Business tax basics

This basic tax guide is created to help you understand Washington's tax structure. It's intended to provide an overview of the taxes that apply to various business activities in Washington.

Washington does not have a corporate or personal income tax. Most Washington businesses are subject to three major state taxes, all administered or overseen by the Department of Revenue:

1. Business and occupation tax (B&O)
2. Retail sales tax
3. Use tax

Other taxes may apply to your business, such as:

- Public utility tax
- Specialty taxes
- County and city taxes

Your rights and responsibilities

Your rights as a taxpayer include:

- Written explanations when tax assessments, interest, and penalties are issued.
- Reliable, written advice and reporting instructions provided by the Department specifically to the taxpayer, and to have interest, penalties, and in some instances, tax assessments waived if complying with that information worked against the taxpayer.
- Prompt administrative remedies when tax laws or rules are found to be unconstitutional by the final decision of a court of record.
- Confidentiality of their financial and business information in the Department's possession in accordance with the requirements of RCW 82.32.330.
- Clear and current tax instructions, rules, procedures, forms, and other tax information received upon request.
- Prompt and independent administrative review by the Department of a decision to revoke a tax registration, and to a written determination that either upholds the revocation or reinstates the registration.

Your responsibilities as a taxpayer include:

- Register with the Department of Revenue.
- Know their tax reporting obligations, and to ask the Department for instructions when they are uncertain.
- Keep accurate and complete business records.
- File returns and pay taxes on time.
- Provide accurate information on tax returns.
- Substantiate claims for refund.
- Pay all taxes on time after closing a business, and request cancellation of the registration number.
- Respond to communications from the Department in a timely manner.

Registering with the Department of Revenue

Register if:

- Your business is required to collect retail sales tax
- Your gross income is $12,000 per year or more
- You are a buyer or processor of specialty wood products
- Your business is required to pay any other taxes or fees to the Department of Revenue

Do not register if:

- Your gross income is less than $12,000 per year under both the business and occupation tax and the public utility tax, and you are not required to collect or pay any tax or fee to the Department of Revenue.

Helpful hints

Collecting sales tax, spirits liter tax and spirits sales tax

Set up a separate account for sales tax, spirits liter tax, and spirits sales tax (collected trust funds). Every time you collect these taxes, put the funds in that account. This way, you won't accidentally spend these funds and they'll be available to remit with your return.

Changes to your business information

Contact the Department of Revenue of any changes, including:

- Your address (physical and mailing)
- Update a location address
- Add a new business location
- Close a tax account
- Close a business account

You can update your business license and tax information online. By going to our website at dor.wa.gov, click log in, sign in using your SAW log in. Don't have a SAW account? Click the Sign up link to get started. Need to learn more. Go to our My DOR Help page (dor.wa.gov/myDORHelp). Once you are logged into My DOR, from the home page, click the Accounts tab, under the I Want To... menu you will find options to add a new business location, close a business account, update a location address, click the View More for a full list.

Avoid late payments

- File electronically through our secure electronic filing system (My DOR). For online filing information see page 20.
- Mark your calendar. It is your responsibility to ensure your excise tax return is postmarked or filed electronically by the due date.
Tip: You can sign up for email notifications using our Listserv, dor.wa.gov/listserv. Our Listserv will automatically send an email reminder of your filing deadlines.

Granting access to your account

Only registered individuals on a business' account are allowed to see confidential tax information. If you choose to hire a representative, such as a bookkeeper or attorney, and give that person access to your information kept by the Department of Revenue, you and your representative must fill out a Confidential Tax Information Authorization, dor.wa.gov/CTIA and submit it to us.

Business and occupation (B&O) tax

The state business and occupation (B&O) tax is a gross receipts tax measured on the value of products, gross proceeds of sales, or gross income of your business. The B&O tax is part of a business' operating overhead and is levied upon the person or company engaged in the business activity. It is not imposed on the purchaser or customer, like sales tax. Almost all businesses located or doing business in Washington are subject to the B&O tax, including corporations, LLCs, partnerships, sole proprietors, and nonprofit corporations.

The B&O tax is due on gross income from business conducted in Washington. No deductions are allowed for labor, materials, taxes, or other costs of doing business. Your business may qualify for certain exemptions, deductions, or credits.

Unlike the sales tax, a sale does not have to occur for a business to owe B&O tax. For example, if you extract or manufacture goods for your own use, you owe B&O tax.

The B&O tax rate is based on the type of business activity. Your business can have multiple activities (classifications). You are responsible for determining which classification(s) to report your income under. Contact us if you are unsure of the classification(s) you need to report under.

