A GUIDE FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS 2021

A GUIDE FOR INTERNATIONAL
STUDENTS | 21

Welcome to Edinburgh.

Welcome to Edinburgh Napier University.

In 2019, Edinburgh was named one of the best cities in the world to be a student.

Edinburgh finished 15th in the global table, with London the only UK city to finish higher, according to analysis by higher education experts QS.

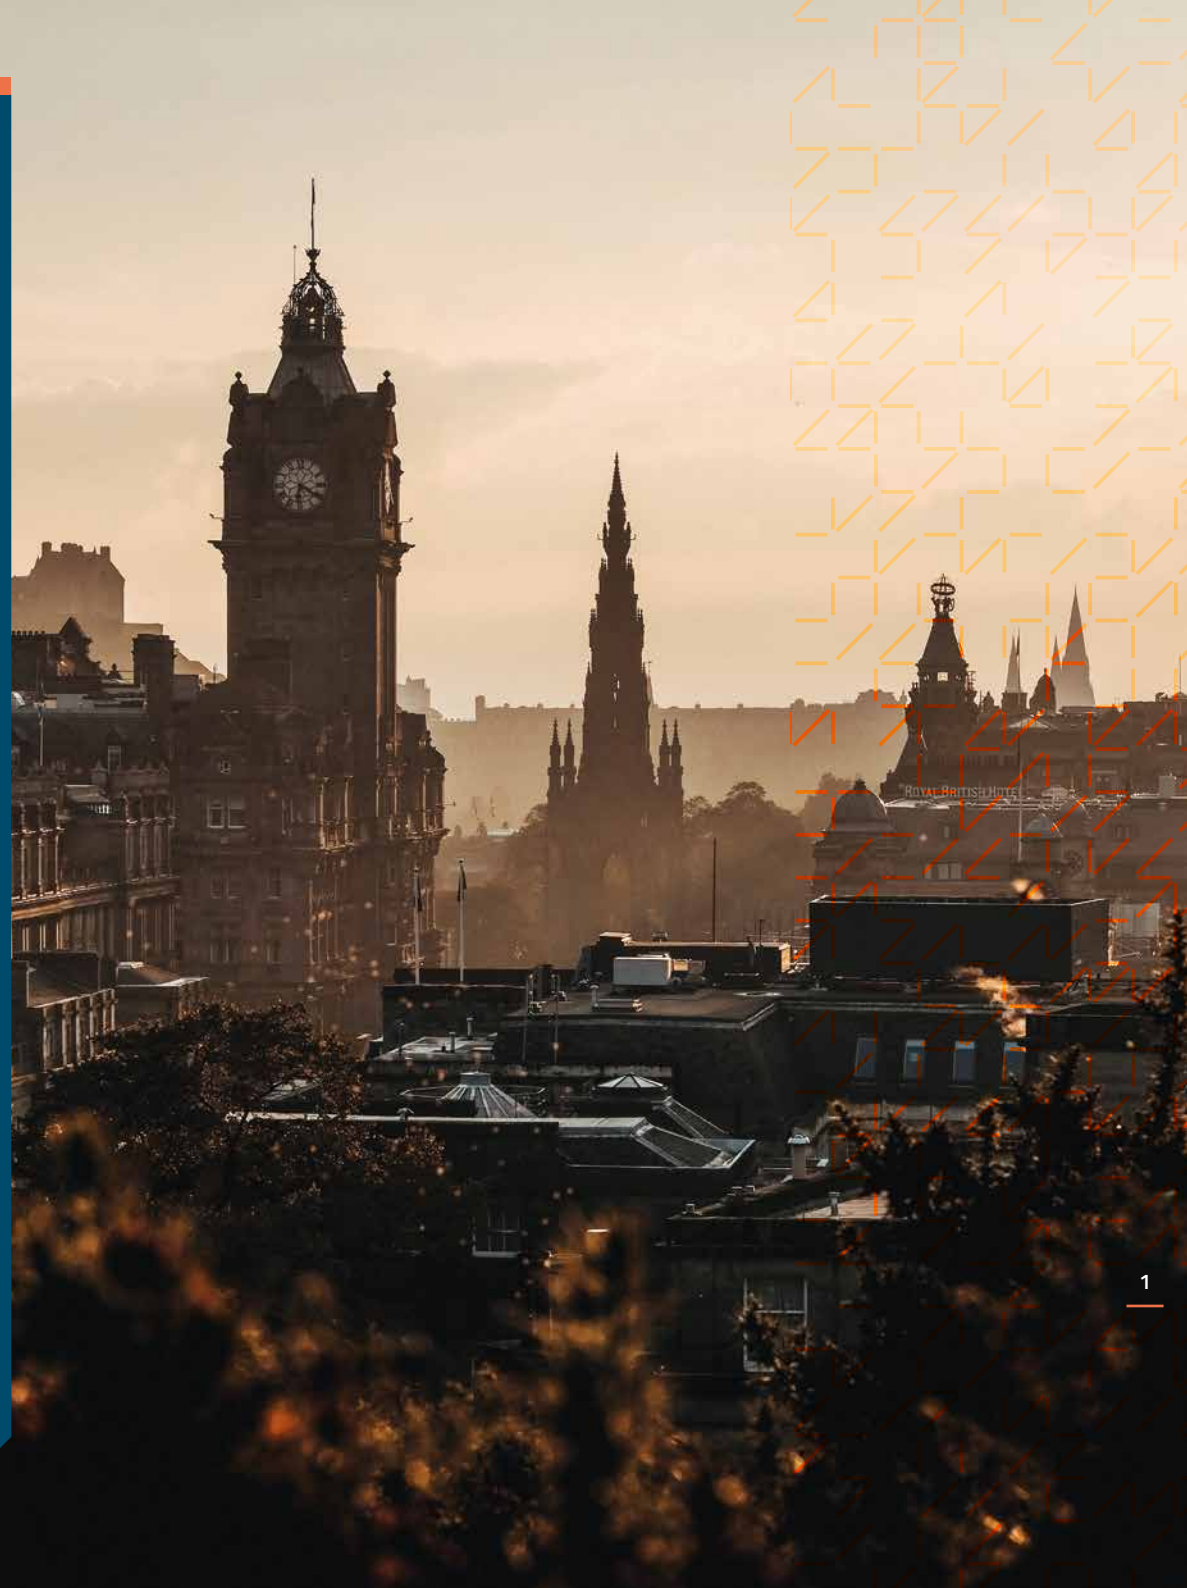

The real experts though are the students who live and study here, and in the student view category, Edinburgh scores highly. This reflects the exceptional experience that comes with studying in Scotland's historic capital city.

With that in mind, we thought we'd let our students and graduates tell you all about their experiences of living in Edinburgh and studying at Edinburgh Napier University.

From accommodation to public transport, seeing the sights to what's on campus, our students have it covered. In this guide, you'll also find a full course listing and other practical information to help make your journey from future student to Edinburgh Napier student a smooth one.

MEET OUR STUDENTS

At Edinburgh Napier University, we have 3,750 international students on campus from more than 100 countries.

Every one of those students has made Edinburgh home. Each one has a unique perspective. They all have stories to tell.

So, who better to describe the Edinburgh Napier experience?

Throughout this guide, you'll find our students talking about their lives. We'll start with Steffy Angel and her experience so far...

“ From application to meeting new people, moving to Edinburgh has been such a smooth process and my life has been more than I could have ever expected it to be since the move. Take my advice, it will be one of the best decisions you make! ”

