2020 NDQSA 38th ANNUAL REUNION NORFOLK, VA Dates: June 2 -7, 2020

PRESIDENTS MESSAGE

Dear Brothers and Sisters

To all my Brothers and Sisters of the NDQSA. Another Holiday season is upon us and I want to take this opportunity to wish you and your families a safe sober and happy Holiday. After gathering information about construction progress at the ADA Museum in Ft. Sill, the decision has been made to hold the 2020 Reunion at our back up location Norfolk VA. Reunion Committee Members and I based on the information provided by the ADA museum indicated the museum may not be opened on schedule and even if open; all of the exhibits will probably not be ready. The Board will evaluate the status of the ADA Museum in 2020 for a possible site in 2021. Bruce Geiger and Bob Lauver have worked their magic again and negotiated us a good deal at the Sheraton Norfolk Waterside Hotel with many attractions within walking distance.

I am looking forward to seeing you all in VA this coming June.

Robert "Bob" Cuce President NDQSA

He will be missed and we give honor to his service and his family.

DO YOU HAVE AN EMAIL ADDRESS?

Two pieces of contact information that frequently change are: cell phone numbers and email addresses. Typically there are about a half dozen emails sent out each year to every member with a valid (current) email address on record with the Historian. If you (or a spouse) have an email address and you have not received any emails from the dqshistorian@cox.net, it is time for you to record your email address with him. Simply click here and identify yourself clearly (full name). You might as well confirm your telephone numbers in the same email. When an email is sent to a bad email address, the Historian tries to contact the member by phone to determine their status. This is a time consuming effort, but it does give him a chance to talk to members.

NDQSA 2020 Officer Elections

The 2020 Nominating Committee consisting of Joseph Belardo, John Huelsenbeck and Paul Hanson will be seeking any active dues paying member to submit his name for nomination or name others for the following executive officer positions for a two year term (2020-2022). The current president is allowed to run for one more additional 2-year term. All other executive positions are not term limited.

President: Incumbent - Robert Cuce

1st vice President: Incumbent - Paul Kopsick

2nd vice President: Incumbent - David McCray

Secretary: Incumbent - Garry Severin

Treasurer: Incumbent - Allan Penwell

Any Active member, in good standing, can run for any officer position. To run for office, whether a current officer seeking reelection or a member seeking election, you must provide to the nominating committee a recent quality photograph and a brief introductory biography so the voting membership becomes familiar with the nominee's qualifications. Members may submit their own names or the names of other eligible members for the ballot. As long as the nominee you recommend consents to be listed on the ballot, his name will be submitted for election to the voting membership. If you nominate a member, please provide the nominating committee with their telephone number.

Future newsletters will also contain election information.

When all nominees are in, a formal mail-in election ballot will be sent to all members via regular postage. The ballots will also allow for write-in votes of any qualified members who seek to run for an office. Furthermore, last minute nominations may be made during the annual membership business meeting at the 2020 NDQSA reunion in Norfolk, VA but know that hundreds of Active Members will have already mailed in their ballots by that day.

Joseph Belardo will chair the nominating committee and send all nominee information to the two other nominating chairmen, John Huelsenbeck and Paul Hanson, for review prior to making a formal election ballot.

Please mail or email your nomination to the below address or call if you have any questions. All nominations must be received no later than March 1, 2020.

ITEM SUMMARY

Military issue, M1 combat helmet with handwritten inscription. The inscription is composed of concentric rings (proceeding from the crown to the brim) upon the exterior surface of the helmet shell, and is from, "JOE BELARDO "C" - BTRY 1ST - 44TH DUSTERS 67-68". In the inscription, Mr. Belardo states that, "A HELMET LIKE THIS HELPED KEEP A PART OF ME ALIVE - SO I WOULD ALWAYS REMEMBER YOU", recounts the shared experience of serving in Vietnam with his comrades in arms, and closes with the plea, "THOSE OF YOU WHO HAVE BEEN TURNING THIS HELMET AROUND TO READ IT. / PLEASE TURN TO THE NEXT VETERAN YOU SEE AND SAY "WELCOME HOME" ". The artifact was left at The Wall by U.S. Army and Vietnam veteran Joe Belardo in November 1995.