In addition to the major B&O tax classifications, there are several specific classifications. Some have the same rate as the general classifications, but are reported on different lines on the return. Others have their own unique tax rates.

For a list of B&O tax classifications, visit dor.wa.gov and click on Find Taxes and Rates. You can also view them in My DOR.

B&O tax rates

The most common classifications are:

Retailing	0.471 percent
Wholesaling	0.484 percent
Manufacturing	0.484 percent
Service and other activities	1.5 percent

Major B&O tax classifications

There are nearly 40 B&O tax classifications for business activities. Following are brief descriptions of four major classifications. You may also refer to the common business activities table on page 41.

Retailing

Businesses that sell goods and certain services to consumers are retailers. Taxable retail services include:

1. Improving real or personal property, such as:

- Custom construction
- Repairs to real or personal property

2. Certain personal services, such as:

- Tanning
- Use of athletic and fitness facilities
- Recreational services
- Tattooing

3. Specialized activities, such as:

- Lawn mowing, tree and shrub pruning, and trimming
- Escrow services
- Renting equipment with operators
- Extended warranties

Businesses making retail sales are subject to the retailing B&O tax, even when the sales are not subject to sales tax. For example, certain food products are exempt from sales tax, but the income from food sales is taxable under the retailing B&O tax.

Wholesaling

Wholesalers sell goods and services to businesses who will resell them to others in the regular course of business. The B&O tax is calculated on the wholesale selling price. If you are a wholesaler, you must keep a reseller permit or other approved exemption certificate on file from each buyer to document the transaction as a wholesale sale. Do not send reseller permits to the Department of Revenue.

Retail sales tax is not collected on wholesale transactions. Reseller permits are good as long as the buyer and seller do business with each other once every 12 months. A sample of a reseller permit is on page 32. For more information, see page 9 or visit dor.wa.gov/resellerpermit.

Nexus standard for retail and wholesale sales

The test for determining whether an out-of-state business is subject to Washington's business and occupation (B&O) tax changed July 1, 2017. The change extends Washington's economic nexus standard to businesses engaging in retailing and/or wholesaling activities. As a result, a business engaged in retailing and/or wholesaling activities has nexus with Washington state either by having a physical presence in this state or by exceeding an economic nexus threshold. (HB 2163, Chapter 28, Laws of 2017, 3rd Special Session, Part III)

Out-of-state businesses making retail sales into Washington will be subject to retailing B&O tax if they meet any of the following thresholds in the current year or the previous year:

- More than $285,000 of gross receipts sourced to Washington
- At least 25% of total receipts sourced to Washington

Out-of-state businesses making wholesale sales into Washington will be subject to wholesaling B&O tax if they meet any of the following thresholds in the current year or the previous year:

- More than $285,000 of gross receipts sourced to Washington
- More than $57,000 of payroll in Washington
- More than $57,000 of property in Washington
- At least 25% of total receipts sourced to Washington

Meeting either one of these thresholds establishes nexus even if the out-of-state business has no physical presence in Washington. In determining whether the business has exceeded the receipts threshold, retailing income is included along with income taxable under the wholesaling, service and other activities, or royalties B&O tax classifications.

Manufacturing

The manufacturing B&O tax is paid by firms manufacturing items in Washington. Manufactured products used by the manufacturer, but not sold or used prior to sale, also are subject to this tax. The manufacturing B&O tax is based on the value of the products, usually determined by the selling price. In cases when there is no sale, the value is the selling price of similar products.

The producer must also report under the wholesaling or retailing B&O tax. However, because of the multiple activities tax credit, only one tax is due. A multiple activities tax credit (Schedule C) must be completed to claim the credit. See page 31.

Service and other activities

This classification is for businesses that provide personal and professional services. Any business not described under a particular classification of the B&O tax must report under this catch all category. Types of businesses and services that fall under this category include:

- |                                      |             |
|--------------------------------------|-------------|
| Consulting services                  | Lawyers     |
| Management services                  | Beauticians |
|                                      | Tutors      |
| Doctors                              | Janitors    |
| Gambling (less than $50,000 a year) |             |

If you need help figuring out your business classification, call 360-705-6705.

Economic nexus

Washington has an economic nexus standard for businesses that report under apportionable B&O tax classifications. For these classifications, your business doesn't need a physical presence to have nexus and be subject to Washington tax.

