Other requirements

- Note that privileges granted may only be exercised at the site(s) and/or setting(s) that have sufficient space, equipment, staffing, and other resources required to support the privilege.
- This document is focused on defining qualifications related to skill to exercise clinical privileges. The applicant must also adhere to any additional organizational, regulatory, or accreditation requirements that the organization is obligated to meet.

Note:

Current experience is an estimate of the level of activity below which a collegial discussion about support should be triggered. It is not a disqualifier. This discussion should be guided not only by the expectations and standards outlined in the dictionary but also by the risks inherent in the privilege being discussed and by similar activities that contribute to the skill under consideration. This is an opportunity to reflect with a respected colleague on one's professional practice and to deliberately plan an approach to skills maintenance.

The dictionary will be reviewed over time to ensure it is reflective of current practices, procedures and technologies.

Grandparenting: Practitioners holding privileges prior to implementation of the dictionary will continue to hold those privileges as long as they meet current experience and quality requirements.

Non-core Privileges (See Specific Criteria)

Non-core privileges are requested individually in addition to requesting the core.

Each individual requesting non-core privileges should meet the specific threshold criteria as outlined.

Nurse Practitioner Clinical Privileges

Non-core privileges may have a number of considerations, including Scope of practice, Standards limits and conditions established by CRNBC, employer/facility applicability and support, along with individual practitioner experience and training.

Whenever appropriate, CRNBC uses standards rather than limits and conditions to provide direction for practice. (The Health Professions Act gives CRNBC the authority to establish, monitor and enforce standards, limits and conditions for nurse practitioner practice.)

- the privilege would be exercised, and the relevant training and experience held by the practitioner in this area.
2. The department head or chief of staff will consult with the credentialing office and the senior medical administrator responsible for the facility to determine if this request is reasonable.

 4. Where it is deemed appropriate, the practitioner, the department head or chief of staff and the senior medical administrator will agree on any additional training required, and a minimum level of activity required to maintain the privilege. Some disciplines may need to consult with their regulatory College.
 5. Before proceeding with training the request will be reviewed by the Physician Quality Assurance Steering Committee or its successor.
 6. Any additional training will be done in a facility that normally trains practitioners in this activity.
