Mike Bonomo
2013 NEWEA President

Welcome to the 2014 NEWEA Annual Conference.

Get Connected! Networking, technical sessions, learning from exhibitors, poster session education, committee meetings and the work of NEWEA, that’s what this conference is all about. This year’s Program is full of learning opportunities and information exchange based on the work of our members and many other contributors. To get the most out of this Program, I encourage you to explore where you typically may not—visit a Young Professionals event; stop by and visit with an Exhibitor you may not know; join a Committee and attend their meeting. This conference is so full of opportunities to expand your knowledge and network. Get connected and make the most of this coming together of over 2000 industry professionals in the beautiful setting offered by the Marriott Copley Place and surrounding environs.

In keeping with this year’s theme of increasing Public Awareness, we will have sessions on Flushables/Non Dispersibles and Raising Public Awareness—both on Tuesday morning. This, of course, is in addition to the 33 technical sessions offering an array of learning opportunities. I would also like to call attention to and invite your participation in a special reception (ticketed event) honoring retiring NEWEA Executive Director, Elizabeth Cutone.

We are honored that Deval Patrick, Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts will be our Keynote Speaker. We are further honored that the newly elected Mayor of Boston, Martin Walsh (invited) will also be part of the Opening Session and WEF President-Elect Ed McCormick will also offer his insight on current WEF initiatives. What a tremendous opportunity to demonstrate to these leaders the leadership of NEWEA in advocating, designing, building and operating the clean water infrastructure of New England!

A big thank you to all the Speakers and Committees involved that put on sessions and organized meetings and events. I do have to acknowledge the hard work of the conference committees including Program, Sponsorship, Registration, Exhibits, Awards, Meeting Management Council Director Meg Tabacsko, Conference Arrangements Chair Ron Tiberi and Program Chair Sue Guswa. A special thanks to Linda Austin for holding down the fort during Janice Moran’s maternity leave. Much appreciation to all!

Mike Bonomo

Aloha

9:00 AM–3:00 PM

Coordinator: Joy Lord

Let's leave the cold and snow behind and escape to Hawaii. Well sort of. Our day will be spent learning about the customs and culture of our 50th state. Most people think of a lei as floral but actually, there are many kinds of leis. We will make several different ones. Our own tiki bar and mixologist will concock a variety of tropical drinks for us to enjoy and our lunch will consist of the traditional "lunch plate" items.

So put on your flipflops, grass skirt and tropical shirt and come join in the Aloha spirit. Those who have the glue guns from June please bring them.

Exhibit Hall Reception (4th Floor Exhibit Area)

4:00–6:00 PM

Don't forget, Monday lunch at the "Top of the Hub" at 12:00 noon, This is independent of the NEWEA registration. Remember—no jeans.
