EDITOR'S LETTER

If you've been in Britain any amount of time, you've probably heard something about our long illustrious history of being a great trading nation. While we can't claim today that 15% of global exports are British (that was 1922), we can rest soundly knowing two of the world's biggest television shows are all down to us. Yes, this fortnight both Doctor Who and Downton Abbey return to our screens, and we're super excited about it. In this issue of TV Magazine, we've got the goss on everything Doctor Who series nine (page 10), a game of monsters (page 12), and our thoughts on why Downton has been such an international hit (page 20).

Sons of Anarchy Spin-Off In The Works

It has been reported that a new spin-off from the gritty motorcycle drama is planned, with Sons of Anarchy creator Kurt Sutter to executive produce the new show.

The spin-off will focus on the Hispanic gang known as the Mayans – who refer to themselves as the Assassins of God – and who were among the many enemies of SAMCRO throughout Sons of Anarchy's seven seasons.

It is not yet known whether the spin-off will be a prequel or a sequel to Sons of Anarchy.

Bryan Cranston and James Franco Team Up For Comedy

Everyone's favourite on-screen drug dealers Bryan Cranston and James Franco are teaming up to star in an upcoming comedy film from 21 Laps and 20th Century Fox, titled Why Him?. The comedy is set over the holidays, when a Midwestern dad travels with his family to visit his daughter at college and finds himself in a battle for her affections alongside her brash new tech billionaire boyfriend.

The upcoming flick will see Franco and Cranston build on the chemistry they ignited during Franco's current directing gig in Dubious Battle, in which they both co-star.

Report Finds Lack Of Diversity In TV Directing

White men continue to rule the roost when it comes to directing US television episodes, a new study by the Director's Guild of America has found.

The study analysed 3910 episodes from 270 scripted series in the 2014-15 television season, which found 84% of episodes were directed by males, with 69% of these being caucasian males.

Only 16% of the episodes examined were directed by women, with a shockingly low 3% of this number directed by minority women. This figure is a small improvement from last year, when only 14% of episodes were directed by women.

Television directed by minorities from both genders dropped by 1% from 2014 to 18%.

The Big Bang Theory Stars Top Highest Earners in Television List

According to Forbes' annual list of top earning male television actors, the stars of US sitcom The Big Bang Theory were the highest paid television actors in the world in the past year.

Jim Parsons and Johnny Galecki occupy the first two spots on the list, with co-stars Simon Helberg and Kunal Nayyar also making the top five.

Forbes' list of highest earning females has yet to be unveiled.

Rafe Spall Cast As ITV's Harry Price

Life of Pi star Rafe Spall is set to take a turn for the supernatural in ITV's upcoming film Harry Price: Ghost Hunter.

Written by Jack Lothian (Doc Martin, Death in Paradise, Ashes to Ashes), the production is based on the Neil Spring novel The Ghost Hunters, which mixes real life and fiction to spine-chilling effect.

The titular character is Britain's most famous real life ghost hunter, who operated in 1920s London investigating tales of the paranormal. Harry Price: Ghost Hunter begins with Price having recently fallen on hard times, now resorting to the fraudulent business of conducting fake séances for miserable families. However, his fate changes when a local MP calls upon his services.

Spall said: "I'm delighted to be portraying Harry Price for ITV. It's a fantastic piece of history that has mass appeal and I can't wait to start filming."

Final Season Of Da Vinci's Demons Gets FOX UK Air Date

The third and final season of Da Vinci's Demons will arrive on FOX UK on Sunday, October 25 at 9pm.

Da Vinci's Demons tells the 'untold' story of Italian polymath Leonardo da Vinci during his turbulent youth in Renaissance Florence.

The show's final season is set to pick up directly from the events in the season two finale, and sees Da Vinci's world thrown into turbulence when the city of Otranto is torn apart by an Ottoman invasion.

Cold Feet To Return To ITV

ITV is reportedly in talks with the main cast of the hit comedy drama Cold Feet about a potential revival.

