

FROM THE RABBI'S DESK

It takes a while for historic events to come into perspective. The way a society works through its struggle for perspective in the modern world is through film, television and the written word. In the ancient world it was first pictures, then the written word. We do not need to think hard about the variety of films that depict the Russians, Japanese, Chinese, Arabs in a violent and destructive way. We cannot even count the number of books that do the same. The conflicts we as Americans have had over the past 70 years have still not fully been understood and these two mediums-film and print- help us to undergo national psychotherapy as we come to grips with the losses we have sustained and the deep pain we have inflicted.

At first we vilify the enemy as we make sense of conflict and then hopefully we find a more sympathetic voice.

In these two months of March and April we will read two stories that try to make sense of our history, each recalling significant moments of conflict. In both stories, there is a vindictive and angry response to our enemy and in both there is resolution to the conflict. Yet, it is only in the Passover story that we finally find our kinder voice.

In the story of Purim, we graphically depict, through the arrangement of the words and at the very end of the story, the hanging of Haman and his sons. On Passover we use the words of the Jeremiah, then quoted by the Psalmist to conclude our Seder with the phrase:

שָׁפַךְ חַמְתָּךְ עַל-הַגּוֹיִם אֲשֶׁר לֹא-יִדְעוּךָ וְעַל מְשֻׁפְחוֹת אֲשֶׁר
 בָּשַׂמְךָ לֹא קָרְאוּ כִי-אָכְלוּ אֶת-יַעֲרֹב וְאָכְלוּהוּ וְיָכְלוּהוּ וְאֶת-נְוֵהוּ
 הִשְׁמִי:

Pour out Your wrath on the nations who have not heeded You, (Jeremiah 10:25)

The last word on the subject in both stories seems to be vengeance. Yet if we dig a little deeper and actually look at the evolution of the Seder, we see a later addition, or rather a later explanation, of one particular custom of the Seder.

Before I get to that, however, I want to share two other ideas about Passover: First, except for the first two days, we only recite half of a Hallel. Second, Sukkot is called the “Time of our Joy” ; Passover is not. Both of these data points seem to indicate, at least according to my colleague, Rabbi Evan Hoffman (with whom I absolutely agree), that our joy is diminished on Passover because of the extraordinary suffering the Egyptians endured, which ultimately resulted in their defeat. As the Midrash points out, when Jewish people were singing and dancing as they watched the Egyptians drown in the sea, God was angry that we rejoiced while some of God’s creatures died.

Now back to the custom I was referring to earlier. We have all heard that we pour out (some dip a finger in) wine while we recite the ten plagues. Many of us have heard the reason for that is because we are diminished when others suffer, even if they are our enemy. That explanation was never offered until the mid -19th century.

Until that point, the only explanation that was given is that we are trying to distance ourselves from the plagues in the hopes they would not happen to us. This radically new explanation, which has caught on as the dominant, if not definitive, rationale, seems to indicate we have finally put that moment of Jewish history into perspective.

Future Mishpacha Days:

Jan. 8, Feb. 12, March 12, April 9, May 14

Please bring proof of vaccination. Thank you.

RABBI cont'd from pg. 1

These two great stories of national survival offer a moment of perspective on coming to terms with both opposing instincts. As the prayer for peace we offer each Shabbat states, "We have not come into being to hate or destroy. We have come into being to praise, to labor and to love."

CANTOR

This month we enter Adar II, the Hebrew month known for bringing with it joy, celebration, and more than a little silliness. It is the month when everything is a little turned around; not what it seems. We dress up in costumes, we eat and drink, and we celebrate that time in Ancient Persia when we were almost wiped out by Human's evil decree, but were saved by the brave Queen Esther and wise Mordechai.

As it says in chapter 8:16 of the Megillah, Layehudim hayta ora v'simcha v'sason v'ikar, ken tihyeh lanu - The Jews of old had light, and happiness and joy and love — may it be so for us!

We repeat this line each week as well, as part of havdalah.

It is said that mi shenichnas Adar marbin b'simcha - when Adar comes in, our joy increases.

