The Story of My Life

Hello everyone! Thank you for this opportunity to introduce myself to the wider community of our Family of Parishes. I am the sixth child of Bruce and Shirley George of Delhi, a little tobacco town down by Lake Erie. (Prior to that, my family was military, so my siblings had a very difficult experience of growing up.) Dad taught history and English in the local high school, so we kept up on everything! (Before the internet, we had four daily newspapers and six weeklies delivered to our house: it was literally read, or be crushed)!

We were all served by the priests in Delhi and Fr. Mike Dalton was a friend of the family and a hero of mine. I told my grade 1 teacher I wanted to be a priest and that sentiment remained with me my entire life. (While most vocations are happening later in life like marriage, I went off to the Seminary at 18, too young to drink!) I served my internship/diaconate at St. Clair Beach, a suburb of Windsor. I was an Associate Pastor at Our Lady Help of Christians in Wallaceburg for two years, with two years at St. Justin's in London to follow. My first placement as a pastor was five years at St. Mary's, Tillsonburg. After asking for more than ten years, I was allowed to go to the Missions: two years at Watson Lake, in the Diocese of Whitehorse. While there, I was diagnosed with colorectal cancer and so I returned to London for treatment. Following the surgery, (permanent colostomy and ileum conduit) I filled in at Our Lady of Guadalupe in Windsor, while the pastor was having by-pass surgery. After nine months there, I was appointed to St. Boniface in Zurich and St. Peter's in St. Joseph.

Growing up, my family was very involved in Pro-Life and other justice issues: as a priest, I have served as the chaplain to the Catholic Rural Life Conference and the Diocesan Development and Peace Committee; as director of the Mission Office and currently, as a member of the Ecumenical Commissions.

When it comes to recreations, I like to think of myself as an outdoorsman: my family camped each summer and I had 10 years in the Scouting Movement as Cub, Scout, Venturer and a Cub leader.

I look forward to meeting more parishioners God willing when our epidemic ends. Until then, we'll probably meet at an Adult Faith Development event: while I've tried to avoid becoming a teacher like my father and brothers, you cannot escape some of this stuff!

Thank you to all the volunteers and people in the pews who have gone out of their way to introduce themselves and make me feel welcome in our Family of Parishes!

God Bless, Fr. Matthew George

Pray with Us: Oct. 4 — 12

We invite you and your family to join brother Knights and fellow Catholics around the world in a Novena for the Cause of Life beginning on Sunday, Oct. 4, and ending on Monday, Oct. 12. Throughout these nine days, we will pray for an end to abortion, euthanasia and other social ills that result in broken families and unhappiness, and which threaten the most vulnerable. The novena calls upon the intercession of Our Lady and draws upon unique quotes from the teachings of Pope Francis regarding the sanctity of all human life. Join brother Knights and their families to pray this novena for the defense of life and invite your pastor and fellow parishioners to do the same. By uniting in prayer, we'll be able to stand up against — and ultimately defeat — threats against life.

A downloadable version of the novena can be found here. You can also sign up to receive a daily email, which will include the unique petitions for each of the nine days of the novena. Click here for details.

Christian hope is not the same thing as optimism, Optimism is a tendency to emphasize the good part in a situation at the expense of noticing: the bad part, or the feeling that the future good things are more likely to happen than bad things. In the thought of the German philosopher G.W. Leibniz, optimism is the belief that we are already living in the best of all possible worlds. Christian hope is very different. According to Thomas Aquinas, hope is the virtue that gives us confidence that a very difficult and arduous task to be completed or a goal to be reached can be achieved with the help of God's grace. So, Christian hope is fully aware of the difficulties that will have to be faced to overcome a present injustice or evil. Christian hope also acknowledges our weakness and the fact that only God's help will see us through. But Christian hope is also confident that just as God's labours have empowered us in the past, so now God's faithfulness will not fail us. This month, we enter into the final weeks of the liturgical year, and the Scriptures begin to be filled with eschatological images of judgment and future victory. It is important that we approach these images through the lens of Christian hope. Isaiah and Jesus call us to confront the very real injustices and evils in our midst: racism, economic injustice, colonialism, exclusion based on gender or orientation, among others. They call us to acknowledge that God condemns all forms of persecution of the neighbour. We are to purify our hearts of all these evils. They also present a vision of what a recreated and reconciled humanity will look like, and they want us to hunger for the coming of that vision of the reign of God, to ache for God's final eschatological wedding banquet. They speak confidently that just as God's labours have empowered us in the past, so now God's faithfulness will not fail us. Like Isaiah's Servant, we are given grace that enables us to participate in the coming of God's reign. This year has been filled with many struggles and difficulties, enough to destroy any and all optimism. But Christian hope liberates us to look reality in the face, to ask for the divine help we need, and to work alongside Jesus as he labours to bring about a re-created and reconciled humanity. We may not see the eschatological wedding banquet any time soon, but we are confident that the coming of God's reign is worth the effort.