The series, which ended in 2003, starred James Nesbitt, Robert Bathurst, Hermione Norris, John Thomson, Fay Ripley and Helen Baxendale.

The Flash Casts Tony Todd As Zoom

Candyman actor Tony Todd has been cast in the role of DC Comics villain Zoom. Zoom will face off against The Flash in the second episode of the upcoming second season of the hit superhero show.

What To Watch on vimeo

Since 2004, Vimeo has been the number one destination for creative filmmakers to share their videos with the world. Working together with Kickstarter and other crowdfunding initiatives, Vimeo's independent talents are gaining a wider audience than ever before. And now, with the introduction of Vimeo On Demand, viewers can discover, stream, and download exclusive films, all while supporting their creators with every purchase. The formula certainly seems to be working, as HBO acquired its first Vimeo Original series High Maintenance - which follows the adventures of a Brooklyn pot dealer - back in April. Here are our picks of what's hot on Vimeo On Demand right now.

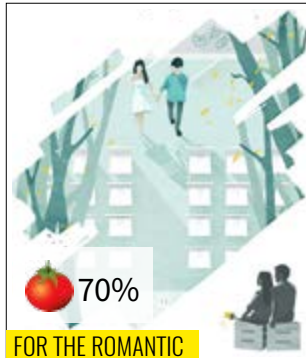

Kung Fury (2015)

Paying homage to 1980s cop movies, this irreverent comedy sees a Miami martial artist-cum-syndicate hit man go back in time to kill history's worst villain; kung fuhrer Hitler. The short film was selected to screen in the Directors' Fortnight section at this year's Cannes Film Festival.

For fans of: Austin Powers

Starring: David Hasselhoff, Jorma Taccone, David Sandberg, Andreas Cahling

Rent for: £4.99

FOR THE ROMANTIC

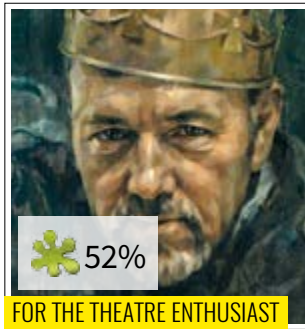

Everything Before Us (2015)

Set in the near future, when all romantic relationships are overseen by the Department Of Emotional Integrity, this drama with a difference explores love in a world where people are branded with a public 'relationship score', keeping them accountable for their relationship activity and choices.

For fans of: Her

Starring: Randall Park, Aaron Yoo, Brittany Ishibashi, Ki Hong Lee

Buy for: £9.99

FOR THE THEATRE ENTHUSIAST

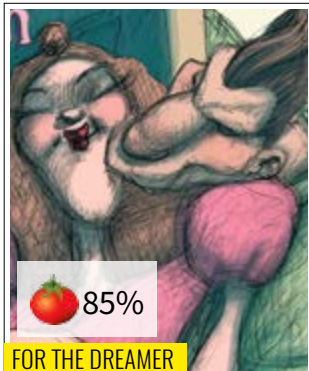

NOW: In The Wings On A World Stage (2014)

Following the Bridge Project Company world tour of Shakespeare's Richard III, this documentary chronicles the reunion of actor Kevin Spacey and director Sam Mendes - who worked together on 1999's American Beauty - while offering a window to the theatrical process.

For fans of: Looking For Richard

Starring: Kevin Spacey, Maureen Anderman, Stephen Lee Anderson

Rent for: £2.60*

FOR THE DREAMER

Cheatin' (2014)

The seventh animated feature film from Academy Award-nominated cartoonist Bill Plympton, this beautifully affecting silent comedy follows Jake and Ella - the most loving couple in the history of romance - whose perfect relationship is disrupted by a scheming 'other woman'. Offers a fresh new look at modern relationships through a twisting plot and gorgeous soundtrack.

For fans of: Sylvain Chomet

Rent for: £3.50

FOR THE GAMER

Halo: Nightfall (2014)

Based on the video game franchise, this Ridley Scott-directed live action series follows manhunter Jameson Locke and his team, as they face a horrific biological attack on the distant colony world of Sedra.

