

Father Malachi Martin

The Third Secret of Fatima

Vatican Intrigue
What will come?

 FAN-TASTIC FORUM

|  Father Malachi Martin

|  Father Malachi Martin \(Page 1\)

 Topic Closed

POST NEW TOPIC

profile | register | preferences | faq | search

 UBBFriend: Email This Page to Someone!

This topic is 5 pages long: 1 2 3 4 5

next newest topic | next oldest topic

Author	Topic: Father Malachi Martin
--------	------------------------------

revisedcode
Dread Pirate

Posts: 2551
From: Far Far Away in a long lost galaxy Registered: Apr 2000

posted 25 October 2000 08:42 AM

profile mail edit quote

Welcome Aboard Everyone.

Please start as many threads as you like within this new forum!

-----

Revisedcode

www.publicatlarge.com "The obvious weakness of government by popular opinion is the difficulty of ascertaining it."

James Bryce

IP: Logged

Gwen
Swashbuckler

Posts: 693
From: Arizona
Registered: Oct 2000

posted 25 October 2000 01:08 PM

profile mail edit quote

Thanks for this topic, revisedcode. For those of you who have read "Windswept House" by Fr Malachi, these are interesting times. If you haven't read it, please check it out at your public library..it was written as fiction, but that was probably the only way to get it published.

[This message has been edited by Gwen (edited 25 October 2000).]

IP: Logged

Capt.Hornblower
Buccaneer

Posts: 74
From: Cold North
Atlantic
Registered: Oct 2000

posted 25 October 2000 04:21 PM

profile mail edit quote

Gwen: Good to see you here. Best to all. I share your concerns. Lets just scope it out for a while...

Pat

IP: Logged

TomG
Buccaneer

Posts: 175
From: ,TX, USA
Registered: Oct 2000

posted 25 October 2000 04:30 PM

profile mail edit quote

Remember Gwen, Fr Malachi described the book as 'faction', not 'fiction'. He said 85% of the people and 90 to 95% of the events actually have taken place (with the exception of the brief part taking place in the future, which may be occurring as we speak!).

IP: Logged

TomG Buccaneer Posts: 175 From: ,TX, USA Registered: Oct 2000	 posted 25 October 2000 04:32 PM profile mail edit quote <hr/> Thanks, Cap'n, for making the decision for us. We would have remained indefinitely in paralysis looking for where to start this thread without your help. IP: Logged
TomG Buccaneer Posts: 175 From: ,TX, USA Registered: Oct 2000	 posted 25 October 2000 04:36 PM profile mail edit quote <hr/> I was just updating my bookmark and was wondering... How did Fr Malachi rate the coveted 000001 html filename? IP: Logged
mac Buccaneer Posts: 558 From: Registered: Oct 2000	 posted 25 October 2000 04:42 PM profile mail edit quote <hr/> ok, breathing now. Interesting observation Thomas; not surprise to us, right? Just checking in for a moment. Will be back in a bit. regards/mac IP: Logged
ChipL Pirate Posts: 3 From: Richmond, VA Registered: Oct 2000	 posted 25 October 2000 04:48 PM profile edit quote <hr/> Yay! Not only a thread, but a whole category! Cool. ----- Have a great day! -Chip IP: Logged
Capt.Hornblower Buccaneer Posts: 74 From: Cold North Atlantic Registered: Oct 2000	 posted 25 October 2000 06:04 PM profile mail edit quote <hr/> Revisedcode--Thank you, sir! We love the 'new space'... IP: Logged
T77 Buccaneer Posts: 551 From: Wa. USA Registered: Aug 2000	 posted 25 October 2000 06:14 PM profile mail edit quote <hr/> My mistake. [This message has been edited by T77 (edited 25 October 2000).] IP: Logged

mac
Buccaneer

posted 25 October 2000 07:42 PM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Posts: 558
From:
Registered: Oct 2000

I guess I'll pick up where we left off somewhere down the road. Looking at my notes...

I followed a link of Gwens (http://www.starharbor.com/fr\_martin/jul98.html) and re-visited some Fr. Martin's newsletter, 'St. Michael's Sword'.

I posed the question: What is the Emmaus Factor?

Here is why I am asking (I am quoting from Fr. Martin's newsletter):

" This is the basic lesson of Catholicism: that no glory, no completely humanistic happiness in this life is guaranteed to us Catholics, or even to Christians in general. What is promised us is Eternal Life by means of the grace of Christ. At the present moment, in the Church, there are terrible troubles, terrible divisions and squabbles and fights. We are breaking up into separate entities. And no man alive can predict what the Church will look like in 10 year's time. But, for all those who wish to find the truth and are willing to search for it, there will never be any doubt as to what they should do. The Emmaus Factor is the key factor of our religion. Ave Maria Gratia Plena - Malachi B. Martin (July 9, 1998)

Using google.com and the key word Emmaus. Didn't find much, except this:

<http://www.artofeurope.com/caravaggio/car1.htm>

<http://www.latter-rain.com/ltrain/emmaus.htm>

Fr. Martin is trying to convey a significance of Emmaus, but it's over my head. I prevailed upon Thomas.

Ok Tom, here is where you come in. Hopefully you have your notes on this one.

[This message has been edited by mac (edited 25 October 2000).]

IP: Logged

TomG
Buccaneer

posted 25 October 2000 07:56 PM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Posts: 175
From: ,TX, USA
Registered: Oct 2000

I gave a pretty verbose response 'back there'. Here it is...

Mac, Fr Malachi devoted an entire tape to the Emmaus Factor.

The basic notion is this (I'll have to go back and listen to be sure, but here is my recollection...). You can reference St Luke's Gospel, chapter 24, verses 13 to 32.

These two men were despondent after the crucifixion, and were going home to Emmaus. Here they were expecting Jesus to take on Kingship, get rid of the Romans, etc., and now everything seemed lost.

As they were walking, another man joined them. As they walked, he asked them what was up. They were incredulous that there could be someone around who didn't know what was going on the last couple of days. They explained about Jesus, and all he did, and how he died.

Now the important part...

Jesus then began to explain to them how it was fitting for the Messiah to suffer and so enter into His Glory. How in Scripture the prophets describe how this would occur. Then He revealed Himself to the two.

Fr Malachi's opinion (based on the Church fathers) is that the Church would go through the same experience. It is fitting that the Church suffer before the end. The Church fathers talk about the Church exactly mimicking Jesus' life through history. Fr Malachi figured the Church had been betrayed from within, had been turned over to the world, had been scourged and bloodied, had a crown of thorns placed on it, and was carrying Its cross. (He gives real world examples of each step). He was quick to add, we haven't yet been crucified, so you can imagine what we have to look forward to.

So basically the Emmaus Factor has to do with the crucifixion of the Church in these latter times. We will go through the Passion exactly as our King did, and it behooves us, it is fitting, that we do so.

I'm sure he explains it much better, but did this give you the idea?

[This message has been edited by TomG (edited 25 October 2000).]

IP: Logged

mac
Buccaneer

Posts: 558
From:
Registered: Oct 2000

posted 25 October 2000 08:05 PM

profile mail edit quote

Yes, thanks Tom. I keep re-reading your post.

Interesting that that link up there has reference to the need to be careful about what one says;

"They walked in silence, for there were too many spies about, secret agents of the Romans and of the temple authorities. Only when they had left the city behind did they start talking to each other about the things on their minds - those things that were so dangerous to talk about when one did not know who was listening".

Tom, do you think this is an accurate interpretation?

IP: Logged

TomG
Buccaneer

Posts: 175
From: ,TX, USA
Registered: Oct 2000

posted 25 October 2000 08:23 PM

profile mail edit quote

Which link, Mac.

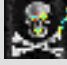

Or are you referring to the scripture reference, New American Bible ?

[This message has been edited by TomG (edited 25 October 2000).]

IP: Logged

mac Buccaneer Posts: 558 From: Registered: Oct 2000	 posted 25 October 2000 08:45 PM profile mail edit quote <hr/> Tom, this one: http://www.latter-rain.com/ltrain/emmaus.htm IP: Logged
---	---

TomG Buccaneer Posts: 175 From: ,TX, USA Registered: Oct 2000	 posted 25 October 2000 09:05 PM profile mail edit quote <hr/> I don't know, my guard went up. The first paragraph retells St Luke, somewhat. The rest seems to be supposition. I don't know what the source is, especially of the spying, etc. The Romans were more interested in spying on the zealots, than on Jesus and his small band of diciples. I may be all wrong on this, but Romans considered the whole world their territory. They seemed to be too proud to be spying, and not too interested in local politics. IP: Logged
---	---

mac Buccaneer Posts: 558 From: Registered: Oct 2000	 posted 25 October 2000 09:18 PM profile mail edit quote <hr/> Ah, I get your sense of it. Thanks. IP: Logged
---	---

mac Buccaneer Posts: 558 From: Registered: Oct 2000	 posted 25 October 2000 09:23 PM profile mail edit quote <hr/> Say, do you recall Fr. Martin interjecting his concern about masonic (not to be confused with messianic) elements (Windswept House p 274 for example). Have you researched this lead at all? IP: Logged
---	--

TomG Buccaneer Posts: 175 From: ,TX, USA Registered: Oct 2000	 posted 26 October 2000 05:13 AM profile mail edit quote <hr/> Fr Malachi considered the "West's" most important contribution to salvation history to be the 'lodge'. I don't know if we want to go down this path online. It is an offline topic. Otherwise we may end up with no friends. IP: Logged
---	---

DisneyFreak96
Swashbuckler

posted 26 October 2000 06:21 AM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Posts: 1528
From: New Orleans
Square, Disneyland
Registered: May 2000

quote:

Originally posted by TomG:

Fr Malachi considered the "West's" most important contribution to salvation history to be the 'lodge'.

