You find $10 dollars in the sofa cushion. You check to see if anyone is watching, then stick in your pocket.

The cashier at the store only charges you for two candy bars, but you have three in your hand. When you realize the mistake, you walk back into the store to pay for the third candy bar.

Your promised you would clean your room. You quickly shove everything under the bed.

You said you would finish your homework. You sit down and finish it even though you'd rather play outside.

Your brother left his new iPad® on his bed, and you've used all your screen time for the day. You sneak in his room and download your favorite app onto it.

You are at a friend's house when they start watching a movie that you know you're not allowed to watch. You suggest a different movie, and everyone agrees to watch it instead.

Your Mom asks if you've brushed your teeth. You tell her "yes," but you didn't really brush them.

You're outside playing when your brother accidentally kicks you. All adults are inside and can't see what you're doing. You kick your brother back, hard.

You have a substitute teacher. You act like you've never been in your classroom before and ignore all the rules.

You're playing with blocks and pick up your sister's latest creation. A big chunk breaks off, and you can't fix it on your own. You show your sister what happened and tell her you're really sorry.

Your Mom sets her work laptop on the counter. You accidentally spill an entire cup of water all over it. You clean up all the water without telling your Mom what happened.

Naaman was the commander of the army of Aram. Even though Naaman was an important man, he had a problem no doctor could solve—a terrible skin disease. (Pause.)

One day, Naaman heard about a prophet in Israel named Elisha who might be able to help him. (Pause.) So, Naaman went to the king of Israel. When Elisha heard that Naaman was looking for help, he sent a messenger. It may have been his trusted servant, Gehazi.

Gehazi took Elisha's message to the king. Gehazi announced, "Elisha says, 'Tell the man to come to me!'" Sure enough, the king of Israel sent Naaman straight to Elisha.

When Naaman arrived, Elisha sent his servant out the door with a message. "Go! Wash yourself in the Jordan River seven times. Then your skin will be healed. You will be pure and 'clean' again." (Pause.)

Naaman was upset. (Pause.) "I thought Elisha would come out himself. Can't he just say some words and wave his hand and make me better? And the Jordan River? Ew! It's full of muck and tadpoles and . . . ew! Forget it!"

Naaman left, angry. (Pause.) But his servants convinced him to follow Elisha's instructions, anyway. So, Naaman dipped seven times in the murky Jordan River. When he rose from the water the seventh time, his skin was perfectly clean! He was healed! (Pause.)

Naaman raced back to Elisha's house. This time, the prophet came outside, along with Gehazi. Naaman said, "Now I know that there is no God anywhere except in Israel! Please take a gift from me!" (Pause.)

But Elisha said, "No! I serve the Lord. You can be sure that he lives. And you can be just as sure that I won't accept a gift from you."

But after Naaman left, Gehazi took off running down the road to follow him. When Gehazi caught up to Naaman, he said, "My master sent me to say that . . . uh . . . two young prophets have come to visit. Please give them 75 pounds of silver and two sets of clothes." (Pause.)

Naaman replied, "Of course! Take twice as much." Naaman's servants carried the heavy bags of silver and clothing back up the road, but as they approached Elisha's house, Elisha asked Gehazi, "Where have you been?" And Gehazi answered, "Who, me? I didn't go anywhere." (Pause.)

"Didn't my spirit go with you?" Elisha replied. "I know Naaman greeted you. I know you took money and clothes. You and your family after you will have Naaman's skin disease forever." (Pause.)

Sure enough, Gehazi's skin was soon covered with sores, just as Naaman's had been. His lie had won him some new clothes, but it had cost him Elisha's trust—and a full and healthy life. (Pause.)