I like the idea of a month bringing with it extra happiness, just as we say that Shabbat brings us each an extra soul for 24 hours. Judaism, is a religion based on time. Different times of the year bring different holidays, and different moods and rituals, based on where in the calendar we are. It is comforting to think of something external to ourselves causing, or encouraging, us to feel happier.

These days, the entire world can use more joy, and more light. These past two years have been exhausting, isolating, and scary. Yet it can be hard to turn on a dime, to let go of the heaviness around us, and suddenly feel the party-like mood that Adar encourages. Just as on the three festivals, Pesach, Shavuot and Sukkot, we are commanded in Deuteronomy 16:14 v'samachta b'chagecha v'hayita ach sameach - You shall rejoice on your festivals, and should be fully happy. We are told we must feel not just happy, but "fully happy"!

But how does one actually fulfill the commandment to be happy, if they are not really feeling it?

There are many reasons to be sad in this world. Yet there are also many reasons to be happy. We can find both by just looking around, seeing people suffering, sick and in pain. Maybe we are the ones suffering. We can also look around and see people helping out, friends, family, and community offering support. We can notice the beauty of the natural world, the trees on the Aqueduct, the view of the snow-covered Palisades by the waterfront. It is possible to behold both the suffering and the beauty at the same time. Sometimes our inner scale tips towards one, other times towards the other. It is the balance that we are constantly trying to achieve.

Perhaps Adar tries to teach us to tip our scale, at least for this month, towards the beauty and the joy, the light and love. Chodesh tov!

PRESIDENT' MESSAGE

As I write this article, Leslie and I were supposed to spend the final weekend in January at Disney World in Orlando with our youngest son, Jason and his fiancé, Ashley, who live in Miami. We were very much looking forward to it. This was so not because we have not been to Disney World for probably over 20 years, but because we would have had some good quality time with the both of them. Since they live in Miami, whether it be the pandemic or job restrictions, needless to say, our time together has been miniscule. Spending face to face time going over wedding planning and how they were doing in general, would give us all some premium time together. Of course, other than talking, what else does one do while waiting on the lines at Disney? Unfortunately, on the Wednesday evening prior to our planned departure on Thursday, the phone rings and it is Jason. Ashley just tested positive for Covid and the trip needed to be postponed. Luckily, we were able to cancel all reservations with no or minimal costs and we will reschedule for some other time. The money was not the issue. Disappointment was.

So what happens now? We could have wallowed in our disappointment or make the "best" of it. Well, it was my father's Yahrzeit on Saturday so ok, I will go to services and do some praying on his behalf. Of course, if he knew how many times I go to services and now will be saying Kaddish on his behalf, he would probably roll over in his grave. That is a discussion for another time! Well, unfortunately, we were hit with the first (and hopefully last) Nor'Easter of the winter. There was no way I could make it to the synagogue and even if I did, there wouldn't be a minyan. I also told the congregation that while we were open, to use extreme caution if you wanted to attend in person. Safer and better off livestreaming. Disappointment again reared its ugly head.

When I took over as President last June, Covid was starting to ease. The vaccination was developed and for the most part, at least in our area, people were getting vaccinated. I had high hopes for what I was going to plan....babysitting service, Shabbat Friday dinners with families, social events and interactions with families, just to name a few.

Who knew that during the summer we would experience the Delta variant and then Omicron. Plans had to be put on hold and I simply had to navigate the concerns of GHC that come up where I need to be involved. Again, there is disappointment. Disappointment in that what I want to do is not what I can do.

We all go through some disappointments throughout our lives. The question is "do we let it define us or do we grow from it?" As someone who does not "give up" easily, I now look back at the past seven or eight months since taking office and realize there are many positive aspects of GHC where the word disappointment should not be in my thoughts.

While I was not able to see Jason and Ashley, it turns out Orlando was having one of the worst cold spells it has ever had. Standing on line in below freezing temperatures would have undoubtedly dampened our experience. Justification, maybe, but still better off rescheduling. On that Saturday when I would have liked to say Kaddish, Rabbi Jay Stein insisted on having services for those who wanted to at least livestream them. We all owe him our extreme thanks. He had to deal with terrible and dangerous weather in order to come to GHC. Dedication like that is not easy to find. GHC is truly fortunate to have Rabbi Stein as our spiritual leader. He is a man who acts, not just talks.