Steffy Angel, India

Rough Guides 2019

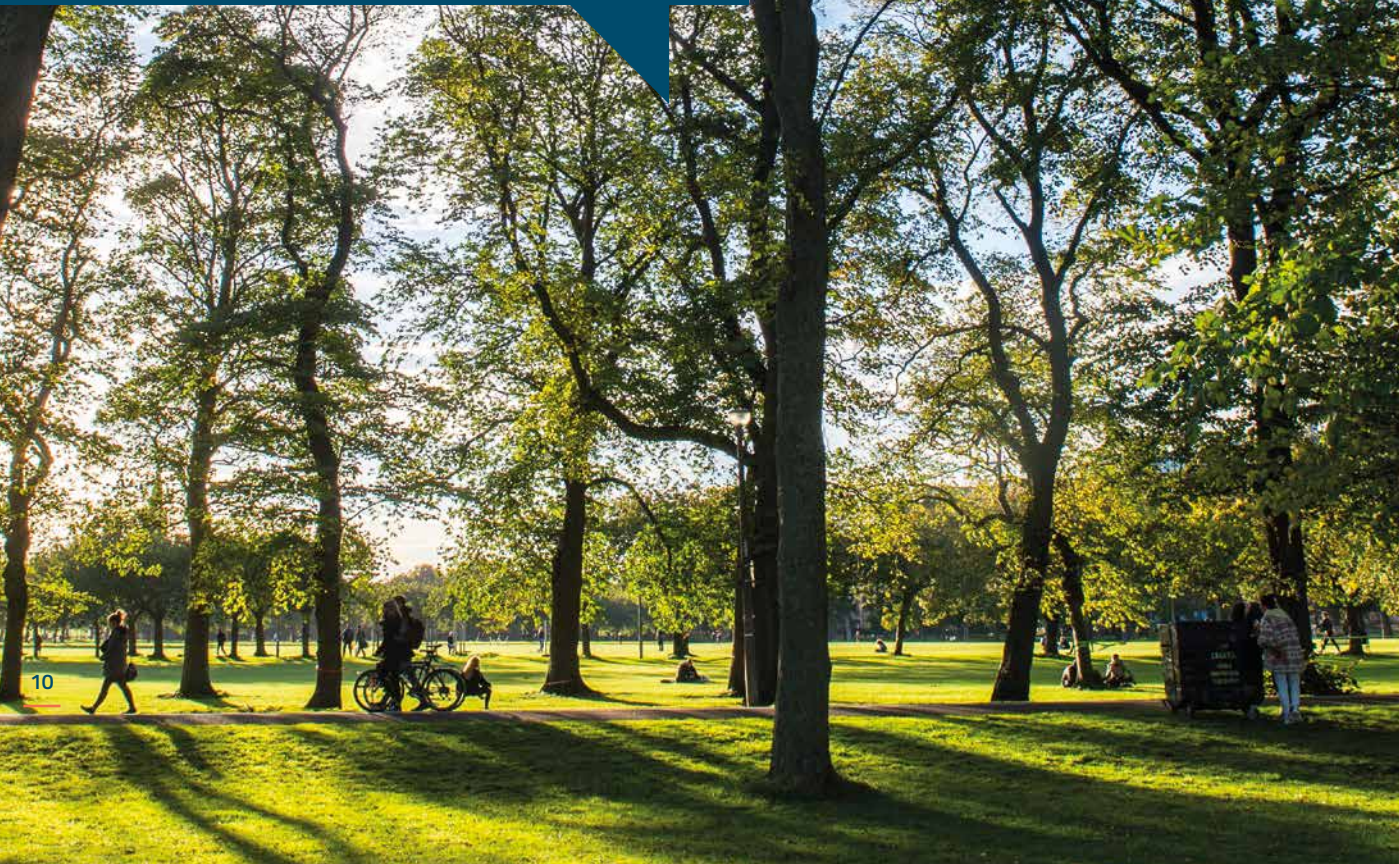

“ I’ve come to the conclusion that Edinburgh is the best city to live in the world. Edinburgh is a very charming city, with the best combination of old and modern architecture, and astonishing landscapes. ”

Enmanuel, Dominican Republic

“ The city itself has brought a sense of ‘wow’ to my life. Magnificent buildings all around the city but even more, trees and parks to fill the city with green. After living here for a few months, I already feel this is the model city to the rest of the world. ”

Krishna, India

“ Edinburgh in every way is the city of dreams – a mixture of city life and nature, history and modernity and all things in between. The city is safe, and the locals are warm and welcoming. ”

Anam, UAE

“ When I first arrived in Edinburgh, I knew that it was a very open-armed city and I felt that it was a place I was going to quickly call home. It hasn't failed to deliver in this way. It is a great city with a very large and welcoming student community, filled with international students and people from all around the world! ”