I don't know if we want to go down this path online. It is an offline topic. Otherwise we may end up with no friends.

If you do take it offline please take me with you!
disney_land@mindspring.com

-----
signing off....

DisneyFreak96

<http://how.to/savedisneyland/>

IP: Logged

Hilda Sophia
Buccaneer

posted 26 October 2000 07:40 AM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Posts: 1334
From: Connecticut
Registered: May 2000

Tom and Mac,

Don't worry about losing friends here. I don't know of any other site discussing Father Malachi and his writings. A great number of people have no idea of who he is!

The day the Vatican released the supposed Third Secret of Fatima, and I knew it wasn't what he had hinted at, I was beside myself as I had no one to discuss it with! No one at work had ever heard of Fatima!

Thanks for the link re Emmaus. I studied art history in college and looked up Caravaggio.

He painted the subject twice. Once in 1601-2 and again in 1606. I have to look up the story again, but my understanding of it was that the two men who met Jesus on the road did not realize who He was until they were seated at the table. I believe what I was taught in my Lutheran Sunday School was that Jesus might appear to us unexpectedly and we wouldn't know it was Him. In other words, sometimes we are preoccupied we don't notice who/what is right in front of us.

As it applies to the Catholic religion, I don't know, but will do some research. I'm not a member of any organized religion now, but like reading about it as a historian.

IP: Logged

TomG
Buccaneer

Posts: 175
From: ,TX, USA
Registered: Oct 2000

posted 26 October 2000 08:26 AM

profile

mail

edit

quote

We may or may not lose friends -here- if we begin to discuss freemasonry. Those in the lodge are very fervent, and do not like to be criticized.

Over and above that, those who criticize the lodge, won't just lose friends on this board, but the information will get out, and you can soon find yourself losing friends at work, and in any personal organizations.

If you really touch a nerve (and we would reach that point very quickly) Fr Malachi also talked about the possibility of losing your kneecaps.

I guess I'm willing to talk about the giant world wide web (no pun intended) of freemasonry and its influence, and the organizations tied to it, and the oaths taken (especially at the higher degrees) and the rituals performed (especially at the higher degrees), and the war (silent though it seems) between freemasonry and the Church. I just want to be sure we all know what we are getting into.

Is that conspiratorial enough?

IP: Logged

TomG
Buccaneer

Posts: 175
From: ,TX, USA
Registered: Oct 2000

posted 26 October 2000 08:30 AM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Hilda, I'll start a thread on the 3rd secret, if you like. I tried to get a conversation started on this over at the "old place", but didn't get any interest (or we had too much else to discuss).

I believe the secret released speaks exactly to what Fr Malachi always talked about. It is the interpretation that makes the difference.

There is talk that this is the vision as it occurred, but the 3rd secret (which hasn't been released) is the interpretation of the vision (just as Our Lady explained the vision of Hell to the children after they saw the vision). This seems plausible to me, but until I know more, I'm going with this release being legit.

See you in the new thread, let's discuss this.

IP: Logged

Hilda Sophia
Buccaneer

Posts: 1334
From: Connecticut
Registered: May 2000

posted 26 October 2000 01:18 PM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Tom, I don't think it is wise to open a topic and discuss Freemasonry. They can't discuss things openly and it wouldn't be fair to talk about them when they can't reply.

I remember once in high school sneaking into their meeting rooms with a friend whose father was a member. I don't remember what we were doing there. It was day time, but I remember it was scary. Got the definite feeling that we shouldn't be there. Bad vibrations. Enough said.

IP: Logged

mac
Buccaneer

Posts: 558
From:
Registered: Oct 2000

posted 26 October 2000 02:02 PM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Yes, Tom. Your point is well taken. No one here to speak fairly on their behalf. Just happened to notice it in Windswept House. You are right, plenty of other issues to unravel.

Must sign off for a bit. Computer sounds like a '57 Chevy with a blown muffler. Think it's the fan.

IP: Logged

next newest topic | next oldest topic

This topic is 5 pages
long: 1 2 3 4 5

All times are PT (US)

Administrative Options: Open Topic | Archive/Move | Delete Topic

POST NEW TOPIC

Hop to:

Contact Us | www.fantasticforum.com

Powered by Infopop www.infopop.com © 2000
Ultimate Bulletin Board 5.47d

Father Malachi Martin

The Third Secret of Fatima

Vatican Intrigue
What will come?

Topic Closed

FAN-TASTIC FORUM

Father Malachi Martin

Father Malachi Martin \(Page 2\)

POST NEW TOPIC

profile | register | preferences | faq | search

UBBFriend: Email This Page to Someone!

This topic is 5 pages long: 1 2 3 4 5

next newest topic | next oldest topic

Author	Topic: Father Malachi Martin
TomG Buccaneer Posts: 175 From: ,TX, USA Registered: Oct 2000	 posted 26 October 2000 02:28 PM  profile mail edit quote <hr/> Anne posted over in the resignation forum about a book by Ted Flynn. It covers a lot of the information we would have gone into, had we started discussing freemasonry. I think we have some synchronicity going on here. IP: Logged

Capt.Hornblower
Buccaneer

posted 26 October 2000 05:37 PM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Posts: 74
From: Cold North
Atlantic
Registered: Oct 2000

Tom--As you know, Freemasonry has a history back several hundred years where it gets tangled up in the Illuminati and even the Knights Templar.

It is a heated topic for many reasons, few of which have a direct correlation with Fr. Malachi except that he did reference the influence they hold.

I agree with you--a separate forum is the place to discuss this as it is incredibly complex...

Thanks, Pat

IP: Logged

anya46
Buccaneer

posted 27 October 2000 01:08 PM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Posts: 33
From: Lexington Park, MD USA
Registered: Oct 2000

For anyone interested, I thought I'd post this over here also:

Fr.Martin requiem mass on video can be obtained here:

<http://www.catholiccounterpoint.com/category.html?UCIDs=354969%7C354975>

pax
anne q

IP: Logged

Gwen
Swashbuckler

posted 27 October 2000 02:21 PM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Posts: 693
From: Arizona
Registered: Oct 2000

Anne, thank you for the info on the video, as well as the Flynn book.

This is off topic, but I want to commend you for staying home & teaching your children. There is no more important job, in my opinion, than being a stay-at-home mom. The reason I am going back to work fulltime next week is so I can assist my son and his family financially, in order to allow my daughter-in-law to stay home with my 11 1/2 month old granddaughter. The time goes by so quickly and I don't want her to miss the opportunity. Bless you.

[This message has been edited by Gwen (edited 27 October 2000).]

IP: Logged

TomG
Buccaneer

posted 27 October 2000 05:52 PM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Posts: 175
From: ,TX, USA
Registered: Oct 2000

Gwen, thanks for the link. This site is also selling most of the tapes from Triumph Communications (the post I made back on the 'old site' about Fr Malachi's other interviews.

Anne, I didn't know you were home schooling your kid(s). You are a hero to me. My wife is home schooling our four children, and I know she is the hardest working person in America. I don't know how she does it. My only involvement is part time principal, the threat used to keep everyone focused.

Good luck, (is this your first year?)

IP: Logged

anya46
Buccaneer

posted 27 October 2000 05:56 PM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Posts: 33
From: Lexington Park, MD USA
Registered: Oct 2000

Dear Gwen;

Thanks for the pat on the back!
I know I'm doing the right thing (and so do my kids, I think!), but it always feels good to get those kind and encouraging words from someone else.

It was with my husband and my dear MIL's encouragement that I started down this path - which just goes to show you, MIL's aren't always as bad as joked about! God bless you Gwen, you have a very blessed son and daughter-in-law.

pax
anne

IP: Logged

anya46
Buccaneer

posted 27 October 2000 06:11 PM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Posts: 33
From: Lexington Park, MD USA
Registered: Oct 2000

Dear Tom;

This is our 5th year, next year I'll be schooling all three (yipee). Boy, with all these compliments, I may not be able to fit any shirts over my big head, LOL!

It does help with the oldest helping out with the younger ones, but I have to make sure she doesn't boss her brother too much.

You guys take care, I'm going to be up in Richmond this week-end at my daughters Highland Dance competition (I'll be hearin' bagpipes in my head for a week afterwards)

Hold down the fortpax

anne

IP: Logged

deeremom
Swashbuckler

posted 27 October 2000 06:12 PM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Posts: 1895
From: Very Small Town, Texas
Registered: Oct 2000

I love the discussions of Father Malachi Martin, the Third Secret of Fatima, the Masonic connections, etc. Please don't stop them.

There is no one in my life who understands and shares my interest and love for Art Bell and all of the issues he taught us about, and especially not these topics. I am so delighted to have been led to this forum.

Thank you all!