What about Cantor Anna May and our Director of Education, Amy Kessler? Working schedules around the pandemic and running our schools, both the Early Childhood Center and Religious School, has not been easy. Parents have vastly different perceptions as to what should be done during Covid, and I can only commend both Amy and the Cantor for dealing with each situation in the most positive and caring manner.

While I will save a lot of my individual "thank you's" for the next edition of Hamvaser, as it comes out when some officers and board members will be "retiring" and new officers and boards members are announced and nominated, I would like now generally to thank those who, despite the pandemic, have done a great job in trying to keep you, our members, engaged as best as they can. Virtual programs are still running and I urge you to "tune in" if you are able. They vary from educational to inspiring, to lots of fun. It will be far more rewarding for those who lead these programs to see a larger audience and thus participation from more congregants. I am sure you will enjoy it!

Who knows when the pandemic will become an endemic and we can go back to some "normalcy"? Better yet, who knows what that new normal will be? Regardless, disappointment, no way. Let us all learn from our disappointments and turn those disappointments to something positive. I know I will.

Keep smiling,

Jeff

OUR SCHOOLS

ECC

Our Religious School and Early Childhood Center continue to thrive! With three new students in our ECC, and a busy extended day program that runs until 4 p.m., Monday - Thursday, and 2 p.m. on Fridays, we are growing! Registration is ongoing, so please tell your friends and neighbors about us!

Do you know someone interested in a "Caregiver and Me" class, for children who turn two years old in 2022? Would you like to get a taste of our ECC and see what we are all about? We are hoping to offer a Caregiver and Me class, one morning a week, starting in March, if there is interest. This class will be one hour, and will include singing, art, lots of sensory play and time on our playground! We are forming this class now and ironing out the details, so please contact Amy ASAP to learn more.

In February, we enjoyed a few beautiful days on the playground, yoga with Maryanne, sign language with Tracey, and celebrating Tu B'Shevat with Rabbi Stein and Cantor May. We also did our Annual Trike-A-Thon, where our 3 and 4 year old classes ran, skipped, and biked to raise funds for the Pediatric Cancer Fund. If you'd like to make a donation and add to our total tzedakah, please contact Amy. We also had a fun Beach Day on February 14th, to celebrate friendship! The ECC students enjoyed beach games, limbo, a dance party and popsicles!

Religious School

We are so proud of our religious school students and all they continue to accomplish! We will highlight our eldest classes - Vav & Zayin (6th & 7th grade) this month.

Our Vav and Zayin students have been learning from Rabbi Stein about the relationship between the Oral Law (Mishna) and written law (Torah). They are learning how to utilize the Etz Hayim Humash we use in the sanctuary on Shabbat. They also work as separate classes with Cantor May, and delve into tefillah and B'nei Mitzvah prep in creative and fun ways. Vav learned about Birkat Hamazon with Cantor May, while our Zayin students are practicing the blessings after the Haftarah, and learning some basic conversational Hebrew. They also learned about the important role of Jews in the Civil Rights Movement during January and February. They grappled with ethical questions from a Jewish perspective, using the "You Be the Judge" book series, and started the Moving Traditions curriculum.

Our Vav and Zayin students participated in a special cooking class just for them, sponsored by GHC's Green Team and the Hazon grant! The students' mitzvah project this year focuses on our responsibility to take care of the earth, so we continued our learning about this mitzvah, and partnered with instructor Kate Solomon to do a "green" twist on Hamantaschen, just in time for Purim. Thank you so much to GHC's Green Team and Enid Lotstein for coordinating this, so our religious school students could have this wonderful experience!

Scroll of Gratitude

Greenburgh Hebrew Center

We have all, at some period in our lives, experienced difficult times, both before and during the pandemic. However, there have also often been bright spots, people who have reached out to help. Was there someone who went shopping, picked up a prescription, took your dog for a walk, called to say hello, brought you a meal, drove you to the doctor, picked up your kids from school, etc.? Recipients are not limited to members of GHC.