Rocio, Spain

THE FESTIVAL

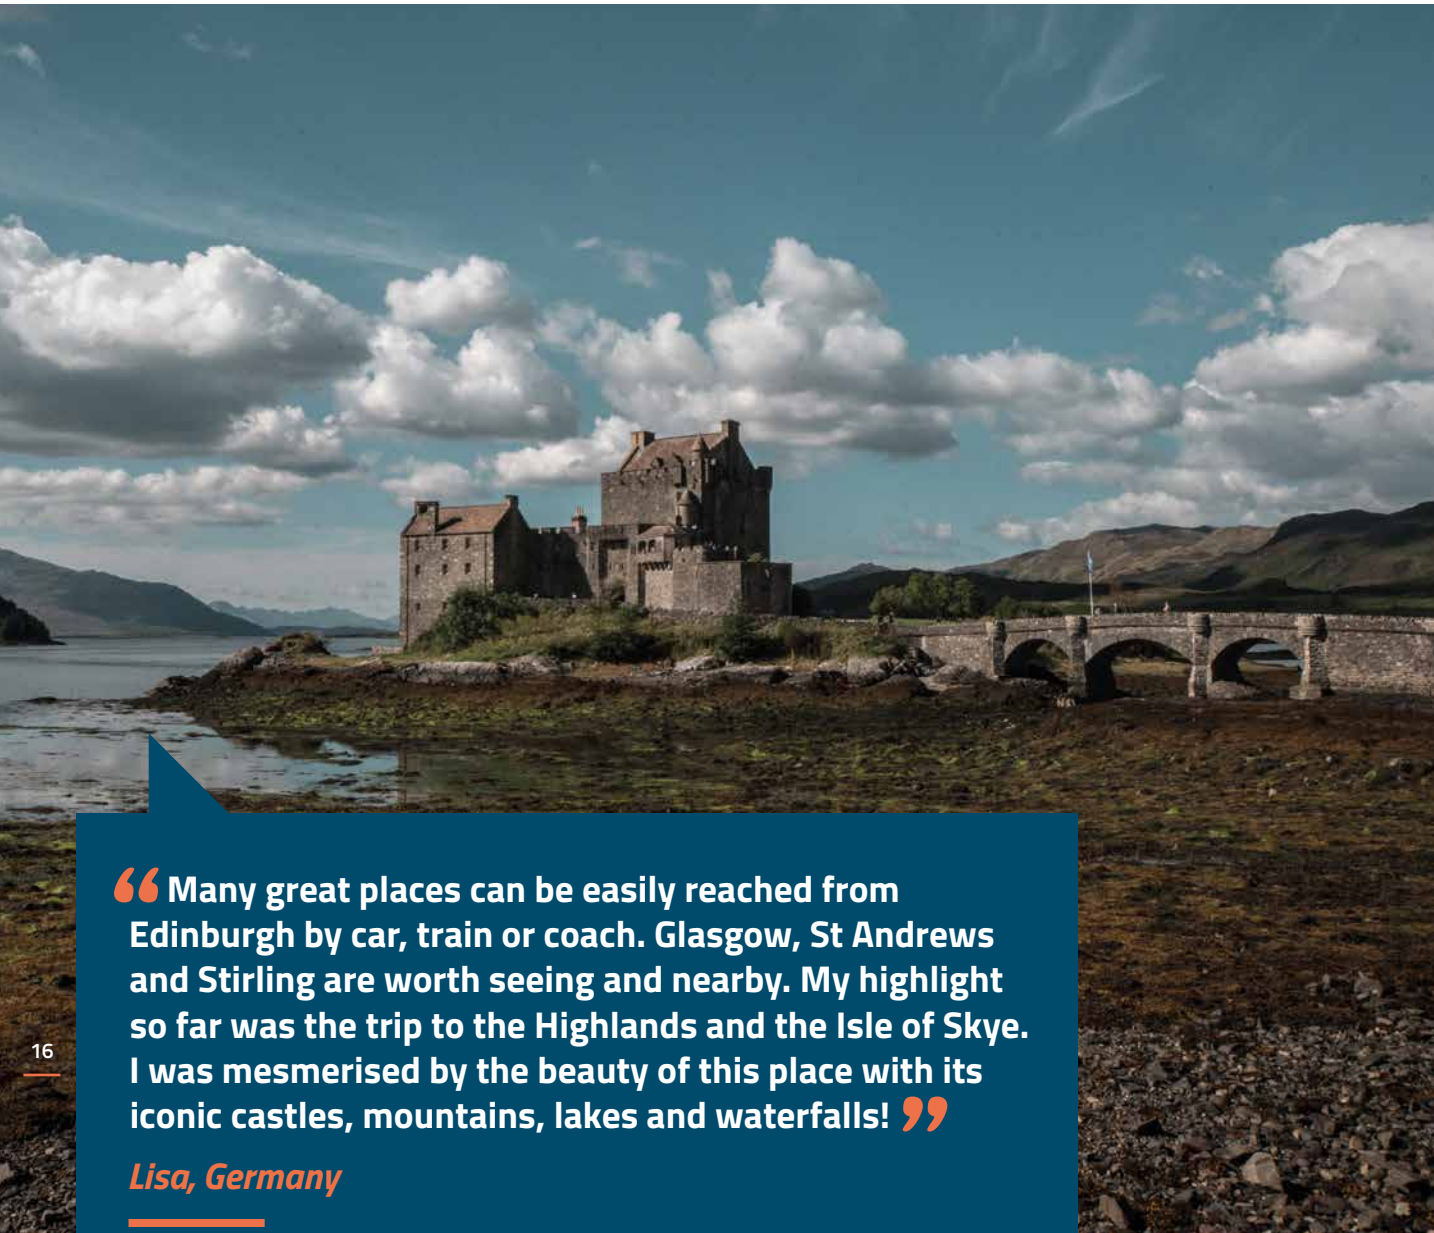

Edinburgh is home to the world's largest arts festival, the Edinburgh Festival Fringe.

“With hundreds of venues set up in the city and thousands of shows every day to choose from, I was spoilt for choice. It was an emotionally stimulating experience for me as I remember tearing up at a theatrical show tackling mental health issues, laughing the night away at late night stand-up comedy shows, feeling bewildered at stunning acrobatic dance and circus based events, and losing myself at the beautiful music recitals.”

Rupali, India

SCOTLAND

“ Many great places can be easily reached from Edinburgh by car, train or coach. Glasgow, St Andrews and Stirling are worth seeing and nearby. My highlight so far was the trip to the Highlands and the Isle of Skye. I was mesmerised by the beauty of this place with its iconic castles, mountains, lakes and waterfalls! ”