Pat

IP: Logged

TomG Buccaneer <hr/> Posts: 175 From: ,TX, USA Registered: Oct 2000	 profile mail edit quote posted 27 October 2000 06:31 PM <hr/> deeremom, I know how you feel. My wife feigns interest, but quickly zones me out. My daughter tells me to be quiet because I'm scaring her. If I didn't have this outlet to share, I'd probably bust. IP: Logged
Al Bowman Buccaneer <hr/> Posts: 451 From: Bensalem, Pa. Registered: May 2000	 profile mail edit quote posted 29 October 2000 05:57 AM <hr/> Tom, I hear you! My wife says I scare her, my daughter is too young to understand, and this is definitely an outlet to share thoughts among friends. I may not post all the time but I never miss any discussion on Father Martin. I learn something new just about every day. I do have my best friend since childhood interested in this though, so I am spreading the word a little bit. IP: Logged
Shooter Buccaneer <hr/> Posts: 114 From: Chicago, Illinois, U.S.A. Registered: Oct 2000	 profile mail edit quote posted 29 October 2000 04:18 PM <hr/> Please do! Start a thread on the "Third Secret!" I remember when I brought the subject up with a Priest at my Parish, He declined to discuss it. However, he did encourage me to continue my quest for the truth! Read Kathleen Keating's Book "Final Warning!" Sobering reading. I still don't think Fr. Malachi fell... I think he was pushed! IP: Logged
TomG Buccaneer <hr/> Posts: 175 From: ,TX, USA Registered: Oct 2000	 profile mail edit quote posted 29 October 2000 07:38 PM <hr/> Shooter, I did create a thread for, specifically, the 3rd secret. What I wanted to do is take apart the vision, as released by the Holy See, and compare/reconcile it with everything we know about the secret, especially all the clues Fr Malachi gave us over the years. I also want to derive an interpretation that is objective. My problem with Cardinal Ratzinger's interpretation is that it is the view of a Curia official, who was a participant of Vatican II, and has been a leader of the Church during recent Church history. I think his position, and responsibilities color the interpretation he has released. I think we can collectively do better. IP: Logged
Capt.Hornblower Buccaneer <hr/> Posts: 74 From: Cold North Atlantic Registered: Oct 2000	 profile mail edit quote posted 30 October 2000 02:18 PM <hr/> Anya--I hope your weekend went well!. I have to confess that my kilt hangs sadly in my attic, and it has been years since I attempted to breathe life into the pipes. I think it has to do with an extra 20 pounds and a lack of time to practice, but you have rekindled the Celtic fires! As ever, Pat IP: Logged

Night Rambler
Buccaneer

posted 30 October 2000 07:37 PM

profile

edit

quote

Posts: 85
From: Florida's Gulf Coast
Registered: Oct 2000

quote:

Originally posted by deeremom:

I love the discussions of Father Malachi Martin, the Third Secret of Fatima, the Masonic connections, etc. Please don't stop them.

There is no one in my life who understands and shares my interest and love for Art Bell and all of the issues he taught us about, and especially not these topics. I am so delighted to have been led to this forum.

Thank you all!

Pat

This is kind of a late reply, but I'm still catching up on my forum-reading...You echoed my feelings exactly! I really miss hearing both of these venerable men.

[This message has been edited by Night Rambler (edited 30 October 2000).]

IP: Logged

anya46
Buccaneer

posted 31 October 2000 05:09 AM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Posts: 33
From: Lexington Park, MD USA
Registered: Oct 2000

Dear Pat - My dear man, it's never too late to take-up the pipes!

Another bit of mis-information put out by other 'supposed' authorities - on EWTN the host Raymond Arroyo was interviewing a priest, who when asked by a caller, if he knew Malachi Martin, stated, 'yes, he knew Malachi Martin, had talked with him a few times, and had received some direction from him, but, btw, did you know, Malachi Martin had never performed an exorcism?'

How disgusting! Unless Malachi was a consummate liar, it's very well known he did perform exorcisms, and that he assisted at exorcisms in his later years... I don't know if this priest had an 'agenda', or was merely misinformed himself, but I'm tempted to write and take them to task on that statement. Btw, this priest admitted he had only been performing exorcisms for approx. 4yrs. He is out of the New York diocese.

Malachi was tireless in his priestly duties as a spiritual director and confessor - he always had time (I don't know how), to write a note or letter to someone who needed his advice, or make a phone calls to discuss problems with what he considered his spiritual sons and daughters. He was not 'above it all', distancing himself from the 'common people' - Malachi took his obligations as a priest in dead earnest.

And even though he was a brilliant man in his learning, he had that ability to immediately establish a bond of trust and rapport with anyone who sought him out for help, indeed, I believe that's why other did seek his help, because, as he so beautifully put it in 'Hostage to the Devil', "The quality of humanness reaches a striking degree of fullness in some of us; when it does, it seems to give a shimmering tonal halo to our communication with those around us, and others feel in such a person a temperament that eagerly responds to fragile but intimately precious values." That is precisely the quality Malachi possessed -

To put it simply, I think many clerics who disdain and 'pooh-pooh' his credibility, have succumbed to simple envy.

I'll get off my soapbox now - hope you all had a great week-end.

Pax
anne

p.s. - Tom, Gwen, Pat, daughter brought home 1 trophy, 3(1st)places, 2 (2nd)places and (1)3rd place. Whew, am I glad the dance season is over!

IP: Logged

TomG
Buccaneer

posted 31 October 2000 05:57 AM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Posts: 175
From: ,TX, USA
Registered: Oct 2000

Anne, if dance season is over, what an incredible way to finish.

Give her our congratulations, well done!

IP: Logged

Conspiracy Theorist
Buccaneer

posted 31 October 2000 08:50 AM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Posts: 300
From: Reno, NV
Registered: May 2000

As a kid who graduated from Catholic School in 1966, Father Martin reminded me of some of the Irish Priests who educated me.

As much as I loved the man, Father Martin was a very old-school conservative, who saw the reforms within the Catholic Church, away from rigid dogma and unquestioned authority as Satanic. His antithesis in life would be another Irish Priest, Father Andrew Greeley, author of "White Smoke," among many others. Father Greeley openly lauds reforms, and wishes for even more.

If Art returns to the air, I'd love to see him make contact with Father Greeley for a different view, and bring him on the show.

-----
Rick Jackson

IP: Logged

TomG
Buccaneer

posted 31 October 2000 09:54 AM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Posts: 175
From: ,TX, USA
Registered: Oct 2000

Andrew Greeley is a priest parading around as a sex therapist.

He makes his living writing smut novels and criticizing the Holy See.

His point of view is already well known. If he were on the radio, he would be put forward as a voice of Catholicism, but the notions he will put forward will not be Catholic. He will, of course, veil his language carefully, but his points will be the same.

[This message has been edited by TomG (edited 31 October 2000).]

IP: Logged

TomG
Buccaneer

Posts: 175
From: ,TX, USA
Registered: Oct 2000

posted 31 October 2000 10:05 AM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Fr Malachi never considered the reforms as specifically Satanic. He considered the situation as "allowed by God" to permit the Church structure to auto-demolish. He always considered it God's will, and His way of preparing the Church for the future. If the hierarchy of the Church wanted to cause the Church structure's demise, Fr Malachi figured God said, "Fine". If you look at Pope JPII's outlook on the future of the Church, prior to the assassination attempt, and his outlook afterwards, there was a change. JPII saw that the Church structure was going down, and turned his attention elsewhere.

All this fits into God's plan. If you look at the state of the Catholic Church now, and how it was before Vatican II, and more specifically, prior to Pope Leo XIII's vision or Lucifer being granted 100 years to wreak havoc, I don't think even Andrew Greeley can show how we are better off now, in matters of faith.

On the other hand, spiritual pride and heresy runs rampant. Notions such as, everyone is saved, no one goes to Hell, God is too loving to send anyone there, are prevalent in the Church today, and it has never been taught by the Church.

[This message has been edited by TomG (edited 31 October 2000).]

IP: Logged

anya46
Buccaneer

Posts: 33
From: Lexington Park, MD USA
Registered: Oct 2000

posted 31 October 2000 02:02 PM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Dear Thomas:

As my protestant friends like to say, "AMEN"!!

As one convert said to a cradle Catholic, while describing his journey into the Faith

'This particular 'modern-day priest gave me no reason to come into the Faith, indeed, he didn't think it really mattered if I converted, and that I'd be better off staying where I was (protestant), to which the cradle Catholic replied, "Well, they (modernist clerics) never gave us a reason to STAY in the Church", pinpointing one of the reasons so many Catholics abandoned the Faith who were raised on the catechism of the 60s and 70s.

Indeed, I'm sure if I'd had Fr. Greeley as my spiritual director (if he even subscribes to that antiquated, quaint function) instead of Malachi, I'm certain myself, along with my children, wouldn't be Catholic at present and my husband wouldn't have felt the need to come back to the Faith after a 30yr. absence.

Thank the good Lord for dedicated and ardent priests like Fr. Martin - they stand as sanctuaries of sanity in these evil, chaotic times.

Pax
anne

p.s.- thanks Tom for the lauds for my daughter - even though she doesn't know you, it pleased her to know others shared a bit of her happiness in a job well done.

IP: Logged

Al Bowman
Buccaneer

posted 31 October 2000 03:34 PM

profile mail edit quote

Posts: 451
From: Bensalem, Pa.
Registered: May 2000

Tom, I agree on Andrew Greeley. My mother-in-law gave me one of his books to read years ago. I started to read it and could not believe that the author was a priest. Anyone saying that Father Martin did not perform exorcisms is a flat out liar.

IP: Logged

maryals
Swashbuckler

posted 01 November 2000 10:53 AM

profile mail edit quote

Posts: 1722
From: anchorage, Alaska, USA
Registered: Sep 2000

Wow, thank you soooo much for these threads on Fr Malachi Martin. In keeping with the vein (more or less) of what I've read in this thread, I highly recommend reading "The Final Conclave", written in 1978 by Fr Martin. The first half of the book gives, for the first time in public, the true "inside view" of the Conclave of Cardinals that elects a new Pope. WHEW stuff, even as a Catholic, I never imagined.

