Dishes like mee goreng and nasi lemak are meals in one, but Malaysian food are generally for sharing, to be eaten and enjoyed with friends as a relaxing repast with good conversation. We recommend satay as a shared starter followed by individual plates of rice eaten together with any combination of our chicken, seafood or beef and vegetable dishes which our staff will be happy to recommend.

IMPORTANT NOTICE REGARDING FOOD ALLERGIES

“All of our food may contain allergens including

WHEAT, EGGS, PEANUTS, TREE NUTS, and MILK.
