Level 6

Captivate young readers with vibrant illustrations!

pp = number of pages in the book

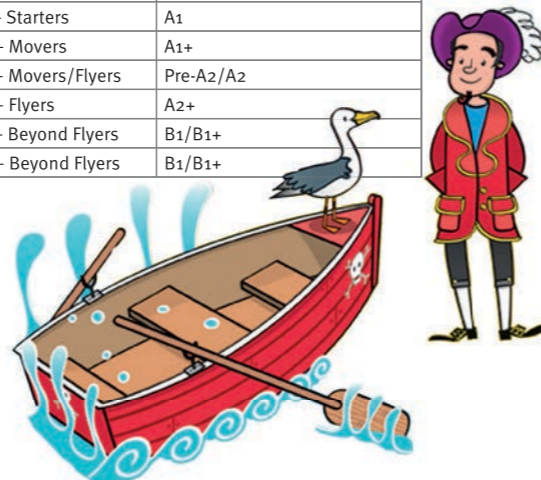

The Macmillan English Explorers are an eight-level series, supported by a four-level phonics scheme, suitable for children aged between 4 and 12.

Each Reader is illustrated in full colour and contains one complete story. The stories have been written using high-frequency words, plus story-specific words which as far as possible are clarified by illustrations.

Written specifically for young learners of English, this scheme has been informed by teaching methodology for first-language speakers of English. The Readers plus supplementary materials can be used alongside any primary course.

Discover a wonderland of reading resources on the Macmillan Readers website, including free lesson plans and games!

Teaching phonics is recognised as an essential part of the teaching of reading and writing. The Macmillan Explorers Phonics complement the first four levels of the Macmillan English Explorers in a way that will teach children how to sound out words, blend sounds to read words and segment the sounds in the words in order to spell them accurately. These Readers can also be used as a stand-alone phonics reading scheme.

Key features

- The phonics focus is set within the context of a story to ensure that reading for meaning is retained
- Popular and familiar characters from the Macmillan English Explorers series reappear and new contexts and characters are also introduced
- Detailed Teacher's Notes show how to focus on letters and sounds to support pronunciation, reading and spelling

Support materials

- Full audio downloads, worksheets and Teacher's Notes are available from the Macmillan Young Learners website
- Big Books are available for some titles at the early levels

Macmillan Factual Readers are a six-level series allowing learners of English to explore a variety of fascinating real-world topics. Beautifully designed with striking images, the Readers help learners build confidence in their reading ability while enhancing their knowledge of subjects taught across the curriculum. The wide variety of high-interest topics and the controlled use of vocabulary and structures make them the perfect CLIL Readers.

Series	Level	CEFR
Macmillan Factual Readers 40 titles	1+ Starters	A1
	2+ Movers	A1+
	3+ Movers/Flyers	Pre-A2/A2
	4+ Flyers/KET	A2+
	5+ PET	B1/B1+
	6+ PET	B1/B1+

Key features

- The Readers use authentic language and important high-frequency words
- The lexis, grammar structures and concepts of the CLIL classroom are addressed within a motivating context in which to learn about different topics
- Subject-specific words are highlighted and explained in the glossaries
- Stunning photographs provide a visual context as well as clues to the more demanding lexis
- Fact boxes add interesting information which supports the main text

Levels

The Macmillan Factual Readers are a six-level series (1+ to 6+). The plus (+) sign indicates that, due to the focus on specialised vocabulary and concepts, the language demands are more challenging than standard Readers of the same level.

Support materials

- Full audio downloads, worksheets and Teacher's Notes are available from the Macmillan Young Learners website
- Teacher's Notes include photocopiable worksheets with extra exercises