And it is very interesting to read the "fictional" second half of the book, what he imagined 20 years ago would happen, compared to what really has happened! "Saint Michael the Archangel defend us in battle...." maryals

IP: Logged

TomG
Buccaneer

posted 03 November 2000 07:38 AM

profile mail edit quote

Posts: 175
From: ,TX, USA
Registered: Oct 2000

Al, according to Henry King, a long time friend of Fr Malachi's, Fr Malachi assisted at hundreds of exorcisms, but he never presided. He was not THE exorcist. Later in life he continued to assist, and directed exorcisms, many at the same time, but again, did not preside over any particular exorcism.

This is according to Henry King.

(We may be talking semantics here, since he did take part in many exorcisms, but I guess people could be correct in saying he never presided over an exorcism. By the same token, if anyone says it in such a way as to make it seem Fr Malachi lied about his exorcisms, or tries to diminish the work he gave his life to do, is disingenuous at best, malicious at worst.)

[This message has been edited by TomG (edited 03 November 2000).]

IP: Logged

Capt.Hornblower
Buccaneer

posted 05 November 2000 03:39 PM

profile mail edit quote

Posts: 74
From: Cold North Atlantic
Registered: Oct 2000

Anya46

You will be glad to know that I dragged the Irish war-pipes out of the closet. I need a new bag and reeds, but it was you who inspired me to, once again, take up my appointed task as piper!

Trying to keep up with the board--computer time is limited--but Mac, Tom, Al et.al. are a pleasure to read when I do get on.

As ever,

Pat

IP: Logged

mac
Buccaneer

posted 05 November 2000 04:19 PM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Posts: 558
From:
Registered: Oct 2000

Tom, wasn't there a couple of other thread here? I thought we were evaluating the possible successors to the Pope. Am I imagining something? I get lost here, must learn to leave bread crumbs. I think I liked it much better when we had one thread, and we just posted whatever angle or lead we were working on. Gwen - Are you ok? Hope you are well.

IP: Logged

next newest topic | next oldest topic

This topic is 5 pages long: 1 2 3 4 5

All times are PT (US)

Administrative Options: Open Topic | Archive/Move | Delete Topic

Hop to:

Contact Us | www.fantasticforum.com

Powered by Infopop www.infopop.com © 2000
Ultimate Bulletin Board 5.47d

Father Malachi Martin

The Third Secret of Fatima

Vatican Intrigue
What will come?

 Topic Closed

 FAN-TASTIC FORUM

|  Father Malachi Martin

|  Father Malachi Martin \(Page 3\)

POST NEW TOPIC

profile | register | preferences | faq | search

 UBBFriend: Email This Page to Someone!

This topic is 5 pages long: 1 2 3 4 5

next newest topic | next oldest topic

Author

Topic: Father Malachi Martin

anya46
Buccaneer

posted 05 November 2000 05:03 PM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Posts: 33
From: Lexington Park, MD USA
Registered: Oct 2000

Dear Pat - That's great! Has it been that many years since you played?
One of these days, my family will get back to Ireland - to meet all the other family (mostly migrated from the northern county areas) - the Irish surely left an indelible stamp of themselves on human history, especially with all things of the 'other world'(spiritual plane).
One day, God willing...

IP: Logged

mac
Buccaneer

posted 06 November 2000 10:00 AM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Posts: 558
From:
Registered: Oct 2000

Oh jeez. I just found the Fatima and Pope John Paul successor threads. I'm such an idiot. Can't believe I did that. Had the preference setting to show only last day of posts. Sorry guys.

IP: Logged

mac
Buccaneer

posted 06 November 2000 03:32 PM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Posts: 558
From:
Registered: Oct 2000

Tom: I keep re-reading your short treatise on the Emmaus Factor. It becomes more clear to me each time I read it. All of a sudden, I understand the analogy and the Church's evolution.

If the Church's crucifixion has not yet occurred...well...I will say that I find it very disturbing. The text of the Third Secret of Fatima come to mind.

I think there is a reason that Fr. Martin mentioned the 3rd Secret, repeatedly - and then cited the reference to the Emmaus Factor.

Take a look at the scenario if you overlay the visual of the 3rd Secret (what it looks like), with the Emmaus Factor explanation (the "why" of it).

Recap references:
"...for all those who wish to find the truth and are willing to search for it, there will never be any doubt as to what they should do. The Emmaus Factor is the key factor of our religion. Ave Maria Gratia Plena - Malachi B. Martin (July 9, 1998)".

Hilda Sophia: Thanks for that insight into the Carravagio (sp?) painting. I think I will click over to the Museum of Art (Washington DC, to see if they have a larger gif). I need to see this.

IP: Logged

Gwen
Swashbuckler

posted 13 November 2000 05:27 PM

Posts: 693
From: Arizona
Registered: Oct 2000

Hi all, nothing to add tonight, just very tired and blah feeling...needed to touch base with kindred spirits. Bless you all...be vigilant...pray without ceasing.

Love and peace
Gwen

IP: Logged

mac
Buccaneer

posted 15 November 2000 12:44 PM

Posts: 558
From:
Registered: Oct 2000

Hi guys - me too. Just checking in. Working on our project. Gwen, be sure you're getting enough rest; and let these other "peripheral" issues simply float out to sea...
Pat, you doing ok?

IP: Logged

Capt.Hornblower
Buccaneer

posted 15 November 2000 05:00 PM

Posts: 74
From: Cold North
Atlantic
Registered: Oct 2000

Hello, all:

Haven't had a spare moment recently, but it is great to see what you all are up to.

Anya--I must confess my piping skills were minimal, but it is time to take the pipes out again!

My 10 year-old daughter was recently injured in a soccer game. We are dealing with 'post-concussive syndrome' which entails loss of short-term memory, processing speed is lowered, erratic word retrieval, headaches, nausea and constant muscle aches. Have been in and out of the hospital. Unknown exactly how much damage and unknown how much is temporary or long-term. A nightmare...

Her name is Marianne. Keep her in your prayers if you would...

Talk soon.

Thanks, all.

Pat

IP: Logged

Gwen
Swashbuckler

Posts: 693
From: Arizona
Registered: Oct 2000

posted 15 November 2000 05:09 PM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Pat, so sorry to hear about your daughter's accident. She, as well as you and your family, will most certainly be in my prayers. It is so difficult when your child is hurting, when you are wishing you could just take the hurt away and bear it for them. Give her a hug from a friend she has never met in Arizona, who is sending love and good thoughts her way. Take care.

IP: Logged

TomG
Buccaneer

Posts: 175
From: ,TX, USA
Registered: Oct 2000

posted 15 November 2000 05:29 PM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Pat, you can count on your daughter being in the intentions of the six in our household, during our daily Rosary.

Good luck, my friend

IP: Logged

anya46
Buccaneer

Posts: 33
From: Lexington Park, MD USA
Registered: Oct 2000

posted 15 November 2000 05:54 PM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Pat -
will keep you and Marianne in our prayers.

God bless you and keep you, Pat

anne

IP: Logged

MaryE
Buccaneer

Posts: 40
From: the Hudson Valley area of New York
Registered: May 2000

posted 15 November 2000 07:13 PM

profile

edit

quote

Pat,
Your daughter is certainly in my prayers, as are you. Hope all is well very soon for your family.

Mary Anne

IP: Logged

Barbara
Buccaneer

Posts: 435
From:
Registered: May 2000

posted 15 November 2000 09:42 PM

Pat, Please keep us posted on your daughters progress. There is nothing more devastating then having a sick child and wondering what the outcome will be - the waiting is the worst part!
My son (he's 29 now) had some major health problems when he was young and I remember what that worry was like. He's fine now, thank God. We would take him to Childrens Hospital in Philadelphia and felt lucky to have such a fine hospital in our area.
The most important thing is to get her to the right doctor, which isn't always easy to do.
I will say a prayer for her and your family tonight and I hope that she recovers quickly.
Best Wishes,
Barbara R.

IP: Logged

mac
Buccaneer

Posts: 558
From:
Registered: Oct 2000

posted 16 November 2000 10:07 PM

Pat, I am so sorry to hear of your daughters injury. I know she will be brave - kids always seem to have an inner strength, and a determination to get better. Our regards to you and your family, Pat.

IP: Logged

Capt.Hornblower
Buccaneer

Posts: 74
From: Cold North Atlantic
Registered: Oct 2000

posted 18 November 2000 08:26 PM

Dear all:
Your kind thoughts and prayers mean a lot. Thanks so very much. Hopefully all will be well...

Pat

IP: Logged

Capt.Hornblower
Buccaneer

Posts: 74
From: Cold North Atlantic
Registered: Oct 2000

posted 19 November 2000 04:10 PM

Hello to my friends--
Just got in from the hospital.
I think I have good news. The neurologist in Boston (the second opinion) feels that the damage is only temporary due to contusions on the right side of the brain. These should heal. No evidence of nerve or cervical or permanent cranial damage.
I think it was the bright light and the prayers from all of you...
Love you all...
Pat

IP: Logged

Gwen
Swashbuckler

Posts: 693
From: Arizona
Registered: Oct 2000

posted 19 November 2000 04:28 PM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Pat, that is wonderful news. The prayers will continue! Take care. You are in our thoughts.

