A Message from Rabbi Jon Adland

On November 4th, I am leaving for the URJ (Union for Reform Judaism) Biennial convention with a delegation from Temple Israel: our Temple Israel president Dr. Ron Gelb, Adele Gelb, Rob Schweitzer, Barb Spera Temple Israel Sisterhood president, Sandy Adland WRJ Central District president (Sandy and Barb are registered as WRJ—Women of Reform Judaism—delegates) and Shelley Schweitzer, Director of Strategic Initiatives whose responsibility for the URJ is the Biennial Delegation Incentive program. It is great to be going with such a wonderful, dedicated group of leaders.

I attended my first biennial as a youth delegate from my home congregation in 1971. I attended my second one in 1987 and then every two years after that until 2015 (except 1997 which was just before my son's bar mitzvah and not a good time to be away.) This will be my 15th biennial. They are amazing experiences with workshops on a variety of issues and congregational concerns. I will be co-leading a workshop with my good friend Rabbi Josh Taub of Beaumont, TX on Interfaith programs in small Jewish communities. I will draw on my experiences in Lexington and Canton, but won't ignore my experiences in Indianapolis. Like my predecessors here, Rabbis Gorin and Spitzer, I am immersed in working with the interfaith community and each year I am here my relationships deepen and opportunities grow.

This month there is the Interfaith Thanksgiving Service. It will be held on Tuesday, November 24, at 7 p.m. at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in downtown Canton. This is the only interfaith service in Canton. The faith leaders who represent several different synagogues, churches and mosques love to be a part of this uplifting and meaningful experience. It demonstrates that we do share values of thanks and giving, God and love, and caring and compassion. We can sit together in prayer and we can sing together. And we pass a plate (something Jews and Muslims are not necessarily accustomed to) and collect funds to support Thanksgiving Baskets Downtown. If you can't come to the Interfaith Thanksgiving Service, you can still volunteer to help with the Thanksgiving Baskets Downtown pro-

Rabbi Adland

Thank you for making Simchat Torah special!

On October 2, during the Erev Shabbat service we celebrated Simchat Torah. One-third of our religious school students attended the celebration. We unrolled the Torah scroll completely with the help of those in attendance.

Thank you to the following who came to read from the end of the Torah and the beginning of the Torah.

(In order of the reading)

- Paul Garfinkle
- Paul Hervey
- Cheri Spitzer
- Rabbi John Spitzer
- Shelley Schweitzer
- Sandy Adland
- Faith Barnett
- Jami Siegal
- Toni Olenick
- Marj Edelson
- Mayana Branigan
- Shay Goldenberg
- Adey Hostetler
- Anita Porter

Next Simchat Torah celebration is October 21, 2016. There are more verses for anyone who'd like to read a verse or two. Just let Rabbi Adland know and you will receive your verse(s) next fall in plenty of time to learn them.

From the President

Seniors – you can attend!

In 2016 Temple Israel’s Edith and Maurice Kline Endowment will provide assistance to senior adult members who want to participate in Temple activities and services.

The board of trustees passed the following policies at the October 2015 meeting:

1. Funds were set aside to underwrite shortfalls of dues for senior adults for 2015 and 2016;
2. Funds were set aside to assist senior adults with program expenses;
3. Funds were set aside to assist senior adults in attending services and events.

If you are a senior adult in need of assistance in 2016 please contact Pat in the Temple Office.

Chadash

Happy to be Back at School!
It was great to be back at Chadash after several weeks of being homebound! I’ve always known that the Chadash community is a warm and caring community, but those wonderful qualities have been especially in evidence the past few months, as everyone has pitched in to make sure things were running well at school and also that I had the help and support I’ve needed. I can’t say enough about how wonderful Ellen Shankle has been through all of this, taking on every task I’ve asked her to do plus a whole lot more that I hadn’t even thought of. Thanks to her, the other faculty members, the clergy, the building staff, and the parents and students, Chadash got off to a great start this year!

