We've combined the Spring and Summer terms and added tons of new classes!

Dear Community Students,

It is with great enthusiasm that I welcome you to the new combined Spring and Summer term! I hope you find our new catalog filled with classes that interest you. We want to extend our sincere appreciation for sticking with us through a difficult year, during which time we introduced several learning models to keep as many classes available to you as possible. Our staff and instructors maintained the necessary precautions, and you willingly abided by the University safety protocols. We thank you for your patience and understanding. Laurel, Susan, and I have learned a lot, along with you, and continue our commitment to always strive to serve you better!

For the Spring/Summer term we hope you find classes that not only teach you something new but also uplift your spirits. With the promise of warmer weather, we have scheduled several classes outdoors so you can enjoy nature and the sights and sounds of our surrounding area. In our lecture hall, we have several evening classes with local authors who have published new books and are eager to share their knowledge and stories of Cincinnati and Ohio—from rock and roll—to food—to Fiona!

It brings us sincere joy to welcome you back to Victory Parkway Campus to share in new learning experiences together. There is no greater gift to yourself than continued learning, and we thank you for trusting Community with your continuing education. We look forward to seeing you soon!

Janet Staderman
Academic Director

Meet our new instructors!

We are delighted to introduce the addition of several new instructors to our classrooms this term. They bring with them a wealth of knowledge and enthusiasm to teach adult learners, adding fresh, new topics to our curriculum for you to enjoy. Please join us in welcoming our new instructors to our Communiversality community!

CINCINNATI: AN ILLUSTRATED TIMELINE

Our city's history may conjure such icons as William Howard Taft, Pete Rose, and Fountain Square, but there are hundreds of stories of Cincinnati's past and present waiting to be discovered. Cincinnati: An Illustrated Timeline presents the pivotal moments in the history of the Queen City. Local historian Jeff Suess leads a tour of Cincinnati from the indigenous mound builders to the development of the first American city after the Revolutionary War, all the way up to Fiona the hippo. Whether you're a lifelong resident or a curious traveler, Cincinnati: An Illustrated Timeline will help you learn, remember, and discover more than you ever knew about Cincinnati.

SPEND AN AFTERNOON IN THE 1800s AT THE HERITAGE VILLAGE MUSEUM

Heritage Village Museum is a recreation of an 1800s SW Ohio community. The village contains thirteen historic buildings from around the Cincinnati area moved here to save them from demolition and to preserve our local history.

In this class, two small groups will receive guided tours with Frank Farmer Loomis and Steve Preston, Educational Director of Heritage Village through the various homes with a fascinating history lesson on simple homesteading life in the 1800s.

Your afternoon will begin with an authentic 1800s picnic lunch of cold beefsteak pie, succotash, chocolate pie, and ginger beer (non-alcoholic).

The tour will include pictorial presentations of the painstaking process of carefully moving the historic buildings to their new site in the village. You will learn about small-village life, in a comprehensive exploration of home and work life, leisure, medicine, religion, and slavery during this significant time in the United States.

One session / $49 NEW! Includes picnic lunch.

Sun, Jun. 27 1-5pm Frank Farmer Loomis

There is so much to do in our local area:

STAYCATIONERS DELIGHT: FOR PRACTICALLY NOTHING

It's time to get out and enjoy the warmer weather. There are many free activities and events in the local area. Places that normally charge admission have reduced or even free admission on certain days. Learn about the free museums and sites in the SW Ohio area, local communities and festivals that offer free entertainment and where you can see plays for free. Find out when you can get free or reduced admission to other local museums and the zoo. Discover where you can go on hikes with park naturalists or tours of museums.

Join author Deanna Adams for a musical journey through the bands and personalities that made Cleveland the birthplace of Rock and Roll!

A ROCKIN' EVENING: SOUNDS OF OHIO ROCK AND ROLL

Do you love Rock and Roll? Then you'll love this class! Take a musical tour guided by author Deanna Adams, and learn about the rich and exciting history of the music pioneers and other colorful personalities responsible for making Cleveland—and beyond—truly, the rock and roll capital of the world. You'll learn about the Cleveland record spinners that "got the rock rollin'," such as Alan Freed and Casey Kasem, and the music makers who honed their talents in Ohio—from the O'Jays to Nine Inch Nails—and so many others. Make this a Friday night to remember and join the fun as you "experience" this musical history by listening to the recordings of the diverse artists while learning their stories. Ohio really does rock! Class fee include Deanna's latest book "Cleveland's Rock and Roll Venues."