Apportionable income is earned from engaging in the following activities:

- Wholesaling (beginning September 1, 2015)
- Service and other activities
- Royalties
- Travel agents and tour operators
- International steamship agent, customs house broker, freight forwarder, vessel and/or cargo charter broker in foreign commerce, and/or air cargo agent
- Stevedoring and associated activities
- Disposing of low-level waste
- Insurance producers, title insurance agents, or surplus line brokers
- Public or nonprofit hospitals
- Real estate brokers

- Research and development performed by nonprofit corporations or associations
- Inspecting, testing, labeling, and storing canned salmon owned by another person
- Representing and performing services for fire or casualty insurance companies as an independent resident managing general agent licensed under RCW 48.17 RCW
- Contests of chance
- Horse races
- International investment management services
- Aerospace product development
- Printing or publishing a newspaper (but only with respect to advertising income)
- Printing materials other than newspapers and publishing periodicals or magazines (but only with respect to advertising income)
- Cleaning up radioactive waste and other by-products of weapons production and nuclear research and development, but only with respect to activities that would be taxable as an apportionable activity if this special tax classification did not exist

If your business earns income from an apportionable B&O classification in another state or country and meets one of the following thresholds within the prior calendar year, you are eligible to apportion your income attributable to that state or country away from Washington.

- Pay business activities tax in the other state or country
- Have more than $57,000 of payroll in the other state or country
- Have more than $57,000 of property in the other state or country
- Have more than $285,000 of gross income in the other state or country
- Have at least 25 percent of your total property, payroll, or income in the other state

For periods before September 1, 2015: The timeframe for determining whether a business exceeds the economic nexus thresholds is the current tax year.

If you are eligible to apportion your income, it may reduce the amount of Washington tax you owe. Businesses that apportion their income must file an annual reconciliation form by October 31 of the following year.

More information and a video tutorial are available at dor.wa.gov/economicnexus.

Exemptions, deductions and credits

Although Washington's B&O tax applies to most business income, some exemptions, deductions, and credits are available.

Exemptions

These four activities are exempt and are not subject to B&O tax. There is no need to report these activities to the Department of Revenue on your excise tax return.

If your type of business, business income, or business activities are listed below as exempt, and you do not owe or collect any other taxes for the Department of Revenue, you do not need to register with us.

Nonprofit and social service organizations

In Washington, nonprofit organizations are subject to tax like any for-profit business, but the organization may qualify for exemptions or deductions. Qualifying activities include:

- Fundraising activities by qualified nonprofit organizations. This does not include the regular operation of a business enterprise such as a bookstore, thrift shop, or restaurant.
- Auctions conducted by public benefit organizations
- Child care provided by churches and child care resource and referral income

Government

- County, city, school, and fire district income, except utility or enterprise operations in competition with other businesses, which are more than 50 percent funded by user fees
- State and federal grants received by political subdivisions when no significant services are performed in return
- Labor and services in preparing sand and gravel taken from pits that are owned or leased by a city or county, and used by the city or county for road construction and repair

- Printing done by cities, counties, and school districts for their own purposes

Financial

- International banking facilities
- Federally chartered credit unions

Farming

Certain farming activities are exempt from B&O tax. Some examples are:

- Farmers making wholesale sales of agricultural products produced by them, on land owned or leased by them
- Raising and selling plantation Christmas trees at wholesale
- Processing hops into extract, pellets, or powder sold to out-of-state buyers

For more information, see our Agricultural Tax Guide at dor.wa.gov/farmers

Deductions

Six common B&O deductions are listed below. Deductions for one B&O tax classification might not apply to another. A complete list of deductions and deduction definitions can be found at dor.wa.gov under Find taxes & rates.

Deductions must be included in your gross income, then subtracted as deductions.

1. Bad debts: Previously reported income not received—written off in your accrual-based account books for federal income tax purposes (WAC 458-20-196).
Applies to all classifications.
2. Cash and trade discounts: The amount of bona fide discounts from the selling price that are included in the gross amount reported (WAC 458-20-108).
Applies to all classifications.
3. Interstate and foreign sales: Amounts received for items delivered by the seller or by a common carrier to out-of-state locations are deductible. Also applies to apportionable income as described on page 5 under Economic nexus (WAC 458-20-193).
Applies to selling and services classifications. Does not apply to manufacturing, processing, or extracting classifications.

4. Returns and allowances: When the buyer returns items purchased and the entire selling price is refunded or credited, the seller may deduct the selling price previously reported. (WAC 458-20-108)
Applies to all classifications.

5. Freight on out-of-state deliveries: Manufacturers, processors, and extractors may take a deduction for actual transportation costs from the point of origin in Washington to the point of delivery outside Washington (WAC 458-20-112).
Applies to manufacturing, processing for hire, and extracting classifications.

6. Casual sales: A casual sale is a sale of tangible personal property by a person who is not engaged in the business of selling the type of property involved.