If saying "thank you", just wasn't enough, here is an opportunity to show your appreciation. Inscribe their names on our Scroll of Gratitude. We are asking for a small donation of $18.00 per name and a description of how that individual helped you in your time of need. Only his/her name will be added to the scroll, but with your permission, we will print the specific information as to why the name appears.

Your Name _____

Person(s) you are grateful for _____

Reason(s) _____

___ I give permission to have this information shared with the congregation

We are so happy to welcome Michele Strauss to our family here at GHC! Michele began working at GHC in January, and has already done so much for our Early Childhood Center and Religious School!

In Michele's words: I am thrilled to be a part of such a warm welcoming community, assisting Amy Shapiro-Kessler in the Early Childhood Center and Religious School. With over twenty years of administrative and teaching experience in Westchester and Fairfield County synagogues, I am looking forward to contributing in any way I can to the wonderful schools you have in place here at GHC!

I live in Cross River and have two adult children in NYC. In my spare time I like to cycle, hike, read, listen to jazz, and watch movies. Feel free to email me at michele.strauss@ghcny.org for any assistance with our ECC and Religious School. I have enjoyed meeting you and the children in our schools, and look forward to getting to know everyone at GHC!

Important Dates in March:

Wednesday, March 2 - Dr. Seuss Day in our ECC (students only). We will read Dr. Seuss books, do special crafts, and have lots of Dr. Seuss' activities & games!

Saturday, March 12 - Junior Congregation (2nd grade and above) and Mispacha Shabbat (geared to children 0-7 years old) at 10:30 a.m.! Come join us to celebrate Shabbat with singing, praying, and stories & crafts for our littlest children. Bring friends and family; everyone is welcome!

Wednesday, March 16th - Purim Celebration in our ECC (students only). ECC children should come in costume and will hear the Purim story with the Rabbi, sing with the Cantor, and march in a fantastic Purim Parade!

Wednesday, March 16th - Erev Purim! Our religious school students will be participating in the reading of the Megillah through art, singing and/or a play, so all families should try to attend if possible!

CARING COMMUNITY

At GHC, we are fortunate to have so many generous members. There are many ways to donate. Thank you to those of you who donate to the Caring Community' Hesed Fund.

When you donate to the Hesed Fund, you enable us to support members in need.

If a member suffers a loss, we offer to deliver a soup and challah following Shiva.

If a member is sick or recovering from a serious illness, we ask how we can help.

If we are fortunate to celebrate a new baby in our congregation, a gift is delivered.

When you donate to the Hesed Fund, you support all of this and you have our thanks.

We can only do what we do because of you. With much gratitude for all you do to make certain we can continue on behalf of the members of the GHC community.

With my sincerest thanks,

~Sheila

B'NEI MITZVAH

Gabe Reichgott

Tzav

We are so excited to be celebrating Gabe's Bar Mitzvah and we cannot believe it is almost here!

We are so proud of Gabe. He is a hard worker and a really sweet and kind kid. He is an amazing son and a fantastic brother to his older brother, Jack, and younger sister, Cassidy.

Gabe is rocking 7th grade - he plays the trumpet and the piano, he loves running cross country in the fall and playing baseball in the spring, and can solve a rubik's cube in under ten seconds. He is a great friend and student and continues to impress us with all of his talents. We are so incredibly proud of the person he is becoming. Each year he looks forward to going to sleep away camp in upstate NY and shares that love with his brother and sister.

We are looking forward to celebrating Gabe in March! The last couple of years have not been easy for anyone, and being able to come together to share a life event or occasion is so meaningful. We do not take it for granted and want to thank Rabbi Stein, Cantor May, Ilana Finkelstein and Amy Kessler, for all of their help and guidance.

Mirah Schwartz

Acharei Mot

Mirah is celebrating her Bat Mitzvah in April. Her journey at GHC began with children's services during the High Holidays as a toddler, when Robin (and everyone else) warmly welcomed us and made sure we would return, year after year. Now, Mirah is excited to be called to the Torah. We are especially grateful to all her Hebrew School teachers and friends, Cantor May and Cantor Janet, Rabbi Stein, and Amy, for helping Mirah to reach this milestone.