One session / $39 NEW! Includes autographed book.

Join Polly Campbell, Cincinnati food critic for a night of stories of the pioneers and entrepreneurs of the past and present local food scene!

CINCINNATI FOOD: A HISTORY OF QUEEN CITY CUISINE

Over the years, Cincinnati has earned a reputation for conservatism and keeping to itself, especially regarding food, but that's changing. Old favorites like cinnamon-scented chili on spaghetti, ice cream with huge chocolate chunks, and old-fashioned German butchers selling goetta, brats, and metts are being rediscovered--and in some cases re-created. A similar urge for experimentation and innovation from restaurants, farmers' markets, and food producers is bringing new energy to the city's tables.

Join local author and food critic, Polly Campbell, for a fun night as she shares the stories of the pioneers and the entrepreneurs of the past and the present and unfolds how Cincinnati's history has set the table for its menu today.

Come explore, taste, experience, and learn!

THE MYTH OF THE MOUNDBUILDERS, CINCINNATI

Explore the Ancient Earthworks of the Ohio Valley, as we learn who were the Moundbuilders and why they built so many elaborate earthworks. We will examine archaeological data about the earthworks surrounding the Cincinnati region and learn how the prehistoric inhabitants made their impressive monuments. You will also learn how changes in society over time are reflected in the monuments, art and artifact styles, and burial customs. This is a great course to take with your family, as a precursor to visiting the ancient mounds in and around Cincinnati!

COLD PICKLING FRESH VEGETABLES

Quick or cold pickling is a brilliant solution for preserving the plethora of summer vegetables from the market or your garden. Quick pickling doesn't require canning when refrigerated and you don't need a bushel of vegetables, so you can prepare little bit of whatever is fresh in season.

In this class, Chef Mona will teach you the secret to unique, flavorful pickled vegetables is in the spices you add to the brine. Dill pickles are nothing more than cucumbers flavored with garlic, dill seed, and red pepper flakes. Carrots become more exotic when pickled with coriander, ginger, turmeric, and thyme. Other classic combinations include green beans with garlic and fresh dill, cherry tomatoes with black peppercorns and garlic, and squash with onion and garlic. And they only require only a few days in the brine before they can be enjoyed.

ADOPTING THE PRINCIPLES OF FENG SHUI

"Where intention goes, energy flows."

Feng Shui is a way of balancing the energies within a space to bring good fortune to those who live there. Energy is key to Feng Shui, meaning that every part of your space needs to be arranged for a favorable flow of energy, known as Chi. In this class, you discover how your physical space connects to who you are and where you're going. You will learn how and why you should use the principles of Instinctive Feng Shui, and see what's blocking your success.

PAINT YOUR OWN RAIN BARREL WORKSHOP

When it comes to at-home water conservation, nothing equals a rain barrel. Placed near a gutter or downspout, it collects precious rainwater that can be used to water your garden and indoor plants. Rather than being an eyesore in your garden, join us for a weekend and create a unique work of art. Painting rain barrels not only makes them more attractive but may also extend the life of your barrel. We will supply the rain barrel, you just bring a design idea and acrylic paint.

In one weekend, with simple steps and assistance from our artist, you'll turn a water-saving, eco-friendly rain barrel into a fun, backyard fashion statement. Plus, on Saturday, John Nelson, Executive Director for Hamilton Co. Soil and Water Conservation District, and past project manager for the Rain Barrel Art Project will provide conservation education as part of this class.

What is Save Local Waters Rain Barrel Art Project?

Now in its 8th year, The Rain Barrel Art Project promotes the use of rain barrels throughout the Ohio River Valley to help teach environmental issues like storm water runoff, watersheds, water conservation, and learning that these measures actually save us money. Beautiful artistic rain barrels, with unique painted details, are more desirable and naturally promote their use in helping us to conserve water and help the environment.

ARTS & HANDICRAFTS

Enjoy these art classes taught by Kay Worz

In these fun, interactive art classes in our bright, open art room, you will easily advance your skills by watching Kay's live demonstrations. Each student will receive individual coaching and gain further insight through interaction with the other student artists.

