PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Dear Wolf Pack Nation,

Second Semester has begun with a flurry of activities, sports and snowy weather.

We welcome all families to attend one of the several showings of "The Music Man", put on by our Drama and Music students including some up and coming wolves from MTS and TMS. The final shows run this Thursday and Friday at 7:00 p.m. and Saturday at 2:00 p.m.

Our Winter Sports season is ending and we have seen positive results in our competitions from the rifle team, girls bowling, wrestling, and girls and boys basketball. Many teams have made it to the post season and we are excited about the possibilities of having the opportunity to continue playing and showing the state what great teams we have here at BHHS.

Congratulations to the band and orchestra students who performed at Solo and Ensemble January 28. BHHS had 19 entries in the competition and 15 of those received the highest score possible. A special congratulations to Emma Lindemeier, Andy Phan, Paige Hinman, and the BHHS Percussion Ensemble "Omnipotent" for winning the region. They will be competing at State at the end of April. BHHS also had eight performances qualify as alternates for State. Congratulations, band and orchestra!

Senior Exit interviews are coming up on March 28 and 29. This is a district requirement that all seniors must complete in-order to graduate. It is a great opportunity for our seniors to shine as every year I get feedback from community members about what outstanding students we have here at BHHS. If you are interested in assisting in this process, please get in touch with Susan Jones in our Career Center.

We have a great booster club and it is never too late to join them. Our booster club is an active organization that has assisted our students on numerous occasions and does so many great things for our school that I cannot list them all. We owe a great deal to the booster club and all they do for our students. Their next meeting is Wednesday, February 16, at 6:30 in the staff lounge. The annual Booster Bash Dinner and Auction is Saturday, May 6, from 6:00 – 9:00. Check out the flyer on page 4.

The Administrative Team here at Black Hills would like to say THANK YOU! Thank you for your support, thank you for sending us your children, as they truly are amazing; thank you for being involved in your child's life, thank you for your feedback both positive and negative – it does help us improve in our jobs and lastly thank you for reading this letter!

As always, if you have feedback on how to improve anything at BHHS please let me know. Have a Great Month!

Take Care,

David Myers - Principal

SPRING SPORTS CLEARANCE

On February 13, 2017, the ASB office will begin accepting Sports Clearance Packets for the following sports:

Baseball	Fastpitch	Golf-Girls
Soccer—Boys	Tennis-Girls	Track and Field

If your student already cleared for a 2016/2017 Fall or Winter Sport, all they need to do is bring a completed Health History form and the $75.00 (pay-to-play) fee to the ASB office.

If your student is participating in a sport for the first time in the 2016/2017 school year then they need to bring the completed Athletic Packet to the ASB office. The fee is $40.00 for an ASB card (if not already purchased), and a $75.00 pay-to-play fee.

The Athletic Clearance Packet may be found on the BHHS Website / Athletics / Athletic Forms.

First day of tryouts is 2-27-17

Student must be cleared before attending tryouts (do not wait until the last minute).

If you have any questions, please contact the Coach or the ASB office (360) 709-7810.

VANTAGE POINT: THE DEATH OF THE MULTISPORT ATHLETE

This column originally appeared in the September 2014 issue of Athletic Business under the headline, "Vantage Point: The Death of the Multisport Athlete."

Friday night lights are back for high schools across the country, and as you read this, many of the nation's top athletes are hard at work on the gridiron preparing for this week's upcoming game. I remember my first experience around a star athlete. I was 11 years old and my oldest brother was attending Wheaton North High School, which at that time was home to Kent Graham, the best high school athlete in the state of Illinois. Kent was a 6-foot-5-inch physical freak and the number-one-ranked quarterback in the nation. He also played safety. He earned three all-conference distinctions in basketball and regularly hit .400 for the baseball team. My dad fondly recalls Kent hitting a home run off my brother in Little League that cleared the lights and still hasn't landed.

