NOTE TO USERS: To save space in this field tester version of the text, we have not left space to answer some of the questions. When in doubt, answer on a separate piece of paper.

WB XIII.A Which Form Works?

Directions: Which of the following words completes the sentence based upon case and number? Then translate the sentence.

For example:

_____ (fēminae, puerōs, temporis, homini) vīdī:

Puerōs vīdī. I saw the boys.

(Only puerōs can be the direct object of vīdī. The other three nouns are in cases which don't fit.)

1. _____ (frāter, puerī, ancillae, sīmiās) currit.
2. _____ (equīs, holera, discipulum, vīnōrum) pretium cārum est.
3. _____ (patrem, sorōrī, puerōs, sīmiās) pecūniam dat.
4. _____ (senātōrum, puerīs, discipulum, sorōribus) vōcēs audiunt.
5. Senātōrēs _____ (sīmiāe, mercātōrēs, ōvibus, fēminīs) in Forō invenērunt.
6. _____ (nōmen, fēminārum, magistrōs, āctōrēs) in forum iērunt.

WB XIII.B Possibilities

Directions: Which of the two choices is the correct number and case for the given word? Careful! This one is designed to trick you ó always be aware of what declension a word belongs to.

1. ancill s (abl. pl., gen. sing.)
2. fratris (dat. pl., gen. sing.)
3. homin s (nom. pl, gen. sing., acc. pl.)
4. homin (nom. pl, dat. sing.)
5. hominum (acc. sing., gen. pl.)
6. m trem (acc. pl, acc. sing.)
7. m tr (gen. sing., dat. sing.)
8. matribus (dat. pl., nom. sing., abl. pl.)
9. serv (dat. sing., gen. sing.)

DISCE LATĪNAM!

10. servum (acc. sing. gen. pl.)

WB XIII.C GNC'ing 3rd Declension Nouns

Directions: In each sentence fill in the blank with the form of suus, -a, -um which agrees with the word marked in bold. Translate the sentence with this word.

sua	suam	su s
su	su rum	su
suae	su s	su rum
suam	su	suum

1. Serv lius uxōrem _____ amat.
Serv lius uxōrem suam amat. Servilius loves his wife.

WB XIII.F COLLOQUĀMUR

DISCE LATĪNAM!

Directions: Hold a conversation with another classmate in which one of you is Servilia and the other is Caecilia. As you go along fill in the blanks with whatever words you care to use. In some places we tell you what kind of word to use.

- Servilia: M ter mea, s tibi placeat, aud m d ____ (proper name)____.
- Caecilia: Quid est, f lia?
- S.: Ego et ____ (proper name)____ in peristȳli fu mus et ____ (proper name)____ intr vit. Expallu ! ____ (infinitive)____ n n potu ! Sonitus

WB XIV.A I-Stems

Directions: Use the parasyllabic, double consonant or neuter ending rules described above to determine whether each of the following third declension nouns are i-stem or not. We have done the first two for you.

noun	i-stem (sīc aut nōn)	rule
rēx, rēgis m. (ōkingō)	nōn (ōnoö)
pars, partis f. (ōpartō)	sīc (ōyesö)	double consonant (part-)
dēns, dentis m. (ōtoothō)
mercātor, mercātōris m. (ōmerchantō)
ignis, ignis m. (ōfireö)
animal, animālis n. (ōanimalö)
soror, sorōris f. (ōsisterö)
exemplar, exemplāris n. (ōmodelö)
opus, operis n. (ōworkö)
nox, noctis f. (ōnightö)
urbs, urbis f. (ōcityö)

WB XIV.B -er Words and Adjectives

EXERCEĀMUS!

Directions: What do these phrases mean in English? Hint: Pay attention to the macrons and to ó(e)ró in the stems in these very similar Latin words:

liber, libr m. book (stem libr-)
l ber, l bera, l berum free (stem l ber-)
l ber , - rum m. pl. children (stem l ber-)

If you pronounce them aloud, it is much simpler!

puer l ber	libr pulchr
puer l ber	l ber pulchr
ager l ber	liber l ber
agr s l ber s	libr l ber
liber pulcher	l ber l ber

WB XIV.C Noun Adjective Pairs -- 3rd Declension

Directions: Identify the gender, number and case of each of the following pairs. We have done the first one for you. Two empty rows means there are two answers to the pair in the first row.

	gender	number	case
tempest t s magnae	feminine	plural	nominative tempest t s magn s
tempest tis magnae
tempest t magnae
Dana territa
m trem c ram
pisc toribus nov s
tranquillum mare
tranquill mar
hostem malum
puerum bonum
r gum bon rum

WB XIV.D Substantives

DISCE LATĪNAM!