B&O tax does not apply to casual sales. The amount of the sale must be reported under retailing B&O tax, but a deduction may be taken on the deduction detail sheet.

However, the retail sales tax must be collected on all casual sales made by a person engaging in a business activity.

Example: A dealership is upgrading its computer system and sells an old computer to an employee. The dealer is not in the business of selling computers, so no B&O tax is due, but the dealer must charge sales tax on the selling price of the computer (WAC 458-20-106).

Deductions not allowed

Businesses are not allowed to deduct any costs for doing business. For most businesses, this generally includes:

- Gasoline or other fuel purchases
- Wages and salaries
- Product costs
- Delivery costs (freight), except for those described under Freight on out-of-state deliveries
- Surcharges

Credits

Credits exist for specific purposes, reducing the B&O tax liability, and in turn, your tax payment. Examples of credits include:

- Small business B&O tax credit
- International services tax credit
- Rural county B&O tax credit
- Multiple activities tax credit (MATC)
- Commute trip reduction credit program

Credits are also issued when you overpay your taxes in a reporting period.

Local B&O tax

In addition to the state B&O tax, many cities also tax businesses on their gross income. There is no connection between the state and local B&O taxes. To find out if your city has a B&O tax, call your city's business license office.

Reseller permit

Businesses buying goods or services for resale must use a reseller permit or other approved exemption certificate to make purchases without paying sales tax.

A sample reseller permit is printed on page 32.

Reseller permits may be used to buy:

- Merchandise and inventory for resale without the buyer using it first
- Ingredients, components, or chemicals used in processing new products for sale
- Feed, seed, seedlings, fertilizer, and spray materials if you are a farmer
- Materials and contract labor for retail/wholesale construction
- Items for dual purposes

Reseller permits may not be used to buy:

- Items for personal or household use
- Items used in a business that are not resold, these include office supplies and equipment
- Promotional items or gifts
- Tools, equipment, or equipment rentals
- Materials and contract labor for public road construction, federal government contracting, or speculative building

Verify customers' reseller permits are valid

We recommend verifying your reseller permit information at least once per year.

- For a single permit, use our Business Lookup at dor.wa.gov/businesslookup and print a copy for your records.
- For multiple records, use our Reseller Permit Verification Service at dor.wa.gov/ResellerPermitVerificationService.
- Keep the confirmation codes for your records.

Misuse of a reseller permit

Misusing a reseller permit can result in substantial penalties for the buyer, including revocation of the permit. The Department of Revenue examines purchases made with reseller permits to verify they were used appropriately.

Anyone found misusing a permit will owe the tax due plus a 50 percent penalty, even if no fraud was intended. The permit may be revoked as well.

Other certificates

Buyers may also use specific exemption certificates to make purchases without paying sales tax. These may include:

- Streamlined sales tax exemption certificate
- Multi-state tax exemption certificate
- Farmers' certificate for wholesale purchases and sales tax exemptions

Find information about these exemption certificates at dor.wa.gov/resellerpermit.

The Department of Revenue routinely verifies purchases made with reseller permits. Sellers are not responsible for uncollected sales tax if they have record of a permit or other valid exemption certificate to support a sale.

How to apply

Apply for a reseller permit through My DOR at dor.wa.gov

Tax paid at source

If you don't have a reseller permit, you can claim a taxable amount for tax paid at source deduction on your return or request a refund from the Department of Revenue. For more information, see Deductions on page 11.

Special rules for contractors

Most retail and manufacturing businesses are automatically issued reseller permits. Permits are generally valid for four years and are automatically renewed.

Construction businesses will not be automatically issued a permit. They must apply and provide detailed information about material and labor purchases. Construction business reseller permits are valid for 24 months. The Department of Revenue will notify businesses by mail prior to expiration if a permit will not be automatically renewed.

Retail sales tax

The retail sales tax, often referred to simply as "sales tax," is Washington's largest tax source. Local sales tax is the second-largest revenue generator for local governments, behind property tax.

All sales tax amounts collected from customers are considered trust funds of the state. These amounts are to be held by the retailer until remitted to the Department of Revenue.

Definition of a retail sale

Unless specifically exempt by law, a retail sale is every sale of tangible personal property and digital products, including articles produced, fabricated, or imprinted. It also includes sales of services, such as installing, repairing, cleaning, altering, improving, constructing, and/or decorating real or personal property of or for consumers.

Certain services are specifically defined in the law to be retail sales, such as charges for transient lodging, automobile parking, title, and escrow services, touring services, extended warranties, and use of athletic or physical fitness facilities.

