documents, Pell Grant Student Aid Reports and award letters with revision requests in the box.

JOBS

Students interested in part-time employment during the school year can go to Student Employment, 20 Anderson Hall, to see what jobs are available. The office can provide students with part-time employment, both on and off campus, through College Work Study, Other Personnel Services and off-campus job programs. Two other student employment programs, Cooperative Education and College Career Work Experience Program, are handled through the Career Resource Center. Only College Work Study and CCWEP require that students have financial need to be employed. Up-to-date job lists are posted on bulletin boards in Anderson Hall, Tigert Hall, McCarty Hall and the Reitz Union.

SHORT-TERM LOANS

Through UF's short-term loan program, students can borrow from $50 to $400 cash, or the amount of in-state tuition. Short-term loans are for emergency educational expenses and are available to enrolled half-time students with valid repayment sources. Interest is one percent per month, and loans must be repaid by the first day of the last month of the semester in which the money is borrowed. Fall semester loans are due December 1, 1990. Approval takes about 48 hours, and students can apply at 8 Anderson Hall.

NEXUS TAPES

Financial aid NEXUS tapes are available to give students information about financial aid programs and application procedures. To use the system, students can call 392-1683 and ask for the tape they wish to hear. The tapes are updated periodically to provide current information.

Counseling Center Schedules Weekly Small-Group Sessions For UF Students

The University Counseling Center is organizing small counseling groups this fall for full-time UF students and their spouses. Counseling Center psychologists will lead the weekly groups, comprised of approximately eight students each, and potential group members must interview with a group's leader to participate. To sign up for an interview or for additional information about the groups, contact the Counseling Center, 311 Little Hall, 392-1575.

Topics to be discussed and group meeting times are as follows:

DROP-IN CRISIS SUPPORT GROUP—Thursdays, 2 to 3:30 p.m. Designed for students who need help/support in managing stress reactions to the recent tragedies. Students may attend one or more sessions.

SELF-HYPNOSIS—Mondays, 3 to 4:30 p.m. Using self-hypnosis for stress reduction and behavior change; five sessions.

FAMILY ISSUES—Tuesdays, 1:30 to 3 p.m. Focus on how family-of-origin problems (alcoholic parents, parental divorce, loss and poor relationships with parents) affect current relationships and methods of coping. For students who have identified family-of-origin issues.

MATH CONFIDENCE—Tuesdays, 3 to 5 p.m. For students who have done well in other courses, but have difficulties with mathematics or math-related courses. Learn how to overcome anxiety, stress and "psychological blocks."

RELATIONSHIPS—Tuesdays, 1:30 to 3 p.m. Explores personal problems related to various kinds of intimate relationships and friendships.

ACOA—Tuesdays, 3 to 4:30 p.m. A counseling/support group for students who wish to explore the effects of living in a family where one or both parents abused alcohol or drugs.

SELF-CONFIDENCE—Wednesdays, 1:30 to 3 p.m. For students whose poor self-confidence prevents them from asserting themselves in relationships or other areas of their lives.

STRESS BUSTERS—Thursdays, 1:30 to 3 p.m. For students who want to learn effective techniques and approaches for managing stress and anxiety. Covers test anxiety, physical symptoms like headaches and ulcers, and social anxiety. Also teaches general relaxation and focusing techniques.

BULIMIA—Wednesdays, 3 to 4:30 p.m. For women obsessed with thinness and struggling with binge/purge eating behaviors. Discusses underlying dynamics and coping strategies.

SUBSTANCE ABUSE—Thursdays, 3 to 4:30 p.m. Students who have questions about their use, misuse or abuse of alcohol or other substances explore their relationship to these substances.

GAY SUPPORT GROUP—Tuesdays, 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. A Gay/Lesbian affirmative support group dealing with issues related to life style, relationships with family and significant others.

373-FIND

BUY IT. SELL IT. FIND IT.

Alligator Classifieds allow products, services, jobs, etc. to be listed in a "directory" to make it easier for readers to find your ad. A simple form explains the step-by-step manner in which to place an ad and will help you determine the cost. Our Classified Advertising staff will be happy to advise you.

Alligator Classifieds may be placed in a number of ways:

1. If you have a valid Mastercard or Visa, you can place your ad by telephoning 373-FIND between 8:00 and 4:00 pm.
2. You can mail your Alligator Classified form (with check, money order, or Mastercard/Visa information - no cash, please) to:

Alligator Classifieds
PO Box 14257
Gainesville, FL 32604

3. You can place your ad in person by coming to our office at 1105 W. University Ave., between 8 am and 4 pm, weekdays. Our trained, friendly staff will be glad to help you with your ad.

