Association President Gives Keynote Sermon

Season Theme, "Christ at the Center," District Superintendent Delivers Evening Sermon

Sounding the keynote for the Ocean Grove Auditorium season, the Rev. Dr. George W. Henson asked the worshippers last Sunday morning "to put Christ at the center of all our worship and work." Approximately 1,500 persons heard the Campmeeting association president open the 1948 season with an appeal to "alienated humanity to return to God."

The Rev. Wilbert Westcott, retired Methodist minister and an Ocean Grove resident, presided during the service. George Burrows, a Methodist lay preacher, and the Rev. Otto C. Nelson, former member of the Ocean Grove association and at present pastor in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., took part in the scriptural reading and response. Miss Margaret Rohland, of Ocean Grove, was soprano soloist.

Finding his text in 1 Corinthians 13, "And now abideth faith, hope and charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity," Dr. Henson declared that this scripture holds the necessary characteristics of human life to clear our alienation from God.

"Man is by nature alienated from God," Dr. Henson continued. "The Bible is a record on which truth is everywhere painted. God is forever trying to bring alienated humanity back to Himself. God, through Christ, is seeking to create a new humanity that loves Him. The mission of Christianity is to call these men that ignore God back to Him. That is what we call Salvation."

"Men are trying to build a new world on humanitarian ideals but we will fail, as in the past, unless this world becomes conscious of God. In our materialism we forget God but Kiplin cried, 'Lord God of Hosts, Be With Us Yet, Let We Forget, Let We Forget.' Dr. Henson declared that "Salvation is a faith and that our salvation is an act of God. He moves to us with compassion — an infinite, holy God, bringing peace and happiness."

The preacher then said, "Hope is another blessed New Testament word. We are saved in hope. Hope always looks to the future, never past or present. We are pilgrims and strangers in this world. We are looking hopefully to the world beyond. Hope looks to the promise. We are not here to stay. We are walking a Pilgrim's Pathway and we are heading for home. A year ago some people were worshipping here who are not with us now; they are home. God has a future for us in which a new humanity shall be created by faith, hope and His love. We have a living hope, a hope of heaven. The Bible speaks of a blessed hope, the return of our Lord, the hope of a victorious end."

Evening Service Rev. H. J. Smith, district superintendent of the New Brunswick district, was the evening preacher. He said that we are living in a world today in which many important questions are to be asked. They derive from crucial questions of life which are found in the Bible. What is man? If a man die, shall he live? The question from Jesus' lips, what will a man give in exchange for his soul? Of how much more value is man than a sheep? Many today are asking that same question which the king of Israel asked of Jeremiah when Jerusalem was besieged by Babylon, "Is there any word from the Lord?" In these days of stress many feel there ought to be a direct word from the Lord.

There was a word for Moses to lead his people out of Egypt, there was a word for Isaiah, there was a word for Martin Luther when the church was in danger of corruption of the cloister, there was a word for John Wesley when the church had become cold and complacent. The world needs the truth of the gospel liberated through consecrated lives, said the speaker. To find our wills in accord with God's will, that is the great need today.

There is a word and that word is God. In all things we take our point of reference from him. God is the compass. If the needle is wrong, everything else is wrong—our needle has departed too far from God. The world is in need of a spiritual structure, strong, firm and unshakable.

George Burrows led in prayer. Theresa McClintock was the evening soloist and sang "Eye Hath Not Seen" by Gaul and "Prayer" by Guion.

The BEST I KNOW in LITERATURE THAT LIVES
By JOHN FRASER
Formerly Religious Editor "New York Herald-Tribune"

These Holiday Pauses
Times of reaction and relaxation are always full of peril. They throw us open to temptations that have little chance with us in the working days of life. Of course, our working days have their moral tests, but they come along a different plane.
When we are released from the strain and stress of business, we find ourselves in possession of time that we are tempted to run to waste, if not to wickedness. Life today is being lived at very high pressure. The demand upon the vital forces is so great that unless they are economized and safeguarded from over-expenditure, our earthly stay will shrink to the limit of two-score years instead of reaching its allotted span of three-score years and ten.
We are living in an age of hurry and worry, of haste and waste, whether we get through any more work by reason of the pace at which we move is doubtful. But it is hardly a matter of choice; we are not to call a halt. We are caught in the swirl. The pace is made FOR us, and not BY us. There is, of course, a kind of fascination in it all. The swiftly moving and many-colored life, especially of our great cities, weaves a strange spell about the spirit.

Our pulses dance to its music. Our nerves vibrate to its rhythm. We have not time to think; we can only feel; and the trouble is, that we are not content unless every day provides some fresh excitement, and we are prepared to pay almost any price for a thrill. The world of sight and sound dominates us. It tyrannizes over us. It holds all the gateways of the mind.
It is this absorption in material concerns that is threatening our higher life and that calls for some respite. These holiday pauses in the pursuit of wealth and place and power if rightly used give the soul a chance to breathe and to recover poise. They create clear spaces about the spirit in which the shining ones may come and go between us and the great unseen.