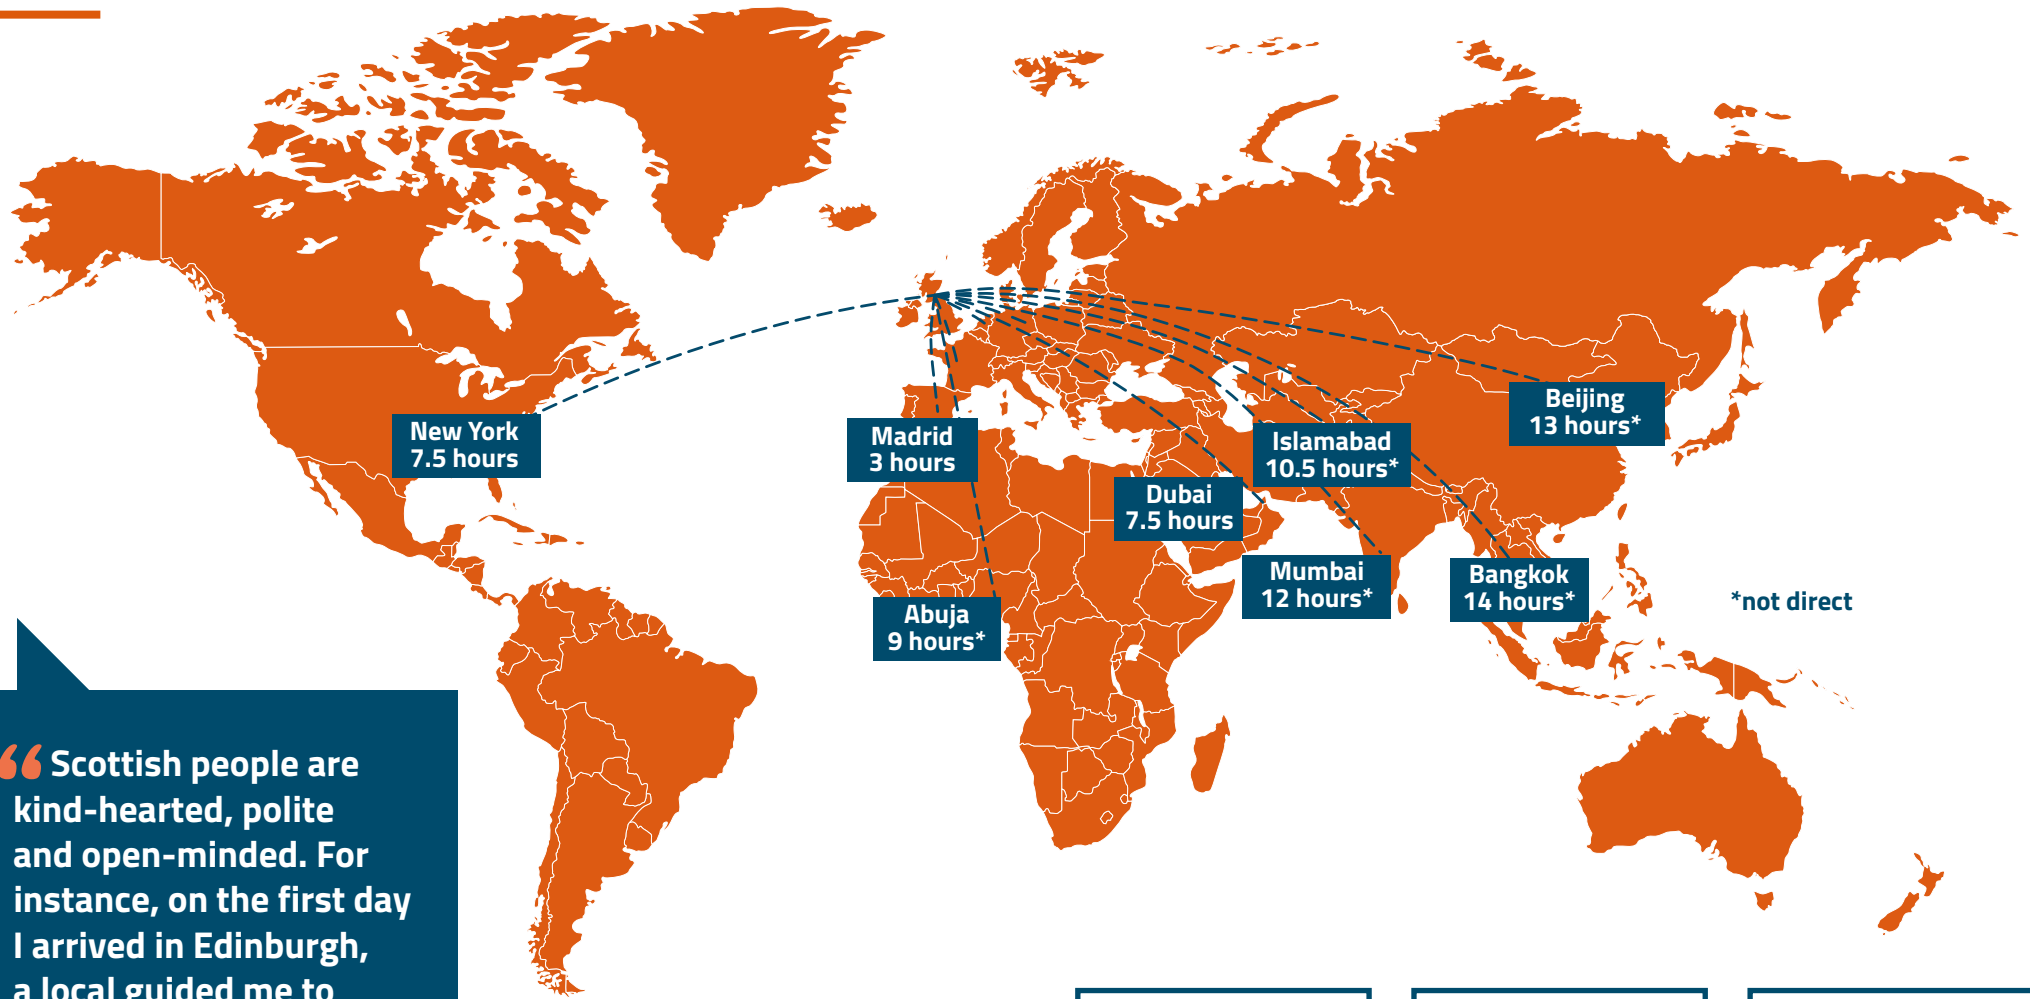

Lisa, Germany

“ I felt like Scotland was all too good to be true. But the more I have ingrained myself into the culture of Scotland, the better it has gotten. For a relatively small country in size, there is so much to do in this beautiful place. ”

Jennifer, Canada

GETTING HERE

“Scottish people are kind-hearted, polite and open-minded. For instance, on the first day I arrived in Edinburgh, a local guided me to my accommodation and even helped carry my suitcase.”

