DECA has decided to partner with Reading Partners to host a book drive as this year's community service project for our state conference. Reading Partners is a national organization with a branch in South Carolina that works with Title I elementary schools in Charleston, Florence, and Berkeley counties. They serve over 800 students in South Carolina and provide around 700 books a week. Currently, four out of every five South Carolina Fourth graders from low-income families can not read at grade level. Through Reading Partners, students are able to get help from volunteers from within their community and through their Take Reading Home program, students are encouraged to read outside the classroom environment.

We are asking for your help with donations of new or gently used books for Kindergarten through 5th graders. You can turn in the books to Ms. Gore in room C101. Here are some suggestions of what to donate:

Types of books

- *new or gently used condition

Does Sugar Really Make you Hyper?

Through various experiments over the years, scientists have discovered that no substantial evidence exists to support the claim that sugar causes hyperactivity. Nonetheless, other experiments show that sugar may at least influence behavior. Dr. Tamborlane, a scientist from Yale, reported that children given sugar had higher levels of adrenaline. A possible explanation for this effect is that since sugar is quickly absorbed into the bloodstream, blood sugar rises quickly, which can lead to higher adrenaline levels and thus symptoms similar to those associated with hyperactivity. – Yale Scientific

Tickets and early dismissal passes will be given out at the end of your second block class on April 12th. If you plan to attend the prom and/or leave school early, the attached permission/early dismissal form must be signed and returned when you purchase your ticket; otherwise, a parent must physically come to CF and sign you out, or you may not receive your tickets. If there is no early dismissal time or signature listed on the early dismissal portion of the sheet, we will assume you are not leaving early on prom day. The early dismissal form on the completed contract applies to the ticket purchaser only; guests will need their own early dismissal form turned in. If you choose to leave early, this is an unexcused absence so plan your time wisely.

Once ticket sales begin, brochures from Strawbridge Photography will be available at the front of each house. Pick up a brochure and decide which picture package you would like and bring your money to the prom for the photographer. You may not pay for prom photos after prom night.

We hope that all of the preparation that has been made will ensure that you will have a safe, wonderful evening. If you should have any questions or concerns, feel free to contact us or see the school website for prom info.