TANK FARM OPEN HOUSE SEPTEMBER 7-8, 2019

Although a hurricane was bearing down on the east coast, it passed just early enough in the week to give us perfect weather for the Open House. Director Allan Cors reported afterwards that this was the largest turnout in the history of this event to date. Those NDQSA members that made it to the event on Saturday got a chance to ride on the duster. To see a clip of the guys riding around the field, click here. [\[LINK\]](#)

There is also great news on progress being made toward the construction and eventual opening of the Americans in Wartime Museum (NMAW). They have a new advocate and donations coordinator that in just the last month brought several million dollars into the program. Things are looking up!

To: Joe (Belardo).

I just finished reading your book and found it very compelling. After reading about being the guy who manned the guns I thought you would like to hear from one who was under the guns.

In 1967 the 3d Battalion of the 39th Infantry (Army) was established in the Mekong Delta south of Saigon. We had two Twin 40s assigned to us (5/2d) acting as base security and road guards. In early 1967 I was traveling to an forward observation post 100 clicks from our southern berm. Halfway to that post I was engaged by a sniper who pinned me down in the roadway. He was splashing bullets close to me and I was in a very exposed place. All of a sudden I heard the tracks clanging on the road and the Twin 40 topped the rise to my right. He eyeballed the situation and I fired a couple of tracers to where I was receiving the fire from. The gun opened up and imprinted forever into my memory the sight and sound as the rounds impacted and the foliage blasted into the air. This was followed by the fast reactionary force investigating. No sniper was found and we returned to a normal day. Never met the skilled duster men to express my thanks so I wish you will accept them in their behalf.

We in the 554th really appreciated having you guys around while we went about our duties. Thank you for that.

Hi Chuck,
Thank you for the wonderful email and thank you for reading my book.
We had three (3) Duster and Quad 50 Battalions in Vietnam.
As you know from my book from I was in 1st / 44th which handled the DMZ down to Hue City
In the Central Highlands there was 4th/ 60th
In the south was 5th /2nd
We all had somewhat of a different duty assignment.
I am glad that we helped you on a very scary day and thrilled that you survived Vietnam.
They didn't find the sniper because the 40mm probably made him into dust.
Please email our historian Paul Kopsick at dqshistorian@cox.net and he will post it in our next newsletter and maybe you'll find out who it was.
Chuck - where are you now living?
Talk soon
Joe

Hi Paul, Nelson Kelly here.

First off since going to a few reunions I have met a few Brothers I was stationed with in Vietnam. I will be honest, I was completely 'mind-blank' pretty much to what happened and when during my tour. I was stationed on Hill 65 with a G-29 searchlight unit assigned to a Marine Company. I had a choice at end of tour to extend 30 days or get transferred to a different unit for rotation reasons. I think someone called it "the McNamara shuffle". I opted for transfer and ended up with a Duster unit. Didn't even know what a Duster was. My OJT was: stand up, exposed from the waist up and keep dropping 4 round clips in to the guns. Why I didn't extend 30 days I don't know?

We did some convoy escorts and would get to areas that were under alert for attack and did perimeter defense. We could fire without permission from higher ups as artillery needed. I remember one such event where we were sent to a Seabee compound that came under alert and I could not believe how nice this place was. Buildings with screens, a flower garden by the main entrance that I was told later on was the CO's pride and joy. We asked if we could get some chow and was told the CO said we didn't have a voucher for that. WHAT? We been living on c-rations and you can't give us some chow and we are protecting you?

Later on some Seabees brought us some chow by our track on the base perimeter. Nothing happened but I was amazed that this base was so nice. One thing that did happen was one of the Seabees gave me some reel to reel recorded tapes. I had purchased a Sony reel to reel tape recorder with built in speakers in Danang but no tapes to play so I was loving life.

After this came the Tet offensive and we escorted what I was told was the first convoy to get through to the MACV compound at Hue. Came under attack a couple of times and several 2½ ton trucks with canvas covers, loaded with Marines were hit bad. The most horrible thing I saw was a family, MamaSan, PapaSan and Baby San dead on side of road next to their push cart caught trying to escape and pigs eating them. God that was horrible.