But this was back when your best athletes played multiple sports — an era that appears to be ending, as sport specialization dominates the modern high school scene. In an attempt to better position themselves for college recruiters and professional scouts, high school athletes are focusing exclusively on one sport year-round. There's certainly no shortage of opportunities, as I addressed in my January 2014 article "School's Out," which took an in-depth look at how club sports have gone from preparing athletes for high school athletics to essentially stealing athletes away from high school sports programs.

Arguments can be made for both sides of the equation, but there is one argument that prominent doctors strongly disagree with: athletes who play the same sport year-round are less susceptible to injury. In an interview with Athletic Business in August 2013, orthopedic surgeon and injury consultant Dr. James Andrews shared some insight from his book "Any Given Monday: Sports Injuries and How to Prevent Them for Athletes, Parents and Coaches — Based on My Life in Sports Medicine." In the interview, Dr. Andrews notes the dramatic increase in overuse injuries he was seeing in youth sports, due in large part to kids participating in one sport all year with little to no recovery time. Interestingly, another key factor in the rise in injuries, according to Dr. Andrews, is professionalism, the practice of training young kids whose bodies are still developing as if they are professional athletes. Dr. Andrews goes on to recommend specialization only once an athlete reaches his or her senior year in high school.

Unfortunately, his recommendations may not resonate with most coaches and parents. The pressure to develop faster and at a younger age is greater than ever before, and parents are convinced the most effective way to earn any type of athletic scholarship is through showcase events, such as Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) tournaments. While these types of tournaments have successfully spotlighted top basketball talent to recruiters, some argue they are hurting an athlete's development. In AAU, kids can play as many as four games in one day with little to no coaching, potentially impeding the necessary developmental strides they should be making.

For many high school parents and athletes today, it is no longer as much about love of the game as it is a business. Parents are "investing" outrageous amounts of money into their children's athletic development, because the fear is that they will not reach the level they need to without specialization, a notion constantly disproved. Look no further than the professional athletes we see today. Many were multisport athletes. Remember that high school wide receiver who was first-team All-State as a sophomore and led his team to the state semifinals his junior year? His name was LeBron James, and ironically, his high school football career came to an end in the summer before his senior year, when he broke his wrist playing in an AAU basketball tournament.

Cheer Leads On and Off the Sidelines

Elise participates in Running Start at SPSCC. She explains that, "Running Start is an amazing opportunity and gives introduction to a college level learning environment."

Radiant enjoys volunteering in the community. Also, at Black Hills she is a member of the Yearbook Staff and especially enjoys fitness with Mrs. Summers

Also, as a member of Black Hills' DECA team, she along with her teammates, recently competed against other students from various High School DECA programs in Washington State.

Karlie Noonan, Sophomore, has school spirit and Wolf Pack Pride! She represents Black Hills High School well as she volunteers at South Sound Services-A non profit agency in Olympia that provides a safe environment for children and families.

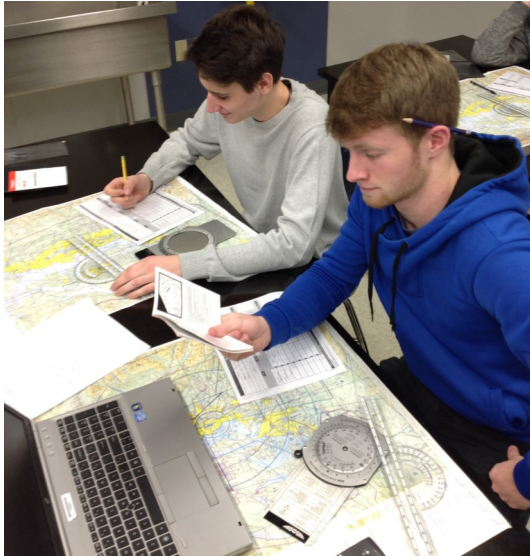

Cierra Moon, a Freshman not only adds positivity and smiles to cheer, but she also enjoys learning new skills in her Personal Choices class. In the class, students learn skills such as cooking and sewing. Here she is trying her hand at a new smoothie recipe.