Collecting and reporting sales tax

Retail sales tax applies to the selling price of taxable transactions and must be separately stated on the bill to the customer. The selling price includes shipping and delivery charges. The advertised price may include the amount of tax, if so indicated in an advertisement.

Local sales tax charts are available online or by calling 360-705-6705. The charts show combined state and local taxes for each selling price. Sellers must use the correct tax rate and location code for each location where sales are made. See page 11 for a list of online tools.

Tax liability must be reported for all sales made during the reporting period on either the accrual or cash receipts basis of accounting. Sellers are personally liable for remitting the correct amount of sales tax, even if they did not collect the proper amount, or any, from the purchaser.

All amounts collected are legally considered trust funds of the state. Any excess sales tax collected from the customer must be paid to the Department of Revenue unless the over-collected amount is refunded to the customer.

Distribution of sales tax

Retail sales tax is used by the government entity that imposes the tax. The state tax is deposited in the state general fund, while city and county taxes are returned to the local governments. The city and county governments use these taxes for general expenditures. The Regional Transit Authority tax is used to operate local transportation systems. Revenues are returned to taxing districts based on the location of the sale.

Sales tax rates

The state retail sales tax rate is 6.5 percent. Local retail sales tax, ranging from 0.5 to 4 percent, is collected by retailers along with the state tax. The local tax may contain four elements:

1. The basic 0.5 percent city/county tax is effective in all areas of the state.
2. An optional city/county tax, of up to an additional 0.5 percent, is used by a majority of counties and all but a few cities.
3. A retail sales and use tax for the support of local transit systems of up to 0.8 percent.
4. A 0.1 percent tax for criminal justice programs, which certain counties may impose with voter approval.

Registration thresholds for out-of-state businesses making sales to Washington customers

Effective Oct. 1, 2018, out-of-state businesses without physical presence and more than $100,000 in annual gross retail sales to customers in Washington must register their business and collect and submit Washington retail sales tax.

Visit dor.wa.gov/marketplacefairness for more information.

Other taxes collected

In addition to retail sales tax, certain retail sales may require the seller to collect the following:

- Regional Transit Authority (RTA) is a 0.9 percent tax collected on sales made in parts of King, Pierce, and Snohomish counties.
- Motor vehicle sales/leases tax is a 0.3 percent tax that applies to sales, leases, and transfers of motor vehicles (including trucks and motorhomes) licensed for on-road use. This tax does not apply to retail car rentals that are subject to the rental car tax.

For information on other specialized taxes, see Special taxes and fees on page 15.

Local coding of retail sales

Retailers must report the total sales by location code for each place of sale so local sales tax revenues are accurately distributed to cities and counties.

Sales of goods and merchandise are coded to the location where the customer receives the goods or services. For most retailers, this is the location of his or her place of business. But when an item is shipped or delivered, the sale is coded to the location where it is received by the customer; that might be a customer's home address, work address, construction site or wherever the buyer takes possession of the item.

Labor and services are coded according to where they are primarily performed. If an installation charge is normally added to the cost of an item, the entire charge for that item is coded to the site where it is installed.

If goods are delivered into Washington from outside the state, the delivery address determines the place of sale for collecting sales tax. Certain sales are excluded from destination sourcing, such as automobiles, boats, planes and florists (WAC 458-20-145).

Rental of tangible personal property

Local sales tax on the lease or rental of tangible personal property depends upon whether the lease/rental involves periodic payments.

Single payment

If a single payment is made and the lessee picks up the equipment at the location of the rental company, then the location of the rental company determines the sales tax rate and location code.

Periodic payments

If the item is rented or leased for a length of time and periodic payments are made, the first payment is coded to the location where the lessee receives the equipment, normally the location of the rental company. All subsequent payments are coded to the location where the equipment is primarily located or garaged (WAC 458-20-145).

Tools to determine sales tax rates and codes

To help businesses assign the correct tax rates we have listed a number of tools available:

- Local sales & use tax rates and changes flyer, on dor.wa.gov, under Find Taxes and Rates.
- Tax rate lookup, searches according to the address, map, or latitude/longitude.
- An app for iOS and Android devices, free from the Apple App Store or Google Play.
- Real-time web service interface, downloadable databases.
- Excel workbook, and a customer database conversion service that matches location codes to your customers' addresses. Visit dor.wa.gov/salesandusetaxtools for more information.

Retail sales tax deductions

The following retail sales tax deductions must be included in your gross income on the excise tax return and then subtracted as a deduction:

Bad debts

Deductible when written off in account books (i.e. deductible for federal income tax purposes) and reported on a previous tax return.