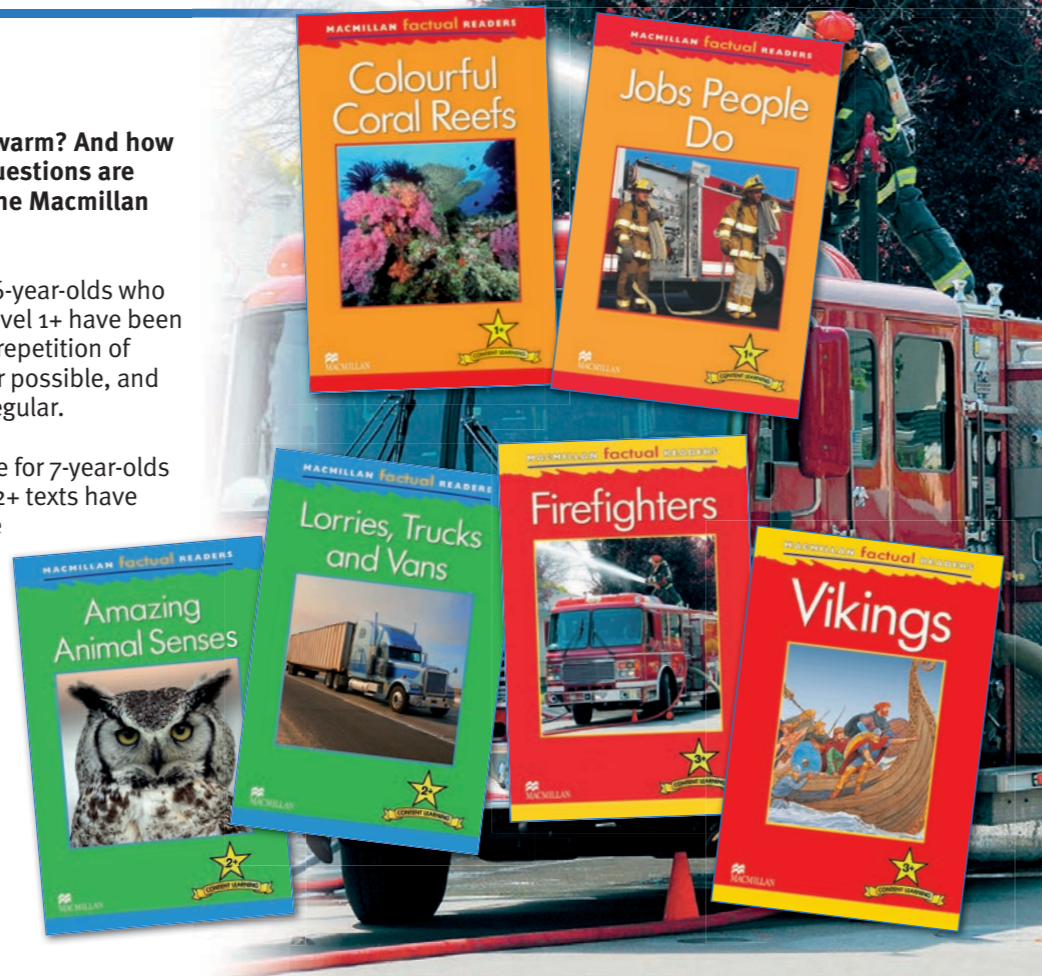

What do vets do? How do snakes get warm? And how does a train move? These and more questions are answered in the lower-level titles of the Macmillan Factual Readers series.

Level 1+ is a beginner level suitable for 6-year-olds who are beginning to read. The Readers in Level 1+ have been designed to use high-frequency words, repetition of new structures and vocabulary wherever possible, and vocabulary that is largely phonetically regular.

Level 2+ is a post-beginner level suitable for 7-year-olds who are beginning to read alone. Level 2+ texts have up to 50 words per page including some that are not phonetically regular. The sentences are still short and simple, and connected by 'and' and 'but'.

Level 3+ is a pre-intermediate (A2) level suitable for 8-year-olds who are reading alone. The Readers in Level 3+ start to introduce more specialised vocabulary. Some of the texts use the past tense. The sentences are longer than the previous levels and include more formal sentences and more compound vocabulary.

In the upper levels of the series, students can expect answers to questions like: how do rainforests help us to breathe? How do you win a Formula 1 race? And what exactly is a star?

Level 4+ is a strong pre-intermediate (A2) level suitable for 9- to 10-year-olds who are reading alone more confidently. In Level 4+, a variety of grammatical structures are used and there are more compound sentences joined by colons and semi-colons.

