

2016 Camp Jayhawk

Merit Badges

George Austin

Falley Scout Reservation Camp Director

1/1/2016

General Information.

The Merit Badges listed in this Pamphlet are offered either to be completed wholly or partially in camp. We have tried to identify the items which need to be done as prerequisites or done outside of camp. There are some merit badges that have been combined with other activities or merit badges. The new schedule places some merit badges into a block schedule; i.e. Some merit badges will be offered during all-morning and all-afternoon sessions for a specific period of days eliminating travel time between merit badges.

Other activities are intended to add to the camp program experience. Camping is not just a merit badge achievement school, but also learning about camping skills, associating with other Scouts and leaders, living the principles of Boy Scouts of America and the Boy Scout Oath and Law, and finally, implementing Lord Baden Powell's ideal of learning through outdoor fun. Venturing options have been added for Venturers that may register during a Camp Jayhawk Session. Also, available is a Venturing Camp which will occur concurrently with the 3rd Session of Camp Jayhawk. The Delaware Adventure is offered as a Venture Crew or older Scout outing which includes the canoeing, backpacking hike, conservation project, Kodiak training, and COPE. This program is offered as a separate camp from Camp Jayhawk. Boy Scouts older than 13 years old and Adults are encouraged to sign up for the Delaware Adventure individually. See the publication "The Delaware Adventure".

Scouts may earn four to five merit badges by attending camp, or may earn one or none dependent on his own accomplishments which may not be the expectation of the Scout or his parents. Often the Scout is independent of his parents for the first time during a week-long time frame. The Scout must decide to earn the merit badges he has enrolled in, by attending classes, satisfactorily completing the requirements of the merit badge and receiving the approval of the merit badge counselor. The most misunderstood aspect of merit badge instruction is that the merit badge is earned, not given. Attendance is not the requirement. The requirements are the things that the Scout must do, demonstrate, get tested or accomplish as required in the merit badge pamphlet.

For the Baden Powell Program Overnight Camp: Thursday evening of camp and early Friday morning.

Equipment needed: Each Baden Powell Scout needs to bring a sleeping bag, ground cloth, flashlight, canteen, tent and some type of backpack to haul their gear. The campout includes a hike to and from the camping site with gear. We will furnish food, eating utensils, water, etc.

At check out, records of advancement, merit badges completed or partially completed, and other information regarding each Scout and Leader accomplishments during the week, will be handed to the Unit Leader in a packet. This is an opportunity for the Scouts and Leaders to identify any errors or omissions that have occurred in the camp's recordkeeping. While a record will be retained by the camp and after camp for a limited time, the correction or clarifying of the records becomes less apparent the further we get from the specific camp session.