Interstate and foreign sales

Shipped by common carrier or delivered by seller outside Washington (WAC 458-20-193).

Sales to the U.S. government

Use tax

Many people don't realize there are Washington tax obligations for goods purchased or acquired when sales tax was not paid. For instance, even though you don't pay sales tax when you shop in Oregon, your purchases are subject to use tax when you bring them into Washington.

Washington citizens also owe use tax in this state when they purchase items in other states that have a sales tax rate lower than Washington's.

Use, used, and put to use are defined as the first act within Washington which the person takes or assumes control of the article (RCW 82.12.010).

The definition applies to tangible personal property, extended warranties, digital goods, digital codes, digital automated services, and some services (RCW 82.04.050(2)(a), (9), (6)(b)).

Unpaid use tax costs state and local governments millions of dollars in revenues each year.

There are many instances when Washington's sales tax is not paid on purchases. In most of these situations, use tax is due. Unless specifically exempted, goods used in this state are subject to either sales tax or use tax, but not both. The tax applies regardless of where, or from whom, the property is purchased.

Here are some situations when use tax is due:

- Goods purchased from out of state by subscription, through the Internet, or from a mail order catalog company when the company doesn't collect Washington sales or use tax.
- Goods purchased from someone not required to collect sales tax. For example, when you purchase furniture or appliances from an individual through a newspaper classified ad or a garage sale.
- Personal property acquired with the purchase of real property. Machinery and equipment used in a manufacturing process may qualify for the Manufacturers' Sales/Use Tax Exemption.

Taxable amount and rates

The use tax rates are the same as the sales tax rates and can be found at dor.wa.gov.

Use tax, unlike sales tax, is due at the rate applicable to the location where you first use the article, not where the sale takes place. The state portion of the tax is 6.5 percent, with local governments imposing their own additional use tax. Depending on the rate of local tax, the combined use tax rates vary.

Use tax is figured on the value of the goods when first used in Washington, which is generally the purchase price. Fair market value may be used if the goods are used outside the state for a lengthy period of time before being used in Washington by the same person.

The value of the goods includes shipping and delivery charges.

Property used in a trade or business

Use tax is due when goods are purchased for consumption or used by a business and sales tax has not been paid. Some examples of goods purchased without sales/use tax is due include:

- Supplies, fixtures, and equipment purchased from an out-of-state vendor
- Supplies, fixtures, and equipment acquired when an existing business is purchased
- Promotional items, such as hats, T-shirts, matches, calendars, and other items given to customers or other individuals
- Magazine subscriptions
- Advertising or promotional materials printed out of state and distributed in Washington
- Parts installed and labor performed on tangible personal property repaired out of state
- Materials installed when performing federal government, city/county housing authority, or public road construction contracts
- Equipment loaned to a contractor on which sales tax was not previously paid
- Articles withdrawn from inventory and used by the business
- Items leased from out of state companies
- Gifts received (if donor has not paid sales tax)
- Prizes (limited use tax exemption on prizes or purchases from contests of chance that are part of a qualifying fundraising activity (RCW 82.12.225)).

- Articles manufactured by the business for its own use. If the articles are machinery and equipment used directly in a manufacturing operation, they may be exempt from the sales/use tax through the Manufacturers' Sales/Use Tax Exemption.

Trade-ins

If you purchase goods in another state and trade in a like-kind item to reduce the amount you pay for the goods, use tax is due on the amount after the value of the trade-in is subtracted. For example, you purchase a car in another state for $5,000. The dealer accepts your current car as a trade-in for $2,000. Therefore, you owe Washington use tax on $3,000 at the rate in effect where you garage the car (normally your residence).

If the dealer gives you $2,000 cash instead of subtracting that amount from the new car price, you have not traded-in your vehicle and use tax is due on the full $5,000 price of the new vehicle.

Use tax exemption and credit

Exemption

Residents of another state who move to Washington are exempt from the use tax on their household goods, personal effects, and private motor vehicles, if they acquired the property more than 90 days prior to the move.

For this exemption, boats, motorhomes, trailers, and other recreational vehicles don't qualify as private motor vehicles or personal effects and are subject to use tax. A credit, in the amount of sales/use tax that was previously paid on the non-exempt item, can be used to offset the amount of Washington use tax owed. Proof of previously paid sales/use tax must be provided.

When items are donated to nonprofit, charitable organizations, local governments, and the state, the use tax isn't due, even if the donor didn't originally pay sales or use tax on the item. The donor is also exempt from the use tax as long as there was no intervening use of the item prior to the donation.