IP: Logged

anya46
Buccaneer

Posts: 33
From: Lexington Park, MD USA
Registered: Oct 2000

posted 20 November 2000 08:48 AM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Dear Pat -

I am so relieved to hear that things are better
I've so often thought of your dear daughter Marianne, since my oldest girl is also 10yrs.old - and as Gwen posted above, our prayers will continue for you and your family

Pax Christi
anne

IP: Logged

MaryE
Buccaneer

Posts: 40
From: the Hudson Valley area of New York
Registered: May 2000

posted 20 November 2000 03:25 PM

profile

edit

quote

Pat, Glad you had some good news from the neurologist. Be assured of our continued prayers for you and your daughter.

Mary Anne

IP: Logged

Hilda Sophia
Buccaneer

Posts: 1334
From: Connecticut
Registered: May 2000

posted 20 November 2000 03:46 PM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Pat,

I hope all goes well with your daughter. I think if I had it to do over again I would like to be a pediatrician or pediatric nurse as kids seem to bounce back so fast from illnesses.

I remember when my daughter had her appendix out at age six. I stayed overnight after the operation and then went home for a few hours. When I came back, she was really perky and went to the bathroom by herself. She came out and said, "I have to tell the nurse what I did before I can flush." I had a hard time to keep from laughing. This was a kid who sometimes forgot to flush at home!

IP: Logged

Capt.Hornblower
Buccaneer

posted 20 November 2000 04:49 PM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Posts: 74
From: Cold North
Atlantic
Registered: Oct 2000

TO: all

Thank you all so much. While there appears to be no permanent damage, it will take weeks/months to restore that which was. Excess stimulation is a problem, so we will be home-schooling for the rest of the year. Hopefully, all will be well.

I need to say how much your kind words meant. Just think, my little one had friends she had never met! She says you are her angels--and I know she is right! Your continued prayers will be a blessing. Somehow, I think that Fr. Martin was never far from folks like us. He saw God in many small ways. We , here, found him in your thoughts and prayers.

Love and thanks.

Pat

IP: Logged

Al Bowman
Buccaneer

posted 20 November 2000 05:03 PM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Posts: 451
From: Bensalem, Pa.
Registered: May 2000

Pat, I had not been on this thread for a while and am just now catching up. I am very glad that everything will be well with your daughter, and I just know that the prayers from everyone helped. I will add your daughter to my daily prayers. I am sure everything will be fine.

IP: Logged

Gwen
Swashbuckler

posted 20 November 2000 05:08 PM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Posts: 693
From: Arizona
Registered: Oct 2000

Pat, thanks for keeping us posted on Marianne's progress. You know, I was looking at my favorite plaque hanging on the wall in my bedroom, just before I checked these boards. It says, "We are, each of us, an angel with only one wing, and we can fly only by embracing each other."

We must all remember how fragile life is; don't put off telling someone you love them, or saying I'm sorry if there is a rift. Be good to one another.

You and yours will continue in our prayers. Take care.

IP: Logged

anya46
Buccaneer

posted 22 November 2000 04:00 PM

Posts: 33
From: Lexington Park, MD USA
Registered: Oct 2000

To Pat, Gwen, Tom, Mac and all the rest:

God bless all, keep you safe and in Gods' care and His Peace be with you anne (off to peel the potatoes!)

IP: Logged

Capt.Hornblower
Buccaneer

posted 22 November 2000 04:12 PM

Posts: 74
From: Cold North
Atlantic
Registered: Oct 2000

Hello, all:

Back to business. Can anyone recall what Fr. Martin's feelings were concerning 'alien' life forms. I remember reading something months ago...There is much literature regarding different entities in folklore and literature, but there is little information which clearly discerns between the innocent and the demonic. I think I remember Father acknowledging other life forms, but I cannot remember what was the indicator of the demonic.

Any thoughts or memories?

Pat

IP: Logged

TomG
Buccaneer

posted 22 November 2000 08:51 PM

Posts: 175
From: ,TX, USA
Registered: Oct 2000

Pat, didn't you hear that one interview with Art, where a caller spent ten minutes trying to get Fr Malachi to agree the universe was "teeming with intelligent life"?

It was so amusing to listen to. Fr Malachi stood his ground, while this other guy tried to brow beat (and Art was agreeing with the other guy). Finally, since they weren't getting anywhere, Art cut the caller off and asked Fr Malachi something along the lines of, "If life is found, out in the Cosmos, would it affect your beliefs?" (this is from memory, I don't really remember what he said). Fr Malachi replied, simply, "No, I would be more amazed at God's power/wonder". (Again, I don't remember the stuff exactly, but I think this was the jist of the conversation).

IP: Logged

TomG
Buccaneer

posted 23 November 2000 07:22 AM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Posts: 175
From: ,TX, USA
Registered: Oct 2000

BTW, Pat...

Since the interviews I've been listening to have been pretty fruitless on third secret issues, I'll be re-listening to the Art Bell interviews as well. When I hit this one, I'll give you exact quotes.

IP: Logged

next newest topic | next oldest topic

This topic is 5 pages
long: 1 2 3 4 5

All times are PT (US)

Administrative Options: Open Topic | Archive/Move | Delete Topic

POST NEW TOPIC

Hop to:

Contact Us | www.fantasticforum.com

Powered by Infopop www.infopop.com © 2000
Ultimate Bulletin Board 5.47d

Father Malachi Martin

The Third Secret of Fatima

Vatican Intrigue
What will come?

 Topic Closed

 FAN-TASTIC FORUM

 Father Malachi Martin

 Father Malachi Martin \(Page 4\)

POST NEW TOPIC

profile | register | preferences | faq | search

 UBBFriend: Email This Page to Someone!

This topic is 5 pages long: 1 2 3 4 5

next newest topic | next oldest topic

Author

Topic: Father Malachi Martin

Capt.Hornblower
Buccaneer

posted 23 November 2000 06:11 PM

profile mail edit quote

Posts: 74
From: Cold North
Atlantic
Registered: Oct 2000

Tom:

I must have missed that one! Thanks a million. Any information would be extremely helpful...

Thanks...

Pat

IP: Logged

Gwen
Swashbuckler

posted 28 November 2000 04:18 AM

profile mail edit quote

Posts: 693
From: Arizona
Registered: Oct 2000

Check this out from the Telegraph this morning (Vatican Ban On Exorcism At Mass)

<http://www.telegraph.co.uk:80/et?ac=000114832908976&rtmo=kCbkJZp&atmo=ggggg3JK&pg=/et/00/11/28/wvat28.html>

IP: Logged

TomG
Buccaneer

posted 28 November 2000 08:01 PM

profile mail edit quote

Posts: 175
From: ,TX, USA
Registered: Oct 2000

Gwen, what are your thoughts?

Fr Malachi talked about Milingo on the Art Bell show once. I think the context was how Milingo talked about the satanism in the Vatican, and how people were getting mad about it.

Irrespective of that last paragraph, my concern is whether Mass is the correct forum for exorcism, faith healing, speaking in tongues, or any of the other charismatic stuff that goes on.

I'd like to know your opinion.

IP: Logged

TomG
Buccaneer

posted 06 December 2000 01:22 PM

profile mail edit quote

Posts: 175
From: ,TX, USA
Registered: Oct 2000

Pat, I found that reference to the guy talking about the universe "teaming with intelligent life".

It was the April 4th, 1996 interview with Art Bell. It's 60 minutes into my second 90 minute tape, so it's probably pretty close to the end of the interview.

If you don't have it, I guess I can transcribe it (I'm getting better at this).

IP: Logged

Capt.Hornblower
Buccaneer

posted 06 December 2000 04:38 PM

profile mail edit quote

Posts: 74
From: Cold North
Atlantic
Registered: Oct 2000

Tom, Thanks a million. By the way, reference to the above post, it is my understanding that Mass is not the proper forum for an exorcism, as the languages and ritual found in the Rite in no way require the Sacrifice of the Mass or the Consecration. I suspect faith healing and charismatic occurrences are not in the same category as they are not part of any rite or ritual...

Pat

IP: Logged

TomG
Buccaneer

Posts: 175
From: ,TX, USA
Registered: Oct 2000

 posted 06 December 2000 07:30 PM  profile  mail  edit  quote

---

Pat, my understanding is Archbishop Milingo is doing both, in a pentecostal manner. Mass is also a specific ritual, that should be followed according to the rubrics. I don't see where faith healing or the other stuff fits in.

IP: Logged

Capt.Hornblower
Buccaneer

Posts: 74
From: Cold North Atlantic
Registered: Oct 2000

 posted 09 December 2000 06:31 PM  profile  mail  edit  quote

---

Tom:

I am with you. The Mass is just that--it is not a setting or a backdrop for other activities. My suspicion is that the Fisherman can use any venue He chooses to make His will/presence known in any number of ways including, but not limited to faith healing.

However, I think it would be totally inappropriate to 'design' a Mass in hopes of having these activities occur, as this would involve a corruption of the Rite.

Interesting....

Pat

[This message has been edited by Capt.Hornblower (edited 09 December 2000).]

IP: Logged

DisneyFreak96
Swashbuckler

Posts: 1528
From: New Orleans Square, Disneyland
Registered: May 2000

 posted 09 December 2000 09:37 PM  profile  mail  edit  quote

---

Two things-
Pat-Thank you for keeping us updated on your daughter-I've been praying for her...

