Board OF DIRECTORS

It is with great pleasure that we bring to you the 2011 Guilford Chamber of Commerce Town Guide & Member Directory. We hope you will utilize this valuable resource throughout the year.

The Guilford Chamber is a non-profit organization representing nearly 300 businesses. This organization continues to thrive because its members are invested in our community and use their talents and resources to "increase the growth, vitality, and well-being of its members and the Guilford business community." Recognizing that we can accomplish much more collectively than we can individually, even in the throes of unprecedented economic challenges, together as an organization we are able to carry out this mission.

We look forward to serving the interests of our members and the citizens of Guilford, and view this directory as another way to act as a resource for town businesses and residents. By supporting member businesses we can strengthen Guilford's economic development and positively impact the lives of the people who live and work in our Town.

Respectfully submitted,

The Westwoods Trails Committee, a division of the Guilford Land Conservation Trust, maintains the system. Maps are available for all areas in Town Hall, Bishop's Orchards, Page Hardware, Guilford Police Station, Guilford Free Library, and Nathanael B. Westwoods: Forty miles of trails in southwestern Guilford blazed through a varied forest of marshlands, and fresh and salt water, covering more than 1,000 acres. The State of Connecticut has closed some sections of the trail for the safety of hikers. For more information, visit www.westwoodstrails.org. Enter at Peddler Road and Route 146, Sam Hill, and elsewhere.

Ratatouille Recipe:

Ingredients:

- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- onion, finely chopped
- olive oil
- 1 large eggplant, cubed (1/2 inch)
- 2 zucchini or yellow squash, thinly sliced
- 1 green or red pepper, coarsely chopped
- 5 or 6 large tomatoes, finely diced
- black olives
- sea salt
- fresh basil/rosemary/thyme or herbes de provence

1. Heat olive oil in large cast iron or heavy sautépan
2. Sauté onion until lightly brown
3. Add eggplant cubes and sauté until browned (you will need to add more olive oil as the eggplant soaks it up quickly)
4. Add zucchini slices and continue cooking, stirring often
5. Make room in the center and add garlic with more olive oil; cook until brown but not burned
6. Add pepper, tomatoes, olives, salt and herbs, stir and then cover. Cook until all vegetables are soft and almost stew-like.
7. Serve hot with quinoa, whole-grain couscous or basmati rice.
8. Enjoy with a nice rosé.

Variations include adding white or red wine if extra liquid needed or canned tomatoes in the winter. Rainis are good too. This recipe is a great way to use summer's bounty of fresh, local, organic ingredients. I often just wash the eggplant and squash and do not bother peeling them. Bon appétit.
