The Governor's Nominations.

Honolulu April 8.—The vacation appointments by Governor Carter were all confirmed this morning by the Senate, excepting the three members of the Board of Education and a few other unimportant ones held up for various reasons, including the new veterinary commissioners and inspector. Weller, inspector of animals imported, and some of the members of boards of registration, who have moved or died, since their appointment. The reason for the non-confirmation of the veterinary inspectors is understood to be that the law under which they are to act may be changed.

Kuhio's Side Of Election Contest To Be Heard.

Honolulu April 10.—United States Judge S. B. Dole will one day this week, the exact date has not yet been set, begin the hearing of evidence on Delegate Kuhio Kalaianaoale's side of the election contest case in which defeated candidate for delegate, C. P. Iaukea, has recently completed the production of testimony. It will be remembered that the delegate, when the hearing was on, called A. G. M. Robertson to represent him in the matter and Attorney Robertson associated T. McCants Stewart with himself in Kuhio's interests. They have asked Judge Dole to set a day for hearing. They have forty days from March 8 in which to give their side of the controversy.

Senate Works on Liquor Law.

Honolulu Apr. 11.—House Bill 168, the administration's liquor bill, came up for second reading at the Senate session this afternoon.

The section allowing manufacturers of liquor other than wine licenses for ten years caused much discussion. Achi wanted to extend the time to 15 years, but this was opposed by Paris, who said he did not think the Territory should be tied up for so long a period. Achi said that the new industry should be encouraged. No man would make a big outlay, when his license would only run for ten years.

Woods said it would take three years to get any benefit from the cultivation of the ti root.

Achi's amendment, making it fifteen years, passed.

Dickey wanted the license to be taxed $5.00 per annum for the first 5 years and $100 per annum for the remainder of the period. Lost. The item passed as in the bill, $5.00 a year.

McCandless moved to have the wine manufacturers' license extend for a period of 15 years also. Lost. The item passed as in the bill, namely, for one year only.

Hewitt offered an amendment preventing the consumption of liquor on the premises where it was manufactured. Carried.

Achi wanted the wholesale liquor dealers' license reduced from $500 to $250 annually. Bishop and Dickey opposed this. Vote on this motion stood at 8 to 6 and it carried.

Dickey made a fervid speech against saloons. He moved to change the saloon license to $1000 from $500. The motion was lost. Lane moved to refer the bill to a special committee. Paris spoke against this. Achi said that after two days the Governor could do as he pleased with the bills. Lane's motion was lost.

Achi wanted the sheriff to issue the licenses instead of the Treasurer and moved to amend the bill to that effect. Lost.

The section relating to stamps for original containers was on motion by Woods changed so that the price of the stamp was changed from 1 cent each to $2 for each thousand.

Tried To Murder For Two Years.

Honolulu April 11.—The trial of the Baldwin poisoning case on Kauai brought out evidence that the attempts to poison members of the Baldwin family were made as long as two years ago, by the same Japanese who was finally convicted. The Jap is Nomi Nizo and he was given five years hard labor for attempt to murder. It was shown that Baldwin and his wife and children began to suffer peculiar sickness in January, 1903, shortly after they first employed Nizo. In September they became suspicious of him and discharged him, and recovered health. In October last year they took him back, thinking they had done him an injustice and raising his wages. At once the sickness returned and last January Nizo was caught and confessed. He had put hydrochlorate of morphine in the family filter, and slow poisoning was taking place.

Special Term of Court Closed.

With the exception of a few chamber cases to be heard next month the March term of Court of the Second Circuit Court is closed. Wednesday winding up all the cases to be jury tried.

The retrial of John Richardson was the first case to be tried by the special venire. The evidence introduced by both the territory and the attorneys for the defendant was to all intents and purposes to same as at the first trial. The jury brought in a verdict of guilty as charged, recommending the mercy of the Court. Judge Lindsay sentenced him to three years at hard labor. The attorneys, have 30 days in which to perfect an appeal, will carry the case to the Supreme Court on exceptions to pleas, and the introduction of testimony.

T. Awana, who was indicted by the Grand Jury for selling liquor without a license and when tried resulted in a hung jury was retried and acquitted.

The case of the Territory of Hawaii vs W. G. Scott resulted in a fiasco of the worst kind, but at the same time showed that some one had an ulterior motive in view.