Going through Hue I was amazed that this was at one time a beautiful City before Tet offensive. Street lights, sidewalks etc. Burned out now. We made it to MACV compound and was positioned by the bank of Perfume River with orders to fire at will. Next day a second Looie shows up and says "we are going to attack" WTF ?? As we were going down a street in Hue the track in front of us took a direct rocket direct hit.

While at Nashville reunion I met Floyd "Red" Seratte and he told me he was on this very track. That was very emotional for him and me. I don't know how many survived that. I thought the RPG round went through the turret but Red said it went through the hatch door.

Oh by the way did I tell you that when we left the Seabee compound we accidentally ran through someone's flower garden?

NOTE: If you remember in the last newsletter there was a photo of D-132 "Reds" track with Willie Wong on the back next to a wounded soldier. That photo may have captured the incident that Nelson is describing here...amazing!

In Remembrance

I apologize that it has taken me so long to send you the pictures of Joe. The picture of Joe on the track was taken at Camp Pendleton State Military Reservation in Virginia Beach, VA in October of 2017. If you have any questions or need additional information please do not hesitate to contact me.

Thank you, Bonnie Maka

Joe Maka (B-1/44 '66-67) passed away in August of 2018. He went over on the boat and was stationed around Dong Ha.

REMEMBER

NDQSA is an IRS 501(c) (19) non-profit veteran's organization so if you are of means and in a giving state of mind, know that you can put NDQSA in your estate plans for when you leave this mortal plane. Also, NDQSA has several vehicle restoration projects we are still trying to complete: the Widomaker gun-truck still needs to payoff the loan of the gun mount (20K) and we are still looking for an appropriate Mutt M151 jeep (10K) for the Xenon SLT we have at the Tank Farm.

This great photo showed up on a companion Facebook page. This is Track B47 of 5th/2nd ADA. The Track Commander is reported to be SSG Carl Henderson (seated); SP4 Condon Payne (boonie hat), SP4 Tom Glass is sitting on the barrels of the gun Two of the other crewman are reported to be PFC Woodstead and PFC Schulty. From Wikipedia:

The battle of Cholon and Phú Thọ Racetrack began during the early hours of 31 January 1968 and continued until 11 February 1968. The attacks by Vietcong (VC) forces were one of several major attacks around Saigon in the first days of the Tet Offensive. The attacks were repulsed with the VC suffering heavy losses and substantial damage to the densely populated area of Cholon.

Opens June 4th 2020

Ft. Belvoir, VA

The National Museum of the United States Army at Ft. Belvoir, VA is scheduled to open its doors to the public on June 4, 2020, while NDQSA has their 38th annual reunion in Norfolk, VA.

The National Museum of the United States Army (TheNMUSA) will be the first museum to cover the Army's entire 244-year history. There are other branch-specific or conflict-specific museums such as the Infantry Museum at Fort Benning, Georgia, and the National World War II Museum in New Orleans.

Like other D.C.-area museums, admission for the Fort Belvoir, Virginia, museum will be open for free to the public on a timed-entry ticket system. Museum officials expect as many as 750,000 visitors in the facility's first year. Make plans to stop by on your way back from Norfolk.

The museum will tell the Army's story through soldier stories. The narrative begins with the earliest militias and continues to present day.

FROM THE INTERNET

Dennis Walden to 23rd and 54th Artillery Groups & Subordinate Artillery Battalions Viet Nam

I was looking through some of my 1970-1971 Vietnam photos scanned from 35 mm slides, and noticed what appears to be crewmen's names written on these two M42 40 mm Dusters. Photo quality is poor compared to today's digital photography, but I can make out JOHN, MICK in front, and REESE on the 2nd Duster. Does anyone recognize the names or faces of any of the crewmen shown in these two Dusters? One Duster is identified as US ARMY 12C 349, which I mistakenly took to mean 12th Cavalry. You can probably shed some light on that. They were stationed in support of 554th Combat Engineer Battalion at Thunder III in 1970. I hope we can ID some of the crewmen and get copies of the photos to them. I know they would appreciate it. I also had photos of two 5 ton quad 50 cal. trucks, but those slides went AWOL before I got around to scanning them. If they turn up later I'll post those too.

