Maldives

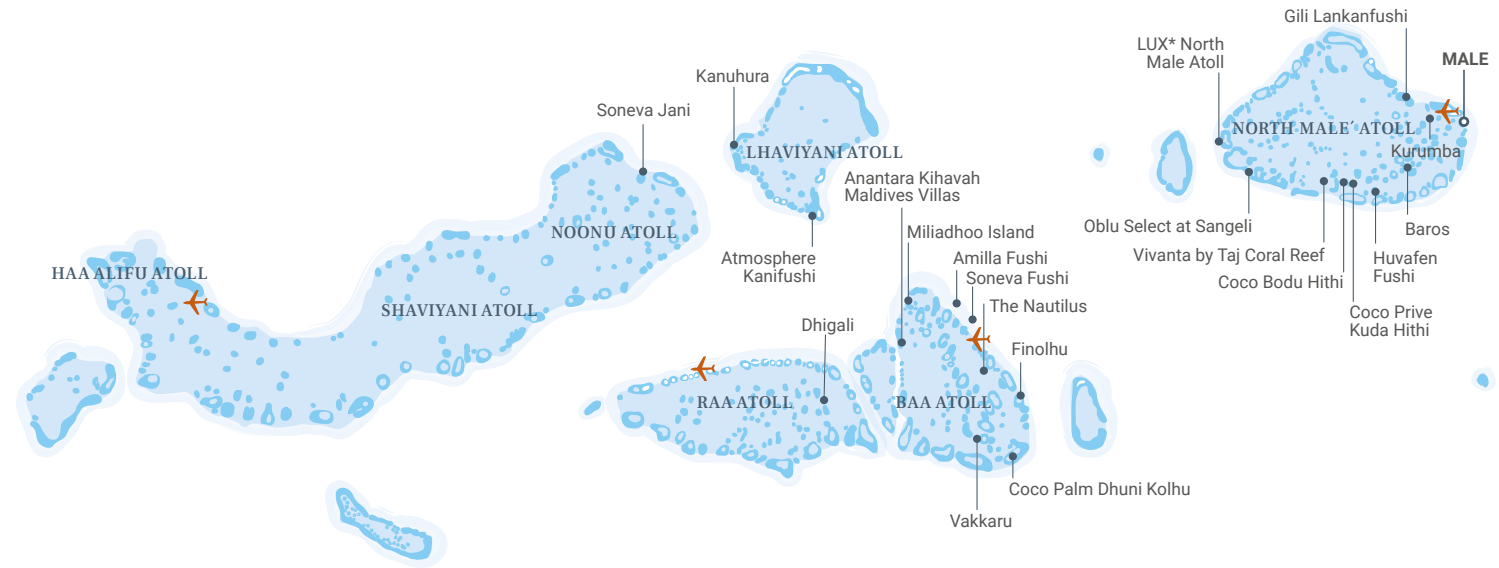

Like exotic gems scattered across the blue velvet of the Indian Ocean, the 1,192 coral and sand islands of the Maldives cover over a million square kilometres that cross the equator just west of Sri Lanka.

The origins of the 26 atolls is lost in ancient history, with records indicating the islands may have been inhabited over 5,000 years. Recent history shows the Maldives as part of an important trade route between east and west, settled by peoples from all over the world who left a strong influence on the people, their religion and culture.

Palm fringed islands with sparkling white powder soft beaches, aquamarine lagoons, crystal clear warm waters surrounded by coral reefs with one of the world's most breathtaking views of underwater life...if this is your idea of a tropical paradise, then you have discovered the magic of the Maldives.

The most difficult part of your Maldives holiday is deciding which island to call your island home. To make your decision less challenging, Wildlife Safari has personally selected the finest resorts for your memorable island holiday.