The evidence of Food Commissioner Duncan showed that upon examination by analysis the liquor had 8,7-10 per cent solid matter namely cane sugar, which is not considered an adulteration detrimental to health as it is used in mixed drinks very extensively. The evidence of Mr. and Mrs. Pieper was very conflicting, while the evidence W. G. Scott and his witness was that the bottle was handed to the customer properly corked, and sealed with a capsule as is usual. Mr. Scott was ordered discharged.

The case against Deputy Sheriff Morton and Hans Amundsen vs Manuel Arruda, Trespass was also something of a Donnybrook Fair. Amundsen was discharged as defendant, while the evidence showed that Sheriff Morton was clothed with the proper authority but as he was not asked to produce it, did not do so. The case was not allowed to go to the jury, the judge throwing it out. Vivas for plaintiff, Peters and Coke for defendants.

The civil case of S. Ah Mi vs A. V. Marcial, C. W. Ashford for plaintiff and Case and Vivas for defendant, came up on motion for a new trial, but Judge Lindsay denied a rehearing of the case.

The cases of L. G. Aiona vs J. M. Kalao, assumpit, and the three tax cases of S. Ah Mi, Mrs. Ah Mi, and S. Ah Mi, administrator of estate of Ah Chew, will be heard at chambers by Judge Kepoikai May 8 and 11 respectively.

SATURDAY, APRIL 15, 1905

One of the Honolulu papers of April 8th comes out with a rumor to the effect that a bill will be introduced making Kona the seat of the proposed agricultural school, thus depriving Lahaina of its long-looked-for assistance. The News believes that such a bill would meet with instant defeat by Senators and Representatives alike. Lahaina is too old an institution and has demonstrated too thoroughly the need of an agricultural college on Maui to warrant any Senator or Representative from Maui even entertaining for a single instant the taking away of an appropriation which will retard the progress made by this valuable institution. Miss Baird and the Kona Orphanage are certainly deserving of financial aid, as Kona has demonstrated likewise the value of a practical education of its scholars in diversified industries, and has been successful in being partially able to support itself. If there is a movement on foot to establish and appropriate money for agricultural schools or colleges, let the money be divided in such proportions as will benefit both institutions. It will not be a reflection or a detriment to have an agricultural department in some school on each island or even in more than one district of an island where results have proven the school worthy of encouragement.

The users of city water in Wailuku and Kahului have Mrs. W. H. Field to thank that there has not been an epidemic similar, or perhaps worse than that one which has just occurred at Pelekunu, Molokai. The Japanese, whose ideas of sanitation are somewhat different from those of inhabitants of the Occident, have been annoyed by the mongoose catching their chickens. In retaliation they have set traps for this pestiferous rodent, roasted them and thrown the bodies into Wailuku stream. Others have also been in the habit of shooting wildcats and disposing of the carcass in the same manner. That this is a fact can be vouched for by people living lower down the valley, who at various times have complained of finding the dead animals in the water used by them. Mrs. Field learning of this expostulated and threatened, until finally it became necessary to complain to the police. By her untiring efforts in this matter she has eventually stopped not only a nuisance, but a habit which would menace the health of a very populous community. This is a matter which should not rest here, but be taken up by the Health department.

Jacob Coerper, who at one time was as active in small fruit and vegetable farming as the late Franz Buckholtz, is authority for the statement that the mongoose is responsible for the appearance of destructive bugs and leaf hoppers. He claims that the mongoose has destroyed the natural enemies of these insects—the lizard. The Kona district in 1886, says Mr. Coerper, was well stocked with lizards and all kinds of fruits; that the lizard kept the leaf hopper so well in check as to be of little or any trouble. The mongoose was brought here to destroy the field rat, but in late years has shown a preference for the eggs of chickens, turkeys, pheasants, plover and even for the birds themselves. The suggestion of Mr. Coerper to import a fresh supply of reptiles of the lizard family and insectivorous birds should, with a small bounty for the brush of the mongoose, reap the result desired by the planters, and at the same time permit of the re-inhabiting in the islands of birds of song and plumage as well as those sought as game.

