The New 52 All-Star Western was published in September 2011. It started off with a long story arc about Jonah Hex's journey to Victorian age Gotham City and meeting all of that city's ancestors to the Batman era heroes and villains. Then he meets the superhero Booster Gold in the old West and gets thrown into the long story arc of being tossed into modern times and meeting Superman and Batman and others, before eventually returning to the late 1800's and hooking up with Tallulah Black and sailing off into the sunset. Does Hex get to keep the happy ending- who knows?

DC can't seem to make their mind with this character. He has been a modern good guy street fighter, a revenge seeking western gunslinger, and a LA gang leader who is trying to do good with extraordinary flame powers. It is the last incarnation of El Diablo that DC used in the recent Suicide Squad film. Unfortunately, it looks like they killed him off.
