

Kindergarten	Foundational Literacy Curriculum Map	First Semester (Quarters 1 & 2)
Introduction
In 2014, the Shelby County Schools Board of Education adopted a set of ambitious, yet attainable goals for school and student performance. The District is committed to these goals, as further described in our strategic plan, Destination 2025. By 2025, <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● 80% of our students will graduate from high school college or career ready</li> <li>● 90% of students will graduate on time</li> <li>● 100% of our students who graduate college or career ready will enroll in a post-secondary opportunity.</li> </ul> In order to achieve these ambitious goals, we must provide our students with high-quality, standards-aligned instruction in English Language Arts (ELA) that prepares them to be strong readers, writers, thinkers, and communicators. High-quality instruction provides quality content, effective teacher practices, and effective student practices every day for every student. In our ELA classrooms, we integrate the elements of literacy instruction and consistently provide opportunities for students to take ownership over their learning, as outlined in the SCS ELA Instructional Framework (see the full Framework on page 2). The curriculum maps are meant to help teachers and their support providers (e.g., coaches, leaders) to provide College and Career Ready (CCR) aligned instruction in pursuit of Destination 2025. The curriculum maps are a resource for organizing instruction to reach the TN State Standards, which define what to teach and what students need to learn at each grade level. The maps also support teachers in reaching the ELA Instructional Framework by providing resources and content that represent our vision for excellent ELA instruction, including the instructional shifts.
How to Use the Curriculum Maps
The curriculum maps are meant to support effective planning and instruction; it is not meant to replace teacher planning or instructional practice. In fact, our goal is not to merely “cover the curriculum,” but rather to “uncover” it by developing students’ deep understanding of the content and mastery of the standards. While the curriculum map provides the foundation for what is taught in SCS classrooms, and that much is non-negotiable, teacher planning and decision making make the materials come to life in classrooms. To this end, the curriculum should be viewed as a guide, not a script, and teachers should work to become experts in teaching and customizing the curriculum to meet the needs of their students. Curriculum maps outline the content and pacing for each grade and subject. For grades K-5 ELA teachers must carefully balance attention between skills-based and meaning-based competencies, which are outlined in two separate curriculum maps. The curriculum maps include the instructional pacing and content for both areas and all grade level ELA standards. While the curriculum maps are separate, effective ELA instruction should integrate practice of both competencies, both in the ELA block and through the school day. A supplement to the curriculum maps, the K-5 ELA Companion Guide, outlines a protocol or routine for teachers to prepare for lessons based on the materials provided in the EL curriculum. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● For meaning-based lessons, it is critical that teachers not only prepare to deliver lessons, but also prepare to teach full units and/or modules. The K-5 ELA Companion Guide outlines how to examine units and modules to understand the instructional logic of the curriculum before beginning lesson preparation. The Companion Guide also outlines a “text talk” process for teachers to discuss the curriculum texts in advance of instruction and analyze those texts to understand their features and meaning.</li> <li>● For skills-based lessons, the Journeys series remains our primary instructional resource as outlined in the Foundational Literacy Guidance document. Research demonstrates that the foundational literacy standards are best taught through a systematic and explicit sequence (such as the sequence provided by Journeys). While we will add on the Journeys resources, it is critical that teachers follow the sequence as provided.</li> </ul> For additional information, visit the specified grade’s K-3 Journeys Foundational Skills Scope &amp; Sequence.

Kindergarten	Foundational Literacy Curriculum Map	First Semester (Q 1 & 2)
SCS Instructional Framework

The purpose of this Instructional Framework is to increase our capacity to improve students' literacy by outlining research-supported instructional practices and a shared language for what effective ELA instruction looks like and sounds like in Shelby County School. We believe that consistent use of these practices in every classroom could make measurable positive differences in SCS literacy achievement.

The recommended practices should occur throughout the day, including being integrated into science and social studies learning. These practices should be viewed as the minimum standard of literacy instruction for SCS, not as an exhaustive list of ELA instructional practices.

In our ELA classrooms, students will:

- Build strong reading foundational skills, starting in the early grades. Foundational literacy skills unlock the code of text so that students can read and write. We aim for all students to gain these critical skills in the early grades while supporting students of all ages as they strive towards reading proficiently.
- Work with worthwhile and complex texts. By reading, discussing and writing about rich texts students build their understanding of the world and their understanding of language. Students must experience a staircase of text complexity across their K-12 experience to prepare them for college and career.
- Experience a volume of reading to build knowledge, vocabulary, fluency, and independence. Reading a large volume and wide variety of texts provides students with critical practice in both skills-based and meaning-based competencies. This practice also builds more confident readers and lifelong habits of reading.
- Regularly discuss and write about texts, grounded in evidence. Students read texts closely and are challenged to speak and write about what they have read using evidence to justify their positions. Practice should include a focus on the academic language of texts and using such language in discussions and writing.
- Own the thinking of the lesson. Students should do most of the reading, thinking, speaking and talking in our classrooms, supported by their peers and their teacher. Students engage in the work of the lesson and take ownership of their learning.

