QUICK & EASY LAWNS

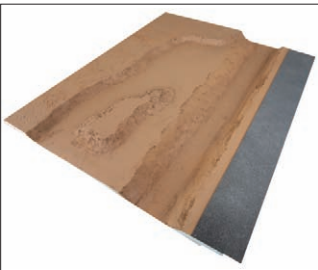

Whether used as lawns or as a base for more detailed grassy areas, grass mats are great for covering large areas of your layout quickly. They're also easy to blend into rough terrain using sprinkle-on ground cover. When your layout base takes a dip or climbs a hill grass mats are easily cut with scissors or a hobby knife (make sure to use proper safety precautions) to fit the terrain.

Getting Started

The scene shown here includes a mix of grass mats, sprinkle-on ground cover and lichen for undergrowth. Everything is built on insulation foam painted a brown color that is a near match for the grass mat base.

Five Easy Steps

1. Sculpt your base (ours is pink foamboard) and apply dirt-colored paint over the surface.

2. Cut grass mats to fit and glue with scenery glue. Trim edges if necessary.

3. Apply glue along edges of grass mat and sprinkle on ground cover. To set ground cover, spray or brush on a layer of clear, matte-finish scenery cement.

4. Attach clumps of foliage, bushes and underbrush with scenery glue.

5. Add trees and other details to complete the scene.