Coco, China

CRAIGLOCKHART CAMPUS

“ The thing I love the most about Edinburgh Napier is my campus at Craiglockhart – it is beside Craiglockhart Hill and is surrounded by nature. Best of all, it has one of the best views of the city! ”

Anam, UAE

- Biotech labs
- Simulation and Clinical Skills Centre
- Five-storey Learning Resource Centre with views over the city
- [EN]GAGE gym and sports hall
- Starbucks and a cafeteria

“ Sighthill may be the furthest from the city centre but for me it is the ‘mother’ of all three campuses: sport facilities, laboratories, a large cafeteria and lounge area with an incredible five-storey library featuring the most stunning views! ”

Sofia, Greece

MERCHISTON CAMPUS

“ Among all the facilities, the Jack Kilby Computing Centre (JKCC), which is open 24/7, is my favourite. I have never been somewhere that has computers available all day. The JKCC also has a lot of study areas which students can use to have group discussions – it’s fantastic. I love it here! ”

- Robotics and Automated Manufacturing lab
- Starbucks and a cafeteria

ACCOMMODATION

“ I found I settled in more quickly than I expected, particularly as I had a room at Edinburgh Napier’s Bainfield accommodation, which gave me the opportunity to make friends quickly. One piece of advice I can give to students thinking about coming to Edinburgh is to not leave finding accommodation too late. ”

Claire, France

“ When I met with my flatmates for the first time, I felt so happy because the accommodation was pristine. The kitchen, which is my favourite part of any house, had everything a cake baker like myself needs to survive a masters programme. I really love being part of the Edinburgh Napier student community! ”

“ The lecturers are skilled in their areas of specialty and very approachable. Considering the fact that I come from a different part of the world, the staff have been incredibly helpful and patient. This has made studying at Edinburgh Napier so much easier than I thought it may be. ”

“The course itself is absolutely wonderful. It has been everything I expected so far. There is a good mix of lectures and practical work, and the teaching staff are all really supportive. They are extremely welcoming, and you can tell right away that they really want you to succeed.”

Lauren, USA

OUR PARTNERS

Our courses are created in collaboration with industry. Here are just some of the partners who accredit, recognise and work with us to deliver our programmes.

“ The course is very practical in nature so you will find that for most of the modules you are learning how to apply theory to practice. This is great preparation for the work environment. ”