Cipriano Castro, President of the Venezuelan Republic stands in danger of bringing that country into war, not only with Uncle Sam, but with several other European countries. Venezuela through the crazy or foolhardy acts of its president, has gotten into an imbroglio with the United States over the asphalt concessions; with France over the vested rights of a cable company chiefly owned by French citizens; with Italy over seizure of mines under lease to Italian subjects, and with Holland, who threatens all kinds of vengeance if five Dutch sailors are not released from prison where, it is alleged, they have been unjustly detained for seven months. England, Germany and Belgium are also in the running with old grievances which are in process of settlement. "Whom the (war) gods wish to destroy they first make mad."

Wireless messages indicate that Rozijestvensky, the "Hang-backsky" as the Detroit Press dubs him, is about to meet Togo in battle array. If this happens along the Philippine coast he will probably last long enough to send the Czar a "Philopen(a)e which will be one more on Russia.

If the Governor is convinced that the present County bill would be a detriment to the Territory, there is nothing in his pledges to keep him from vetoing it.—Advertiser, Apr. 11.

Very true. But as the time is past in which a new County bill could be drawn before the expiration of the Session, and as the Governor has committed himself as being favorable to county government, and furthermore the Republican party made a pledge to the voters during the last campaign that if its candidates were elected the party would work for county government, it behooves the party, as well as the Governor, to see that the county bill, even if it is not the bill desired, becomes a law. A wireless received since the above was written says that the Senators and Representatives have stood by their promise to the people, and passed the County bill over the Governor's veto.

Watanabe Bound Over

The case of Watanabe, the Japanese from Puunene who was charged with assault with a weapon obviously and imminently dangerous to life, viz.—Stabbing a fellow countryman in the base of the neck with a pocket knife, came upon for trial in the District Court Thursday, D. H. Case defending. Judge McCay after hearing the evidence bound Watanabe over to the Grand Jury.

Japanese Engaged For Panama

Honolulu, April 11.—An authorization to the Panama Canal Commission to recruit Japanese labor in Hawaii for work on the canal was knocked out by a cable sent last week by Governor Carter to Washington. The matter first became generally public here through the following Associated Press dispatch of last Sunday: "Secretary Taft has replied to the protest of Governor Carter of Hawaii saying that the United States Government will not take Japanese from Hawaii to work on the Panama canal."

The action of Governor Carter is said to have been due to a report received here by cable that the commission was about to secure authorization to send to Hawaii for laborers to work on the canal. It was the intention of the commission, it is stated, to offer a slightly higher rate of wages than that generally paid here. Carter cabled to Taft a protest against Hawaii being subjected to the butting in of the canal commission in this way, and the protest appears to have had immediate effect.

A Labor-Saving Machine

Paia mill is the first to install a mammoth power trip hammer, and blacksmith Dao feels very much elated over this valuable addition to his department.

This hammer is an enormous labor saver of time and help as it does a day's work of two or three men, in a few minutes' time.

Puunene mill has almost a Duplicate of the one at Paia, except that it is fitted to run by direct steam power, while the latter is connected by belting to the main shafting.

Narrowly Escaped Burning

Superintendent C. E. Copeland had a rather exciting time last week and one which he does not care to experience again.

He and Mrs. Copeland rode over to Wailuku in the automobile, and leaving the machine in Mr. Christianson's yard, attended the funeral service of Mrs. Wallace and daughter.

On his return from the services Mr. Copeland opened the valve to steam up, when a volume of flame burst forth, singeing his eyebrows and mustache.

The fire eventually burned itself out after damaging the paint which will require a new coating throughout. Fortunately none of the working parts were injured.

Inquisitively Japanese had meddled with the machine during Mr. Copeland's absence and had wrought the harm.

Hawaiian Coffee Making Its Way

Honolulu, April 11.—Hawaiian coffee is gradually making for itself potential focuses of advertising its merits on the mainland. President Roosevelt's using it on the White House table is the most notable instance of this fact, but there are other and only slightly less influential boomers of Hawaiian coffee whose enlistment has been less factitious than that of the President.

When Joseph G. Pratt, Honolulu's postmaster elect, was in Chicago on his recent travels he had occasion to call on Mr. Williams, U. S. Sub-Treasurer in that city. In conversation Mr. Williams stated that Hawaiian coffee had become such a necessity of life in his household that he secures a yearly supply of six bags of the Kona product. He had been using the Hawaiian coffee now for several years. It was first recommended to his wife by a lady friend who had become enamored of the article while on a visit to Honolulu.

Notes From Wailuku School.

