MAYOR PIKE'S MESSAGE

Over the last two years, the city council and I, city management team, and many of our city employees went through a process of considering what we're all about as a city. We did this to help us define our mission, vision, and values, and to better brand our city.

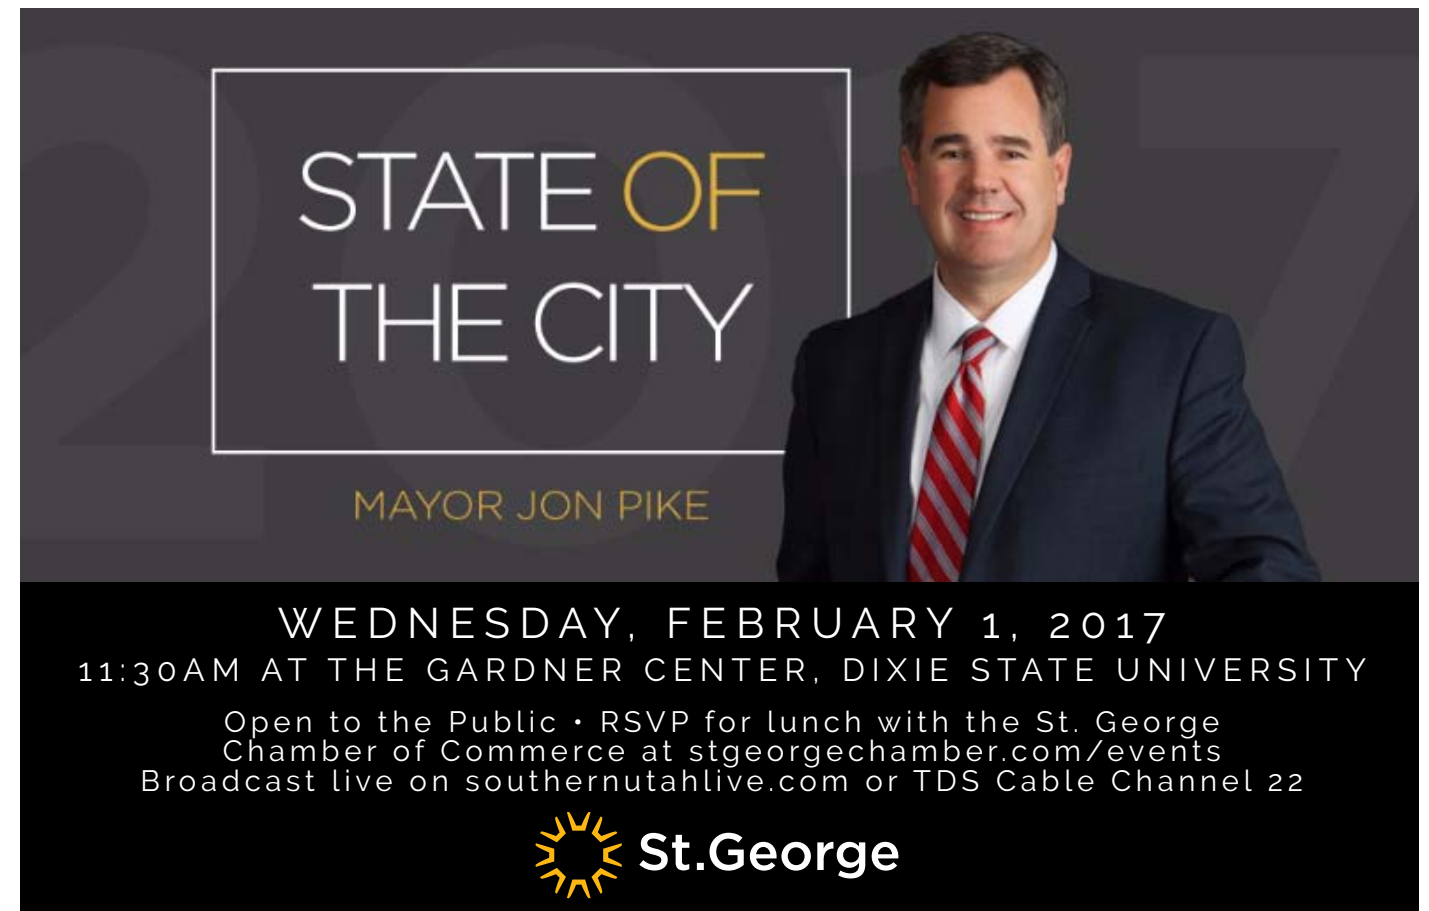

What you might have seen last year was a new city logo appear gradually on city vehicles, at city hall, on our letterhead, and on some city uniforms. The logo is now reflected in our new city flag. All these things are visible signs of what I hope will be evident in every interaction we all have together. The logo represents the sun, as most who have seen it would know. But it represents other things as well.