For fans of: Halo 4: Forward Unto Dawn

Starring: Mike Colter, Steven Waddington, Christian Contreras, Sarah Armstrong

Rent for: £3.90*

FOR THE BIKER

The Greasy Hands Preachers (2015)

Shot on Super 16, this documentary explores the passion of motorcycle enthusiasts. Filmed all over the world, it features such big-name builders as Roland Sands and Shinya Kimura, plus the controversial El Solitario and Blitz Motorcycles.

For fans of: TT3D: Closer To The Edge

Rent for: £4.99

FOR THE INDIE FAN

Little Feet (2013)

Two young children determined to set their pet goldfish free leave their native Los Angeles and embark on an urban odyssey in search of the ocean in this tender black-and-white portrait of young sibling-hood. Directed by Alexandre Rockwell, winner of The Sundance Film Festival's Grand Jury Prize for In The Soup.

For fans of: In The Soup

Starring: Lana Rockwell, Nico Rockwell, Rene Cuante-Bautista

Rent for: £2.75*

Secrets Of Series 9:

The Ultimate Guide
To Doctor Who's
Upcoming Series

HE'S BACK

More than fifty years of Doctor Who and we're just as excited as ever for the upcoming new series, which hits our screens on Saturday, September 19. There are new monsters, new faces and a whole host of returning fan favourite characters. We've held on to every nugget of information about the new series to compile this guide to series nine.

DOCTOR WHO RETURNS TO BBC ONE
ON SEPTEMBER 19 AT 7:45 PM*

*TBC

DOCTOR WHO: SECRETS OF SERIES 9

Maisie Williams

NEW FACES

Game of Thrones fans will recognise Maisie Williams, who plays Arya Stark in the hit cable fantasy, as she appears in the fifth and sixth episodes of series nine as a mysterious new character. Unfortunately, both show runner Steven Moffat and Williams herself have been tight-lipped about the identity of the character, but here's what they did say:

"It's not possible to say too much about who or what she's playing, but she is going to challenge the Doctor in very unexpected ways. This time he might just be out of his depth, and we know Maisie is going to give him exactly the right sort of hell."

Showrunner Steven Moffat on Maisie Williams' appearance on Doctor Who

"Whether she is good or bad is up for discussion, I think. She does put the Doctor to the test and it's sort of a dynamic that we haven't seen before."

Maisie Williams, speaking to Alan Carr on Chatty Man in April

Actor, comedian and award winning writer
Reece Shearsmith appears in episode 9

MONSTERS

NEW 'Block 3 monster'

We caught our first look at the newest adversary of the Doctor earlier this year in a teaser trailer. Not much is known about the mysterious 'Block 3' monster, but it looks like a fighter.

RETURNING Daleks

Watch out for lots and lots of Daleks as the Doctor's most widely recognised foe is about to make a huge return. Daleks were last seen in the second episode of the eighth series, Into The Dalek.

Zygons

Fiftieth anniversary antagonists the Zygons will make a big return in a special two-parter that follows on from where Day of The Doctor left off.

Davros?

According to The Mirror, the Doctor will face a younger version of his nemesis and creator of the Daleks, Davros. Davros was last seen in 2009 during the Tennant era.

Returning Guest Stars

Michelle Gomez (Missy)

Despite meeting the sort of end that we thought might be good enough for at least a season's break, Missy (otherwise known as the Master) will return for the The Magician's Apprentice, with rumours suggesting she will temporarily bury the hatchet and join Clara on a hunt for the Doctor.

"Everybody hide - Michelle Gomez as Missy was an instant hit last year, so she's straight back to plague the Doctor and Clara in the series opener. But what brings her back into their lives is the last thing they'd expect." - Steven Moffat

Jemma Redgrave

(Kate Stewart)
Along with the return of UNIT, we'll see the return of Jemma Redgrave as the Brigadier's daughter, Kate Stewart.