4. You can place your ad in person at one of The Alligator's convenient "remote" locations.

ON CAMPUS LOCATIONS:

BREWER

Knights.

"I'm extremely disappointed with the way the game ended up," former UF coach Galen Hall said, defending his move to put Brewer in the game. "We were, at that time, ahead 28-7. I think it was very unfortunate, but I don't look at it as Rodney Brewer's fault."

Unfortunately, many fans do.

While UF fans may never forget nor forgive Brewer for 1985, Brewer has gone on to bigger and better things — to say the least.

Currently, Brewer is playing first base for the St. Louis Cardinals.

Brewer has played in the Cardinals' minor league system since leaving UF in 1987 and was called up to the major leagues this month when rosters were expanded from 24 to 40 players.

Obviously, Brewer has overcome his miscues on the playing fields of UF.

"It probably made me just accept that sometimes things will go wrong and you have to learn to live with them," Brewer said.

This past season at the Cardinals Triple-A affiliate in Louisville, Brewer batted .251 in 144 games with 12 home runs and 83 RBI.

On top of Brewer's offensive production, he is considered an excellent defensive player.

"He's an outstanding defensive player at first base," said Ted Simmons, director of player development for the Cardinals.

On Brewer's chances of playing in the major leagues — for more than the month of September — Arnold says, "He certainly has the talent to do that."

Simmons agrees.

"Rodney is somebody I think has a chance to play in the big leagues," he said.

Brewer's football background may be part of his current success.

"Well, you have to be so mentally tough to play the game of football it helps you in baseball because it's mostly a mental game," Brewer said.

Arnold agreed, saying Brewer "didn't get rattled under pressure. I think, because of his football background."

Brewer will continue to play baseball as long as he is playing on a professional level.

"Well, hopefully until you can get up into the show (major leagues) anyway," he said.

It has taken three years of minor league play in towns such as Johnson City and Springfield, but Brewer appears headed in the right direction for a successful career in baseball.

There's no guarantee that he won't be back in the minors next season.

Brewer was called up to play for the St. Louis Cardinals in September.

MY FAVORITE MODEL? CABRIOLET.

Fashion Design senior Gerardo Cantú's 1988 Volkswagen Cabriolet fits him perfectly.

"As the creator of a line of women's clothing called 'Fashion Panic', I'm always driving my lovely six-foot fashion models to shows and photo shoots.

"In my Cabriolet, all of us fit comfortably. There's room for cameras and tripods. And we look fabulous."

If you're ever at the University of Texas in Austin, look for Gerardo driving his Cabriolet. He'll be the guy with the well-dressed ladies — riding in style.

Volleyball team wins third straight, downs USF

By MIKE SCHULTZ
Alligator Writer

Maintaining momentum from its weekend sweep, the UF volleyball team rolled over the South Florida Bulls Monday night in Tampa.

Playing without outside hitter and floor leader Steffi Legall, the Gators beat the stubborn Bulls 3-1 to improve their season record to 3-2.

The Gators knocked off the Bulls in four games, 16-14, 15-4, 13-15, 15-9.

"We were able to maintain our winning personality tonight, and keep our composure despite some strong runs by USF," said UF assistant coach Mary Jo Peppler.

The Gators were once again led by Suzy Schutz who had 14 kills and 17 digs.

Kristin Guetzkow, who UF coach Marilyn McReavy said is improving every game, was second for the Gators with 13 kills.

Starting in place of Legall, UF freshman Nikki Vogt shined in her first start with nine kills and 10 digs.

As it was this weekend, serving was a key for the Gators, who recorded 12 service aces against a smaller, less experienced Bulls' lineup.

McReavy said that Gators setter Heidi Anderson had another strong match, recording 36 assists and 13 digs.

UF will face USF again Friday in the Florida 4 Tournament hosted by Florida International University in Miami.

SPORTS

The Tide will go without top two backs against UF

Alabama's list of troubles got longer Monday when starting tailback Siran Stacy underwent surgery for a knee injury he suffered in the Crimson Tide's upset loss to Southern Mississippi Saturday.

Stacy, a senior who will miss the remainder of the season, tore a ligament in the back of his knee during the third quarter of Alabama's 27-24 loss.

"I was looking forward to a big year," Stacy said. "I just have a lot of emotion, a lot of disappointment right now."

Stacy's backup, Derrick Lassic, also was injured in Saturday's game against Southern Mississippi. Lassic suffered a hamstring injury and is expected to miss the UF-Alabama matchup this Saturday in Tuscaloosa.