The logo resembles a wagon wheel, and is a nod to our heritage. It also looks like a cog or gear, signifying industry and commerce. It could be people standing together in a circle with open arms. It might refer to communication coming in and out of the community. It also reflects brightness, activity, happiness, and optimism.

As we discussed the foundation and pillars of our city, we determined that activity and optimism are two words that describe us as a community. So much of what we do and are can be contained within those two words. When you think about what it took to build St. George in the hot and dry desert, it certainly took a lot of work and optimism. Today, many of our residents and visitors are here because of our sunshine and numerous activities. We will continue to build on that, and focus even more on being a healthy, active, and positive community.

We recognize that we still have had more to do to meet the needs of our citizens in terms of economic development, housing, and wages, and we continue to keep our eyes on the ball when it comes to public safety and infrastructure. I'm confident that working together we will be successful. In fact, I think our new city tagline says it best: St. George – the brighter side!

ST. GEORGE IS A PLACE OF WHICH TO BE PROUD

By: Bette Arial, City Council

As I walked around Town Square, this Christmas season, I was awestruck by the stunning light display downtown; it reminded me of why I love St. George. It takes an amazing crew of city employees, with special skills, working hard to create this kind of magic. Thank you to all who worked so hard to create this ethereal beauty. There is so much natural and man-made beauty everywhere you look. Spring, summer, fall and winter, St. George is a place of which to be proud.

It is an appropriate time to thank all of our outstanding, dedicated, smart and creative city employees. They are professional in the way they conduct business and are valued by us all.

It is hard to believe we are coming to the close of another year. St. George has enjoyed growth, development and prosperity, with the addition of the Thunder Junction All Abilities Park, new ball field in Bloomington, the new Legacy Elementary School downtown, Desert Garden on the Red Hill, Seegmiller Farm in Little Valley, and positive changes at Switchpoint among many other projects. Many clubs, organizations, families, individuals and city employees donated to these projects, in time, money and materials to see them finished in typical St. George style.

St. George was recently recognized as an outstanding arts community because of the existing Opera House, Social Hall, Art Museum, Red Cliffs Gallery, Community Center for the Arts, Electric Theater and excellent private galleries and art-filled studios that dot our city. They provide for a vibrant arts experience for seasoned and inspiring artists.

Soon we will see the beginnings of new worthwhile projects for the New Year. The newest, a hotel going up on Main and Boulevard, across Main Street from where Erastus Snow, an early leader in our community, built a hotel for his guests. It was called the Erastus Snow Big House and was a white, clapboard building, several stories high. The new hotel will have a different look, with a noticeable nod to the original by the use of Dixie Dormers, pergolas and will bring people downtown helping to continue the revitalization of our historic district.

Next, we hope to see a full city block of changes downtown; with condominiums, retail shops, restaurants, street lamps, water features and things to do in the evening. We look forward to tying Town Square, Green Gate Village and Ancestor Square together with common purpose and newly generated excitement.

The goal is to entice the owners of several new restaurants, retail stores and other activities to the center of town, hopefully staying open later in the evening. All of this development is for one reason; to make our home a better place to live. These amazing new additions will certainly do just that.

In the New Year, make it your personal or family goal to explore the ins and outs of St. George in the coming seasons. You are guaranteed to find lots to do, educational opportunities, music of all types, relaxation, exercise, self-actualization, art of all styles, companionship, and fun around every street corner. Re-discover your amazing hometown.

2017 DIXIE REGIONAL TRANSPORTATION EXPO

Each year for the last 12 years the Transportation Expo has been held to provide a comprehensive public open house to consider all things transportation. This giant "one-stop-shop" on the future of transportation provides a convenient and comprehensive opportunity to coordinate, discuss transportation needs, view existing plans and gather public input. It's a great time to ask questions and discuss transportation issues with local, regional and state representatives.

The Dixie Regional Transportation Expo typically attracts crowds of over 600 people who come to find out about the state of transportation in Southern Utah.

