4TH SUNDAY OF LENT

For everyone who does wicked things hates the light and does not come toward the light, so that his works might not be exposed. But whoever lives the truth comes to the light, so that his works may be clearly seen as done in God. - Jn 3:20-21

(Being) Catholic Matters

David Lins, Director of Faith Formation

I am proud of you.

I know it might not mean much, but I needed to say it just the same.

I am proud of you.

We've been at this for about a year now. All of this. It was a Monday morning when we received word from the diocese.

Since that day—you've done your best to navigate through opposing political agendas, to sift through shifting medical directives, and to endure through the Church's attempt to do the same.

I am proud of you.

You've done your best to maintain civility in relationships with loved ones whose approach to any of the above differed from your own.

I am proud of you.

You've prayerfully discerned every step in an effort to best live our Faith. You may not have done everything perfectly with flawless precision, but you can honestly say that you tried.

I am proud of you.

Now, you might be dismissing these words of affirmation. I understand. I have a black belt in affirmation deflection. But the fact remains: the Lord has seen your sweat and tears. He has walked with you through this year.

He wants you to know—in the midst of Lent, during this fast—that Easter is coming. There will be a feast. There will be an end to this current test.

And He is proud of you.

LIVING AS A MISSIONARY DISCIPLE

By Sister Mary Eileen, PVM I

The Faith that Saves

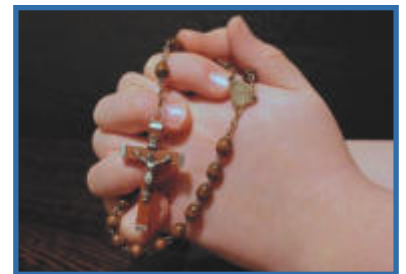

“For God so loved the world that he gave his only Son, so that everyone who believes in him might not perish but might have eternal life.” Jn 3:16

Believing in Jesus, says the Bible, leads to Eternal Life. Can any kind of faith save us? We are also told: “You believe that God is one. You do well. Even the demons believe that and tremble.” Jas 2:19 Demons believe in God, but they are not saved.

Jesus’ death and resurrection is the only reason salvation is possible. Our Catholic Faith teaches us that the grace of salvation is “unmerited”, meaning no one can do anything to earn it. Translated into real life experience, this means that if someone is not in the state of grace, they cannot decide to repent and put themselves in the state of grace by their own effort. Even if we are not consciously aware of it, a prior grace from God is always necessary before we can repent of serious sin. God must take the initiative, or it won’t happen. It is the same with the gift of faith (which is why we call it a gift). This is why we cannot “boast” (Eph 2:9) or become self-righteous about it.

Truly our hearts should sing with gratitude that, “God, who is rich in mercy, because of the great love he had for us, even when we were dead in our transgressions, brought us to life with Christ (by grace you have been saved)” Eph 2:4-5

Jesus is looking for a response of faith, love, and gratitude to the grace He offers us initially. “We love because He first loved us” 1 Jn 4:19. Do I allow Jesus to love me? Do I renew this openness daily? Then I can respond to this love in a way that allows Jesus’ salvation to have an effect on my whole person; on every aspect of my life. This is the faith that saves us and brings many along with us in the overflow of grace as missionary disciples.