— Sharon Ginn

NOTEBOOK

Their injuries should force true freshman Chris Anderson into action as the starting tailback. Anderson's inexperience could put extra pressure on the Tide, who depended on Stacy for much of their rushing yardage last year.

But Alabama quarterback Gary Hollingsworth said Monday that doesn't necessarily mean the Tide will focus more on their passing game.

"I don't think we're going to change our game plan a whole lot," Hollingsworth said. "We have all the confidence in the world in Chris. I still expect we'll be able to move the ball running."

Anderson, however, isn't so sure about his new duties.

"It's going to be a real big burden," Anderson said. "Siran was a great back."

"I planned on playing a little bit my freshman year. (But) I think I've got to grow up a little bit faster than I'd thought."

■ ■ ■

The Gators last met the Tide in 1987 in Birmingham, Ala., when UF won 23-14.

The Tide leads the series 16-6. Alabama, however, disputes this record, saying a 29-0 Tide win in 1904 makes the series 17-6.

UF designates 1906 as its first season of intercollegiate play. Prior to 1906, UF considered football a club sport.

Peppler says she's still a player, not an artifact

Mary Jo Peppler has mixed feelings about her upcoming induction into the Volleyball Hall of Fame.

The UF assistant coach/coaching consultant, Peppler said she won't attend the ceremony in Holyoke, Mass., on Oct. 26. She'll be in Gainesville helping coach the Gators volleyball team against the Georgia Bulldogs that night.

It's not that Peppler doesn't consider her induction an honor. She just thinks a hall of fame is for old, retired players. And Peppler is not that old, nor is she ready to retire.

"I can't quite resolve it," Peppler said of her Hall of Fame selection. "I haven't even finished playing. It seems like when someone says your in the Hall of Fame, you should be old or gone."

In her 27 years as a volleyball player and coach, Peppler has participated in every level of the game both nationally and internationally.

She played in the 1964 Olympics, the 1967 Pan American Games and the 1970 World Games, where she was named the outstanding player.

But that small list barely scratches the surface of Peppler's accomplishments. She has played on four U.S. Open Championship teams, and was named Most Valuable Player on each occasion.

Collegiately, Peppler was a member of the NCAA's first two championship teams at Sul Ross State in 1970 and '71.

It was at Sul Ross State that she developed her friendship with Gators coach Marilyn McReavy. Peppler was McReavy's first recruit at Sul Ross, and a key player on the championship teams that had a 72-0 record in two seasons.

"Mary Jo has got to be the most experienced women's volleyball player in the world," McReavy said. "She's such a technician."

After her graduation, Peppler teamed up with McReavy as co-head coaches for a national championship Utah State team, and later they shared the head coaching duties at Kentucky.

Despite her success in the coaching ranks, Peppler said she doesn't see herself coaching full-time in the future. Instead, she said she will go back on the pro beach circuit.

"I've played professionally for the last three years," Peppler said. "I'll play the beach for at least another season or two."

Coaching and playing have different rewards for Peppler, who gets philosophical when discussing them.

As a coach, Peppler said she learns and grows in a group situation striving to attain a common goal. As a player, Peppler deals with the game on a more individual basis.

"You have to deal with your own fears and your own failures," Peppler said. "You struggle with yourself and your personal power."