Effective ELA instruction requires research-based instructional practices which include:

- Thoughtfully planned and executed lessons. Teachers use a deep understanding of grade-level standards, literacy development, and the curriculum units to ensure daily lessons have clear objectives, worthwhile texts, and aligned tasks. Lesson implementation supports students in achieving the lesson goals while maintaining the rigor of tasks and requiring students to do the thinking.
- Attention to both skills-based and meaning-based competencies. Proficient readers simultaneously use skills-based competencies (including decoding, word recognition, and fluency) and meaning-based competencies (including vocabulary and knowledge) to read and make sense of texts. Our students must receive instruction and practice in both competencies to become strong readers.
- Daily integration of reading, speaking, listening and writing to understand texts and express understanding. Literacy skills are complex and intertwined and are best developed when practiced in combination, not in isolation. Students need daily, connected practice with the inputs of reading and listening and the outputs of speaking and writing to develop and express understanding. Strong environments also provide students with regular opportunities to write about their acquired understanding of text and topics.
- An environment that supports text-based discourse. Teachers create habits of culture that provide opportunities for students to engage in text-based discussions. Student discussion in ELA builds understanding of the text and topic being studied.
- Data-informed instruction. Teachers develop a clear vision of success and use evidence of student thinking to monitor and adjust instruction. Student mistakes are viewed as opportunities for learning and guide teachers in providing strategic scaffolding for students to access rigorous content.

Research suggests these practices can have a positive impact on students, but they do not prescribe how the practices will be used as we know there is no one set recipe for success. Our students depend on educators making deliberate, researched-informed decisions daily to best meet their students. This document is intended to assist you in making those choices.

ELA Coaching Guide

The ELA Coaching Guide is a tool to diagnose when and if classrooms are meeting the expectations of the Instructional Framework. Designed as a developmental rather than an evaluation tool, it can be used for planning, reflection, and collaboration.

The Coaching Guide is based on the Instructional Practice Guide from Achieve the Core.

Guidance for the ELA Block
One of the most challenging choices we make as educators is how to spend our time with students, especially when no one structure or recipe will work for all students in all contexts. But, research suggests that some elements of instruction should happen daily, while others can occur less frequently. We can also rely on research to help us understand which methods (i.e. whole group or small group instruction) are most effective for the specific content or skills we are teaching. The SCS ELA Block Guidance document for Grades K-2 summarizes these findings to assist educators in choosing how to spend time with students. At a high-level, we recommend that SCS K-2 students engage in the following types of practice daily: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● Building Foundational Literacy Skills (at least 60 minutes daily) – instruction and practice reading targeted at building decoding skills and word recognition, including using decodable texts. In grades K-2 students should also have extensive practice with fluency and explicit instruction in the language standards. The goal of the foundational reading skills is to develop fluent readers who can comprehend texts across a wide range of texts.</li> <li>● Working with High-Quality Texts (60 minutes daily EL lessons) – including listening to, reading, discussing, and writing about texts. The primary goal is developing meaning-based competencies, though work with complex texts should reinforce foundational literacy skills and teachers should look for opportunities to make those connections explicit.</li> <li>● A Volume of Reading (as much as possible) – additional reading (read aloud, guided, independent, or shared reading) both within the ELA block and across the school day to support all aspects of reading, including engagement and motivation.</li> </ul> These recommendations align to the TDOE recommendations for Tier 1 ELA Instruction. In K-2, RTI2 recommends that students receive a total of 150 minutes of Tier 1 ELA instruction daily. In SCS, daily literacy instruction includes an EL module lessons (60 minutes) and Foundational Literacy instruction (60-90 minutes-please see Suggested Foundational Skills Block Framework document for guidance on how to structure your foundational literacy time).
Guidance for Small Group Instruction
Small-group instruction offers an environment for students to express what they know and receive feedback from other students and the teacher. This includes the teacher led guided reading group in conjunction with workstations. The teacher led guided group provides a context in which the teacher can provide additional support for students in working students practicing specific foundational literacy skills. Workstations provide students with an opportunity to practice and solidify the knowledge and understanding of previously taught concepts. Most often students work independent of the teacher while in their workstations. Therefore, workstations are not used to introduce new knowledge or concepts. Workstations can reinforce the standards being taught during the Unit/Module Study, provide additional practice with previously taught skills, or build toward upcoming content. Possible literacy workstations for KK – 2nd grade are listed below. For more information about these workstations, see the Resource Toolkit. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● Guided Reading - The teacher provides support for small, flexible groups of students, assisting them to use reading strategies, such as context clues, letter and sound knowledge, syntax, and word structure, to make meaning of texts. The teacher may support students in working with complex texts or decodable texts during guided reading. Along with decodable texts, the teacher should provide instruction in phonemic awareness, phonics/alphabetic principle, vocabulary, and comprehension strategies. The goal of guided reading is for students to use these strategies independently on their way to becoming fluent, skilled readers.</li> <li>● Reading Comprehension – In this station students may collaborate to complete a variety of comprehension activities centered on a grade-appropriate text (usually the anchor text or another related text), including using graphic organizers to summarize and make meaning from the text and writing or illustrating in response to reading.</li> <li>● Vocabulary – This station should provide multiple ways in which a student can use words. The more exposures students have to a word, the better chance that they will remember it. Suggestions for vocabulary words are listed in the map, and possible activities include the Journeys flipbooks, word games, word sorts, and using words in context.</li> <li>● Fluency – In this station students can read word lists, phrases, or entire texts. During this time the student or a partner should monitor and chart their progress. Practice materials can include student books, passages, leveled readers, and Journeys cold read passages.</li> <li>● Phonics – In this station students will work with individual letter sounds, phonics patterns, and/or high frequency words. This practice can occur through activities such as using magnetic/manipulative letters, picture sound sorts, letter tiles, sight word activities, word building activities, and using the Journeys flipchart.</li> <li>● Independent Reading - One benefit of independent reading is that students are reading daily. Independent reading lays the foundation for becoming enthusiastic lifelong readers, not simply school time readers. Students need accountability for their reading, both on a weekly basis and when they finish a text. This accountability can come from reading logs as well as from conversations with teachers and peers about what they are reading.</li> </ul>