Medical men assert that the majority of modern diseases are neurotic in their origin. Our lives are feverish, overwrought, ill-balanced, out of key. Our nerves are on edge. Many of us are becoming difficult to live with — we have no balance, no repose. All our smiles are expended on strangers, and when we reach home we are so bankrupt of sweetness and light that we re-act with sourness and gloom against those who love us best.
Would we have deliverance from this tyranny and learn the secret of abiding and transcendent peace? If we would only listen to the stately periods of the 139th Psalm, we might catch the breath of God's own cool and calm eternity. — Rev. Dr. Henry Howard, from "Where Wisdom Hides."

The Poet's Corner

The Value of a Smile
There's the radiant smile of a friendly greeting,
That cheers you when you're feeling blue,
And though the smile may be but fleeting,
You come right back with a "How do you do!"
O! the smile of a friend who can understand,
When everything goes dead wrong;
"Take it easy," says he, with a clasp of the hand,
And hope comes anew, with the lilt of a song.
When out of sorts, or downhearted we be,
Awearry at times with the cares of the day,
A kindly smile is most pleasing to see,
Like the sun shining out through the murky gray.
For the smile of a friend makes life worth while,
And it helps you on your way;
The gloom fades away with a cheery smile —
Like mists at the break of day.
There is beauty and charm in a smile sincere,
For it springs from the soul within;
True, we can't always smile, and there's many a tear,
But in making the effort, a smile we may win.
—HAROLD TRAVIS
Paterson, N. J.

Life Begins
Feeling sad — and lonely too?
Cheer up! Don't feel that way —
Look up to the sky — it's so very blue
And it's really a lovely day;
Why do you sigh? Now can't you see?
A little robin in that tree?
Winter is over and Spring is here —
All Nature sings its song of cheer.
Why mourn your losses? Look ahead —
Why dwell on deep regret?

Enjoy this sunny day instead,
Your life isn't over yet!
In fact, it's just beginning, Pal,
Why the few mistakes you've made
Will prove a means of winning out,
And memories sad will fade.
Mistakes are lessons — Time will bring
You joy — Come! Do forget
The past — Hark! Hear that robin sing —
Life isn't over yet!

CONSIDER THE CASE
By ROY LEVER, Attorney-at-Law

(Suppose you were made a Judge for a day, how would you decide this case? In the FIRST paragraph are the facts of a recent case. In the SECOND paragraph is a statement of the law to be applied to those facts. Before you read paragraph THREE, decide for yourself just how you would decide the question if you were the Judge. Then read paragraph THREE and see how the case was actually decided.)
The Court held that mere non-performance of the duty to repair a sidewalk, imposed by a City Ordinance, does not give rise to a cause of action in favor of one injured by a defect due to wear and tear of the elements and public use. The duty imposed by the ordinance is public in nature, and for breach of it a private suit for negligence will not lie. In order to recover for such injuries, Mary must show that the sidewalk was improperly made, or was faultily repaired, or prove some other condition which was attributable to the negligence by Howard. So, Mary, not proving that Howard was negligent, cannot recover for her injuries sustained, because an owner is not responsible for wear and tear of elements and public use, which make dangerous a sidewalk that originally was safe, and the owner is under no obligation to repair same to avoid liability for injuries.

Today's Case Involves: RESPONSIBILITY FOR SIDEWALKS
One sunny day Mary was out for a stroll, and while walking along the sidewalk on Howard's property, fell and injured herself. She now sues Howard for maintaining a defective pavement. At the trial she proved that there was a City Ordinance which provided that a property owner must keep his sidewalk in repair. It was also proved at the trial that the defects in the sidewalk were the result of wear and tear. Howard, of course, claimed that he was not responsible for any defects resulting from ordinary wear and tear.

The City Ordinance made it a duty for all property owners to maintain their sidewalks in a state
New Jersey was known as the "mother of trusts" until 1913.

SPORT SLANTS

(By Paul P. Ridner)

Congratulations should be extended to Ed. Thompson, sr., 134 Broadway, for catching the largest greenhead bass of the season. The catch was listed at 49 1/2 lbs. and hooked while Ed was fishing with Jack Talman of Asbury Park off the Highlands on Monday.

Joe Cushman, director of athletics at Neptune high school, states that varsity schedules for all of Neptune's varsity teams are now ready. The TIMES will print them soon so watch for the changes in your favorite sport.

Next Wednesday, June 23, Joe Louis and Jersey Joe Walcott will exchange blows again, this time in the large Yankee ball park. Everyone remembers the great fight that the Jersey boy gave the champion the last time out and many boxing experts say that on June 24 a new champion will hold the heavy-weight crown. Louis will have held the championship exactly eleven years and one day when the two square off against each other next Wednesday night.

About all the catches on the local pier this week can be summed up in one word (NONE). There have been plenty of the members out there but the fish seem to be a bit further down the coast yet.

Joe Vetrano's 2nd double of the evening Tuesday night enabled the Point Pleasant Pelicans to defeat a strong House of David nine at Clayton field by the score of 5-4. The ace place-kicker of the San Francisco Forty-Niners paced both Pelican rallies with doubles.