Attendees can:

- Ask questions about road projects
- Learn more about transportation services and programs
- Provide public comment
- Learn about future transportation needs and planning
- See transportation innovations and new technologies

The 2017 Transportation Expo offers a unique opportunity for people to gain a first-hand understanding of a variety of transit, road, intersection/traffic light improvements, and bike programs and projects. The 2017 Transportation Expo is the place to be to learn about local transportation trends and provide meaningful input that will shape the future of Washington County!

ACTION PLAN

In February, Mayor Pike delivered the State of the City address for 2016 and introduced the City's Five-Year Action Plan. The plan outlines key initiatives and projects the City will be pursuing between 2016 and 2021 in six categories; they include: transportation, public safety, infrastructure, arts, parks and recreation, economic development and e-government. In this winter edition of Inside St. George we give you a summary look at some of the initiatives, programs and projects taking place in 2016 and beyond.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

MORE HAPPENING AHEAD

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

Entrepreneurship, workforce development, global competitiveness, collaboration, and effective leadership all play a dynamic role in the economic health and vitality of our city. Over the years, steady growth in southwestern Utah has translated into opportunities to diversify and strengthen our economic base. An evolving business climate, coupled with unparalleled outdoor recreation possibilities, make the area an attractive prospect for both commerce and leisure. Despite fluctuations in regional and national economies, St. George continues to thrive by protecting the core of its economic success - a robust quality of life.

PARTNERSHIPS 2016-21

We will continue in our partnerships with education. The City is playing an active role as Washington County School District builds its new elementary school in the heart of the city, Dixie Applied Technology College builds its new campus at the Ridgetop Technology Park, and Dixie State University builds its new student housing project and seeks funding to build a health and fitness Center and expand Hansen Stadium. We are expanding our network of CEOs, entrepreneurs, technology gurus and education partners to bring and grow more businesses that diversify and strengthen our economy.

RIDGE TOP TECHNOLOGY PARK 2016-21

The former airport property overlooking the bluffs and downtown St. George is the perfect setting for a master-planned, high-tech corporate park, research center, and education complex. Natural and paved trails, spectacular vistas, restaurants, and open space will make this an inspiring work environment.

COMMERCIAL DEVELOPMENT AREA (CDA) 2016

CDAs are private/public partnerships designed to facilitate improvements in targeted areas. Two CDAs (downtown and Millcreek Industrial Park) will allow for business expansion and new development in commercial and manufacturing.

OUTDOOR RECREATION 2016-21

One of the primary reasons people flock to St. George is quick access to some of the most unique landscape formations in the world. Knowing where to go and how to get there is important not only for visitors, but for those who call this place home. Improved signage, more connections and better accessibility are all part of the plan to get you where you want to be safely.

UTILITY ACCOUNT MANAGEMENT MADE EASY

Great news! The City of St. George has partnered with Paymentus and has been diligently working to implement a new system for you to pay your utility bills. We think you'll be pleased with the changes.

Viewing and paying your monthly utility bill is now as easy as a click of the mouse, anywhere, anytime (24/7) through your:

-  Computer
-  Smartphone/Tablet
-  Over the Phone

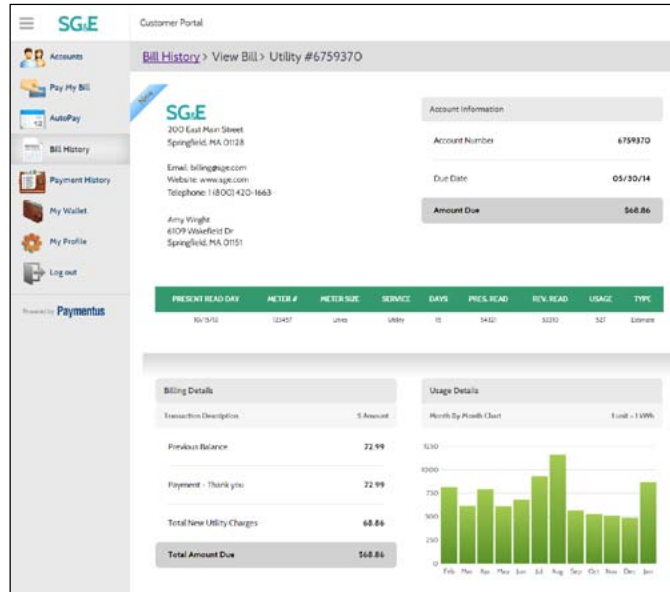

The Set-up is Easy!

