The MLA International Bibliography contains detailed bibliographic information on scholarly publications from around the world and across a broad range of topics, including college-level teaching in these disciplines:

Language

Literature

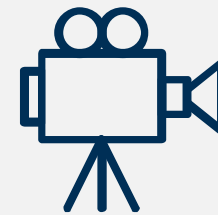

Linguistics

Rhetoric and Composition

Folklore

Film

The MLA International Bibliography
Includes:

2.9 million detailed bibliographic citations, covering more than 6,000 current journals and book series

A record of scholarship from the early 20th century to the present

Expert indexing
by MLA staff and contributing scholars

The MLA International Bibliography
Includes:

MLA Directory of Periodicals
with detailed records on the journals and book series published in the bibliography's areas of coverage

MLA Thesaurus which currently contains more than 146,000 terms and 255,000 names

MLA International Bibliography Subject Indexing

- Materials are indexed by subject experts on the MLA staff and by contributing scholars
- High-level subject headings place the publication within the general subject area it covers

Additional terms identify the specific topics discussed, including:

- genres
- languages
- personal names
- sources
- stylistic and structural features
- themes
- theories
- titles of works
- and other related topics

MLA International Bibliography Teaching Tools

The MLA provides short tutorial videos that help users make the most of the bibliography's rich metadata and its advanced searching and filtering features.

A free, 90-minute online course Understanding the MLA International Bibliography teaches students the scope and purpose of the MLA Bibliography and how to use it effectively.

Students can earn badges for completing each module of the course and have them sent to their instructors.