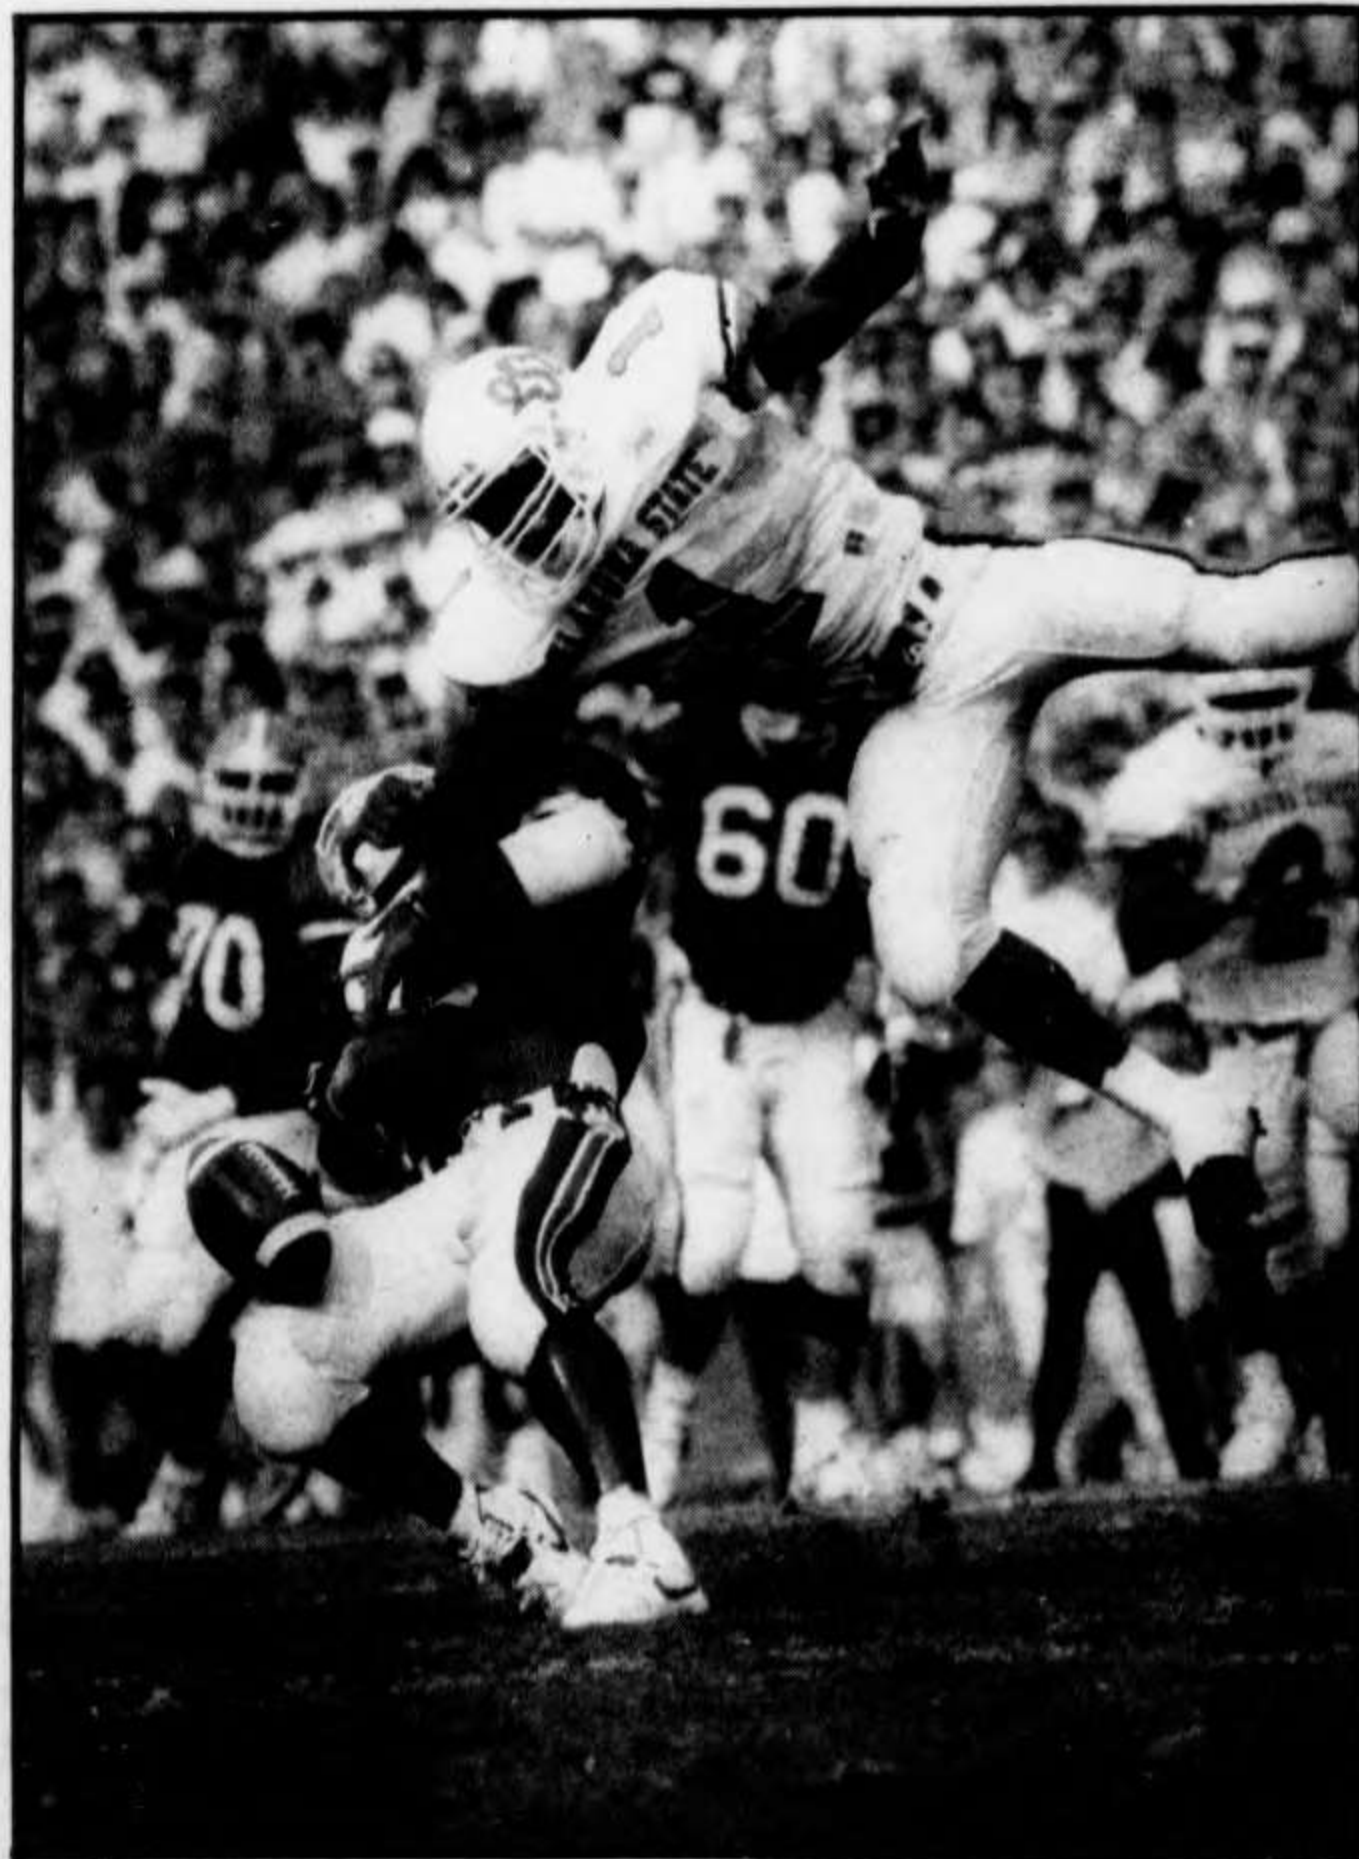

In 1964, at age 19, Peppler went to Tokyo as a member of the U.S. Olympic team.

"It shaped my whole life because I was an Olympian from then on," Peppler said. "For the next 15 or 20 years, it was sort of a dream to win an Olympic gold medal."

Although she never achieved that goal, Peppler said she was pleased the 1984 women's team won a silver and the men won a gold. She said that gold medal is a major reason for the growth of volleyball in the United States.

As for the future of volleyball, Peppler said it will only continue to grow.

"The popularity of volleyball is like a runaway train," she said. "You can hardly stop it."

Brewer has overcome his infamous miscues at UF

By MARC LAROZE
Alligator Writer

UF may remember Rodney Brewer for his nightmarish miscues on the baseball diamond and the football field, but if Brewer has it his way, he'll be remembered for his outstanding career as a major league first baseman.

For those who don't remember him, Brewer was a backup to former standout quarterback Kerwin Bell from 1984-86 and a standout baseball player himself from 1985-87.

Ironically, his claim to infamy at UF started on the baseball field.

In 1985, the UF baseball team fielded one of its finest squads ever and advanced to within one game of the College World Series.

Gators coach Joe Arnold said, at the time, "It was the biggest game we've ever played in the history of Florida baseball."

Unfortunately, it turned into probably the biggest defeat in the history of UF baseball.

In the bottom of the eighth inning with a 9-8 lead over archrival Miami, Brewer dropped a fly ball that eventually led to four Hurricanes runs, costing UF a chance to advance to the national championship tournament.

The dropped fly "opened the gates," Arnold said after the loss.

A mistake like that could crush a player, but Brewer wasn't finished.

Later that same year during the football season, Brewer was inserted in a game against Rutgers to mop up a victory etched by UF's starters.

With 4:37 left in the third quarter and the Gators up 28-7, Brewer committed three turnovers in the nine minutes, including an interception that was returned for a touchdown, leaving the Gators in a 28-28 tie with the Scarlet