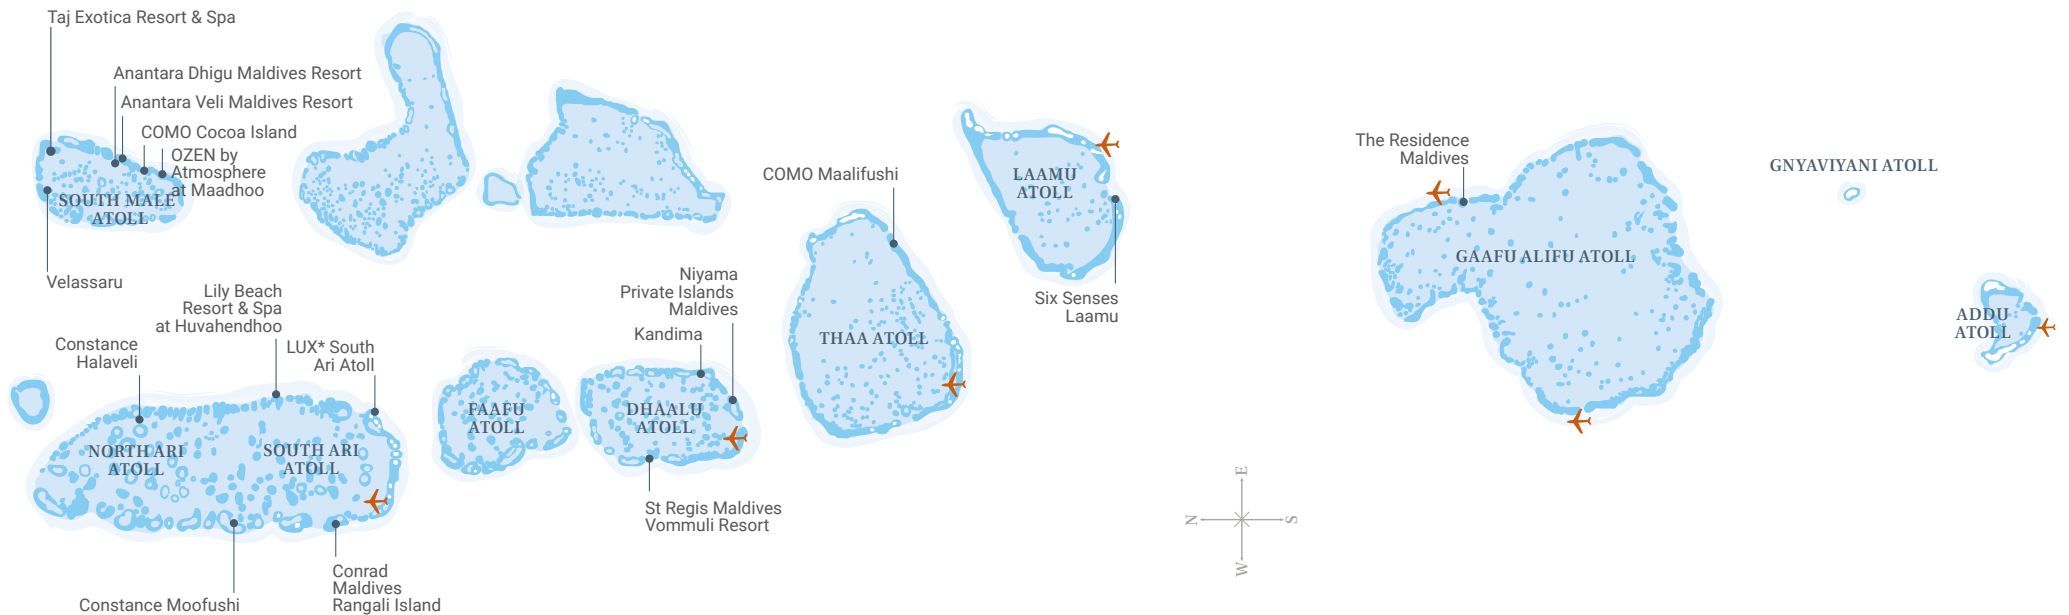

Each idyllic tropical island is home to one resort

Each private island resort is a tropical paradise where you will enjoy all the privacy and amenities you expect from a luxury resort. A dreamy holiday paradise where you can laze under the sun, hang in a hammock, swim, dive, fish, snorkel to look at spectacular coral reefs, dine on a sand bank, dine under the sea, go cruising or happily surrender to the simple pleasures of doing nothing at all.

PRICING

Our brochure pricing aims to provide an indication of the cost based on a 6 night stay during low season. Low season generally falls between the months of May to October while shoulder and high season mostly runs from November to April. Our prices are based on 2 persons sharing in the room category stated, breakfast (or all meals if the featured resort is an All Inclusive property) and return transfers (resort boat, seaplane or domestic flight).

International airfares are NOT included. International flights, extra nights, other room categories child pricing and single supplement are available on request.

GETTING TO YOUR ISLAND RESORT

The style in which you travel to your resort will depend on the location of your island resort. Island resorts located in the inner atolls are accessed by a resort boat transfer from Velana International Airport, outer atolls are reached by a scenic seaplane flight while the far outer atolls are reached by domestic flight followed by a resort boat transfer.

All international flights land on Hulhule Island just a short dhoni ride to Male, the capital of the Republic of Maldives. On arrival at Velana International Airport you will be met by our resort representative who will confirm details of your resort transfer and personally assist you with your transfer.

Resort Boat

Resort boat transfers depart from the main jetty on Hulhule Island. No matter what time of day or night your flight lands you can immediately transfer to your island resort.

On arrival at Velana International Airport you will be met by our resort representative and escorted to the jetty for your transfer.

Seaplane Flight

A scenic seaplane flight to a resort located in the outer atolls can only be taken during daylight hours. If your international flight arrives late at night you will need to spend your first night at a hotel on Male, or at a nearby resort and take the seaplane flight on the following day.