Directions: Translate each of the underlined words as substantives as you translate the sentence

Example: Valeria multa videt. Valeria knows many things. Remember to translate a neuter as ōthing/things, ō a feminine as ōwoman/womenō and a masculine as ōman/menō

1. Pauc paucaeque d the tr d cunt.
2. Pauc pauca d the tr d cunt. Multa paedag gus d cit.
3. D bon m ter d cit.
4. Marcus r ra vid re vult.
5. Bona pec niam dat.
6. Bonae pec niam dant.
7. Bon v num amat.
8. Multae bonae ad Sub ram ambulant.
9. Mult s Iuppiter amat!

WB XIV.E Substantives

Directions: All of the words in Col. B are neuter plural substantives. So understand ōthingsō with each. For example, bona means ōgood things.ō Use the choices in Col. B to answer the questions in Col. A.

Hint: More than one choice in Col. B works for each question.

Col. A

1. Quid po tae d Perse narrant?
2. Quid Iuppiter v dit?
3. Quid Valeria et Licinia in vi vid runt?
4. Quid vir pronuntiant?
5. Quid serv in mare coniciunt?

Col B

bona

WB XIV.F COLLOQUĀMUR

Directions: Ask a classmate what he or she is learning about a given subject (Group 1 from list appended). You will turn this word into the ablative after de. Your classmate must respond using words from Group 2.

Example:

Quaesti :

Quid d Perse disc s?

Resp nsum:

Multa dē Perseō discō.

Verba Ūtenda

EXERCEĀMUS!

Group 1	Group 2
animalia	nihil discō
Augustus	pauca (few things) discō
cibum	nōnnūlla discō
medicīna	multa discō
Perseus	nōn discō
pōtum	nōlō discere
Rōma
Rōmānī
sīmīae
theātrum

WB XIV.G COLLOQUĀMUR

Directions: One student volunteers to be Perseus and to tell his story to other members of the class. While Perseus tells his story, the audience should be preparing to ask him follow-up questions in Latin.

Here is Danaë's script.

Filius Danae sum. Mater mea filia regis Acrisi est. Una nocte mater in torrestro est, cum Iuppiter ad eam in nimbibus aureis venit. In utero de filium recipit et decem post mensibus puerum pulchrum, Perseum nomine, parit. Ego Perseus sum. Sed mater infantem celat quod avus meus interficere vult. Sed in arca lignea hunc venimus. Mater, magnopere territa est. Autem in brachii semitris cuniculis dormit. Pater Iuppiter tamen omnia videt, et mater servare cupit. Igitur mare tranquillum facit et arcam ad insulam Seriphum perducit. Polydectes tunc insulae rex est. Postquam in arcam ad Ithacam adveniunt, mater meum in hac navi qui scit. Post breve tempus piscatores quidam, matrem territam inveniunt et nos per agros ad regiam regis Polydectis adducunt.

And here is one sample follow up question.

Quid nomen matris est?

WB XV.A

GNC'ing 3rd Adjectives

DISCE LATĪNAM!

Directions: Identify the GNC of each noun-adjective pair. (Each can be only one thing.) Then translate the phrase into English. We have done the first one for you.

	Gender	Number	Case	Translation
1. f minae fort s	fem.	pl.	nom.	strong women
2. f minae fortis
3. f minae fort
4. puer rum fortium
5. puer s fortibus
6. puer fort s

WB XV.B 3rd Adjectives Manipulation

Directions: Change the number of the following noun/adjective pairs. If it is singular, make it plural, and vice versa. Keep everything else the same.

1. puer s fort s
2. puellae fort s
3. puell s fort s
4. puellam fortem
5. v n a omnia
6. v num omne
7. hominem fortem
8. homin fort
9. homine fort

WB XV.C Forming 3rd Adjectives

Directions: Use the chart declining fortis, forte on the left as a guide, make a chart declining intellegēns, intellegentis.

	Singular

EXERCEĀMUS!

XV.D Third-Declension Substantives

Directions: Translate each of the following third-declension adjectives as substantives.
Hint: You identified the GNC and meanings in Exercise XV.B. For example, intellegēns can mean ōan intelligent manō or ōan intelligent womanō or ōan intelligent thing.ō

- | | |
|----------------|-----------------|
| 1. intelleg ns | 8. celer |
| 2. omn s | 9. potent |
| 3. difficilia | 10. facilia |
| 4. tristibus | 11. difficil s |
| 5. n bilium | 12. f l cis |
| 6. cr d lis | 13. omn s |
| 7. fortia | 14. miser bilia |

WB XV.E Third Declension Adjectives, GNC

Directions: Identify the GNC of each noun/adjective pair. Remember that some have more than one possibility. The skill this exercise gives you is one that you need as you read, identifying words as you read through the sentence.