Thanksgiving Break
Please note that there will be no

Hebrew school on Wednesday, November 25 (the day before Thanksgiving), no religious school or Hebrew school on Sunday, November 29, and no Hebrew school on Monday, November 30. Classes will resume with Hebrew school on Wednesday, December 2.

Year-Long Judaics Quiz
This year, in addition to there being our traditional Hebrew Word of the Week project (a Hebrew word is posted in the school and students are challenged to read the word and find out its meaning), there is a Judaics Question of the Week. Geveret Shimer reads a question about some important Judaics fact at the all-school assembly on Sunday morning, and the students are encouraged to find the answer (if they don’t already know it!) throughout the morning, by doing research on their own or by asking teachers or their fellow students. On the last day of school in May, students of all ages will have the option of participating in a quiz game, featuring all the questions that the students have heard throughout the year. We expect to have many Judaics experts among our students by the end of the year!

Latke Fundraising Sale
This year Joan Ortman has once again graciously volunteered to organize the annual Latke Sale, which typically raises several hundred dollars for the benefit of Chadash. Please look for details and for the order form elsewhere in this issue of the SJN. You can help the school and also be sure of having a supply of delicious latkes on hand for Chanukah!

“Building Bridges” in November with our shlichim

Our shlichim, Mayana and Shay, will present two programs in November on the theme of “Building Bridges.”

The November 2 program will feature a movie and discussion on the Israeli and Arab Israeli relationship.

The film, "Barriers" is 22 minutes long. It follows the story of Uri, a young officer, together with two soldiers under his command, who are manning a checkpoint in the territories. Two women from the "Watch" organization try to interfere with their work. Uri is confused as he receives an order to close the checkpoint because of a bomb threat amidst the women’s screaming. An unpredictable outcome ensues.

The film will be followed by a discussion about “Eretz Shalom”, the social movement which works toward the advancement of peace and dialogue between the Jewish and Arab inhabitants of Judea and Samaria. “Eretz Shalom” is not a political movement and does not presume to offer conclusive solutions or to formulate peace agreements, but rather works from participating in dialogue and joint projects in education, religion, culture and the environment in the hopes of creating change that will burgeon from the bottom up.

On November 23, for the theme of Global Bridge Building, they will welcome Yotam Politzer a disaster response director for IsraAID , and one of the Israelis who joined a search and rescue team, during the recent devastating earthquake in Nepal.

In the past decade, IsraAID has

- Responded to crises in 29 countries
- Reached over 1,000,000 people
- Distributed over 1,000 tons of relief and medical supplies
- Trained more than 5,000 local professionals
- Mobilized over 750 staff, volunteers, and professionals (among them 156 doctors and nurses and 100 therapists and social workers)

For over a decade, IsraAID has been helping people all over the world overcome extreme crises and has provided millions with the vital support needed to move from destruction to reconstruction, and eventually, to sustainable living.

These programs are free and open to the public. All programs take place at 7:00 p.m. at Beit Ha’am. For more information, please contact Mayana and Shay at shlichim@jewishcanton.org or 330-445-2401.

Thank you to all who helped make the High Holy Days a spiritual and moving experience:

- The members of the volunteer choir for the beautiful melodies and singing
- All of the Torah readers
- All of the Haftarah readers
- Everyone who read a part in the service
- Ron Gelb for sharing his personal journey
- Linda Simon-Mietus, our baalat tekia—for the sounding of the shofar

- David Fair and Alex Marr and the professional choir members
- All those who sat on the bimah
- Adele Gelb and Sandy Adland for blessing the candles
- The parents who brought their children for the children’s service and Sandy Adland who played guitar at these services
- Everyone on the staff of Beit Ha’am for the behind the scenes work
- And finally, Pat Downes for all the big and little things she does to get everything ready.

Important Cemetery Information

If you have plants, shrubbery, etc. on graves in North Lawn or West Lawn Cemetery, it is your responsibility to water and maintain these plantings.

The cemetery handles mowing only; they do not weed around plantings or water when it is dry. Unless you contract specifically with Mike Collins (or someone else) to water and maintain your plantings on a regular basis, it is your responsibility.