Cheer Try-outs!

Your Black Hills High School Cheer staff will be conducting try-outs in March. If you have school spirit and would like to find out how cheer supports BHHS athletic teams, come join the fun!!!
Individuals entering 9th through 12th grade in the Fall of 2017 may try-out. Information will be in the March Wolf Track.

If you have any questions, please email Coach Melissa @ melissa.berrien@outlook.com or Coach Mikay @ mamakk27@yahoo.com

Physics of Flight

Physics of Flight students have learned how to use a flight computer (which is a simple circular slide rule) to plan a flight between different airports. They determine true course, calculate true heading and magnetic heading. They use wind velocities and speeds to calculate ground speeds and estimated times enroute. The students also calculate the amount of fuel they burn during their flight. Finally, the students fly their completed flight plan on our flight simulators. Math, science, and technology integrated together in flight!

Boys' Basketball

The boys basketball team is getting ready for post-season play. Despite busy schedules, and long hours, the players spent five of their recent Saturdays in the gym working with our "Little Wolves". The players served as coaches to the group of 2nd-6th graders, working on fundamentals across all areas of basketball. They also coached the participants in game settings that took place at half-time of recent JV and varsity games. "Little Wolves" is a fun and positive experience for all involved, and one that everyone looks forward to participating in each year.

All teams finished up their schedule at home when they hosted Tumwater (boys and girls double header) on February 3rd, and WF West on February 7th. They start their District playoffs on February 11th at Woodland High School at 7:00 p.m.

It is Time to Swing into Action!

Fore! BHHS girls' golf practice starts on Monday, Feb. 27th for all ages and abilities, especially freshmen. What can you do? Please prompt your daughter/s to turn out. Their first stop should be to visit Bonnie in the ASB financial office to pick up all the essential forms to become eligible. Schedules are available as well with Coach Reeves in the ASB office. If you have any questions please feel free to e-mail Coach Reeves at dale.reeves@tumwater.k12.wa.us or call at 360-709-7809

Wolf Pack Snack Shack

The Wolf Pack Snack Shack is a student run enterprise ran by students that are a part of DECA and have completed one year in Intro to Marketing. The profits made go towards funding DECA conferences and competitions.

- Located in the hallway by the commons.
- Opened during both lunches on Thursdays.
- We will be selling coffee, muffins, gum and more goodies to get you through the day!!!

"Mrs. Larson's iDesign (Visual Communications) class offers students a chance to explore Photography, Computer Science, Graphic Design, Graphic Art Careers, Cyber Safety, and Video Production. iDesign students learned about color and design through a graffiti name color wheel project during finals week."

SAT PREP CLASS

Once again the SAT Prep class is being offered to TSD students. Classes start March 6th at Tumwater High School from 6-8pm. Flyers may be picked up in the BHHS main office for more information. If you are a junior and planning on attending college, this is a great opportunity for you to prepare for the SAT and take the test in May or June (or both).

Payment can be made at the ASB office.

Black Hills High School Theatre and Music Present "The Music Man."

By turns wicked, funny, warm, romantic and touching, The Music Man is family entertainment at its best. Meredith Wilson's six-time, Tony Award-winning musical comedy has been entertaining audiences since 1957 and is a family-friendly story to be shared with every generation.

The Music Man follows fast-talking traveling salesman, Harold Hill, as he cons the people of River City, Iowa, into buying instruments and uniforms for a boys' band that he vows to organize – this, despite the fact that he doesn't know a trombone from a treble clef. His plans to skip town with the cash are foiled when he falls for Marian, the librarian, who transforms him into a respectable citizen by curtain's fall.

Shows are February 9th and 10th at 7 p.m., and February 11th at 2 p.m. Tickets are $10.00 for adults and $7.00 for students and seniors. Please call 709-7832 for more information.