While we're on the subject of Joe Vetrano, I was talking with him the other evening and he stated that any boys in the local area wishing to select a good college for the fall or future to look into Mississippi Southern. The school is spending lots of money on improvements and soon will be one of the standout schools in the Southland.

Mike Polly, of Neptune high school, blasted a long triple in the bottom of the seventh inning to give the Belmar Legion their fifth win in a row by the score of 2-1. Nave, of Spring Lake, and Morgan, of Belmar, were both in good form and the game could have gone to either hurler until Polly unloaded his blast.

Tom Shotwell, who was a guard on the beach a couple of years ago is back again on the North End beach. Next week "Sports Slants" will carry the names of the guards at both beaches for the benefit of the girl sun-bathers.

Anybody having any suggestions for summer sports events drop a letter to this paper and we'll do our best to put your plan in the right hands.

To set forth a perfect picnic spread on the Fourth, be sure to take along all the little treats that make picnics such big treats! They'll be easy to make if you follow the recipes below... and the cost will be easy to take if you buy the ingredients at your thrifty A&P. It's a picnicers' paradise!

MAYONNAISE YOU'LL PRAISE

For a patriotic picnic salad, combine fresh strawberries, pineapple and blueberries. And for a bang-up dressing to go with it, add 1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped, to 1/4 cup A&P's creamy-smooth ANN PAGE MAYONNAISE. This salad is delicious as a dessert, too, served with the brownies or spice drops I'm going to give you the recipes for now.

WHITE HOUSE BROWNIES

Melt 2 sqs. unsweetened chocolate over hot water, remove from heat and add 1 cup sugar, 2 unbeaten eggs, 1/2 cup A&P's double-rich WHITE HOUSE EVAPORATED MILK (undiluted), 1/2 cup sifted flour, 1/2 cup chopped nut meats, 1/2 tsp. salt and 1/4 tsp. vanilla. Stir well, pour into greased 8-in. sq. pan, and bake in moderate oven, 350° F., 35 mins. Makes sixteen 2-in. squares.

TOPS IN SPICE DROPS

Melt 1/2 cup shortening, add 1 cup molasses and 2 beaten eggs. Stir well. Sift 2 1/2 cups of A&P's fine SUNNYFIELD FAMILY FLOUR with 4 tps. baking powder, 1 tsp. salt, 1/2 tsp. soda, 1/4 tsp. cloves, 1/4 tsp. cinnamon and 1/4 tsp. ginger. Add half these dry ingredients and beat well. Add other half and 1/2 cup milk alternately, beating well after each addition. Add 1 tsp. lemon extract. Drop by teaspoonfuls on ungreased cookie sheet and bake in moderate oven, 375° F., 8 to 10 minutes. Makes about 5 dozen.

FIRST FOR THIRST

Parched picnicers always go for grape juice... especially rich, tangy A&P GRAPE JUICE. So pack plenty of this thrifty thirst-quencher in your picnic basket. It's grand mixed with ginger ale... and a grand A&P value!

... and a grand A&P value!

Young Workers On Farms

Not all the young people seek jobs at the seashore hotels during the summer time, according to Clinton L. Mundy, farm field representative of the State Employment office. The summer vacation will see many students and young people taking jobs at farm, garden and dairy work.

Probably the great majority of them will have had previous experience at these tasks, and many of them are likely to have lived on farms, so that this work will not be any novelty to them. For those who have had little or no experience in such work, these activities will be especially interesting.

The beauty of country life will appeal to these young people. The charm of rural scenes, the greenery of fields and woodlands, the colorful blossoms of wild flowers, will create a highly pleasing background for their labors.

One can imagine that these young people will enjoy working over the gardens and the crops. It will be interesting to them to help the plants to grow by pulling out the weeds, giving them water in dry weather, and cultivating the soil. They can be expected to finish their season with the feeling that they have enjoyed the country life, and would like to do it again.

"100 Things You Should Know About Communism"

For 15 years the late F.D.R. endeavored to hamper and destroy the Un-American Activities Committee of the United States House of Representatives. Those were the days when the President had sold the American people on the thesis that the most important qualification for dealing with the Communists was to be on terms of personal friendship with Joe Stalin and have Communists help write the speeches which he (the President) delivered to the American people.

The truth was late in coming, but we can all be thankful that it is not too late! This week the Un-American Activities Committee of the House unanimously issued its official report entitled "100 Things You Should Know About Communism in the U.S.A." Every citizen can have a copy of this report free by merely writing to the Committee in Washington, D. C.

The committee accuses United States Communists of "cold war treason" and predicts that they will be open enemies of all of us should the cold war "turn hot." It shows you how you can identify Communists.

The report is the first in a series. Additional reports to come will deal with Reds in religion, education, labor and government.

A striking thing about the report is that the party depends for its support not from the working classes but from teachers, preachers (look at the preachers who have been misled by Henry Wallace), actors, writers, union officials, doctors, editors, lawyers and even from millionaires.
