RV PARKS & CAMPGROUNDS
RECOMMENDED BY THE NRVOA

Maine

Little changes in the state of Maine. Forests and lakes still cover 90% of the land, just as they did when Leif Ericson and his band of Viking explorers first set foot on the coast. The 8,530 km (5,300 mile) Maine coastline from Kittery to Lubec still testifies to two vigorous traditions: fishing and shipbuilding.

The landscape is the by-product of massive ice age glacial action, which cut bays, inlets and harbors into the mainland, and left over 2,000 rocky offshore islands.

Lobsters are plentiful here, with lobster pots dotting every inlet, and 64 lighthouses guard the state's wildly beautiful coastline. Quaint coastal villages come alive after the winter thaw and tourists flock to enjoy New England charm and hospitality.

Of Interest

12 miles from Portland and Kennebunkport.

The Southern Maine area is a delightful and exciting place to live in and to visit. We are fortunate to have many of the larger city "perks", such as great restaurants, theater and museums, as well as the save and quiet natural resources like our beaches, woods and mountains. If you haven't been to our area yet, we hope that you will give us a try!

Directions

Take the Main Turnpike to exit 26 (Saco/Old Orchard Beach). Make a right onto 2B toward Route 1 north. The Indian Rivers Campground entrance will be .75 mi ahead on the right.
