HIGH PERFORMANCE INNOVATION, ONLY FROM CHAR-BROIL

Char-Broil, known for innovation in outdoor cooking, now introduces Char-Broil TRU-Infrared to Europe. This patented design not only prevents flare-ups and uses less gas than traditional barbecues, it delivers the juicy, delicious taste of charcoal barbecued foods. Only Char-Broil TRU-Infrared heat outperforms other gas barbecues even in cold weather and offers precision control for slow-roasting or searing.

Char-Broil® Performance™ barbecues bring Char-Broil TRU-Infrared™ cooking to families and groups no matter what the menu. These barbecues prevent flare-ups and slow roast or sear with even heat throughout the generous surface of the barbecue. At last, you can barbecue year-round. These barbecues use less gas and cook effectively even in a cold North Sea winter.

Made of top-quality nonmagnetic stainless steel, the rugged Titan™ barbecue is engineered to withstand years of high-volume cooking. This well-built barbecue features a welded tubular cart and bolted side shelves for stable work surfaces. It also includes all the features an experienced outdoor cook will love – three burners, each operating as an independent cooking zone, an adjustable warming rack, grate-level temperature gauges and a push-button electronic ignition. The Titan's TRU-Infrared technology prevents cold spots and flare-ups, cooks fast and uses less gas, and delivers a wide temperature range from slow roasting or high sears.