All you need is your address, utility account number, and payment information. Payments can be made by Visa, MasterCard, Discover, debit card or eCheck with no additional processing fees.

Customers can go to sgcity.org and click on "Pay My Utility Bill" under the "City Services" menu and simply register and manage their utility payments by setting up automatic monthly payments or can choose the option to make one-time quick-pay payments without setting up a permanent payment account.

Other Features

Step-by-step instructions and a video on how to set-up your account can also be found at sgcity.org/autopay or call one of our friendly Customer Service Representatives, Monday through Friday between 8 am to 5:30 pm at 435-627-4700 and we'll be happy to assist you with this process.

 Customers can even chose to be notified by e-mail each time a new bill is available or an automatic payment has been made.

 You can also view your actual bill and choose to receive paperless utility bills. This is ideal if you want to go on vacation or are a part-time resident and want to eliminate the worry of receiving and paying your monthly utility bills.

 The new Integrated Voice Recognition automated phone payment system is also user-friendly. Just call 435-627-iPay (627-4729).

 Or a payment kiosk is also available at the City Offices at 175 E. 200 N. during regular business hours of 8 am to 5 pm, Monday through Friday.

Why the Change?

Ultimately, this new interface will save time, money, and allow customers the flexibility of paying their City utility bill where, how, and when they choose on a timely basis. Customers will not see an increase in their bill for these services, but will see an increase in their customer service and user experience. Customers on the existing online payment system will need to convert to the new system but will only need to register once and will no longer have to pay a $1.25 per transaction fee.

Who is Paymentus

Founded in 2004, Paymentus is an established leader in secure paperless billing and payment solutions. It operates under Chase Paymentus Merchant Tech software and is fully integrated with the software the city currently utilizes, but will provide real time data exchange on utility accounts.

More Happening Ahead

The City of St. George is also working diligently to implement the new technology whereby you can sign-up or disconnect your utility services online. Keep an eye out for these exciting changes as we are committed to improving the way the City of St. George provides our customers with quality service!

How will Paymentus Improve my Customer Experience?

- Make payments anytime of the day or night.
- No more $1.25 credit card transaction fee... No fees!
- Make payments 24/7 over the phone using our easy-to-use automated phone system.
- Use the Quick Pay option to pay your bill quickly without having to register an account or create a password.
- Register an account for additional features – turn on eBilling, view your bill image and history, manage paperless options, set up auto-payments, save payment information, set payment reminders/notifications, and more.
- No pinching and zooming to pay your bill! The payment portal renders on any size screen, so you can make payments on whatever internet browsing device you prefer—mobile phone, tablet, laptop, PC.
- Never forget to pay! Set payment reminders to be sent via email.

PATH OF THE TRAILBLAZER UNIVERSITY ART EXHIBIT

Most people would agree that university towns are some of the best places to live in the nation, but what factors contribute to a great university town? Is it the diverse cultures and youthful vibe? Is it the athletic and cultural offerings that universities provide? Is it the fact that university towns are associated with economic growth, security, and other benefits? Or is it simply the well-maintained facilities, beautiful surroundings, and collegiate spirit that permeate from colleges and universities everywhere? However the criteria is measured, it is certain that university towns are great places to live, and St. George, Utah, home of the Dixie State University Trailblazers, is no exception.

Dixie State University and the City of St. George are working hand in hand to increase opportunities and expand the benefits of living in a university town. One such collaboration is the Trailblazer Art in the City project that is placing hand-painted bison statues around the city.

This project was designed to create a university town atmosphere, promote local artists and businesses, bring students and community members together, and help fund future university town projects. You can sponsor a Trailblazer within the city annually or purchase a statue of your very own. Annual Trailblazer sponsorships provide businesses with brand recognition in high-traffic areas of the city while purchased Trailblazers provide personalized art pieces and create unique photo opportunities for clients to enjoy.

The goal is to have 20 painted bison throughout the community, and currently eight have been sold or sponsored. Upon completion of the project, brochures will be distributed throughout the city and an interactive website will be posted, providing a map for interested parties to follow. If you are interested in purchasing or sponsoring a bison, please contact Jordon Sharp, DSU Chief Marketing & Communication Officer, at jsharp@dixie.edu or at 435-879-4409.