Historian's comments: At first I did not realize that the same Duster was in both photos. Note 12C346, the Duster with the camouflage pattern on it is in both images. I remembered that camo painting was rarely done and when I searched my archives from the 5/2d I located a photo of D-112 in Richard Shand's album and 'lo and behold' the driver's name on the front of the track is "Reese". Bingo! Hopefully Richard can shed some light on the events? Maybe the first track is D-111? If you have any info, contact the Historian.

What retired military weapons or vehicles would still be effective if brought back to the modern battlefield?

Pavel Fekula, Active in Russian-American Relations

I actually think the M42 Duster would be extremely effective at urban warfare. Its dual 40 Bofors cannons might not be strong enough to pierce through the armor main battle tanks, however they would be more than capable of decimating enemy firing positions in brick and concrete buildings. The range of its 40 mm shells would make useful for supporting infantry assaults from outside the range of small arms, although it would still be vulnerable to anti-tank guided missiles. The M42 would be able to send more firepower down range in a shorter amount of time than any main battle tank in service, given that each of its 40 mm cannons has a rate of fire of 120 rpm.

Additionally, conventional tanks have occasionally gotten into trouble in urban environments, where their guns could not elevate enough to fire at the enemy. The Russians learned this the hard way at the Battle of Grozny in the first Chechen War. However, given that the M42 was designed as an anti-aircraft gun, it would have no problem elevating its cannons to shoot back at soldiers firing on it from rooftops.

Editor's response: All well and good, but try standing up out in the open to load the guns. Enemy snipers would have a field day picking off the crews. The guys that went into Hue during Tet would have something to add to the discussion.

BRICKMANIA NEWS

Here is the cover of the Brickmania book with construction plans for several Vietnam era kits including the M42A1 Duster. I do not have any news about any new ADA kits being reissued in the near future.

Brickmania has opened a new store in the Washington DC area in Chantilly, VA. If you are in the area stop in a see my NDQSA kits that are on display.

Veteran's Day 2019

The weather was perfect in Washington DC for the event. Attendees at The Wall today were NDQSA President Bob Cuce; Vice President - Paul Kopsick; Director - Bruce Geiger; and members - Al Hansen; Paul Peters; Richard Burmood; Ray Villaneuva; Rich Liebendorfer and Barry Willever. Nancy Smoyer was a Donut Dolly and volunteers each year at The Wall.

Barry Willever was met by a new veteran that was on a 'Freedom Flight' from Utah, Dennis Andrus who saw Barry's NDQSA Hat and Quad-50 Jacket and introduced himself. The typical statement of most new contacts is: "I never knew you guys existed!"...well welcome to NDQSA Dennis.

VVMF works with the Department of Defense to make sure The Wall is accurate. Names are added for those service members who have met the Department of Defense criteria for addition to The Wall, having sustained wounds in Vietnam from which they eventually perished. No new names were added to The Wall this year.

Beside each name on The Wall is a symbol designating status. The diamond symbol denotes that the service member is known dead or presumed dead. The cross symbol denotes that a service member was missing or prisoner status when The Wall was built in 1982 and remain unaccounted for today. When a service member is repatriated, the diamond is superimposed over the cross. In 2018, nine service members were repatriated and those service members will be officially welcomed home at the ceremony.

These nine service members were repatriated in 2018:

- Richard A. Kibbey; COL; USAF; Delmar, NY; Panel 14E, Line 129
- Larry R. Kilpatrick; LCDR; USN; Stone Mountain, Georgia; Panel 1W, Line 45
- Marshall F. Kipina; SSGT; USA; Calumet, Mich.; Panel 9E, Line 20
- Richard C. Lannom; LT; USN; Union City, Tenn.; Panel 42E, Line 19

4/60th ADA TO BE REACTIVATED IN 2020-ish

We have preliminary information that the last of the three former M42 Duster Battalions deactivated in December 1971 will be reactivated in 2020 or 2021.

