Veterans Treatment Courts

Veterans Treatment Court Grants fund Veterans Treatment Courts established under Texas Government Code §124.001-.006.

As defined in Texas Government Code § 124.001, a Veterans Treatment Court is a program that has the following essential characteristics:

- » The integration of services in the processing of cases in the judicial system;
- » The use of a non-adversarial approach involving prosecutors and defense attorneys to promote public safety and to protect the due process rights of program participants;
- » Early identification and prompt placement of eligible participants in the program;
- » Access to a continuum of alcohol, controlled substances, mental health, and other related treatment and rehabilitative services;
- » Careful monitoring of treatment and services provided to program participants;
- » A coordinated strategy to govern program responses to participants' compliance;
- » Ongoing judicial interaction with program participants;
- » Monitoring and evaluation of program goals and effectiveness;
- » Continuing interdisciplinary education to promote effective program planning, implementation, and operations; and
- » Development of partnerships with public agencies and community organizations, including the United States Department of Veterans Affairs.

Additionally, the duties of a Veterans Treatment Court Program are outlined in § 124.003 and must include:

- » Ensuring that a defendant eligible for participation in the program is provided legal counsel before volunteering to proceed through the program and while participating in the program;
- » Allowing a participant to withdraw from the program at any time before a trial on the merits has been initiated;
- » Providing a participant with a court-ordered individualized treatment plan indicating the services that will be provided to the participant; and
- » Ensuring that the jurisdiction of the Veterans Treatment court continues for a period of not less than six months but does not continue beyond the period of community supervision for the offense charged.