Mirah is a good, supportive, sister to her brother Reid, and to our three cats. Mirah's cats are the center of her life. As a daughter, she has grown too quickly into someone whom we can count on to manage all her responsibilities without much nudging from us. We are proud of her successes in the classroom, as well as on the softball field and tennis court. Mirah also took over our kitchen during the pandemic, converting her artistic talents to a new creative interest in cooking and baking. If you need a home-baked cake (pistachio and chocolate peanut butter are among her staples), you know where to turn.

We are looking forward to this celebratory day.

CAMPAIGN FOR GHC 2025

We have made good progress on the Campaign for GHC 2025 since our last report. To recap, the Campaign is about building relationships and securing our future in three areas:

- Improving the Building
- Inspiring Programming
- Increasing the Endowment

Our Committee completed a three-phase outreach to congregants timed to coincide with the end of the tax year 2021. We also encouraged congregants to make pledges for the remaining four years of the Campaign.

We are pleased to report a large number of year-end gifts. A total of 65 family units have now given to Campaign for GHC 2025. We are excited to have drawn donations from both long-term and newer members. These members made room for GHC notwithstanding many other worthy causes, demands on their time, and the challenges of today's economy.

Several congregants requested more specifics on how we will use the monies raised. In response, GHC's President has appointed subcommittees to dig more deeply into programming and the Building and to come up with a menu of options that are available for congregants to sponsor. This will include fundamental building blocks, as well as aspirational enhancements.

We will be back in touch in May as soon as the subcommittees' work is done. In the meantime, please do not hesitate to contact bruce.segall@gmail.com or dluftig@gmail.com with questions.

We hope that many of you will consider a gift for the first time or increase the level of a pledge that you have already made.

GREEN TEAM

Hazon awarded GHC a certificate for its sustainability status during 2021, which included the planning of six activities, in collaboration with the clergy, the Religious School, the Religious Affairs Committee and the Empty Nesters Club. Please see the certificate published in this issue.

The Green Shabbat and Kiddush were a tremendous success last month. We had a great turnout for the services and Kiddush. The highlights included:

Readings from the Siddur on creation and saving the world

Cantor May's teaching and singing the beautiful melody, "Shirat Haasavim" (Song of the Grasses) by Naomi Shemer

A D'var Torah relating the Green Team's work to Moshe delegating responsibility for the sake of the community

Artwork from ECC 3's and RS Kitah Heh (5th) (published in this issue)

Thank you's to: Rabbi Stein and Cantor May; Amy Kessler and teachers Debi Neustadter, Alexandria Roselli and Donna Divon; participation in the service and preparation, serving and clean-up of Kiddush, Debbie Jagoda, Ilana Goldstein, Andrew Horowitz, Amy Kessler, Tara Levy, Andrew Lewit, Leslie Liss, Robin Rosenberg, Allyn Salpeter, Bruce Segall, Nancy and Rachel Sklar, and Sharon Weiss

A vegetarian and partially vegan menu, which was served on GHC dishes.

On Sunday February 6th, the Green Team, along with Sisterhood and Adult Education, sponsored a vegetarian cooking class that was funded by a grant from Hazon to promote a plant-based diet. Professional chef, Kate Sonders Solomon, led an online workshop in which she prepared a vegetable tagine and couscous tfaya.

Also published in this issue are a community collage of our tagine and a revived recipe column, which contains the tagine and couscous. From the novice to the experienced, everyone had fun and enjoyed learning how to make delicious, healthy, food.

As of this writing, the second cooking class was scheduled for Sunday, February 27th, in person, with the RS Kitah Vav (6th) and Zayin (7th) preparing savory Hamen-taschen. We will present that recipe in the May/June issue so stay tuned!

The Green Team welcomes involvement of all parts of the GHC community in creating meaningful, fun, green, programming, whether it is joining a single committee meeting or a single event. Everyone is welcome to join in our discussions and planning. If you have an idea for a program or wish to co-sponsor an event with the Green Team, or some other environmental activity, contact Enid Lotstein at Greening@ghcny.org. We look forward to your participation!