COPING WITH STRESS: AN INTRODUCTION TO THE PRACTICAL APPLICATION OF MINDFULNESS

Stress has been called the “health epidemic of the 21st century,” by The World Health Organization and that was before the added stress of a global pandemic. It’s overwhelming trying to figure out how to work from home, manage family responsibilities, and worry about what lies ahead. That being said, stress itself isn’t bad. What is hurting us as individuals, organizations, and as a society is the high level of constant stress, and our inability to efficiently manage, respond to, and cope with that stress.

Mindfulness can help. It is a simple mental practice that introduces a calmer, more satisfying mode of being and can enhance a host of competencies: increased focus and concentration, improved cognitive skills, such as working memory; greater emotional resilience, enhanced interpersonal skills, reduced burnout, stress and anxiety; and more ethical and rational decision-making

This course will provide the overview, scientific rationale, and implementation instructions of mindfulness techniques that can be easily implemented throughout the day for increased wellbeing. The goal of this course is to equip participants with simple tools to care for their mental wellbeing every day in order to move beyond mismanaged stress and into a life of thriving.

GET YOUR LIFE BACK: A PROFESSIONAL WOMAN'S RETREAT

Life was already crazy. Life was already hectic. And that was before COVID! While this pandemic has affected us on every level, it has also shone a light on what we already knew was there and forced us to stop, reflect and face ourselves. Am I truly happy? How could I challenge myself? How do I want to be remembered? What do I want to do with my life? How do I get there?

Join professional women, like yourself, for this intimate experience. Over the course of five weeks, we'll cover a variety of topics focused on helping you answer questions and become the best version of yourself as a whole- personally and professionally. These topics include addressing world and self-imposed expectations, imposter syndrome, self-care, world-work-life integration, and good communication habits. Whether you are an entrepreneur, entering the workforce for the first time, or have years of experience in a corporate environment, this retreat centers on you doing you!

Learn how to make practical changes and take actionable steps that fit into your lifestyle and help you achieve your goals while being surrounded by other like-minded women who are ready to support you in those goals. Every week we will guide, motivate, teach and offer strategies. We will also be spending time during our weekly sessions sharing and reflecting on goals and our journey. This interactive and personal retreat will help you go beyond a "Boss Babe" in a comfortable, but sophisticated environment- just as it should be. Take the time and invest in yourself today.

UNBLOCK YOUR PATH TO SUCCESS

Do you feel like you are meant for something bigger, but are missing something? Do you know that you can create a super-successful business fulfilling your purpose, yet something is not working? You may be giving up your power.

Signs of giving up our power are when our inner self never stops criticizing every little thing we do, even when we're 100% positive it's right. You can't help but want to be a people pleaser and you end up settling for less, personally and professionally-too busy with clients, family, or anyone and anything else-and you tiptoe around your big dreams. Sometimes we have hit a financial ceiling, or have invested in expensive coaching programs that don't feel are working to our benefit. Because there IS something in your way and that something is actually someone, and that someone is YOU.

Women, even powerful women like you, who believe in their purpose and seem to have it all together, are blocking their power and not experiencing true success, abundance, or ease with the stuff they really want. In this course, you will discover the five ways you are blocking your own success. And learn, that when you make room for your power, you make room for wealth and growth and impact as a person and as an entrepreneur. Join us for three weeks, and discover the keys to start believing in what you do!

Laboratory-based research out of UC was recently published and reported Silk to be fabric most capable of protecting us from COVID-19.

FACEMASK FABRICS AND HOW SILK IS MADE

In this course, we will examine how silk cocoons, made by silk moth caterpillars, have inspired the design of improvised masks during the current COVID-19 pandemic. We will first study the architectural and biophysical properties of cocoons of various silk moth species. Weather permitting, we will also look for cocoons outdoors. We will also look at various fabrics (silk, cotton, and polyester) and evaluate their material properties for use in improvised masks. Finally, we will examine how to design masks based on wearer/consumer preferences, and in conjunction with what we learn from cocoon biology and from fabric analysis.

CONSERVATION IMPACT COURSE

Many people volunteer or join nature centers and other conservation organizations because they want to help support conservation. This course will give you a foundation from which you can plan to go further in a strategic and intentional way to address conservation issues that matter to you! This primer is intended to evoke deeper thought and understanding of how and why your contributions matter. Along the way, you'll be challenged to investigate environmental issues and assess your ability to contribute to their resolution, either as individuals or collectively. Through lectures, readings, discussions and projects, you'll gain context for how your contributions as a volunteer, member, intern, trustee, or staff person at a conservation organization fits into larger environmental goals. Discover ways to influence, not alienate. Learn what to do, and what NOT to do, when sharing your values, experiences, and knowledge about nature with others.

