Macedonia Conquers Greece

In 359 BC Philip II became king of Macedonia. Philip spent the first year of his rule fighting off invaders who wanted to take over his kingdom. Once he defeated the invaders, he was ready to launch invasions of his own.

Philip's main target was Greece. The leaders of Athens, knowing they were the target of Philip's powerful army, called for all Greeks to join together. Few people responded.

The Phalanx

With men holding 16-foot-long spears, a phalanx marches into battle.

Why were the soldiers' spears so long?