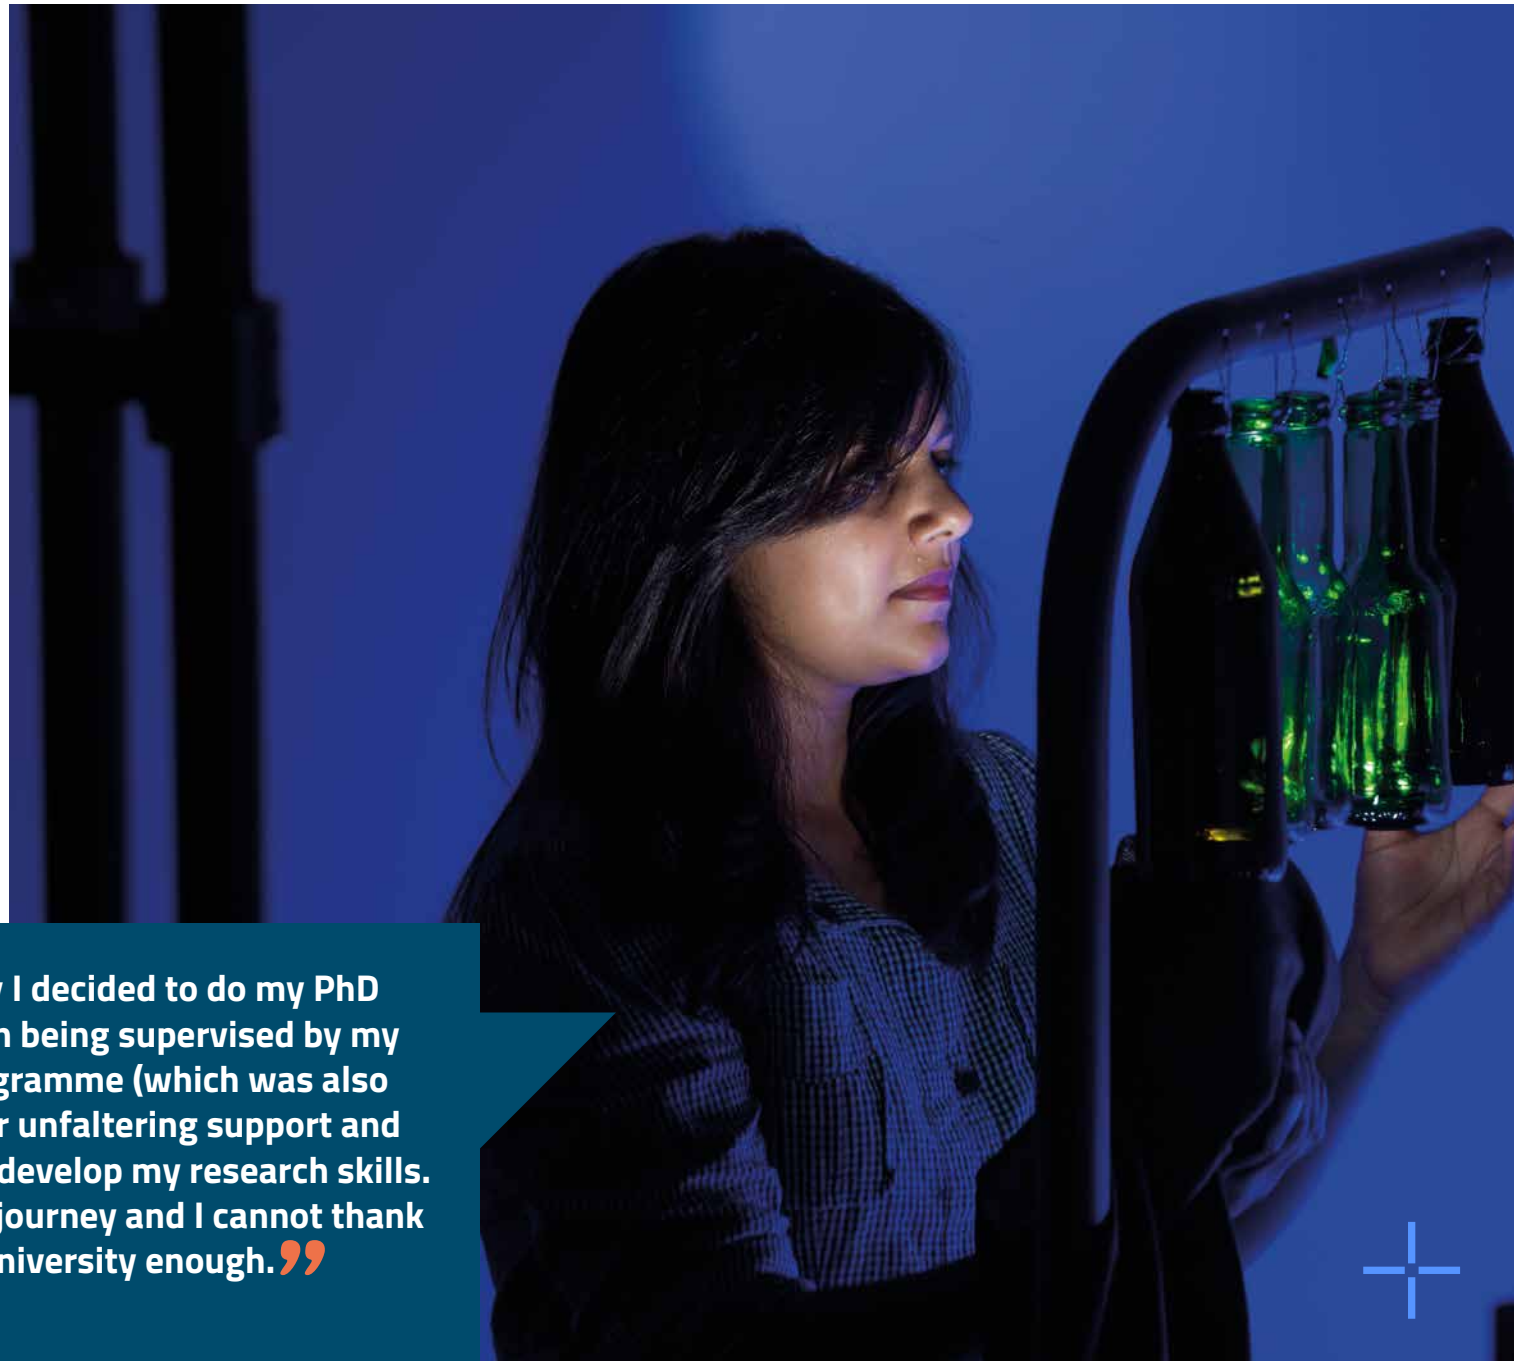

Candice, Trinidad & Tobago

RESEARCH

RESEARCHERS AT EDINBURGH NAPIER ARE:

- Improving design of shelters for refugees which provide safety and dignity to people after conflicts and natural disasters
- Assessing and improving conservation and restoration of tropical mangrove
- Investigating how small molecules found in the human immune system could be used to develop treatments for dengue virus
- Developing technology to enable the evolution of robots that live and work in challenging environments without the need for direct human oversight

“One of the main reasons why I decided to do my PhD here was because I was keen on being supervised by my lecturers from my masters programme (which was also at Edinburgh Napier) since their unfaltering support and guidance would really help me develop my research skills. So far, it has been a wonderful journey and I cannot thank my supervisory team and the university enough.”

Pankhuri, India

“I was very pleased to find out that Edinburgh Napier University offers academic skills support. The free-of-charge academic workshops are great for students who have been out of university for a while and want to refresh their memory on academic writing, citations and on how to deliver good presentations.”

Lisa, Germany

“It is very nice to have a personal tutor in my programme who I can go to with any concerns and questions. I was also surprised by the amount of resources that are available for students. The libraries and computer labs are fully equipped with up-to-date research material, software and programmes that we might need for any of our courses.”

Jennifer, Canada

APPLYING

What are the entry requirements?

Entry requirements vary from course to course. You can find specific entry requirements for your country on our website:

napier.ac.uk/your-country

If your country is not listed, please contact us and we will be happy to share the specific requirements with you.

If English is not your first language you may also need to undertake an approved English language test. Find out more:

napier.ac.uk/english-language

How do I apply for undergraduate study?

All applications for our undergraduate courses are handled by the University and College Admissions Service (UCAS):

ucas.com

This is a central UK application system and you can apply for five different course choices in one application.

How do I apply for postgraduate study?

Applications for postgraduate study are made directly to the University using our online application system. Apply online by choosing your course from our website. It is important to note that many of our postgraduate programmes have start dates in both September and January. The majority of our postgraduate courses do not have a strict application deadline but you should aim to submit by the end of June for the September intake and by the end of November for the January intake.

Many of the postgraduate courses have an option to start in January. Are there advantages to this?