Resource Toolkit: K-1 Literacy Workstations

Guided Reading

Guided reading is one component of the shared reading block during which the teacher provides support for small, flexible groups of beginning readers. The teacher helps students learn to use reading strategies, such as context clues, letter and sound knowledge, and syntax or word structure. The teacher will provide instruction in the areas of phonemic awareness, phonics/alphabetic principle, vocabulary, and comprehension strategies. The goal of guided reading is for students to use these strategies independently on their way to becoming fluent, skilled readers.

Reading Comprehension

- In this workstation students may collaborate to complete a variety of comprehension activities centered on a grade-appropriate text. These are some examples of activities that focus on reading comprehension:
  - Using of graphic organizers to summarize, analyze parts of the text, describe characters, etc.
  - Asking and answering questions
  - Writing in response to reading
  - Illustrating an important character or event in the story.

For additional ideas regarding reading comprehension activities see the information found here.

Writing

- Research shows that reading and writing develop hand in hand. Strengthening writing skills will help students develop their reading skills. In this station students should be given multiple opportunities and materials to practice and improve writing skills. These are some examples of activities that focus on writing:
  - Journeys flipbook
  - Writing journals
  - Write in response to reading
  - Use of basic POW TIDE organizer (informative writing)
  - Use of POW TREE organizer (opinion writing)

For additional ideas regarding writing activities see the information found here.

Vocabulary

- This workstation should provide multiple ways in which a student can use words. The more exposures students have to a word, the better chance that they will remember it. These are a few ideas for the vocabulary station:
  - Journeys flipbook
  - Word games
  - Word sorts
  - Words in Context

Fluency

- In this workstation students can read word lists, phrases, or entire texts. During this time the student or a partner should monitor and chart their progress. The following are examples of text that can be used to practice fluency:
  - Student books
  - Passages
  - Leveled readers
  - Journeys Cold Read passages

Independent Reading

- One benefit of independent reading is that students are reading daily. Independent reading lays the foundation for becoming enthusiastic lifelong readers, not simply school time readers. Students need accountability for their reading, both on a weekly basis and when they finish a text. This accountability can come from reading logs as well as from conversations with teachers and peers about what they are reading. Here are some activities:
  - Read to self
  - Read to a partner
  - Listen to texts while tracking via technology

Phonics

- In this workstation students will work with individual letter sounds, phonics patterns, and/or high frequency words. Activities often incorporate the following materials:
  - Magnetic/manipulative letters
  - Individual white boards
  - Picture sound sorts
  - Letter tiles
  - Sight word activities
  - Word building activities
  - Texts (including decodables)

For additional ideas regarding phonics activities see the information found here.

Foundational Literacy Library

<http://www.readingrockets.org/strategies>

The library provides teachers with effective, research-based classroom strategies to help build and strengthen literacy skills in print awareness, phonological awareness, phonics, fluency, vocabulary, comprehension, and writing. Each strategy in the library includes instructions on how to use the strategy, downloadable templates, examples, recommended children's books to use with the strategy, differentiation for second language learners, students of varying reading skill, students with learning disabilities, younger learners and supporting research.

Phonemic Awareness/Phonics Resources

Note:

❖ Due to Kindergarten’s staggered enrollment the very first week of Kindergarten is designated as a flex week. The subsequent 2 weeks focus on Journeys Welcome to Kindergarten sections of the curriculum. However, flex weeks for reviewing and re-teaching resume during the 2nd semester. These flex weeks take place at the end of each Journeys Foundational Literacy unit.

❖ Day 5 on the Kindergarten Foundational Literacy Map list assessment. This time can be used to assess the current week’s skills as well as skills identified for that reporting period on the Kindergarten report card.

The first week of kindergarten is a flex week due to staggered enrollment. The subsequent two weeks of kindergarten foundational skills instruction are dedicated to the first ten letters of the alphabet. As shown below, Journeys refers to these first two weeks of instruction as Welcome to Kindergarten.