Ingrid Oliver

(Osgood)
Did you think she was dead? Think again! This season will also see the return of the adorable Osgood, fresh from her execution at the hands of Missy.

What We Know

Day of the Doctor: Part 2?

In 2013, the BBC aired the fiftieth anniversary special of Doctor Who, in which the troublesome Zygons signed a peace treaty with humans after invading Earth (and impersonating Queen Elizabeth I). Apparently not all of the shapeshifting aliens were pleased with the conditions agreed, and Invasion of the Zygons (episode 7) picks up from there.

Doctor Who Does Cloverfield

Mark Gatiss' episode of Doctor Who (episode 9) will consist entirely of phone and camera footage, Cloverfield style, as witnesses film the Doctor fighting a monster.

The Doctor's Solo Adventure

One risky but exciting new venture for series nine will be the inclusion of a full length one-hander episode, starring Peter Capaldi and nobody else. The episode is written entirely by Steven Moffat, so fans be afraid, be very afraid.

MONSTER MASH!

Doctor Who special

Our favourite master of time and space returns to our screens on September 19, and what better a way to celebrate the legacy of the Doctor than dedicate our pages to his greatest alien adversaries (and wins against them). To make it more fun, we've made a card game out of it and included a few more of our favourite television monsters in the mix.

FORTNIGHT OF SPORT

A new season of American football kicks off this week and every year UK coverage of the NFL just gets better and better. This year we'll see coverage on Sky Sports, ESPN and Channel 4. If that's not enough, we've also picked our top sport selections for the coming fortnight.

AMERICAN FOOTBALL

September 11th

NFL 1st Game

The NFL finally kicks off on Thursday 10th (Friday September 11th in the UK) with the first game of the season seeing the Steelers take on last year's Superbowl winners the Patriots. However, the Patriots will be without their star quarterback, which should even the playing field slightly.

Rivalry rating: 8/10

September 8th, 11th, 13th

CRICKET

England v Australia ODI

The final three games of the ODI tour are Manchester on Tuesday 8th, Leeds on Friday 11th and then Manchester again on Sunday 13th. With the Ashes in the bag, England should be confident of winning the ODI series.

Rivalry rating: 9/10

September 12th

HORSE RACING

St. Leger

The St. Leger Stakes at Doncaster are the oldest and longest Classic and this year takes place on September 12th. This year's renewal shouldn't be too tough for the long distance runners. All eyes will be on Storm The Stars after his recent Derby form.

Rivalry rating: 10/10

September 13th

MOTOGP

San Marino GP

Despite being on top of the title race, Valentino Rossi and Team Yamaha will be very lucky to secure the championship this year. Jorge Lorenzo is clawing back the points at an amazing rate and you can never rule out Marc Marquez.

Rivalry rating: 8/10

September 20th

FORMULA 1

Singapore Grand Prix

It's unlikely anyone will be able to challenge the dominance of the Mercedes Petronas team, with Hamilton and Rosberg sitting comfortably at the top of the table. However, Singapore's great road circuit is worth watching.

Rivalry rating: 9/10

Sep 18th - Oct 31st

RUGBY UNION

Rugby World Cup

The Rugby World Cup kicks off on September 18th with England vs Fiji at Twickenham. That game should hopefully go England's way, but the bigger question is who will lift the cup? Right now, it's hard to see past New Zealand's excellent form.

Rivalry rating: 10/10

Budget: $30 million

Release Date: 11.09.15

Starring:

Tom Hardy

Taron Egerton

Emily Browning

Paul Bettany

Christopher Eccleston

DID YOU KNOW?

Tom Hardy previously played "Britain's most notorious prisoner", Charles Bronson, in the 2008 film Bronson. Reginald Kray and Bronson knew each other in real life, while serving in prison together. During the making of the film, writer/director Brian Helgeland had drinks in a London bar with well-known Krays associate Freddie Foreman. When it came to settling the bill, Foreman declared "we don't pay".

