

GMI Mentorship Introduction for Students

Connecting students to careers through mentorship

The GMI Mission

GMI prepares students around the world for success in their job search by providing them with the tools and guidance needed to be successful.

This is accomplished through a structured, online, short-term, one to one mentorship with a business professional.

Why Mentoring is so Important!

45% of university graduates in Africa are jobless one year after graduation. In the US, two thirds of graduating students struggle to launch their careers.

Many schools worldwide do not incorporate curriculum to teach the skills students need to be successful in their first job.

GMI's mentorship program helps bridge the gap by providing students with experienced mentors who coach them on these vital business skills.

Having a college degree alone doesn't mean a student is prepared for their first professional job.

Why You Should Consider This Mentorship

- ✓ Develop the business skills needed to succeed in your first professional position.
- ✓ Identify your business aspirations and create realistic steps to achieving your goals.
