Cummings Foundation DVD Programs Distributed by The Erickson Foundation

The Milton H. Erickson Foundation    The Cummings Foundation for Behavioral Health

Practicing Therapy in the 21st Century: The Series

instructed by Psychology's leading entrepreneur
Founder of 22 successful profit and non-profit entities
Nicholas Cummings, PhD, ScD

Step-by-step, the Entrepreneurship course walks you through the attitudes and attributes of mental health entrepreneurship, as gleaned from Nicholas Cummings' direct association with innovators who have literally changed the world, as well as from his own skills honed over sixty years of successful entrepreneurship.

Course No. 2
NEW Medical Psychology
JANET CUMMINGS, Psy.D.

More and more mental health professionals work in medical settings, special instruction covering the unique requirements and demands of the environment is vital. Dr. Janet Cummings shares her own valuable experience and distinctive knowledge in a series of lectures on "Medical Psychology." Presented in an intimate, one-on-one style, the program covers all aspects necessary for a well-rounded and enlightened practitioner. Dr. Cummings also explores areas that are often overlooked, such as making sense of contradictory research findings and the specifics of alternative medicine. Always bringing the subject matter into a psychological context, she provides detailed discussions on—

- Nutrition and its effects on prevention and treatment of disease
- Reflexion, the immune system, and psychoneuroimmunology
- Endocrine system
- Respiratory system
- Neurologic system, the brain and the aging process
- Cardiovascular system
- Digestive system
- Musculoskeletal system

It's as simple as Black and White

To understand the work of Milton H. Erickson you need an expert guide...

BOTH DVDS FEATURE IN-DEPTH COMMENTARY BY JEFFREY ZEIG, PH.D.

Therapy within a Marital System

This hypnotic session took place in 1976, and decades later, it's just as powerful and engaging. Enhancing the viewer's learning experience is Dr. Zeig's discussion of the underlying elements of Erickson's methods: the ARE model of structure; the art of parallel communication; targeted utilization; and the use of implication. Erickson's fluid responses, drawn from systematic thinking, includes the use of anecdotes, symbolic communications, and strategic seeding. The elicitation of solutions, based on promoting constructive associations and flexible thoughts and feelings, is an area of particular interest and one in which Erickson was especially elegant.

2005 • 147 minutes DVD ISBN 978-1-832248-17-3 - $75.00 Only $50 during Exhibit!

Working With Resistance

In 1979 Milton Erickson and Jeffrey Zeig spent five hours reviewing a demonstration that Erickson conducted at a teaching seminar. That demonstration is available as a training video for Ericksonian practitioners. Erickson's experiential methods include the symbolic use of hypnotic phenomena, encouraging resistance, naturalistic confusion techniques, seeding, and using isomorphic anecdotes. Jeffrey Zeig discusses the mechanics of Erickson's unique approach to psychotherapy. Working with Resistance provides an opportunity to watch a master hypnotic demonstrate his techniques.