Periscope & Meerkat

Social media just keeps getting more exciting (and terrifying). Not only can you post selfies, tweets, and your location to the world; now you can broadcast your life via live video streaming apps like Meerkat and Periscope.

WHAT ARE MEERKAT AND PERISCOPE?

Meerkat and Periscope are both live video streaming apps that allow users to broadcast their lives by linking up to their Twitter accounts. This means you can watch the day-to-day life of someone in Los Angeles live and from the comfort of your flat in Leytonstone.

WHO'S USING THEM?

From perverts to popstars, live video streaming is really taking off! We're not sure why privacy-starved celebrities would be interested in joining up, but here are some of the top celebrity live-streamers:

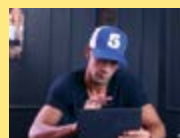

Aaron Paul

Madonna

Jamie Oliver

Rio Ferdinand

Roger Federer

Ashton Kutcher

And good old Arnie Schwarzenegger is using both!

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE?

Owned by Twitter <

→ Independent company

Tabs for Friends, Broadcasting, Global, and People <

→ Stream and see users you follow on homepage

Opt-in to share live stream on Twitter <

→ Schedule broadcasts for later dates

Broadcasts saved automatically to Periscope for 24 hours <

→ Users must save broadcasts directly to phone

HOW TO GET INVOLVED

Firstly, you must have Twitter and iOS. Currently, both of these apps are only available on iOS platforms.

- 1 Download your chosen app: Meerkat or Periscope
- 2 Link up to your Twitter account
- 3 Add your phone number [Meerkat only]
- 4 To start streaming, click 'Stream' on Meerkat or the camera icon on Periscope

The Suit Makes the Man

"Suits are like medieval suits of armour. They tell us who the person is, what kind of background they come from, and what kind of status they have."

- Jolie Andreatta, costume designer on Suits.

Dave
Suits, Mondays at 10pm

If anyone on TV knows what it means to dress for success, it's the men of Suits.

Where rookie lawyer Mike Ross once asked "Why does it matter how much I spend on a suit?", he has since learned a thing or two about style from his former mentor Harvey Specter, who taught him that "People respond to how we're dressed, so like it or not, this is what you have to do". In celebration of new episodes of Suits airing Mondays on Dave, we're taking a look at the sharpest suits on TV and how to emulate them.

SUITS

"Mike is going more towards textured suits and pinstripes. We're not using as skinny a tie as we did the first couple of seasons. He's maturing in the way of how the lapels are being cut and the collars. [His look is] becoming more 'executive,' but because he has that young flare, it's fresh on him." - Jolie Andreatta

SUITS

"I'm going to be using more solids on him. I no longer want to use pinstripes. I'll still use some plaids and stripes, but I'm going to be much more particular about it... Harvey's look is inspired by his father being a jazz musician, stemming from the 50's, 60's, 70's era. I take iconic pieces from those eras to influence him." - Jolie Andreatta

MAD MEN

A suit so iconic it's been donated to the Smithsonian's National Museum of American History, the sartorial impact Don Draper's formal '60s look has had on modern menswear cannot be overstated. Blowing away the cobwebs of the Camden indie rock craze, the dawning of Mad Men in 2007 made sharp, well-groomed dressing the hottest thing in town. Seven seasons have since passed, and the style is showing no signs of letting up. Here's how you can take a leaf out of dapper Draper's evergreen lookbook.

HOW I MET YOUR MOTHER

What good would a suited and booted fashion piece be without a cameo from the king of suiting up himself? Barney Stinson invented the suave style of the modern bro with his belief that everyone should be in a suit, regardless of the occasion. Here's how to copy his all-purpose suit swag.

Downton Abbey

A VERY BRITISH EXPORT

DOWNTON ABBEY - A VERY BRITISH EXPORT

A huge part of Downton's success lies in its undeniable Britishness. The international interest in Britain's history, culture and class system cannot be overstated - more than 180 international broadcasters picked up rights to the BBC live feed of the 2011 wedding of Prince William and Catherine Middleton. In the US, where Downton has been nominated for a whopping fifty primetime Emmy awards, the British class system is almost alien. In the US, social class is synonymous with income. The idea that middle class lawyer Matthew Crawley could find himself the heir of a huge fortune, but still be looked down upon for his background, is hard to fathom and interesting to watch.