On arrival at Velana International Airport you will be met by our resort representative who will assist you to the lounge at the seaplane terminal Island to wait for your flight to your resort.

Domestic Flight

Several local islands have a domestic airport which provide the type of transfer to island resorts in the far outer atolls. On arrival at Velana International Airport our resort representative will personally escort you to the domestic terminal. Waiting time for your domestic flight is always kept to a minimum.

Mauritius

An idyllic island in the Indian Ocean, 20° south of the equator, with coral beaches and warm azure waters protected by a series of coral reefs that virtually surround the island to form shallow lagoons.

Situated at the trading crossroads of the Indian Ocean the island was first visited by Arab and Chinese traders. The island was subsequently claimed by the Portuguese, Dutch and French, eventually occupied by the British before gaining its independence in 1968. The island's volcanic origins are evident in its landscape with lofty craggy peaks and extinct craters towering above ancient palms. Today the scenery is dominated by fields of sugar cane imported by the Dutch in the late 16th century. The population of just over one million people is a vibrant and cosmopolitan blend of African, European, Asian, and Indian and this exotic fusion is reflected in the island's tantalising cuisine and colourful culture.

A perfect year round destination, Mauritius can be enjoyed on its own, in combination with a safari on the African continent or with a stay on a near Indian Ocean island. The island offers an impressive array of activities with championship golf courses, diving, snorkelling, deep sea fishing, a generous range of complimentary water sports, kids clubs, teen clubs, wellness retreats and spas with the highest level of service and warm hospitality.

DISCOVER MORE THAN ONE ISLAND

Rodrigues.

A dependency of Mauritius, Rodrigues is to the east of Mauritius and easily reached on a scheduled daily flight. Little known Rodrigues offers an unforgettable introduction to idyllic island life offering a selection of modest resorts.

Reunion.

Reunion, the southernmost department of France, is one of the world's last remaining colonial possessions and sits east of Madagascar with Mauritius and the Seychelles as its nearest neighbours. Reunion is enchanting with mountains dominating the island and rainforests along the coast.

The island was once a vast volcano which collapsed to leave an immense and jagged interior with three cirques (valleys). Mafate and Salazie are virtually inaccessible and can only be reached by hikers or by scenic helicopter. While the third cirque, Cilaos with its quaint town is accessible by road.

Reunion has the reputation as a nature destination, however the island does offer a selection of beach resorts. Reunion combines perfectly with Mauritius, Madagascar or the Seychelles for the ideal Indian Ocean island holiday.

Madagascar

Madagascar, with an extraordinarily diverse terrain, is like nowhere else on earth. Madagascar offers a wealth of fascinating places to visit from the tranquility of the forests, bustling cities, unspoilt beaches, an underwater world of dazzling corals and marine life and truly exotic flora and wildlife.

Historically the island was a land of conquest, shipwrecks, massacres, piracy and slavery. It is recorded the Arabs settled as early as the 9th century, the Portuguese arrived in 1500, followed by a succession of Merion Monarchs and in 1896 became a French colony before gaining independence in 1960.

Unlike its nearest Indian Ocean neighbours, Madagascar has been relatively isolated and remains one of the world's great eco tourism destinations. Other than a few major roads, the island's infrastructure and facilities are limited and travel is best in 4WD vehicle, light aircraft or domestic flight. As a developing country Madagascar is at times challenging and facilities may be lacking however this only adds to its charm.

Wildlife Safari has designed our private journeys to depart on any day. Travel in air conditioned comfort in your private 4WD vehicle accompanied by an English speaking guide, staying in boutique hotels and rustic lodges which are comfortable but may lack all the modern luxuries. Wildlife Safari can also custom design a private journey to suit your interests.

Madagascar is fringed by powder white unspoilt beaches, the warm waters of the Indian Ocean and a scattering of tiny remote tropical islands.

Seychelles

Thousands of kilometres from anywhere, the Seychelles has some of the most exquisite and idyllic islands in the Indian Ocean stretching in a crescent from the equator down to the tip of Madagascar.

The 115 islands of the Seychelles archipelago are split into granitic islands clustered around the trio of islands, Mahe, Praslin and La Digue with their neighbouring islands are the most visited as they offer the largest range of accommodation. Outer islands beyond the Seychelles plateau are the flat coraline islands extending west towards Africa with many just tiny coral specks. With almost half of the Seychelles set aside as marine national parks a large part of its charm is that no two islands are the same and few places are more isolated.

Mahe, home to Victoria the tiny capital and the international airport, is the biggest island with lush rainforests, high mountains, breathtaking beaches and hidden coves. Slower paced Praslin, where the intriguing Coco De Mer palm grows in the Vallee de Mai nature reserve has some of the most beautiful beaches and some the finest resorts, while the enchanting island of La Digue is renowned for its iconic blush pink granite boulders on the breathtakingly white sand beaches of Grand Anse, Anse Coco and the famous Anse Source D'Argent.