Credit

When you bring goods into Washington that you purchased in another state and paid sales tax at the time of the purchase, you can receive a credit for this tax by subtracting the amount of sales or use tax paid from the amount you owe. However, you must have proof that the tax was actually paid to the other state prior to use of the property in Washington.

See WAC 458-20-178 or RCW 82.12 for more information.

Report and pay use tax

Registered businesses must report use tax under the use tax section of the excise tax return. Individuals must report use tax to the Department of Revenue on the consumer use tax return.

Under state law, the use tax is due when the goods are first used in Washington (see page 12). For example, if you purchase a new computer while traveling in Oregon, use tax is due when you return to Washington.

Public utility tax

The public utility tax applies if you engage in any of the following activities in Washington (RCW 82.16). If the public utility tax applies, B&O tax does not.

- Water distribution: operation of a plant or system for the distribution of water for hire or sale
- Sewer collection: collection of sewerage
- Power: operating a plant or system for generating, producing, or distributing of electrical energy for hire or sale
- Gas distribution: operating a plant or system for the producing or distributing, for hire or sale, of natural and/or manufactured gas
- Motor transportation: operating any motor propelled vehicle which persons or property of others are moved for hire (except when transportation business).
- Urban transportation: operating any motor propelled vehicle by which persons or property of others are moved for hire when:
  - operated entirely within the corporate limits of any city or town or within five miles of the corporate limits of any city or town.
  - operated entirely within or between cities or towns whose corporate limits are not more than five miles apart or are within five miles of each other.
- Railroad, Railroad car:
  - Railroad: operating any railroad or carrying property for public hire on the line of any common carrier operated in Washington.
  - Railroad car: rental, lease, or operation of cars used for transportation of property or persons upon the line of any railroad operated in Washington when the railroad isn't owned or leased by the person engaging in such business.
- Log transportation: the business of transporting logs by truck, except when the transportation:
  - meets the definition of urban transportation, or
  - occurs only on private roads, effective August 1, 2015

Income from transporting logs on private roads is subject to the service and other activities B&O tax (WAC 458-20-179, 180, Trucking Tax Guide).

Public utility tax income exemption

Public utility businesses earning gross revenues under these amounts must report, but do not owe the tax:

Monthly	$2,000
Quarterly	$6,000
Annually	$24,000

Transient rental income

Businesses providing lodging for less than 30 days must report transient rental income. Lodging businesses include hotels, motels, bed and breakfasts, vacation rentals, trailer camps, RV parks, and tent campgrounds. Reporting this income allows cities and counties to receive a distribution from the state portion of the retail sales tax. It is not an additional tax.

Tourism promotion area (TPA) charges

These charges may apply to lodging businesses in participating cities or counties. Different zone rates may apply. For information, please see the Lodging Special Notice for your county, available at dor.wa.gov.

Public entities that lease property to lessees or tenants of a community center collect the tax based on the rent paid for the property and report to the Department of Revenue quarterly on a Leasehold Excise Tax Return. The rate is 12.84 percent of the rent paid for the property.

Oil spill response tax and oil spill administration tax

Tax imposed on the person who owns crude oil or petroleum products at a marine terminal in Washington from a waterborne vessel or barge operating on the navigable waters of Washington.

Beginning July 1, 2015, the tax is extended to owners of crude oil or petroleum products received into the storage tanks of a bulk oil terminal from a tank car (transported by rail).

The oil spill tax has two components:

- Oil spill administration tax: four cents per barrel
- Oil spill response tax: one-cent per barrel (suspended when account balance exceeds $9 million)

Spirits (hard liquor) taxes

Washington has two spirits taxes: the liter tax and the sales tax.

If you sell spirits, collect the taxes from your customer and remit it to the Department of Revenue on your excise tax return monthly using e-file. If you have a waiver to file a paper return, report the sales on the Spirits Sales Tax Addendum.

“Spirits” means any beverage containing alcohol obtained by distillation, including wines with more than 24 percent alcohol by volume.

Spirit liter tax

A tax on the sales of spirits in the original container and is based on the volume sold.

The tax rate for consumers is $3.7708 per liter. The tax rate for on-premises retailers such as restaurants, bars, etc., is $2.4408 per liter.

Spirits sales tax

A tax on the selling price of spirits in their original container.

The tax rate for sales to consumers is 20.5 percent. The tax rate for on-premises retailers such as restaurants, bars, etc., is 13.7 percent.

Personal property tax

Most people know that property tax applies to real property, such as land and improvements to land. Property tax also applies to personal property used in conducting business, when not exempt by law.

The chief characteristic distinguishing personal property from real property is mobility. Personal property includes machinery, equipment, furniture, and supplies. It doesn't include business inventories.

