John Coltrane Plays “Coltrane Changes”
transcribed by Masaya Yamaguchi Artist Transcriptions

In the late 1950s, John Coltrane composed or arranged a series of tunes that used chord progressions based upon a series of key center movements by thirds, rather than the usual fourths and fifths of standard progressions. Its sound is so aurally identifiable and has received so much attention from jazz musicians that it has become known as “Coltrane's Changes.” This book presents an exploration of his changes by studying 13 of his arrangements. It includes complete solo transcriptions with performance notes for each. Titles include: Body and Soul • But Not for Me • Countdown • Fifth House • Giant Steps • and more.

REAL CHORD CHANGES AND SUBSTITUTIONS

arranged by Champ Champagne
 One of the most common ways to add interest and excitement to a song is through the use of "chord substitutions," a process of altering original chords that creates harmony and more challenging arrangements. Champ Champagne removes any mystery associated with playing chord substitutions as he includes informative and easy-to-understand guidelines as well as helpful tips throughout this collection. Playing tips, introductions and endings appear in conjunction with many songs throughout the books. The music is presented in melody line/lyrics/chords format with chord substitutions printed above the original chords in red.

The Real Chord Changes & Substitutions (A-F)

49 songs including: Alice in Wonderland • As Long As He Needs Me • As Time Goes By • But Not for Me • Cabaret • Can't Smile Without You • Desafinado • Dreamsville • Fool on the Hill • For Sentimental Reasons • and more.