Second-EWTN and others have attacked Fr. Martin for several things including administering the sacraments. Why? Because he would have been one of only a few men to be able to do it with the proper paperwork (most people that leave give up that right and he had no paper that said otherwise) and #2 because he was so conservative. He has aligned himself with some Right-Right Wingers. I'm not saying I don't agree with him, but at least on group he approves of-the LeFebves-is not legal in the Catholic Church.

If one looks at how liberal The Church is today-it's not that suprising that EWTN isn't embracing him and even, upon his death, writing a piece stating he wasn't a priest and shouldn't be doing ANY sacraments including Mass.

-----
signing off....
DisneyFreak96
<http://how.to/savedisneyland/>

IP: Logged

TomG
Buccaneer

Posts: 175
From: ,TX, USA
Registered: Oct 2000

 posted 10 December 2000 09:51 AM  profile  mail  edit  quote

---

DisneyFreak96, are you telling us that Mother Angelica claimed Fr Malachi was NOT a priest?

IP: Logged

Capt.Hornblower
Buccaneer

posted 10 December 2000 02:12 PM

profile mail edit quote

Posts: 74
From: Cold North
Atlantic
Registered: Oct 2000

Disney,

Thank you kindly for your prayers. They are appreciated.

Pat

IP: Logged

deeremom
Swashbuckler

posted 10 December 2000 06:09 PM

profile mail edit quote

Posts: 1895
From: Very Small Town,
Texas
Registered: Oct 2000

I have been away for awhile--So glad you are continuing this thread. I'm trying to catch up. You all are an inspiration!

IP: Logged

Poptart8
Buccaneer

posted 11 December 2000 02:12 PM

profile edit quote

Posts: 835
From:
Registered: Nov 2000

I was re-listening to my copy of the July 13-14th 1998 interview of C2C with Malachi Martin. This was the show where Art ask the audience to please send him a copy of the third secret of Fatima. (Because he lost his original copy)

Tom I can't help but wonder if one of those old archived interviews with Ed Dames and Malachi back in Nov of 97 isn't what you're really looking for. Does anyone remember that particular night?

IP: Logged

TomG
Buccaneer

posted 11 December 2000 07:14 PM

profile mail edit quote

Posts: 175
From: ,TX, USA
Registered: Oct 2000

I have the Nov, 25 1997 interview of Ed Dames on Art Bell. I don't remember Fr Malachi coming on air on that show, I certainly would have noted it.

I heard Ed Dames talk many times of the night he went "toe to toe" with Fr Malachi, but I was never able to hear that interview, or see it in the archives, etc.

If they were on air together, I can't imagine the conversation being other than Ed defending Remote Viewing.

Does anyone have that interview (or a transcript)?

IP: Logged

TomG
Buccaneer

posted 11 December 2000 07:17 PM

profile mail edit quote

Posts: 175
From: ,TX, USA
Registered: Oct 2000

I'm working on the 7/13/98 interview right now. That's the last I have for interviews. I know they talked about the third secret at length (Art even apologizing at one point for pressing Fr Malachi). Once it's all out here, then we can dig in.

IP: Logged

maryals
Swashbuckler

Posts: 1722
From: anchorage, Alaska, USA
Registered: Sep 2000

posted 12 December 2000 08:11 AM

profile mail edit quote

DisneyFreak, I just cannot believe that folks on EWTN criticized Fr Malachi. I'm not calling you a liar....did you hear it with your own ears, or just passing along the info second hand? I mean, Mother Angelica could be the female counterpart of Fr Martin, she's that conservative. Yet, like Fr Malachi Martin, the Love shines thru her voice and face! I vaguely remember the night both Ed Dames and Father Malachi Martin were guests of Art Bell, and in my memory they got along very well, agreeing on many things. But best to depend on those who have the actual tapes to get the record straight.
maryals

IP: Logged

DisneyFreak96
Swashbuckler

Posts: 1528
From: New Orleans
Square, Disneyland
Registered: May 2000

posted 18 December 2000 05:14 AM

profile mail edit quote

No, the Mother herself did not say it. However, on their website they stated that he wasn't a practicing priest.

To non-Catholics this can be confusing.

He did admit that he asked to be released from his vows. Most priests who are released can no longer perform Mass or other sacraments except in extreme circumstances such as a car wreck or if the Pope gives them permission. It was claimed that he continued to perform the sacraments after he was released and that he did not carry around the paper from the vatican he would need to continue performing them. His friends claim in private session the Pope gave him 'oral' permission to do so.

EWTN is in italics.

Malachi Martin states, and the Holy See will confirm if asked, that "In 1965, Mr. Martin received a dispensation from all privileges and obligations deriving from his vows as a Jesuit and from priestly ordination." ...Malachi Martin alleges that he has the permission of the then Pope, Paul VI, to say the Mass in private. Although laicized priests are prohibited from performing the sacraments, except in certain cases provided for in Canon Law, there is no way to verify whether he has such an exception, and the Congregation would not necessarily know if the Pope verbally assured him he could celebrate Mass in private. Generally a man should be taken at his word unless there is evidence to the contrary.

Regarding Windswept House they claim he broke a basic obligation-sort of like a vow.

To deny the past and present Judases within the Church would be wrong. However, to act as if it made any difference to our obligations of obedience would be to take scandal (called passive scandal) from those who are giving scandal.

And last but not least they deal with the problems of some of the beliefs Father Martin held.

it should be noted than on his{ Father Martins) World Wide Web homepage he accepts as his own the Profession of Faith of Campos....compares Campos to LeFebve...The Profession of Faith of Campos clearly manifests the same spirit of self-judgment concerning Tradition, its extent, its interpretation and its application which brought about this [excommunication of 5 bishops] schism. And while this text professes an admirable adherence to Tradition, it undercuts this profession by opposing the actual decisions of the only one capable of authentically interpreting Tradition.

If one keeps in mind that Tradition (with a capital T) in the Catholic Church is equal to the Bible these are very strong words.

That is what it said. Again, remember Father Martin is right to Mother Angelica.

If you'd like to read more about this just let me know and I'll keep posting answers!

EWTN on Father Martin

-----
signing off...
DisneyFreak96
<http://how.to/savedisneyland/>

IP: Logged

Al Bowman
Buccaneer

posted 18 December 2000 06:35 PM

profile mail edit quote

Posts: 451
From: Bensalem, Pa.
Registered: May 2000

Ian was talking about Father Martin briefly on last nights show. He indicated that he will be doing a show on him in the near future. Ian also wrote his latest column on the subject.

IP: Logged

TomG
Buccaneer

posted 18 December 2000 07:15 PM

profile mail edit quote

Posts: 175
From: ,TX, USA
Registered: Oct 2000

Al, who's Ian?

IP: Logged

TomG
Buccaneer

posted 18 December 2000 07:43 PM

profile mail edit quote

Posts: 175
From: ,TX, USA
Registered: Oct 2000

DisneyFreak, do you know much about Colin Donovan?

I know he is associated with EWTN, as a theologian, but not a whole lot else.

STL or not, I found it funny how he equivocates when talking about the charismata, or progressive Church issues, or Medjugorje, etc., yet comes down like a ton of bricks on the more conservative, orthodox, traditional viewpoints.

I printed out his stuff on Malachi Martin, and the page out on Star Harbor (there is controversy there, whether Fr Malachi actually put that there or not, but that aside...). I will read it over carefully, and compare it with what I know, from a conversation I've had with Fr Charles Fiore, and all my other information, just to see if it jives.

IP: Logged

DisneyFreak96
Swashbuckler

posted 18 December 2000 09:29 PM

profile mail edit quote

Posts: 1528
From: New Orleans
Square, Disneyland
Registered: May 2000

quote:

Originally posted by TomG:
DisneyFreak, do you know much about Colin Donovan?

No, I will look into him a bit

quote:

I printed out his stuff on Malachi Martin, and the page out on Star Harbor (there is controversy there, whether Fr Malachi actually put that there or not, but that aside...). I will read it over carefully, and compare it with what I know, from a conversation I've had with Fr Charles Fiore, and all my other information, just to see if it jives.

I don't know much about Star Harbor except all I get when I pull it up is an electronic "Mass Card"-they closed down the rest of the site.

It's my understanding that Unity Publishing does 'jive' with what Father Martin believed. It was the malachimartin.com site that was really in question. Even Father Martin's closest friends from years ago including Fr Charles Fiore acknowledge <http://www.unitypublishing.com>

(See <http://www.geocities.com/Athens/Parthenon/6401/news.html> for more information)

-----
signing off....

DisneyFreak96

<http://how.to/savedisneyland/>

IP: Logged

everaftergirl
Swashbuckler

Posts: 2367
From: Southern California
Registered: May 2000

 posted 18 December 2000 11:44 PM  profile  mail  edit  quote

This is going to be long, and it's not complete, but here is part of the transcript from Fr. Malachi Martin and Major Ed Dames when they were on Art's show. I haven't had time to finish transcribing.

(missed the first few minutes on the tape...)

AB: ...protection.

FRM: ....oh absolutely...

AB: well...

FRM: That's the...now I only want to introduce (?), the thing which I've talked about before, which I can never put exactly...It is the supernatural. The supernatural is the _ _ _ (biat?) in the Christian tradition and in the Jewish tradition. But since I'm a Christian I must be authoritaded only by that. This idea of a supernatural is disturbing on one sense, but consoling in another sense, because the Christian idea is that the supernatural itself is totally alien to human nature, but has come to human nature to elevate it...ah, and therefore to protect it...in this...in this field. Especially in this field, but in the normal field of human behavior too. But it's alien to it, in the sense that, I myself cannot, of myself, just with my human powers attain the wisdom I need, in order to avoid...ah...collision and damage and...ah...harm. That's the idea of the supernatural in Christianity.