	G	N	C	Trans.
merc t r s fort s	f	pl.	nom.	the brave merchants
mare pot ns	n	s.	nom. or acc.	the powerful sea
ancill s cr d libus
r gum intellegentium
noctem difficilem
sor ris dulcis
anim lia celeria
fr ter f lix

WB XV.F Third Declension Adjectives GNC

Directions: Supply the correct adjective form to modify each of the following 3rd-declension nouns. Then translate the phrase into English.

For example, rēgum (fortis) = rēgum fortium ōof the brave kingsō

soror (trīstis)
ōrātiōnēs (intellegēns)
amōre (dulcis)
hostium (crūdēlis)
hominibus (potēns)
nōmina (nōbilis)
mātrum (intellegēns)

mare (potēns)
animālia (fortis)
iuvene (celer)
patrī (fēlīx)
furōris (gravis)
parentis (omnis)
parentum (omnis)

DISCE LATĪNAM!

WB XV.G Third Declension Adjectives, GNC

Directions: Now use GNC to supply the correct form of the third-declension adjective for each first- or second-declension noun. Then translate the phrase into English.

Remember: the adjective and noun forms will not have identical endings, but they will GNC! Some forms have more than one possible correct answer. We have supplied the correct number of blanks.

Example: virī (fortis) = virī fortēs ōthe brave menō or virī fortis (of the brave man)

vīna (dulcis)	_____
puellā (nōbilis)	_____
puerī (trīstis)	_____	_____
viam (facilis)	_____
fēminīs (intellegēs)	_____
amīcōrum (crūdēlis)	_____
virōs (potēns)	_____
discipulō (fortis)	_____	_____
Rōmānō (celer)	_____	_____
poētās (fēlīx)	_____
vītae (difficilis)	_____	_____
verba (fortis)	_____
familia (omnis)	_____
familiārum (omnis)	_____

WB XV.H Reading Comprehension

Directions: All of the following sentences are false based upon the lectiōnēs. Make them true. We have done the first one for you.

Hint: Use the reading to check your facts.

1. Serv lia laeta in cubicul su sedet.
Serv lia tr stis in cubicul su sedet.
2. Cr d lis Serv liae pater est.
3. Naevius frater Marc est
4. Naevius Serv liam in dom su v dit.
5. V x Naev cr delis fuit!

19. audi tis
20. d b mus

WB XVI.B Reading Comprehension

Directions: Rearrange these sentences so that they retell the events in Lectiō Prīma and Lectiō Secunda in the order in which they occurred. Go back and look at the lectiōnēs to help you. We have started you off by putting the very first event in bold.

1. L cius parentibus d s mi n rrat et omn s r dent.
2. Serv liae pater rogat d am c Naevi .
3. Serv lia parentibus omnia d Naevi n rr vit.
4. Marcus d Valgi R f , rh tore su , d cit.

10. F liam n ndum auscult vit.
11. Tandem pater f liae d cit: òF liola, id facere n n poteris.ö

WB XVI.E COLLOQUĀMUR

Directions: Use your answers for Exercise WB XVI.D for this exercise. Take each sentence, now arranged in order, and turn it into a question that you address to another member of your class. The person addressed has to respond appropriately. Here are some sample questions and answers based on the first sentence:

Q. Familiane in perist li Serv li c nam exspectat?

A. N n, in tr cl ni exspectat.

Q. Qu in tr cl ni c nam exspectant?

A. Familia c nam exspectant.

Q. Quid familia exspectat?

EXERCEĀMUS!

Q. Familia c nam exspectant.

WB XVI.F Verba Discenda

Directions: Each of the words listed below may or may not be related to one of the Verba Discenda. Use an English dictionary to determine the etymology of the word. Then write down its meaning and the language and word from which it derives. The front of the dictionary will have a guide to the abbreviations it uses.

1. arterial
2. artesian (well)
3. artisan
4. artistic
5. expectations
6. expectorate
7. laborious
8. mesa
9. parenthetic
10. parietal
11. science
12. scintilla

WB XVII.A Participles

Directions: Use the Verba Omnia to determine which of the listed verbs each participle belongs with. Hint: In each case, only one form is a real verb in Latin. The first is done for you.