Mongoose vs. Lizard.

BY JACOB COERPER.
Many of our old residents know when and why the mongoose was brought to this country, but very few know of the real destruction that has been wrought by that animal since his destruction.

People lay the presence of bugs, leaf hopper and insects, etc., to importation. While it may be true and perhaps is that some of these insects were imported yet the great majority of them were here long ago but are more numerous because they are assisted to live and thrive by the mongoose destroying their natural enemies, the lizards.

The lizard is the natural enemy of bugs and insects including mosquitoes, as he lives on nothing else and never in any way harms plant life.

When I first came to the Kona district in 1886, the country was well stocked with lizards and all kinds of fruits were growing in profusion. Kitchen gardens contained cabbages, tomatoes and all other varieties of vegetables which were free from insect pests; and while the leaf hopper could be found in the canefields he was kept so well in check by the lizard that he never caused any trouble. But later on when the mongoose came, he commenced a campaign of destruction on the lizard with the result that the lizard decreased and the pests increased to such an extent that today almost nothing can be raised in the district and fruit trees that used to bear a heavy crop of fruit are now barren and pest ridden.

These pests have gained such headway that today the blossoms on guavas, oranges and other trees are destroyed, and the serious question arises, what is to become of Kona's main product, coffee, if these conditions continue to exist?
The only salvation for these districts and for the islands in general is that a careful investigation should be had and that the government, both Federal and Territorial, should aid and assist in bettering these conditions by the extermination of the mongoose and the importation of a fresh supply of reptile of the lizard family the natural enemies of pests, also there should be an importation of insectivorous birds.

Song Hits of 1905

As has been the case in a number of English musical comedies produced in the United States, an interpolated song entitled "Daisy I am Crazy," gives promise of being the biggest success in the "Earl and the Girl," which was presented recently in Chicago and will open shortly at the Garrick theatre, New York. It is written by Mr. Dick Temple, who is one of the stars in the production and author of "Any Old Tree." Mr. Alec Clarke, the principal comedian, will also introduce Benj. H. Burt's "A Thousand Miles From Land" in the same production.

Mr. H. W. Petrie's new ballad "My Heart's Tonight In Tennessee" gives promises of being the greatest ballad success he has ever written, by present indications, although it will be difficult for it to surpass the success of his last hit "When The Sunset Turns The Oceans, Blue to Gold." The new ballad is of a sweetly sentimental character, and has already been called a second "Swanee River."

The above songs are published by Jos. W. Stern & Co., New York City.

Mrs. Fairbanks, wife of the Vice-President-elect, is described as a very winning, approachable woman. For four years she has been president-general of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Drove Settlers Away From Hawaii Nei.

One great obstacle to be overcome in connection with the bona fide settlement movement is the influence of the local "knocker!" It will be well to recount a flagrant instance. Some time ago a retired business man—a German—arrived here from the mainland with four grown sons—the women folks to follow. They set about to secure farming land near Honolulu and had decided to establish a big homestead in one of the valleys when they fell in with the knocker and received such dreadful discouragement that they broke off all negotiations and left for the bleak clime of Southern California. The "knocker" was interviewed by a town business man and only declared that he himself was dissatisfied and wanted to leave town. Asked the price of his holding he gave a figure four times more than the sum for which he had listed the property with a selling agreement. So far as the Report knows, this was the end of the incident. The "knocker" is drawing a salary from the Territorial Treasury each month. Something should be done in a case like this.—Berrey's Report.

Rev. Charles Wagner, author of "The Simple Life," has delivered a sermon in Paris, in which he said: "I found President Roosevelt a man of lofty ideals and of simple but high purpose. As President of the United States, I believe he is the greatest statesman on earth to day. His task is more difficult than the task of any ruler in Europe."

Evan Roberts, the revivalist, who has excited a religious frenzy in Wales, was a young miner when he "received a call" to raise the fallen. His success as an evangelist has been marvelous. Roberts is described as a man with passionate convincing utterance. While he speaks, every eye is riveted on him, every ear seems strained, as if afraid a single word should be lost.

CHARITY AND FADS

Speaking of gratitude and favors remembered and returned, Mr. Keene has a record forty years old. A retired sailorman once aided Mr. Keene in California; that was two score years ago. Then the sailorman died. Mr. Keene cared for his children and sent them to school. Now he sends the sailorman's grandchildren to school.