FINANCIAL INSIGHTS

It is time to get comfortable talking about money with more knowledge and more confidence! We all have patterns or approaches when it comes to our budgets. Some money patterns had us prepared for Covid-19 (or any unexpected life event) with savings and investments, and others did not. The good news is no matter your starting point, you can embrace your approach of money to take control of your moolah. In this class, you will gain a better understanding of automatic money patterns that work and may not work for you and learn how to shift what is not working. Join us for this engaging, interactive workshop that will leave you with understanding how to enjoy both the logical/linear and the experiential approach to your finances.

HOW THE HECK DO I BUY A USED CAR?

Maybe you have a car and its on its last leg, or maybe you took a break from driving and now you want to buy a car? Or you may be a first-time car buyer altogether? If you've been searching the web and are overwhelmed with the options, price tags, and just the whole process, this class is for you! Invest two-hours gathering all the knowledge you need about buying a used car. You will discover red flags in pre-purchase inspections with easy-to-understand information. Buying a used car shouldn't be so complicated. Equipped with knowledge about the process, you will be less likely to buy a lemon or get scammed by spending more money than you expected.

CHARTING YOUR PERSONAL FUTURE: FOCUSING ON RETIREMENT

Retirement is an important life transition. Thought typically is given to its financial ramifications. Rarely is retirement considered in relation to its psychological and emotional aspects, which can contribute strongly to a positive (or negative) retirement. This class will be delivered on two evenings, two-hours per session. Power-point, lecture, small group activities, and a workbook will be used, culminating in the creation of a tentative personal plan for retiring.

Two-week session / $129 NEW! Includes a workbook.

CYBERSECURITY AWARENESS SEMINAR

We live in an age where we manage most of our lives digitally and it's our responsibility to keep our data secure. There are new cybersecurity threats almost every day and hackers rely on people making mistakes. A little bit of security awareness can go a long way in protecting your data and making you a more secure cyber-citizen.

During this two-hour seminar, you will learn about common cybersecurity threats, how to audit your security settings, implement easy best-practices, and improve your overall online safety. You will also receive practical tips on securing your digital devices and networks. Plan to take notes and feel free to bring along your digital device (laptop, tablet, smartphone) to practice tips as we go.

LANDLORD FUNDAMENTALS

This is a must-attend course if you are venturing into a rental enterprise or already a landlord. Those who are unaware of their responsibilities can find themselves with legal difficulties. In this course, a licensed attorney will guide you through basic principles and strategies for when things go as planned versus when they go sideways. Topics discussed will include fair housing laws, lease basics, and obligations of landlords and tenants. We will also review basic premises liability-when you are and are not liable, mechanics of evictions, and issues specific to Cincinnati municipal law and Hamilton County tax abatement strategies. You will have the unique opportunity to discuss specific situations and lessons learned.

TEST PREP

SUMMER INSTITUTE FOR HIGH SCHOOLERS

In August, Communiversy is offering an opportunity to get your high schoolers ready for back-to-school and back-to-testing. Each Fall, there is a risk of summer-slide and losing learning from the prior year. This Fall, going back to school will be even more difficult with the gaps in online learning from COVID. We are designing programs to help your rising 9th - 12th grader get up to speed in Math, English and Reading. This Summer Institute will also get them ready for the ACT. We will focus on content review, general and specific test taking strategies, and anxiety control techniques.

Your instructor, Emily Mulvey, M.A., is a Princeton Review-trained psychometrician. She has worked as an educational consultant for 18 years in the areas of test-taking strategies, academic enrichment and tutoring, and study and organizational skills.

To get dates and learn more about this program visit uc.edu/ce and click "Test Prep." Class dates and times will be posted soon!

IELTS (INTERNATIONAL ENGLISH LANGUAGE TEST SYSTEM)

The International Language Testing System (IELTS) is an English language assessment accepted worldwide as a part of the university acceptance process, as one of several types of assessments for job placement, and as a test of general English skills. In this class, we will practice the different question types, learn tips to improve your test-taking skills and focus on the four domains of listening, speaking, writing, and reading. The class will be focused on the Academic Module, but will also look at the General Module as needed.
