See next page for different Buy Now buttons examples

For our eBook resellers, there are numerous ways to market our digital downloads. The most popular method is to insert a "Buy Now" button into your product description. Below are examples of HTML with different Buy Now images. Simply choose the one right for you and then modify the HTML with the correct PID and SKU. Each URL is unique to each product and MUST be in lower case. The NICKNAME identifies you as the reseller and the "pid" (Product Identification) identifies the product. You must replace the generic NICKNAME in each URL with your real Clickbank nickname. For example, if your nickname is "fordmanual", then a typical link would look like: <http://www.forelaffiliates.com/go.php?offer=fordmanual&pid=1> Be sure to replace NICKNAME with your Clickbank nickname

Product Image Link		This HTML is pre-formatted to display a small product image (77w x 100h). Simply copy/paste the URL below into your website for each of the products. ### 1964-1971 Ford Car and Truck Technical Service Bulletins (TSB) (No. 1-174)

Forel Publishing, LLC is proud to announce the release 1964-1971 Ford Car and Truck Technical Service Bulletins (TSB) (No. 1-174) on USB Flash Drive and eBook download!

This product is an electronic collection of the 1964 through 1971 Ford Car and Truck Technical Service Bulletins (TSB) released from October 19th, 1964 through September 10th, 1971. Technical Service Bulletins (TSBs) are official communications between Ford & their dealerships that describe processes for troubleshooting or fixing certain common problems. TSB's document recommended procedures for repairing vehicles, when there are several occurrences of an unanticipated problem. TSBs can range from vehicle-specific to covering entire product lines and break down the specified repair into a step-by-step process. While sometimes written by Ford engineers, the majority are authored by the first automotive technician to come up with a repair procedure. Because certain problems may have more than one cause and there is sometimes more than one way to fix a problem, there may be more than one TSB for the same problem.

For example:

TSB#33 NEW SYNCHRO-VALVE

(All 1964-65 Trucks With Tractor Trailer Air Brake Package And Maxi Or Stop-Master Air Parking Brake Systems)

A new synchro-valve became effective in production approximately August 15, 1964 on all trucks with production installed tractor trailer air brake package and Maxi or Stopmaster (failsafe) parking brake systems. The new valve acts as a sensing device to initiate automatic application of the trailer brakes in event of a service brake failure on the towing vehicle. Figures 3 and 4 show typical schematic and valve. The new valve is available from Bendix- Westinghouse Distributors under Part BW-278825.

TSB#187 INCORRECT ALTERNATOR AND POWER STEERING MOUNTING BRACKET INSTALLATION

(1965 Falcon, Mustang, Fairlane and Galaxie Equipped With 289 CID Engines)

Prior to October 2, 1964 an undetermined number of the subject vehicles were built with two (2) 5/16 inch flat washers between the attaching bolt heads and the alternator mounting bracket and two (2) between the attaching bolt heads and the power steering mounting bracket to the water pump and cylinder front cover. This condition results in insufficient thread engagement of the attaching bolts and could possibly induce loss of bolt torque causing vibration and short belt life. If customer complaints of vibration, noise, or worn belts are encountered, it is recommended that the vehicle be inspected and corrected as necessary by removing the 5/16 inch flat washers. These flat washers are to be discarded and not replaced when re-installing the brackets.

Bulletins Example:

1955-1956 Lincoln Technical Service Bulletins (TSB) (No.1-59)

Pages: 170

Models: All 1955-1956 model Lincoln and Continental Mark II.

Description: This product is an electronic reproduction collection of the 1955 through 1956 Lincoln and Continental Mark II Technical Service Bulletins (TSB) released from June 25th, 1955 through October 5th, 1956. Technical Service Bulletins (TSBs) are official communications between Ford & their dealerships that describe processes for troubleshooting or fixing certain common problems. TSB's document recommended procedures for repairing vehicles, when there are several occurrences of an unanticipated problem. TSBs can range from vehicle-specific to covering entire product lines and break down the specified repair into a step-by-step process. While sometimes written by Ford engineers, the majority are authored by the first automotive technician to come up with a repair procedure. Because certain problems may have more than one cause and there is sometimes more than one way to fix a problem, there may be more than one TSB for the same problem.

For example:

TSB#4 NEW VALVE STEM OIL SEAL AND CYLINDER HEAD ASSEMBLIES 1955 Lincoln Engines: A new valve stem oil seal, part number B5A-6571-A, has been released for production and service on all 1955 Lincoln engines. The skirt on the new seal has been lengthened .100" to protect a greater area of the valve stem from oil splash. The new oil seal is Ford controlled, "A" classified, and presently shown in the Master Price and Reference Book. Stock is presently available at the Mercury Division General Parts Depot.

TSB#15 POWER STEERING HOSE INTERFERENCE WITH UPPER A FRAME 1956 Lincoln: If power steering pressure hoses are found to interfere with the upper suspension arm the 351791 "Banjo" pressure hose fitting should be rotated. This fitting should be between the 8 and 9 o'clock positions as viewed from the left side of the car. If the fitting is below the 8 o'clock position it might allow the pressure hose to rub on the upper suspension arm.

TSB#31 ROCKER ARM COVERS LEAKING OIL AT THE REAR 1956 Lincoln: A few early rocker arm covers were produced with the bolt holes approximately 1/16" out of location. This causes the inner flange of the cover to ride high on the cylinder head rail, allowing oil to leak under the gasket. This condition can be corrected by grinding away approximately 1/16" of the inner flange for a length of 1-1/2" at the rear of the cover. This condition has since been corrected in production.

TSB's provide valuable information not typically found in the shop service manuals and can explain why some "fixes" were performed by Ford mechanics.

Description: the 1980-89 Ford/Lincoln-Mercury Car Master Parts and Accessories Catalog is the original manual used by Ford technicians to identify the correct parts for Ford vehicles. It contains a comprehensive list of part numbers, illustrations, diagrams, and other information necessary for any vintage restoration. Loaded with useful information for any restoration, this catalog can unravel the mystery behind which part number was designed for your vehicle, when there was a part change, or how the part was depicted to Ford technicians

This is not the same as a "Shop Manual". A shop manual is very useful, but simply does not provide the details necessary for most restorations. For example, a shop manual does not provide the full part number, when a part changed, nor part diagrams. On the other hand, the 1980-89 Ford/Lincoln-Mercury Car Master Parts and Accessories Catalog contains virtually every part number and diagrams specific to each vehicle by year and model.

One of the more valuable features of this manual are the detailed illustrations of the vehicle. Disassembled views of the principal units show the various parts and subassembly. In many cases, a glance at these illustrations will tell you all you need to know about how the parts are assembled.