MOVING OVER SAVES LIVES

Each year emergency responders, construction and utility crews, tow truck operators, and stranded motorists are struck by passing motorists on roadways. These collisions result in property damage, injuries, and fatalities. These incidents are preventable. In an effort to raise public awareness concerning this issue, the St. George Police Department is presenting the "Move Over" Campaign.

Utah law requires motorists to reduce their speed, create as much space as practical, and change lanes if safely able when approaching emergency vehicles, tow trucks, or highway maintenance vehicles that have red, blue, white, or amber flashing lights. By slowing down and moving over we hope there will be a reduction in the number of roadside workers and motorists that are injured and killed across the country each year.

The lives of the workers and the drivers involved are impacted as well as their families. Sadly, in the last 6 months two members of the Law Enforcement Community in the State of Utah lost their lives as a result of being struck by motorists. With the goal of preventing such tragedies, we are asking everyone to take the time to read our message and help spread the word.

You want to go home after work. . . we do too!!!

ST. GEORGE HALF MARATHON TURNS 35

By: Della Lowe

"The St. George Half Marathon draws between 1500 to 2500 runners each year," said Aaron Metler, Recreation Coordinator- Races and Special Events, St. George Recreation Division. "It is unique in Utah because it is a course without many downhill runs. One of the fun things about the event is that we also hold a 5K and a kids race, which really makes it a family affair."

The race had been going on for several years before Motor Sportsland RV and Boat (which later became Painter's Sun Country Chrysler) was approached to be the original sponsor. "Since I was a runner, myself, the fit was just right," said Pete Bowden, who managed the RV facility. "The Half Marathon was small in those early days. We had only about 100 to 150 runners in both the Half and the 5 K. We sponsored the race for about 15 years, but then it began to grow as St. George began to blossom, which is why it had to move from our building to the Dixie Convention Center. We did not have enough parking and facilities to handle it." Steve Hooper, who owns the St. George Running Center with his wife, Kendra, said when he started running this race in 1996, the race would start at the Painter RV dealership and finish there. "You could still run underneath the overpass on Brigham Road and into Bloomington. There were no police necessary, no roads blocked. We'd wrap around back onto the bike path from Man O War road. There were only about 250 runners total that year and I thought that was a lot."

Indeed with the explosive growth in St. George and the popularity of the race, the course has had to be changed several times to accommodate the number of runners. A driving force behind a lot of the growth has been Aaron.

"Aaron has brought a fun atmosphere and he is really able to read what runners want and adapt the race from year to year and make those changes," said Steve. "The races are really well organized. When race courses are changed, runners sometimes struggle with that. Aaron has done a good job helping runners adjust. It is a great thing for the community to have that many people come into St. George in January from all over the State and out of state."

Initially the race was nicknamed The Sweatshirt Race, because it was the only race which gave out sweatshirts instead of T-shirts. Pete has fond memories of those sweatshirts. "I still have four or five of those sweatshirts. It was unique and different and, even with the mild climate in St. George, January is still a bit nippy"

There have been some years, however, when Mother Nature did not cooperate. Pete remembers two years when the weather was perfect until Saturday morning when it rained heavily and then abruptly cleared up again in the afternoon. In 2005 the area experienced major flooding about a week or so before the race. True to the dedication of both the Recreation race staff and the loyal runners, the group reorganized the route to eliminate unpaved trails and bridges so that runners could go out and back on paved streets.

"One year, most of the state experienced heavy snow, but, St. George was in a pocket of wonderful weather," said Melea Adams, Financial Assistant, St. George Leisure Services. "Lots of runners could not get to St. George, but we powered through and held the race."

As always, the reasons athletes choose to run long distance races and the reasons they come to St. George vary as much as the athletes themselves. Many are seniors who have found a passion and a way to keep healthy. Some are students and some make it a family affair. That is certainly the case for Aidan Borillo and his family.

Aidan, a senior at Villanova University in Pennsylvania, is traveling to St. George to participate in the Half Marathon, but he won't be alone. His mother, his aunt and his brother will all run along with him.

"We decided a few years ago to start a new family tradition," said Aidan. "Along with my mother, we decided that instead of buying gifts for Christmas, we would plan a family vacation and figure out some activity that we could combine with that trip."