- | | |
|-----------------|---|
| 1. interficiēns | from interficō or interficiō?
Answer: interficiō, -icere |
| 2. manentibus | from maneō, manēre or manō, manere? |
| 3. iacientēs | from iaciō, iacere or iaciō, iacīre? |
| 4. cadentis | from cadō, cadere or cadēo, cadēre? |
| 5. madentem | from madeō, madēre or madō, madere? |

For the next two examples, determine which is the correct participle for the verb given. Again, check in your Verba Omnia.

- | | |
|----------------|---------------------------------|
| 6. pīpiō | pīpiāns or pīpiēns? |
| 7. circumsiliō | circumsiliāns or circumsiliēns? |

Motto: ōWhen in doubt, look it up.ö

DISCE LATĪNAM!

WB XVII.B Participles In Agreement

Directions: In the following English sentences, underline each participle once. Underline the word it modifies twice.

The cook making the cake, is my aunt.

Here, notice that the participle can also take a direct object (ōcakeō).

Running down the street, the children didn't have a care in the world.

Here, note that the antecedent can actually come second in English.

1. The flag, flying in the breeze, was visible for miles.
2. The sparrow, leaping and chirping to its heart's content, kept awake the neighbors seeking rest in the next room.
3. Struggling anxiously against the clock, the team made basket after basket.
4. Singing out of tune, the choir was not praised by its conductor.
5. The policeman, swerving into the lane, was anxious to catch the speeder driving at high speed. [Note: There are two participles in this sentence.]

WB XVII.C Antecedents

Directions: The following phrases based on Lectiō Prīma all have participles (marked in bold). Find the word each participle agrees with and translate both words into English. We have done the first one for you. Hint: Ask yourself who is performing the action of the participle.

1. Post c nam Serv lia in cubicul s la lacrimāns sedet.
Answer: Serv lia lacrimāns // ōcrying Serviliaō
2. Serv lia s l cium su dol ris petēns triste r det.
3. Serv lia, s l cium su dol ris pet ns, passerem sedentem in gremi tenet.
4. Iulum in vi ambulantem numquam v d !
5. Passer circumsiliēns et pīpiāns nihil d cit.
6. Passer nihil puellae lacrimantī d cit.
7. Serv lia r det per lacrim s cadentēs.

WB XVII.D Participial Substantives

Directions: The words marked in bold below are participles which stand alone. Since they are adjectives, this means they are substantives ó adjectives acting like nouns. Try translating each sentence. Pay attention to number and gender.

Example: Vide ambulantēs.

I see the people walking.

1. Labōrantēs in cul n fess sunt.
2. Labōrantēs in cul n fessae sunt.
3. Passer nihil lacrimantī d cit.
4. Ambulantem in vi numquam v d !
5. Sol cium su dol ris petens r det.
6. Circumsiliens et pīpiāns nihil d cit.

EXERCEĀMUS!

7. Lacrimāns s̄ la in cubicul sedet. (Hint: sōla tells you the gender of the person crying),
8. Audi lacrim ns. (Careful: there are two ways to translate this.)
9. Pec niam lacrimant f̄ mina dedit.
10. V cem lacrimantis omn s̄ aud v runt.

WB XVII.E

WB XVIII.E Relative Pronouns

Directions: Now go back one final time and indicate what the actual Latin form of the relative pronoun would be.

Example: 1. Fem. dat. sing. → cui

WB XVIII.F Relative Pronouns

Directions: Use GNC to choose the correct relative pronoun for each of the following sentences.

Example: Marcus et L. cius d. cunct d. m. neribus (quae, qu, quibus) v. d. runt.
The answer is quae because the antecedent mūneribus is neuter plural and the use of the relative is accusative (the games which they saw).

1. Licinia, Valeria, et Fl. via adveni. bant ad insulam in (quae, qu, quam) habitant.
2. N. men un. us eg. n. est Mend. x (cui, quem, qu) lim. n. men. ō Qu. ntus ō erat.

WB XX.F Derivatives

Directions: Each of the English words marked in bold in the story below is derived from a Latin comparative or superlative. Identify this Latin word and use its meaning to create an appropriate definition for the English word at it is used in context.

Suggestion: Use these English words to help you memorize the irregular comparatives and superlatives

Example: a pejorative remark (pēior, pēius). A pejorative remark is one which is rather bad (pēius)

Charley was in an optimistic mood when he minimized his computer screen, stood up, and strode into the meeting. Here he hoped to maximize the company's profits by swaying a majority of the shareholders and winning a plurality of the voters. First, though, he would have to explain his prior statements about a pessimistic financial future for the country. His only fear is that someone in the audience would make a pejorative remark.