AB: Doctor may I ask you this?

FRM: Sure.

AB: Could Ed's understanding, or uhm, enlightenment...

FRM: Yes...

AB: ...protect him against possession?

FRM: It could, given merely the words he has used and the phrases he has used and what he has said. I find no trace of the things that betray...ah...the innate weakness of fantasy or pride or self-reliance. Umm...I find a Godliness in it...ah...and that is one of the keys to it. He should be protected against it, because the grace...ah...supernatural grace is there. All I'm doing is saying that, that has been with him apparently all along, because he sited his own career as a young man and then getting him to the...the dark corners and using the light to see the lurking dangers that were there...to be able to detect an angel of light, which is really the shadow itself, pretending...trying to defeat him. So yes, the answer is yes. He...he can do that with impunity. Ah...but then that would mean that, if I were to be fully and completely and thorough in that, in that answer, I'd have to sit down with Ed and take him...All right now, tell me how you pray, and how you think, and how you behave, and how you lived...

AB: Oh...

FRM: ...and your morality. And I've no intention of doing that to Ed, because he wouldn't do it to me...in public anyway.

AB: All right...um...Ed,...uh...do you want to hang on a little bit longer?

MED: Ah, it's up...I'm...I'm digging in to Father Martin's time, and...ah...I can hang in for another 30 minutes...

AB: All right, why don't we do another...another 30 minutes...Is that all right with you?

FRM: That's lovely.

AB: All right good. We will be back and we will do exactly that next. I'm Art Bell.

(break)

AB: Well all right...Back now to Doctor Malachi Martin and ah...Major Ed Dames. And ah, Doctor Martin is remote viewing something that you would not...ah...participate in, or as described...ah...is it something that you feel would have value and something you might even try yourself?

FRM: Ah...whatever, about trying myself, because I'm not a technician nor haven't been trained in this, I don't regard it as potentially dangerous. And in fact Art, I think at this stage what we should do is sketch out where the discussion has arrived. Um...Major Ed Dames has outlined...ah...very careful and tried and tested...um I'm...I was going to use the word technique, but he will forgive me if it's not exactly that...not the exact word. But it's a method of exploring and remote viewing, especially with view to intelligence, military and I suppose civilian, and also as regards human behavior. Now, and he does...he has pointed out that they had learned by bitter lessons, that certain types of people...certain characters...ah, are simply not fitted to be brought along this way, because of the dire results that take place. And he didn't expand on that and there's not need to. We can imagine what he means...what he means by it. The position of the exorcist...where we come in, is somebody who has gone off the rail, as it were. Somebody who has not merely become phenetic (?), but does seem to be ah...possessed as the classical term has it. Ah...and in his terms it is that the shadow has become completely all powerful over a particular individual, and the...the simple technique we use is a technique of confrontation...ah...between the exorcist and the exorcee...the possessed person, the presumably possessed person. And that's the initial problem...to find out, is the person really possessed or is it something else. And the confrontation between the exorcist and the exorcee _____ authority over the shadow...and ah, forcing the shadow by the authority of God, of Christ, to depart. That's roughly the area we have covered. Um...and ah, by the way, I must ask, as simple question about spelling. I don't know how to spell Citex. Is it Cite..."C I T E X"?

AB: Ed?

MAD: Father Martin it's a...it's a transliteration of the Greek letter of "C". Ah..."P S I"...Psi.

FRM: Oh...Psitex. "T E X" is it?

MAD: "P I T E C H" (?)

FRM: "T E C H" All right...and Ed is it, "D A M E S" is the way you spell your name?

MAD: That's correct.

FRM: I...I didn't know that. That's all right. I _____ (?) because I would like to correspond, or to be in contact with you if I may? Um...and I suppose I'll find it some way in California, I've got to find you...

MAD: I'll ah...make that connection and ah...Art will be our middle man. I was going to ask you, that perhaps we could corroborate in the future, or is there a case that... an exorcist case in the past, that you found intractable or, or, or irresolvable that perhaps my company could turn it's attention to...

FRM: ...There...there...there may well be, and I think we should talk about that between the two of us, outside of the public radio.

MAD: OK...

FRM: But ____ (unable to understand)... Art Bell's question, NO. I have no...I'm not even cherry about entrusting...ah...myself to the methods and the technology used, because things to me...ah...Major Ed, and I'm speaking as a priest here...and as an exorcist. It seems to me that you are overshadowed by a Godliness which I can only ascribe to my Savior. Now I'm using my Christian language, and you'll forgive that.

MAD: Ah...There's no need to forgive that.

FRM: Yea...

MAD: But I'm also a simple Christian.

FRM: Yea, I know...and basically it's a great simplicity. And there's a whole elaboration of that about the commandish (?) of our Lord Jesus and what He's done, and what He does, and the power that He gives, and the authority that He gives. But that's simply...those are the details of it all. So Art, to conclude that, my answer your question, NO. I...I would have really...really illimitable trust in the method that's Ed... Major Ed Dames uses and the technique. I ah, I ah have no qualms whatever. I really have not.

AB: I find that remarkable. You both apparently agree on the general nature of the middle ground.

FRM: That middle plateau we both know. I think we've both been there or are there, in (light laughter)...in the work we do. Do you agree?

MAD: I absolutely do.

AB: Many, many Christians...ah, people who would call this program or send me faxes would say, that what Ed is doing is, "of the devil". They would...(?) think...quick judgement.
 MAD: Ah...Art may I interrupt you and say...
 AB: Of course...
 MAD: That the head of the presidential foreign intelligence board, when briefed on the existence of our program, ah stated, _____ (cannot understand)...that man should not know these things until he dies.
 FRM: Ha...ah...You know, it's...it's a funny inversion of what a...what happened in the garden, according to Genesis. It really is, you know, you shall be as gods...as it was a temptation.

IP: Logged

everaftergirl
Swashbuckler

Posts: 2367
 From: Southern California
 Registered: May 2000

posted 19 December 2000 12:24 AM

profile

mail

edit

quote

No matter what anyone says or writes, Father Malachi Martin was a devoted Priest to our Lord Jesus Christ and the Catholic Church.

I know from the many times I heard him on Art's show...from the words he spoke, the tone of his voice, and most importantly...his compassion for people. He was indeed a devoted Priest to the Catholic Church.

We should listen carefully to all his tapes and transcripts. I do believe he told us much in those interviews. We need to pay attention and follow his example as a follower of Jesus Christ, which was what Father Malachi was all about.

I had a dream about him once. In it, he showed me other young men wanting to become priests. He also told me how wonderful it was when he took his vows, and let me feel what some of he felt, and some of what the young men felt. It was really neat.

I believe he visited me in my dreams, from Heaven. I have had many other dreams of others who have passed on...though not all.

One time my real mother visited me in my dreams (she was passed on) and she showed me her job in heaven...to learn how to be a good mother...and she showed me my girlfriend's new daughter, who was about 1 1/2 years old. My girlfriend was pregnant with here 2nd child at the time.

When my girlfriend's baby was 1 1/2 yrs. old, I went to see her for a visit. I had forgotten about the dream, but I had told her about it after I had it.

Anyway, there was the same exact little girl standing in front of me. She looked just like she had in the dream. And my girlfriend told me about how she was, what her personality was like. As it was the same that I had dreamt about, and told my girlfriend about.

No matter what anyone says, Fr. Malachi Martin was a true man. He died under suspicious circumstances. He professed that he was being held, sequestered from the world, right before his death. He told all, even though he put himself in harms way, because he was/is devoted to Jesus Christ.

I just wanted to share that with everyone. Thanks 😊

[This message has been edited by everaftergirl (edited 19 December 2000).]

IP: Logged

maryals Swashbuckler Posts: 1722 From: anchorage, Alaska, USA Registered: Sep 2000	 posted 26 December 2000 08:53 PM profile mail edit quote <hr/> Thank you DisneyFreak96 and EverafterGirl! I take a week or so off from this FF and WHEW!! I very much appreciate the info, and your hard work....everybody! All of this, at the Fr Martin threads, and other threads at this FF, is very important. maryals IP: Logged
everaftergirl Swashbuckler Posts: 2367 From: Southern California Registered: May 2000	 posted 28 December 2000 04:48 PM profile mail edit quote <hr/> Tonight on C2C Ian Punnett is hosting and Brian Doran is the guest. There is a tape of Fr. Martin too. Here's what it says on C2C: "Doran has been working as a radio copywriter and reporter in western New York since the early 1980's. He first began his research on the life of Malachi Martin in the late fall of 1999, four months after Martin's death. Doran came to know Father Malachi Martin while working at radio station WLEA in Hornell, New York in the mid-1990's. "Malachi Martin: God's Messenger" provides listeners with remembrances of the County Kerry boy who one day would become a priest, linguist, an archeologist, an exorcist, Vatican diplomat, and New York Times bestselling author." IP: Logged
Hilda Sophia Buccaneer Posts: 1334 From: Connecticut Registered: May 2000	 posted 29 December 2000 08:08 AM profile mail edit quote <hr/> I hope everyone was able to tune in to hear Ian interviewing Brian Doran last night. It was a great program and I managed to stay awake for most of it. Brian has compiled tapes of Fr. Malachi and also interviews with people who worked with him and has them available on cassettes. Very reasonable. I ordered a set this morning. At one point in the conversation, Ian said he had piles of Fr. Malachi's tapes on his desk! Was good to hear all of the tidbits from a person who actually knew Fr. Malachi as a friend of the family. Check out Brian's site at www.mmgm.org Ian quoted everaftergirl's message posted here and also mentioned the Fanatastic Forum site. [This message has been edited by Hilda Sophia (edited 29 December 2000).] IP: Logged

This topic is 5 pages long: 1 2 3 4 5

next newest topic | next oldest topic

All times are PT (US)

Administrative Options: Open Topic | Archive/Move | Delete Topic

Hop to:

Contact Us | www.fantasticforum.com

Powered by Infopop www.infopop.com © 2000
Ultimate Bulletin Board 5.47d

Father Malachi Martin

The Third Secret of Fatima

Vatican Intrigue
What will come?