Aidan has been running since elementary school and has finished both the Philadelphia and the Boston

Aidan & his mother after Boston

Vanessa York, 27, and her husband, Alex, are also making the Half Marathon a family outing. That seems to be a bit of a trend among many runners. The Yorks have run two other half marathons – one in Evansville, Indiana and the other in San Diego, California. Their idea, take a trip each year to some terrific location around the United States which they could combine with a half marathon. They will travel from Indiana to St. George to run the St. George Half Marathon and then go off to enjoy the magnificent scenery around the area.

"We always wanted to see Zion and now we can combine it with our new passion by coming to St. George," said Vanessa. "Both of us are hoping to set new personal records for ourselves. And the fact that the January weather in Southern Utah is quite a bit better than Indiana doesn't hurt either."

The St. George Half, of course, attracts our local sons and daughters. 75 year old Richard DuBois comes down from Utah County and has run in St. George for 7 years.

"I have been a runner just about all my life since high school. I run half marathons and do endurance trail running," said Richard. "Running keeps me healthy and the type of running I do keeps me feeling great. There is just an overall physical and mental exuberance when I release stress."

He says he looks forward to the St. George Half for three reasons. "First January is the start of New Year and a great way to start off my running for the year. Secondly we all tend to over-eat starting at the end of November and all through December and for that reason staying in shape to run in January brings greater discipline and control at the end of the year. Thirdly, it is a heck of a lot colder up north in January."

This spectacular race is on paved city trails that wind along the Virgin River and takes runners through the beautiful landscape of St. George. Information about the St. George Half Marathon and registration can be found at this link <https://www.sgc.org/sportsandrecreation/races/stgeorgehalfmarathon>

Marathons. Because his brother lives in Las Vegas and Aidan has always wanted to spend more time around the beautiful scenery of St. George, the family decided that running the St. George Half Marathon, for the first time, together would be a great way to start that family vacation.

Road racing does seem to run in the family. Aidan's mother ran Boston with him and is a tri-athlete. His aunt just finished her first marathon. Although not many marathoners also run half marathons, Aidan said it seemed a good way to convince the entire family to run together.

HAPPY 20TH ANNIVERSARY ST. GEORGE ART MUSEUM

After a year devoted to the national parks in 2016, our first 2017 permanent collection show will be devoted primarily to objects that are abstract or non-representational. Many types of media will be featured: ceramics, glass, fiber, wood, mixed media, steel, watercolor, and acrylic.

An additional aspect is an area of the Legacy Gallery that will be devoted to art chosen by our docents. Our wonderful volunteer docents were invited to choose pieces they loved from the permanent collection for display in our birthday show.

The Museum has been collecting art for over 20 years. There will be a plethora of art on display. Join us often to support the St. George Art Museum for our 20th year in our beautiful building, and our quest to raise $20,000 to support our growing collection.

THE ART MUSEUM PRESENTS... SHU YAMAMOTO

Shu Yamamoto was born in Yokohama, Japan. He graduated from the Aichi Prefectural University of Art and Music and earned a BA in industrial design. He immigrated to Canada in 1973 and worked as a freelance illustrator. After 10 years in Canada, he moved to Utah in 1983 where he has lived since with his wife and four children.

His cat project started in 2007 when he saw a color pencil drawing done by one of his four children. It was an imitation of the self portrait of Van Gogh. All was done in Van Gogh style with Van Gogh's face replaced by a cat's face. That gave Shu a thought: It works great on this, but would it work on other paintings? Since then he hasn't stopped painting cats in a similar manner replicating works of art but changing the characters into felines. So far 500 paintings have been done either on canvas, on illustration boards or on Photoshop.

In the fall of 2012, after he accumulated enough paintings for a book, he contacted a Japanese publishing house specializing art books. The proposal was enthusiastically accepted and the Publication was realized in short order. To respond to public demand, two additional printings were needed to be made within six months, not a common occurrence in art books. Currently the book is in its fifth printing. The editor later related the story to Shu: After the devastation of the earthquake and tsunami of 2011, all of Japan was in a sobering mood. The question of "What can we do as a publisher to cheer up people and restore smiles on people's faces?" was in the editor's mind for some time when the editor received a proposal from Shu. Since then, desk and wall calendars were published every year and three more books have come out. Three exhibitions were held in Tokyo and Osaka in 2015 and 2016.

This exhibit is a fun examination of the history of art through Yamamoto's pieces. The St. George Art Museum is honored to host this exhibit for its yearlong celebration of the 20 years that fine art has been displayed for our community.
