CHILDREN'S THEATER ON TOUR . . .

"Copycat Capers", the Children's Theater fourth annual touring production is now available for bookings in schools, community centers, and park districts.

Designed for primary and elementary age students, "Copycat Capers" includes three stories staged in various locales: ancient Egypt, future Mexico and a Pawnee Indian encampment.

Directed by Temmie Gilbert each presentation is a unique learning experience with the audience participating in the play's action. Workbooks containing exercises related to the production are mailed to viewers prior to the performance.

For further information and booking telephone 534-5000, x2119.

MUSICALE EXTRAORDINAIRE . . .

Appearing at GSU, Sunday Jan. 22 at 7:00 p.m. will be the Contemporary Arts Quartet. Widely acclaimed, the group now in its eleventh year has performed throughout this country and Europe with a repertoire ranging from Haydn to Ravel to 20th century masters.

Their appearance at GSU marks the first performance of such magnitude in the south suburbs. The same program is scheduled next month at Orchestra Hall billed as an orchestral "Special Event."

The quartet is composed of four members of the Chicago Symphony orchestra: Otakar Stroubek, violin; William Schoen, viola; Tom Hall, violin; and Don Moline, cello.

General admission for the concert is $3.00, GSU students with an ID are admitted free. Tickets are available at the Cashier's office or may be purchased at the door.

For further info telephone 534-5000, x 2458 or 2447.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE . . .

The Faculty Research Seminars at GSU will begin the winter schedule, Wed. Jan. 18 with Dr. Carl Stover (BPS) speaking on "Competing Paradigms in Criminal Justice."

In his presentation Dr. Stover will survey six major theoretical approaches to the study of criminal justice from the standpoint of Thomas Kuhn's concept of "paradigms."

The seminar will be held in Engbretson Hall, 2:30 - 4:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

GOVERNMENT CAREER DAY . . .

Twenty government agencies will have representatives at GSU Monday, Jan. 23 to participate in a Governmental Career Information Program.

Among participating agencies will be the State of Illinois, the Secret Service Bureau, and the U. S. General Accounting Office.

Meeting from 2:00 - 7:00 p.m. in the Hall of Governors, the agencies will provide information on available career positions and application procedures.

Sponsored by the Placement Office the program is open to the public as well as GSU students.

RACQUETBALL ANYONE ? ? ?

GSU staff, students, and community are invited to participate in a Racquetball tournament now being organized for February and March in the GSU YMCA. If you're interested, please contact Roger Keyes at x2199 or Herman Sievering at x2498.

ENVIRONMENTALISTS TAKE NOTE . . .

"Windmill energy" is not something new, as evidenced by the work of GSU student Rick Engel.

A wind-powered generator of 40 years ago has been rebuilt by the EAS student, and is on exhibit in the Hall of Governors.

About his 1.5 KW Jacobs, circa late '30s, Engel explains: "This windplant is typical of thousands that supplied electric power to remote farms in the midwest and great plains states, before rural electrification."

HOT OFF THE WIRE . . .

What's happening in the world today? What's going on in Congress? What ski slopes are open? Answers to these questions and many others are available via a direct news line to GSU. Located outside the entrance to the LRC is the 10:00 a.m. Daily News bulletin board where news of the day is now being posted. A TWX machine located in the Reference Office receives the latest reports daily from Western Union, including news, news specials, weather, market, and finance reports.

With just a quick stop at the LRC each morning you can check top news of the day.

ONE GOOD TURN . . .

Thanks to the honesty of GSU staff member Fran Bernstein (A&R), a visitor to GSU was reunited with his $350 lost on campus last week during registration. Fran turned the money over to DPS, who returned it to the owner who, in turn, returned to thank Fran.

DID YOU KNOW ? ? ?

that the LRC is currently featuring staff hobby displays? Geneological research materials are the subject of the first exhibit, contributed by library media clerk Mary Sallander. Mary is studying geneology by mail at Brigham Young University. Display cases are located just outside the LRC entrance.