The presence of an American insight to the British household is also speculated to have contributed to the show's popularity stateside. Cora, the Countess of Grantham, was brought up outside the peculiarities of the British aristocracy, and is sometimes portrayed as as much of an outsider as the fans. Speaking at a recent press conference, writer Julian Fellowes said: "The advantage for me about the show having the American wife [...] was that it gave me a central character who was not dyed in the wool of the English upper class upbringing. You could have one of the principal characters who didn't take all that stuff for granted, but questioned it, which Cora did, and as the world changed, in fact it changed towards her".

The social and economic climate could also have played a role in the popularity of Downton. Throughout five seasons of Downton, the household has struggled for staying afloat due to rising costs. The timeless tale of an old way of life fighting a tide of modernity rings true still today. The series appeared in the midst of global recession, during which the hot topic issue of income inequality has been called out again and again by politicians and the media. The struggles of the Crawleys are completely different - yet not so different - from our own struggles.

QUOTES

*"We're thrilled that it's been such a big hit for ITV, and we're also proud of the fact that Downton has been a truly British representative in this so-called 'Golden Age of drama' around the world, where a British show can really punch above its weight alongside those shows that we all revere from America."*

Gareth Neame, Executive Producer

"I started getting letters from far-flung places such as Alaska and New Zealand, and it just started to grow. In series three when there was a 'Free Bates' march in San Francisco, then I knew that something really was happening."

Brendan Coyle, John Bates (on the moment he realised people had really embraced Mr Bates and the Anna and Bates storyline)

"I remember the first interview I did in NY. We were live on some morning show and the first question the presenter asked was, 'What was it like working with Dame Judi Dench?'. Then two years later everything had changed."

Elizabeth McGovern, Cora Crawley

China that on a 2014 visit, David Cameron gifted Chinese Premier Li Keqiang a signed shooting script from the series. China is not experiencing an economic decline as seen on the show - quite the opposite - but interest in the very British Downton can be partly explained by the socioeconomic climate there too. In a booming economy, China has experienced a rise in its middle classes and these newly minted families are interested in symbols of wealth. In 2013, CBS News reported that demand for butlers had skyrocketed since the series began, with six new butler academies opening in China. In a way, Downton Abbey is a blueprint for how those with money live, and the suddenly-wealthy Chinese are fascinated by it.

The popularity of Downton Abbey is down to more than international intrigue at the British way of life or convenient timing, however. The show owes a large portion of its success to impeccable writing and performances. Every episode is written single-handedly by Academy Award-winning writer Julian Fellowes, with episodes exploring emotional themes and relatable issues. Fellowes said: "I think there has been a conscious effort on my part to deal with issues that were current at the time of when the characters were living, but also to have some relevance today and strike a chime with us; whether we're dealing with hospitals or hunting, or whatever it is, these are issues that the public is aware of. [...] We also tend to stick with issues that are not nationally bound. The problems that we have in this country are shared, certainly by Europe, but also more than that". There's also a lot of credit to be given to an incredibly talented cast for their ability to bring these characters to life.

Downton Abbey is nothing short of a phenomenon. Its inherent Britishness has been crucial to its international success, along with good timing, socioeconomic circumstance and exceptional writing. The sixth season and Christmas special have high hopes riding on their shoulders, but we don't doubt the beloved favourite will reach a triumphant conclusion.

Why has Downton Abbey been an international hit?

When Downton Abbey launched in 2010, nobody anticipated the international sensation the quintessentially British period drama would be. In 2015, Downton is watched in over 250 international territories and can claim to have boosted almost everything British - from tourism to butlers. How has a series about the owners and staff of a post-Edwardian estate become a global phenomenon?