Note: everything is subject to change.

Luke Clark (H-4/60 '71) has been very visible in lobbying for the battalion when visiting at Ft. Sill.

Subject: Re: 4/60th Activation ?

Talked with the folks at Ft Sill. The 4/60 will be activated on 4 October 2020 at Ft Sill. I informed them that many of us old 4/60 troops wanted to be a part of the activation activities.

This will be a Shorad unit with a lot of fire power. Weapon systems include Stingers and 30mm garland cannon and and Hell fire missile backed up by a 7.62 machine gun.

Luke Clark

Also;

from Dennis Ruth (E-41 Quads '70-71) on a conversation with David Christenson at Ft. Sill.

“The upshot was the he confirmed that 4th/60th will be reactivated and is the next in line. The precise weapon system is not yet fixed and the reactivation date, currently projected for Sep/Oct 2021 could be moved up, depending on some DA-level funding discussions/decisions that are projected to be held mid Dec 2019. He promised to keep us informed.”

HERALDIC ITEMS

COAT OF ARMS 60th ADA

Shield: Per fess embattled sable and gules fimbriated or a pile in bend of the third the lower portion obscured by the second tincture, in sinister chief a mullet of the third. (I have no idea what this sentence says!)

Crest: On a wreath of the colors, or and sable, a carabao skull sable horned or.

Motto: Coelis Imperamus
(We Rule the Heavens).

Symbolism: The shield is divided horizontally, the dividing line embattled to represent defense. The lower half of the shield is red for artillery; the upper half black and gold significant of service in the Orient. A searchlight beam symbolizes the never-ending vigilance the organization exercises in searching for enemy aircraft. The star has a double significance. It is symbolic of Texas, the Lone Star State, where the unit was reorganized after World War I, and its battleground in the sky.

The carabao horns are symbolic of service in the Philippine Islands. (Note: Ironically, the carabao looks like the typical water buffalo found in Vietnam. Ha!)

4th BATTALION, 60th AIR DEFENSE ARTILLERY RA (Inactive)

Constituted 1 July 1924 in the Regular Army as Battery F, 60th Coast Artillery. Activated 1 April 1929 at Fort Mills, Philippine Islands. Surrendered 6 May 1942 to the Japanese forces on Corregidor Island, Philippine Islands. Inactivated 2 April 1946 at Fort Mills, Philippine Islands.

Many of you have already paid for multiple years, so look carefully at the mailing label for the year which shows when you are paid up through. (2019 or beyond)

However, if you see the number 0000 or 2019 and below, we have not seen a dues payment from you in a while. If you can't afford the dues, we fully understand so do not worry about it. We only ask that you update your status and verify your contact information, phone numbers and email address. Just mail in the info using the multipurpose form or send an email.

Current rosters are printed out when your form is submitted and will contain the most up to date information. So please make any updates or changes ASAP!

If you have changed your phone number or email address recently, send an email to Paul Kopsick at dqshistorian@cox.net or leave a message on (202) 262-9560.

To be sure you get the newsletter via email, tell your email program to accept emails from dqshistorian@cox.net.

MISSION STATEMENT

The National Dusters, Quads & Searchlights Association[™] (NDQSA[™]) is the original, official representative for ADA Veterans who served in Vietnam. NDQSA is the only organization of Vietnam ADA Veterans officially recognized by the Air Defense Artillery Association headquarters in Ft. Sill, Oklahoma. As a tribute to the memory of over 200 ADA Warriors who lost their lives during the war in Vietnam, NDQSA members have funded, constructed and dedicated a magnificent monument in the Memorial Park at Ft. Sill.

NDQSA was founded in 1981 by John Huelsenbeck et al, holds annual reunions and has grown to about 600 active members with a directory of over 2200 ADA Vietnam Veterans and supporters.

NDQSA is an IRS 501(c) (19) non-profit veteran's organization and is incorporated in the State of Indiana.

We welcome and encourage all ADA Veterans who served in Vietnam to join NDQSA and to share the fellowship, mutual support, and continued service to our nation on behalf of all military veterans and active duty personnel.