Revived GHC Recipe Column / Green Recipe of the Month

VEGETABLE TAGINE

2 tablespoons olive oil

2 medium yellow onions, thinly sliced

4 garlic cloves, finely chopped

1/4 teaspoon saffron threads, crushed (optional)

1 1/2 teaspoons ground ginger

1/2 teaspoon turmeric

1 cinnamon stick (or 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon)

Salt and freshly ground black pepper to taste pounds

2 mixed winter vegetables, such as sweet potato, carrot, turnips, beets, parsnips, peeled and cut into bite-sized pieces

2 cups light vegetable stock

3/4 cup soft dried prunes

1 cup green olives, pitted

1 large lemon, skin peeled into strips using a vegetable peeler, and juiced

1 can chickpeas, drained

1 tablespoon butter (or olive oil or butter substitute)

1 tablespoon chopped flat-leaf parsley

Heat oil in a large, heavy-bottomed, saucepan over medium heat. Add onions to pan and cook over medium-low heat, about 15 minutes, until soft and lightly browned. Add the garlic, saffron, ground ginger, turmeric, cinnamon stick or ground cinnamon, salt, and pepper to the pan and continue to cook an additional minute, until aromatic.

Add the prepared vegetables to the pan and then stir in the vegetable stock, scraping down the sides and bottom of the pan. Add the prunes, lemon skin, olives, and the juice of half the lemon and bring to a simmer. Cover the pan, reduce the heat to low and simmer for 30 minutes, until the vegetables are soft.

Add the chickpeas and butter and simmer, about 5 minutes. Discard the cinnamon stick. Season with salt, pepper, and additional lemon juice, if necessary. Scatter parsley on top and serve.

Yield: Serves 4 to 6.

EQUIPMENT:

Cutting board

Knife

Measuring spoons

Small bowl for spices

Vegetable peeler

Citrus juicer

Liquid measuring cup

Large heavy bottom skillet with cover

Wooden spoon

COUS COUS TFAYA

3/4 cup onion, thinly sliced

1/2 cup raisins

1 tablespoon honey

1/4 teaspoon pepper

COUS COUS TFAYA

1/4 teaspoon turmeric

1/4 teaspoon crumbled saffron, optional

3 tablespoons butter (olive oil or butter substitute), divided

3 cups water or light vegetable broth

1/2 teaspoon coarse salt

1 1/2 cups uncooked Cous Cous (can be substituted with brown rice, white rice, quinoa, gluten-free Israeli cous-cous, or gluten-free orzo, however, follow the cooking instructions on the package for these substitutes)

1/2 cup sliced almonds, toasted

1 tablespoon chopped fresh parsley

1/4 cup pomegranate seeds

Add the sliced onions, raisins, honey, pepper, cinnamon, ginger, turmeric, and saffron to a medium saucepan. Add 2 tablespoons butter and 1/2 cup water. Cover and bring to a simmer. Continue simmering for 30 minutes over low heat, stirring occasionally, until the onions are very soft and golden. Add more water only if the liquids evaporate before the onions are cooked. The onions should be thick and syrupy.

In a medium saucepan, bring the water or broth, salt, and 1 tablespoons butter to a boil. Stir in the couscous, cover tightly with a lid, and remove from heat. Let the couscous steam for 5 to 10 minutes, until the couscous has absorbed the liquid. Use a fork to fluff the couscous and break up any clumps.

Transfer the couscous to a large bowl and add the onion mixture and the almonds. Toss until well mixed. Serve with fresh parsley and pomegranate seeds.

Yield: Serves 4 to 6.

IS YOUR CHILD THINKING OF AT-TENDING RAMAH?

WHAT ABOUT A JEWISH SLEEP AWAY CAMP?

WHAT ABOUT ISRAEL?

If you answered yes to any or all of these questions, we may have something special for you!*

All GHC member children who attend a Jewish non-profit sleep away camp or any Ramah Camp for a partial or full summer may be entitled to a stipend from one of two funds. The Jewish Education Fund supports GHC member children who attend any Ramah Camp or any USY Summer program or trip, including Encampment. A second fund, The Julia B. Chazen Camp Fund, supports GHC member children attending Jewish non-profit sleep-away camps, other than Ramah camps, such as camps sponsored by other Jewish denominations, Zionist organizations, Young Judea, B'nai B'rith, JCC's, etc. If you want to know if your sleepaway camp is covered by the Chazen Fund, please check the Foundation for Jewish Camp website, <https://jewishcamp.org/one-happy-camper/find-a-camp-overnight/>, for a comprehensive list of Jewish non-profit camps.