Level 5+ is an intermediate (B1) level suitable for 10- to 11-year-olds who are reading fluently. At Level 5+ and 6+, there is a much greater variety of specialised and technical vocabulary as well as more unfamiliar words. A large variety of grammatical structures are used.

Level 6+ is a strong intermediate (B1) level suitable for 11- to 12-year-olds who are reading fluently and independently. Level 6+ texts also include the passive voice.

The Macmillan Readers series offers a range of contemporary and classic titles that have been carefully adapted and retold for learners of English.

This popular series features over 180 titles and most are available with audio CDs, as eBooks and audio books. All titles include activities and glossaries to extend and reinforce learning after reading.

Start your journey with Macmillan Cultural Readers

The Macmillan Cultural Readers are factual Readers focusing on countries of the world, with information on history, traditions, daily life, cities, nature and sport. These colour-rich, photographic titles encourage the reader to interact with and explore the text through handy fact and interview boxes.

Australia

Jennifer Gascoigne
Culture/Human Interest/History

Australia is the sixth largest country in the world and the only one that covers a whole continent. The largest state, Western Australia, is about the same size as Western Europe. Despite its size, Australia has a small population at just over 23 million. Today, the indigenous or native people of Australia, the Aborigines, make up nearly 3% of the total population. The rest is a mix of many different cultures.

As well as being a big country, Australia is home to some of the world's biggest things: Uluru, the largest rock in the world; the Great Barrier Reef, the world's largest coral reef system; and the saltwater crocodile, the world's biggest reptile.

Italy

Coleen Degnan-Veness
Culture/Human Interest/History

Today, about 94 per cent of the people in Italy are Italian, and most people speak the Italian language. But this has not always been true. The Italy we know today became one country only in modern times. Mountains cover two-thirds of Italy, so the people were divided by their country's geography.

Pre-intermediate
(A2-B1)

Italy has a rich history of empires and great thinkers, and has been a centre for Western culture for thousands of years. Italian art, fashion and food are extremely popular with the rest of the world, and tourists love to visit the exciting cities and beautiful countryside.

Brazil

Susan Holden and Alberta White
Culture/Human Interest/History

Brazil is a country that is changing quickly. Its economy is growing. It has modern industries like energy, electronics, cars, airplanes and information technology, and lots of natural resources like iron, oil and rubber.

To visit all of Brazil would be very difficult. At over 8.5 million square kilometers, it is the largest country in South America, and the fifth largest country in the world.

This book will take you from the arrival of the first European colonists over 500 years ago to democratic, multi-ethnic, present-day Brazil. From the beautiful forests with their rich ecosystems to big, busy cities like São Paulo, and historic ones, like Recife and Salvador. Welcome to Brazil!

United States of America

Coleen Degnan-Veness with Chantal Veness
Culture/Human Interest/History

The United States of America (USA) is a very big country. People have big dreams, too. Everyone wants to live "the American Dream" – the idea that anyone who works hard can become successful and rich. Many have gone to the USA hoping they will become one of the lucky ones.

Millions of visitors go to the USA every year and many people return again and again. This book will take you on a journey from the discovery of the New World over 500 years ago to the present day. From the wild forests to the busy cities, welcome to the United States of America – home of the movie industry, baseball, technology giants Microsoft and Apple, and some of the world's most famous civil rights leaders.

England

Rachel Bladon
Culture/Human Interest/History

England is only a small country; about 640 kilometres from north to south, and 480 kilometres across its widest part. But some of the world's greatest writers are from England, and many of the most popular sports started here. In England, you can find busy exciting cities, some of the oldest buildings in the world and also beautiful countryside. English society today is modern and multicultural, but the country also has an amazing and ancient history. And of course its language is one of the most widely spoken in the world.

Welcome to England, where the first steam trains were built, where 100 million cups of tea are drunk every day, where people throw cakes in the air as they run, and where you can visit some of the world's most famous sights.

China

Jennifer Gascoigne
Culture/Human Interest/History

Welcome to China, where over 1.35 billion people live, where there are strong artistic and medical traditions going back over 5,000 years, where they have the world's second largest economy and where there are more than 800 different types of tea! China is a unique mix of tradition and history and exciting progress – it is a country with something for everyone.
