13 Operation in exceptional situations

13.1 Disturbance in the system

If the system cannot sometimes be accessed, due to failure in telecommunications connections, for instance, a printable mailing list is used as a back-up arrangement. For this reason, a small number of printed mailing lists should be kept available. Posti charges a price for handling a printed list based on its price list, excluding situations where the system has been out of use due to a reason pertaining to Posti.

Printed mailing list: www.posti.fi/lahetyslista

13.2 Corrections made by Posti on mailing lists

If Posti's reception has added or corrected information on the mailing list, the additions and corrections are shown with red font after the mailing list has been transferred from Posti's reception to invoicing.

13.3 Support in the case of problems

If you encounter problems in filling mailing lists, you can contact Posti through the Chat link in the system or through www.posti.fi/business-customer-service.

If you have lost or forgotten your username and password, primarily contact your company's administrator. If the administrator username has been lost or forgotten, notify Posti www.posti.fi/business-customer-service.