Topic Closed

FAN-TASTIC FORUM

Father Malachi Martin

Father Malachi Martin \(Page 5\)

POST NEW TOPIC

profile | register | preferences | faq | search

UBBFriend: Email This Page to Someone!

This topic is 5 pages long: 1 2 3 4 5

next newest topic | next oldest topic

Author	Topic: Father Malachi Martin
Cherry Kelly Swashbuckler Posts: 3645 From: Belton, MO USA Registered: Jul 2000	 posted 29 December 2000 09:25 AM  profile  mail  edit  quote <hr/> Hilda - I listened last night - it was great! Learned a few things I hadn't known or had forgotten... IP: Logged

Hilda Sophia
Buccaneer

Posts: 1334
From: Connecticut
Registered: May 2000

posted 29 December 2000 01:16 PM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Cherry,

Wasn't it a great program? I was upset by several callers who seemed to want to spread gossip and rumors about Father Malachi. I don't believe a word they said. I'm sure it was jealousy and envy more than anything else. Jesuits are fair game. I know a few.

I was also interested in the mention that he was elderly, but kept on with his work to the point of exhaustion. That's what Edgar Cayce did. He went where he was asked no matter the cost to his health.

I was tickled by the know-it-all who tried to correct the pronunciation of the name Malachi. I learned it as Mal-a-ki when I learned the books of the Bible, but that is the Hebrew pronunciation. Mal-a-key is Gallic. Used to listen to Malachi McCourt on radio from NYC years ago. He's Frank's brother. He always said Mal-a-key.

By the way, Frank and his wife are having a bit of a tussle with the zoning board at their country house in Roxbury, CT. He wanted to turn a barn into a writing studio, but the board decided the bathroom he wanted to put in was too big. He is supposed to x the shower!

Sorry to go off subject, but thought you'd enjoy a bit of gossip from Litchfield County, CT.

[This message has been edited by Hilda Sophia (edited 29 December 2000).]

IP: Logged

everaftergirl
Swashbuckler

Posts: 2367
From: Southern California
Registered: May 2000

posted 29 December 2000 02:25 PM

profile

mail

edit

quote

I just heard Ian's mention of it in the archived tape. Thanks, Amanda

[This message has been edited by everaftergirl (edited 29 December 2000).]

IP: Logged

Capt.Hornblower
Buccaneer

posted 30 December 2000 05:38 PM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Posts: 74
From: Cold North Atlantic
Registered: Oct 2000

Hello, all--

I listened with interest to the Doran interview on C2C. It was fascinating. I was also glad to see that our friend, Everaftergirl, got a nationwide mention!!

Tom and Mac--I am thinking that now we have to 'verify' the messenger as well as his message. I am not sure how that can be done but I think it is essential.

That interview gave us a glimpse of the disinformation agents/agencies who are lurking.

It is clear that their intent is and will be to discredit the messenger in the hope that his message will then be disregarded.

Almost Clintonian...

I don't know how any of us can do this. Let's think...

As ever,

Pat

IP: Logged

everaftergirl
Swashbuckler

posted 30 December 2000 06:13 PM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Posts: 2367
From: Southern California
Registered: May 2000

Hey all...

Hi Capt. Hornblower,

You said

Tom and Mac--I am thinking that now we have to 'verify' the messenger as well as his message. I am not sure how that can be done but I think it is essential.

Not sure what you are speaking of here, could you elaborate?

Thanks,
Amanda

[This message has been edited by everaftergirl (edited 30 December 2000).]

IP: Logged

Hilda Sophia
Buccaneer

Posts: 1334
From: Connecticut
Registered: May 2000

posted 31 December 2000 03:14 AM

profile

mail

edit

quote

everaftergirl,

I agree with you. I don't understand who Captn. Hornblower means by "messenger". Is it Father Malachi Martin or Brian Doran? It isn't clear to me either.

I've ordered Brian's tapes and am anxiously waiting for them to arrive.

IP: Logged

everaftergirl
Swashbuckler

Posts: 2367
From: Southern California
Registered: May 2000

posted 31 December 2000 03:39 AM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Hi Hilda,

How much are the tapes please?

IP: Logged

Hilda Sophia
Buccaneer

Posts: 1334
From: Connecticut
Registered: May 2000

posted 31 December 2000 07:25 AM

profile

mail

edit

quote

everaftergirl and all,

Check out Brian Doran's website: www.mmgm.org

There is a link to Borders there where tapes can be ordered. Cost is $19.95 + s&h.

Three cassettes are included for "Malachi Martin: God's Messenger".

[This message has been edited by Hilda Sophia (edited 31 December 2000).]

IP: Logged

Capt.Hornblower
Buccaneer

Posts: 74
From: Cold North Atlantic
Registered: Oct 2000

posted 01 January 2001 08:05 AM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Hi, all:

Sorry--didn't mean to be so cryptic. The messenger is Father Malachi. I was thinking how easy it is, now that Fr. has passed, to smear his reputation and sew the seeds of doubt. He is not here to 'answer' the charges. The Pope and the prelates who agreed to his laicized status are also all gone. He cannot refute the charges and I don't know who else can...

I suspect that these attacks will continue and most likely escalate as the controversy about, say, the Third Secret heats up.

Fr. Malachi appears to be the one voice of truth and I assume that the dark forces are still aligned against him and all that he represented.

They may well begin attacking the messenger--Father Malachi--in the hope of diminishing the message he brought.

I just kind of wish there was a way to stop that from happening....

As ever,

Pat

IP: Logged

TomG
Buccaneer

posted 01 January 2001 09:49 AM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Posts: 175
From: ,TX, USA
Registered: Oct 2000

Pat, when you listen to MMGM, you will see all this is nothing new. (I'll be posting the 3rd secret related stuff later today in the other thread).

I brought up a couple of items from MMGM on the old board.

When Fr Malachi left the Jesuits, even before he went back to Ireland to live with his sister, the Jesuit machinery had already gotten there and spread disinformation on Fr Malachi (back in the 60's). They said he had a breakdown, or some other type of mental illness. They came after him here in America as well.

I spoke with Fr Fiore on the phone one day, and discussed the attacks on Fr Malachi and how to defend against them (and I was trying to verify some lies as well). He said Fr Malachi didn't bother trying to defend himself (though Fr Fiore did defend Fr Malachi). It's all explained on MMGM.

Fr Fiore does vouch for (he saw the papers, I believe) proving Fr Malachi was a valid priest. Not an Israeli spy, or KGB, or etc., etc.

This is a tape series you will want to get. These were Fr Malachi's friends, and those who knew him very well. (Anne put me on to this series back in August, thanks Anne!)

IP: Logged

Hilda Sophia
Buccaneer

posted 01 January 2001 09:58 AM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Posts: 1334
From: Connecticut
Registered: May 2000

Capt H,

Thanks for clearing that up. I thought you meant Father Malachi.

One would hope that the Church was above these petty intrigues and jealousies, but it is not.

My first and only trip to Rome was in the fall of 1977. I was studying art history at the time and made a special point of approaching St. Peter's from the center of the courtyard. I'd seen it from various angles in pictures and wanted the effect of coming to the center front. Walking slowly the building was just another building. At one moment, bam, it turned into solid mass of something so powerful I had to stop.

Inside it was quietly peaceful. This was around 4 PM on a weekday and there were few people around. I was glad I was alone and not with any tour group.

I didn't have the feeling of anything sinister then. That is what bothers me about what is happening behind the scenes. The Third Secret is only a tiny part of it.

IP: Logged

DisneyFreak96
Swashbuckler

posted 02 January 2001 09:31 PM

profile

mail

edit

quote

Posts: 1528
From: New Orleans
Square, Disneyland
Registered: May 2000

I am closing up this topic and moving it to "Life and Times of..."

Please do not think I am or was smearing Fathers name. I was only passing on information from a source that is considered "reliable" in the mainstream church and attempting to explain some inner workings and beliefs for non-Catholics. Halfway down regarding EWTN

After undergoing a stressfull time with the "Modernization" of a local church building (ie: my old parish )that reopened this Christmas day (after half the families left) I can let you know I am very close to the "far right" myself.

-----
signing off....
DisneyFreak96
Save Disneyland

[This message has been edited by DisneyFreak96 (edited 02 January 2001).]

IP: Logged

next newest topic | next oldest topic

This topic is 5 pages
long: 1 2 3 4 5

All times are PT (US)

Administrative Options: Open Topic | Archive/Move | Delete Topic

Hop to:

Contact Us | www.fantasticforum.com

Powered by Infopop www.infopop.com © 2000
Ultimate Bulletin Board 5.47d