For a January start date you will generally study from January–April 2020, then break for the summer. You'll study again from September–December 2020 and complete your degree from January–April 2021. There are several advantages to starting your programme in January, including being in Edinburgh over the summer when more than 4 million people come to the city for its famous festivals. You'll also be able to use the summer to find valuable part-time or full-time work, work experience or an internship to boost your career.

Who can help me with my application?

Our International team is here to help you all the way. However, we also have offices in China, India, Malaysia and Nigeria and a network of local representatives across the globe who can offer you advice and assistance on applying to study with us. You can find their details on our website:

napier.ac.uk/your-country

Edinburgh sounds great, but I would rather study online. How do I do that?

You can find out everything you need to know about our online courses on our website:

napier.ac.uk/online

You won't need a visa and many of our courses allow you to study at your own pace.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE

English is not my first language. Can you help me improve my English language skills before I join?

Yes. Our English for Academic Purposes pre-sessional courses support you to improve your English and academic study skills. We also provide you with practical help to settle into life in a new city, including the opportunity to immerse yourself in Edinburgh and Scotland's culture through visits to tourist attractions. We offer a range of different courses starting at different points in the year. Visit our website for more information:

napier.ac.uk/english-language

Is there any English language support available once I've joined the University?

We offer support right through your time with us, with English language and study skills workshops as well as individual appointments available free of charge to all enrolled international students. These include writing workshops, discussion and presentation skills workshops, individual help sessions and pronunciation laboratories.

VISAS

Do I need a visa to study at Edinburgh Napier University?

International students from outside of the European Economic Area (EEA) coming to study a course of six months or more have to apply for a Tier 4 (General) Student visa.

Following the UK's departure from the European Union, from 1 January 2021 the UK Government proposes that students from the EU and EEA will also need to apply for a student visa. It is likely this will mirror the current Tier 4 scheme however more details will be available on our website when known.

What do I need to get a visa?

Visa requirements typically include:

- an unconditional offer to a full-time bachelors, masters or research degree in the UK;
- a Confirmation of Acceptance for Studies (CAS) from the University confirming your offer, academic qualifications and English language level;

- total tuition fees and nine months of living costs held in your bank account for a 28-day period.

UK Visas and Immigration may update this information periodically so check our website for up-to-date requirements. We provide a range of helpful guides on how to apply for your student visa on our website.

Can someone help me with my visa application?

Of course. Our trained immigration advisors sit in our International Support team and are happy to help you with all questions related to visas.

They can give you lots of advice about completing the Tier 4 visa application before coming to the UK and also offer drop-in sessions while you are enrolled in case you have to extend your current immigration permission.

FINANCES

How much does it cost to study at Edinburgh Napier?

At the time of going to press, we're still in the process of setting international fees for 2021/22. Please refer to our website where detailed tuition fee information will be made available as soon as possible:

napier.ac.uk/internationalfees

Note that tuition fees are subject to change and there may be an annual increment in the cost of tuition fees while you are at the University taking into account the following circumstances:

- any increases set or prescribed by regulatory bodies (other than the University) such as the Student Awards Agency for Scotland (SAAS) and the UK Government and/or
- changes to the cost of delivering our programmes. Factors taken into account include inflationary measures such as the retail price index (RPI), projected increases in university costs, changes in the level of grant from the Scottish Funding Council, costs of provision of teaching, supervision and course-related facilities.

How do I pay my fees?

If you're paying your own fees you will pay your fees directly to the University. You will need to pay a deposit of £3,500 to secure your place on the course. You can pay by cash, cheque, direct transfer of funds using ePay or Western Union, and most forms of credit/debit card. You may also be able to pay in instalments depending on your course and payment method.

If your fees are being paid by a sponsor, you can either pay these direct to the University or your sponsor can be invoiced for the cost of your tuition each year. For more information, visit our website:

napier.ac.uk/internationalfees

Are there any scholarships available to reduce my costs?

We offer a variety of scholarships and discounts to help fund your studies. For information on these and how you can apply, head to the website:

napier.ac.uk/international

How much does it cost to live in Edinburgh?

UK Visas and Immigration determine living costs outside of London as £1,015 per month. This is the amount that they will require you to show in your Tier 4 (General) Student visa application.

In our experience, living costs in Edinburgh can generally be lower than this amount (see page 28) and students have great opportunities to receive discounts in shops, cinemas, theatres, museums and much more.

Will I be able to work during my studies?

Yes, getting a part-time job is a great way to keep the cost of living in Edinburgh down while studying.

There are lots of opportunities for part-time work in the city. The University runs a Student Ambassador programme which will allow you to become more involved in university life while making extra money. Within Edinburgh itself, there are endless opportunities for part-time work – retail, hospitality (restaurants, cafés and bars), tourism (hotels, tours and museums), cinemas, theatres, call centres and other office-based work. Our Careers team can help you work on your CV when you enrol at the University and will be able to assist you with looking for part-time work.

Remember, if you are studying with us on a visa, check the regulations for the maximum number of hours that you can work per week.

OK, I'm all set to come to Edinburgh Napier University. Can you help me when I arrive?

At set times during the year, we offer an airport welcome service where University representatives will be at the airport to welcome our new students and provide assistance with onward travel. Once you've confirmed your course place and your arrival, get in touch and we'd be delighted to meet you as soon as you touch down!

“Arranging my move to Scotland was assisted along the way by the incredible immigration support staff. They had all the answers to my (many!) questions about moving to the UK, and made sure that things were entirely in order upon my arrival.”