The famous lobbyist, Sam Ward, once came near enough to Mr. Keene to be of friendly use. When the lobbyist fell upon bad days, it was Mr. Keene who settled upon him an income of $10,000 a year, and the beneficiary died in Italy enjoying it to the last. On one occasion Mr. Ward told Mr. Keene that he had discovered an enterprise wherein he desired to embark. It was as sure as the Bank of England, and would make him a Monte Cristo. Mr. Ward's lips were sealed against disclosing the nature of the enterprise, even to Mr. Keene.

There was fire in the eye of Mr. Ward and a color of hope in his cheek; urged by these signs, Mr. Keene gave him $25,000. It developed later that Mr. Ward sunk every shilling with a German alchemist in efforts to turn iron into gold, in which audacious possibility the hard-headed lobbyist believed as readily as the he were a Doctor Dee or Conan Doyle.

These strong men of money have their weak sides; they have their fads, and will spend money like water on them. Mr. Keene's weakness is the racehorse; Mr. Morgan's is pictures; the late Mr. Whitney's was rugs (he is said to have paid $35,000 for one, and the transaction would have been all right had he left the two last ciphers off the price); Mr. Brady's—of the Tobacco trust—is black pearls; Mr. Addicks—of Bay State Gas—is emeralds; while Mr. Lawson will go in pawn to buy a ruby.—Literary Digest

Mix it Yourself and You know its Good.

"KINLOCH HOUSE PAINT"

BECAUSE "Kinloch" is not a ready-mixed paint, and in buying it you pay a fair price for the Concentrated and Pure Paint alone, and the market price for Raw Linseed Oil, and know what you are getting instead of paying the ready-mixed paint price for the canned "oil" that constitutes half its bulk, when the market price for the pure oil is only about one-third that you have to pay for the canned oil in the ready-mixed.

BECAUSE A 14 year-old boy can mix the "Kinloch" and the oil; Simply stir them together, gallon for gallon, no more, no less, and nothing else; and you have an absolutely pure linseed oil paint ready for the brush. All the necessary driers, turpentine, etc. (everything except the raw oil) are already ground into the Kinloch Paint.

BECAUSE "Pure Linseed Oil is the whole Life and Durability of any Paint"—the practical painter's commonest axiom—and when you buy "Kinloch" and get the Raw Oil separately, you thus remove almost the soul source of paint adulteration, and secure your own absolute knowledge and guarantee of the basis upon which all paint durability is founded.

Twenty five years ago Horace Fletcher taught Marquis Oyama how to shoot. Fletcher had published a pamphlet on how to shoot with a rifle, and copies of it reached Japan. The author was in that country shortly afterward, and was sent for by Marquis Oyama, then minister of war. Fletcher gave him lessons, and says that when Oyama first hit a moving object (a teacup thrown into the air), he "capered about and screamed in his delight like an excited schoolboy."

Will Pioneer Mill Now Get The Water.

Honolulu April 8.—It is rumored that a bill will be introduced in the legislature to make Kona the seat of the proposed agricultural school, thereby indicating the effort to abandon Lahainaluna on Maui. Should this bill go through with the proper appropriation expenses attached, the long battle for the supremacy to the Lahainaluna water rights and acreage would naturally be won by the Pioneer plantation, which has been seeking their control for a long time. This was one of the bones of contention between former superintendent of Public Instruction and the Governor, the former being opposed to the plantation acquiring the rights to the water.

Raise The Ships

Victoria, March 22.—The steamer Hydades brought news from Japan that an English company has been awarded a contract to raise the sunken ships at Port Arthur. There was some talk of making a coffer dam at the harbor mouth and pump out the water, but this plan was abandoned in favor of placing cofferdams about each of the sunken craft, by means of which, it is claimed, every vessel, with the possible exception of the Sevastopol, can be raised and repaired.

The former Russian cruiser Varyag, sunk at Chemulpo, has been raised and brought to Nagasaki. She is being rapidly repaired with a view to arming and commissioning her under the Japanese flag.

The Earl of Suffolk, who married Miss Daisy Leiter, sister of Lady Curzon, is descended from two kings—Edward the First, one of the English Plantagenets, and Philip the Bold of France. He is twenty-eight years old, and is in the British army, being Lord Curzon's aid-de-camp.