All of the Ramah Camps (including Ramah Sports Academy in Connecticut, Ramah in the Rockies, Ramah in Israel) and USY Summer programs are incredibly well run and offer enriching experiences. The USY Summer experiences include, but are not limited to, the following: USY Pilgrimage to Israel/Europe, USY on Wheels (region-based trips in North America), DreamUSY (Dominican Republic service trip), TivnUSY-Building Justice and USY/Kadima Encampment (one week long, takes place in late August about one and a half hours away). We fully endorse them and they provide an educational and spirited component that you cannot find anywhere else! Even if your teen has not participated in the GHC Youth Group, he or she is still eligible to join a USY trip or program during the summer.

If your teen wants to spend the summer, a semester or a year in Israel, please let us know! The trip can take place during high school, as a gap year, or even during college. A third fund, the Harry and Anna Singer Scholarship Fund, supports GHC member teens and young adults going to Israel to study or tour with a non-profit organization, such as USY or Young Judea. If you need help picking a program, let us know! Thank you to Fran and Saul (z"l) Singer for initiating this fund.

If you want to discuss further or apply for a stipend from any of these funds, please contact Rabbi Stein (rabbistein@ghcny.org) or Robin Rosenberg (execVP@ghcny.org). In addition, the funds available come from the generous contributions of our congregants. Please remember the JEF, Chazen and Singer funds when considering making a contribution in memory of a loved one or to honor a family simcha. These funds support our young people beyond Religious School. The impact of spending a summer at a Jewish camp or time in Israel is priceless and transformative!

*If any of these programs are replaced with virtual options and tuition is charged, the GHC funds will still provide stipends.

SISTERHOOD

While we might complain about having to sit in front of our computer screens and log onto Zoom again and again, virtual events have given us a way to get together, especially during the blustery and snowy winter months, allowing us to enjoy fun and enlightening programs in the company of fellow GHCers and friends. 2022 has started out as a busy year for Sisterhood and will continue to be busy as we segue into spring.

On Sunday, January 9, close to 100 people joined Sisterhood and Adult Education for a virtual tour of The Secret Jews of Majorca. Our guide, Dani Rotstein, who is the CEO and Founder of Jewish Majorca gave a tour that was phenomenal. We "flew" into Majorca, "boarded" a tour bus and then "walked" through the streets of Palma de Majorca learning about the Chuetas or Crypto-Jews who during the Inquisition publicly professed Catholicism while privately adhering to Judaism. This part of Jewish history is rarely discussed in travel guides about Majorca and we thank Dani for bringing us along on this journey.

The Women's League of Conservative Judaism, our "mother" organization, had two terrific virtual events in January. The first, held on Sunday, January 23, was the Annual Torah Fund Event for our local metro NY Sisterhoods. The Torah Fund provides scholarships for rabbis, cantors and educators in-training at conservative seminaries worldwide.

This year's event included a virtual tour of the Ziegler School of Rabbinic Studies in Los Angeles as well as a ceremony honoring Special Women from our MetroNorth affiliates. Congratulations goes to Naomi Rosenberg, Sisterhood GHC's honoree!

The second event, held on Sunday, January 30, was an insightful and inspiring webinar entitled "Who Owns the Western Wall?". The webinar was jointly sponsored by Women's League of Conservative Judaism, Women of Reform Judaism and Women of the Wall. The mission of Women of the Wall is to attain social and legal recognition of the right of women to wear Tallitot, pray and read from the Torah at the Western Wall in Jerusalem.

On every Rosh Hodesh in Israel, except for those falling on Shabbat, you can watch Women of the Wall at the Western Wall on their live feed on Facebook beginning at 7AM Israeli time/12AM EST or watch the video the next day if you are not a night person.