Administration

County assessors and treasurers administer the property tax in Washington. Assessors value property at 100 percent of its true and fair value and treasurers collect the property tax. The Department of Revenue advises assessors and treasurers, and oversees the valuation and taxation of property across the state to ensure uniformity.

Personal property tax listing form

By April 30 of each year, property owners must complete and file a Personal Property Listing Form with the county assessor. Forms are available at your county assessor's office. Each Personal Property Listing Form must list all taxable property located in the county that was owned on January 1 of that year. For multiple locations, property owners must file a separate listing for each location.

Penalty for failure to file

Property owners who do not file a listing of personal property by April 30 are subject to an estimated tax assessment by the assessor. A penalty of 5 percent of the tax will be added for each month after the deadline the listing is filed. The maximum penalty is 25 percent of the tax.

For more information

A personal property tax fact sheet is available at dor.wa.gov. Specific questions should be directed to your county assessor. Questions about property tax statements should be sent to your county treasurer.

Tax return payment and reporting

Accounting methods

Unless you keep your books on a cash basis, taxes must be paid for all sales made during the reporting period, even if you have not received payment.

Paying your taxes

Your state B&O tax is reported on the excise tax return. Businesses file tax returns either monthly, quarterly, or annually. After registering your business, we will determine your reporting frequency based on your estimated gross income and your type of business.

If you don't conduct any business or don't owe tax, you are still responsible for filing a no business return.

Due dates

Monthly filers

The 25th day of the month following the reporting period

Monthly filers must file and pay taxes electronically

Quarterly filers

Last day of the month following the reporting period

If taxes have been overpaid, a refund will be issued or a credit will be applied to your future taxes. The Department of Revenue can only honor refunds for taxes paid dating back four calendar years before the year the refund request is made (WAC 458-20-229).

You may amend your return:

- 29 percent after the last day of the second month following the due date, and anything after.

Filing extensions can be requested and penalties may be waived under limited circumstances.

Audit process

As a registered business you may be selected for an audit. Audits are routine procedures used to determine whether state excise taxes (B&O, sales, public utility, etc.) have been reported and paid correctly. The majority of businesses we audit are chosen at random using statistical methods.

In general, your records will be reviewed to verify proper tax reporting. Where appropriate, you will also receive helpful instructions and information on how to fill out returns in the future. We are committed to working with you in a professional and cooperative manner.

Audit procedures and programs may include:

- Obtaining electronic files of the accounting records for the audit period.
- Random, non-statistical sampling of specific audit areas.
- Computer-assisted audits using a statistical sampling technique. These are primarily used for large businesses.

What to expect during an audit

Audits normally cover the four preceding calendar years, plus the current year through the end of the last calendar quarter. All taxes, deductions, and exemptions reported on your excise tax return will be reviewed.

An audit of your business activities will cover several major areas, including:

1. Gross Income: verification of proper amounts and classifications reported on the return.
2. Deductions, credits and exemptions: verification of proper amounts, classifications, and documentation.
3. Purchases: verification of retail sales or use tax paid on capital assets, consumable supplies, or articles manufactured for your own use.

Recordkeeping requirements

To minimize inconvenience and the time it takes to complete an audit, you will be asked to have records available for the audit period for your meeting with the auditor, these include:

- State excise tax return and work papers
- Federal income tax return for the business

- Summary accounting records and source journals such as the check register, general ledger, sales journal, general journal, cash receipts journal, and any other records you use to record income and expenses
- Sales invoices
- Purchase invoices (accounts payable, receipts)
- Depreciation schedules listing all assets acquired or disposed of during the audit period along with purchase or sales invoices for those assets
- Reseller permits for any wholesale sales
- Supporting documentation for all deductions and exemptions

You have the right to appeal when you disagree with an assessment issued by the Department of Revenue.

Taxpayers who disagree with an assessment may ask for a supervisory conference before the assessment is issued. For example, when your business records are audited, the auditor will meet with you to discuss the results. If you disagree with those results, you can have a conference with the auditor's supervisor.

If the differences can't be resolved at the supervisory level, you can file a petition for review with the Department of Revenue's Admin Review and Hearings Division.

Appeals process

You must file an appeal before the due date or extension date of the assessment.

After the due date, you must:

- Pay the assessment
- File a petition for review requesting a refund within four years of the close of the tax year in which taxes were paid

Example: If you paid tax in June 2015, you have until December 31, 2019, to petition for a refund.

Appeals must be mailed to:

Admin Review and Hearings Division
Washington State Department of Revenue
PO Box 47460
Olympia, Washington 98504-7460

For more information
