THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY

LIMA

The Lifelong Learning Institute (LLI) at Ohio State Lima, a program of Road Scholar Institute, offers classes for seniors on four Tuesdays and Thursdays in April and October. LLI-Lima began in 1991.

Courses on six subjects are offered each session. Individual classes last one and one half hours and meet at the same time each week. You may sign up for as many or as few classes as you wish. Since classroom size is limited, please register early for the courses you plan to attend.

COSTS: The registration fee for the session is $40. This is the total cost whether you register for one course or six courses.

LLI contributes a portion of the tuition you pay for courses to the Ohio State Lima "Students First, Students Now" Scholarship Fund for non-traditional students. The LLI Steering Committee determines the yearly number and value of the scholarships. Individuals may contribute to the fund separately and personally if they wish.

Moderator: Mary Ann Sullivan, Ph.D. Although Mary Ann’s doctorate is in English literature, she also taught art history with great love and enthusiasm for more than 25 years at Bluffton University. Her website, focused on architecture and sculpture, has more than 21,000 pictures (which she photographed) and text. www.bluffton.edu/~sullivanm/index/index.html

April 5: Upper Egypt (Egypt south of the great pyramids) focusing on Thebes (Karnak and Luxor) and the Valley of Kings/Queens. Especially interesting are tomb paintings, notably the Tomb of Nefertari, which is almost impossible to see these days.

April 12: Provence with emphasis on Roman and medieval sites.

April 19: The Veneto, focusing on late medieval and Renaissance art in Padua, Venice, and Vicenza, with a special look at Giotto’s frescoes in the Scrovegni Chapel and Palladio’s architecture.

April 26: Two port cities, Glasgow and Rotterdam. These younger, once grimier sisters of Edinburgh and Amsterdam, have their own riches, whether the elegant architecture and design of Charles Rennie Macintosh in Glasgow or the fabulous modern architecture of Rotterdam.

2:45 to 4:15 p.m. – Precious Metals/Precious Stones

April 5: Moderator: Randy L. Camper, Professional Numismatist, specialist/grader/authenticator of rare coins.

Numismatics in the U.S. during the 19th, 20th and 21st centuries, including notable changes in how collectors have regarded the hobby over time.

April 12: Moderators: Tyler Hendershot, CEO of Raines Jewelry, and Bruce Hendershot, Owner/ President of Raines Jewelry.

Determining the Value of Precious Metals, Glittering Stones and Other Collectables: a fun and interactive lesson on the fundamentals of diamonds and other precious stones, focusing on the three “C’s” of diamonds and interests from the class on the wild, wonderful world of jewelry and precious metals.

April 19: Moderators – Ken Strickland, retired Associate Professor of Geology, Wright State University, Lake Campus, where he taught chemistry, physics and earth science for 38 years, and Glenn Hux, BS in Science Comprehensive and MAT in zoology. Glenn spent 37 years in education prior to his retirement.

The Langsdon Mineral Collection – Mercer County District Library has a hidden gem of more than 800 minerals showcased at the library. This program includes a presentation and hands on exploration of 20 minerals. Learn about mineral composition and uses while being entertained with memorabilia and stories about these minerals.

April 26: Moderator: Randy L. Camper, Professional Numismatist, specialist/grader/authenticator of rare coins.

History of Precious Metals in the United States – why precious metals may now be an important addition to most investment portfolios.

THURSDAYS – April 7, 14, 21, 28

10:00 to 11:30 a.m. – Comparative Religions

Moderator: Ted Houghton, Ph.D., Sociology Department Coordinator, The Ohio State University at Lima.

Comparative religion is the systematic comparison of doctrines and practices of the world's religions. In this course, Dr. Houghton will present special topics in religious studies and world religions.

1:00 to 2:30 p.m. – U.S. Diplomacy and Rule of Law

Moderators: Karen Hall, Director of Democratic Governance and Rule of Law LL.M. and Assistant Professor of Law, and Brian Anderson, Assistant Director of the LL.M. Program and Assistant Professor of Law, both from Ohio Northern University. The Democratic Governance and Rule of Law LL.M. is a unique program for qualified students with a strong background or interest in working for the rule of law, human rights and economic development in transitional countries around the world.