On Sunday, February 6, starting at 3:00PM we had a delightful two-hour cooking class with Chef Kate Sonders Solomon on Zoom, sponsored by the Green Team, Sisterhood and Adult Education. Chef Kate demonstrated the steps for cooking two delicious vegetarian dishes, Vegetable Tagine and Cous Cous Tfaya. Many of the attendees cooked along with Chef Kate and their kitchens were filled with mouth-watering aromas. A big shout-out goes to the Green Team chair, Enid Lotstein, who secured the Hazon grant that allowed us to enjoy this fantastic program!

Purim is just a couple of weeks away! This year Sisterhood is able to return to providing our delicious Shalach Manot bags full of goodies including Hamantaschen with various fillings. A gluten-free bag has been made available to those who requested it. Thank you to all the amazing people who sponsored our Shalach Manot bags and made our Purim project possible.

Your support allows Sisterhood to continue to fund a myriad of projects for GHC throughout the year. We will be collating the bags on Thursday, March 10 at 1:00PM in the social hall so if you can lend a hand please e-mail sisterhood@ghcny.org and let us know if you can volunteer. You will be able to pick up your bag at GHC on Sunday, March 13 from 10:00AM to 1:00PM or at the Megillah reading the evening of Wednesday, March 16.

Coming up on Tuesday, March 29, at 7:30PM, Sisterhood will be presenting a virtual event that should be fun and entertaining for all, entitled "Hello Gorgeous – The Life and Work of Barbra Streisand." "Hello Gorgeous" is an exhibit at the Jewish Museum of Florida at Florida International University in Miami Beach, Florida. It is an eclectic exhibition of costumes, photos, videos, record album covers and other objects, celebrating the life and work of living legend Barbra Streisand. There will be a cost of $10/person, which will be donated to the Museum. See the flyer in this edition of the Hamvaser or GHC News for more information.

Our Women's Seder this year will take place on Sunday, April 3, from 7:30PM-9:00PM on Zoom. As it is not yet possible to have the Seder in person, we are grateful that we can run it virtually and still obtain the beauty and spirituality of the songs and readings from our Women's Haggadah and enjoy each other's company. Cantor May and GHC members will be leading the Seder. If you haven't RSVP'd yet to Sisterhood@ghcny.org, please do so and ask for a part either in English and Hebrew. Everyone who attends agrees that every year our Women's Seder is an extra-special event.

This year again Sisterhood and SATO will be holding a Passover food collection for the Jewish Community Council of Washington Heights-Inwood, a social services agency in Upper Manhattan (<http://jccwashingtonheights.org/>). Many of the Council's clientele are lower income or Holocaust survivors/refugees and it is a struggle for them to purchase food for Passover. See the flyer in this issue of the Hamvaser or GHC News for the specific items that JCC-WH-I is requesting.

See the flyer in this issue of the Hamvaser or GHC News for the specific items that JCC-WH-I is requesting. Collection boxes will be located in GHC beginning on Wednesday, March 13 and will continue through Sunday, March 27. Sisterhood and SATO members will be at GHC on Sunday, March 27 from 10:00AM to 1:00PM for the final drop-off. A huge thank you goes to Robin Rosenberg and Shara Sheinberg for coordinating with JCC-WH-I, organizing the drop off of Passover items here at GHC and delivering the items to JCC-WH-I who is so appreciative of our donations.

And speaking of Passover, the Kosher wine sale is on! We are offering a wide variety of Kosher wines from Aries Wines & Spirits in White Plains. Besides the traditional Concord Grape wine, you can purchase wines from France, Israel, California and Italy, plus spirits like Slivovitz and Beet Vodka. Please think about purchasing your Kosher wines for year-round use at the same time that you buy your Passover wines as your purchases benefit GHC.

The order form can be found in GHC News and the deadline for ordering is Friday, April 1. Mail your order to GHC or e-mail it to Sisterhood@ghcny.org. Payment can be made with a check payable to Sisterhood GHC or by credit card on the GHC website.

I wish you all joyous Purim and Passover celebrations. I hope in this year and all those going forward we will be able to be together in-person with family and friends to enjoy these festive holidays.

Allyn Salpeter, Sisterhood GHC President
