SPRING SEMESTER 2020

SMEAL COLLEGE OF BUSINESS

May 9, 2020

National Anthem

by Francis Scott Key

O say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming;
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air
Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there.
O say, does that Star-Spangled Banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave!

Alma Mater

by Fred Lewis Pattee

For the glory of old State,
For her founders, strong and great,
For the future that we wait,
Raise the song, raise the song,

Sing our love and loyalty,
Sing our hopes that, bright and free,
Rest, O Mother dear, with thee.
All with thee, all with thee.

When we stood at childhood's gate,
Shapeless in the hands of fate,
Thou didst mold us, dear old State,
Dear old State, dear old State.

May no act of ours bring shame
To one heart that loves thy name,
May our lives but swell thy fame,
Dear old State, dear old State!

Dear family and friends,

The Penn State Smeal College of Business welcomes you to its spring 2020 commencement ceremony.

We virtually gather to celebrate the class of 2020. Over the past several years, a host of people at Smeal and Penn State have helped guide these students on their journey toward academic achievement, personal discovery and growth. Indeed, we are proud of their many accomplishments, especially during this final, challenging semester.

For these graduates, today marks the close of undergraduate education at Penn State and Smeal. It also presents the opportunity to apply the expertise they have gained to assure a promising future. When these students turn their tassels, they will officially become college graduates.

Smeal's commencement speaker for 2020 is Brian Olsavsky, a Penn State graduate who helps lead one of the world's most dynamic companies, Amazon. He offers some poignant observations during this historic time in our University's and nation's history.

We know that with the guidance, love, and support of all of you who will be watching today, our graduates will transition to their post-graduate careers with honor and integrity while upholding our Penn State values.

As their professional careers unfold, our graduates should know that Penn State Smeal remains committed to their future success and is prepared to support their journey toward lifelong learning and professional development.

On behalf of Penn State and the Smeal College of Business, thank you for the role each one of you has played in the lives of these new Penn State alumni.

Congratulations to the class of 2020!

Best regards,

Charles H. Whiteman
Dean, Smeal College of Business

About Our Commencement Speaker

Brian Olsavsky

Senior Vice President and Chief Financial Officer, Amazon

Brian Olsavsky is Amazon's senior vice president and chief financial officer (CFO). He oversees the company's overall financial activities, including controllershship, tax, treasury, analysis, investor relations, internal audit, and financial operations.

Olsavsky started at Amazon in 2002 as vice president of finance for worldwide operations and assumed his current role in 2015. Prior to becoming senior vice president and CFO in June 2015, he served as vice president of finance and CFO for the global consumer business. In that role Olsavsky had oversight and responsibility for the finance team supporting Amazon websites, merchant services, and fulfillment operations and subsidiaries.

From 2007 to 2010, he was vice president of finance for Amazon's North America retail business unit and acquisitions, and from 2002 to 2007 Olsavsky led the finance departments for Amazon's worldwide operations organization.

Prior to joining Amazon, he spent seven years at Fisher Scientific, where he held a variety of financial and business management roles, and a total of eight years at BF Goodrich and Union Carbide, where he held a variety of financial and operational roles.

Olsavsky is an advocate and active ally for diversity and inclusion. The Women in Finance Initiative (WiFi), one of Amazon's affinity groups designed to build community and provide opportunities for leadership development, started under his leadership. WiFi fosters an inclusive and supportive community of women and allies; builds effective lines of communication with leadership and partner organizations; and focuses on training, career development, and community engagement for women in finance and global business services.

Olsavsky holds a bachelor's in mechanical engineering from Penn State and an MBA in finance from Carnegie Mellon University.

Baccalaureate Degree Candidates

Program Notes

Scholastic Distinction: Subject to completion of all degree requirements and satisfaction of minimum criteria, distinction may be conferred as indicated upon the individuals listed herein and upon such others as may meet the requirements. Distinction is conferred on graduates who have completed the required number of credits at the University and who are in the top 12 percent of their graduating class in their colleges. The 12 percent is divided into 2 percent "SUMMA CUM LAUDE," 4 percent "MAGNA CUM LAUDE," 6 percent "CUM LAUDE." Distinction are noted with numbers: 1 = Summa Cum Laude, 2 = Magna Cum Laude, 3 = Cum Laude.

Schreyer Scholars: The Schreyer Honors College selects students who exhibit the promise of fulfilling academic excellence with integrity, building a global perspective, and pursuing civic engagement and leadership. To graduate with honors, Schreyer Scholars must maintain a record of good academic standing, complete 35 credits of honors courses, and submit a thesis. Students graduating with honors are highlighted in bold print.

The Sapphire Leadership Academic Program: Selected for their academic excellence and leadership potential, Sapphire students demonstrate a commitment to student engagement and professional development both in and out of the classroom. Sapphire Leadership Program students are shown in blue.

Military Commission: Students who have satisfactorily completed the advanced course in military, naval, or air science may be granted commissions upon graduation. Military and air science graduates are commissioned as second lieutenants; naval science graduates may be commissioned as ensigns in the Navy or second lieutenants in the Marine Corps.

Degree Candidates: The information in this document was produced on April 9, 2020 including an unofficial list of students who indicated intent to graduate at the end of the spring semester 2020. Students who indicated their intent to graduate after the production date are not listed. If you have a question about your name, degree or distinction, listed in this program, please reach out to Karen Serago, kfs11@psu.edu. Congratulations on your achievements!

About Penn State

Penn State, founded in 1855, is the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania's sole land-grant institution and its largest public university. Penn State's land-grant mission embraces teaching, research, and public service to support the citizens of the Commonwealth, collaborating with industrial, educational, and agricultural partners to create, disseminate, integrate, and apply knowledge that is valuable to society.

Today, Penn State awards more associate, baccalaureate, and graduate degrees than any other institution in the Commonwealth. Graduates of the University join a family of more than 700,000 alumni. The Penn State Alumni Association—the largest dues-paying organization of its kind—helps Penn Staters stay connected with each other and the University through a network of more than 280 chapters and other affiliated groups in all 50 states and more than 40 foreign countries.

Visit psu.edu to learn more about Penn State.

Smeal College of Business History

Milton S. Eisenhower assumed the presidency of Penn State in 1950 with a simple mandate: build an institution that merits national recognition. The 1953 formation of an autonomous school of business, the offspring of the Commerce and Finance Department in Liberal Arts, was a step in that direction.

More than 60 years after its founding, Eisenhower's vision for the future has become reality in the Smeal College of Business. Over six decades, the college has advanced steadily, earning a place among the national and international leaders of business education. Developments such as the introduction of the residential MBA Program in the late 1950s and the launch of Penn State Executive Programs—which helped solidify the college's partnerships with the business community—to an expanding portfolio of online and residential professional graduate programs signal Smeal's ongoing commitment to preparing graduates for what's ahead. Today, the college offers highly ranked undergraduate, graduate, doctoral, and executive education opportunities ranging from residential to online delivery to more than 6,000 students.

Smeal's connection to its own alumni base has also grown and flourished during its history. One of the most enduring alumni connections was forged in 1990 with the naming of the college for Mary Jean and Frank P. Smeal '42/'42, two of Penn State's most generous benefactors. Their contributions created five endowed chairs within the college as well as a separate endowment for program excellence. Today, Smeal counts more than 90,000 alumni around the globe.

The Smeal Alumni Network

With more than 90,000 Smeal alumni around the globe, our graduates are launching startups and leading Fortune 100 companies. From entry-level positions to c-suite executives, Smeal graduates take an innovative approach to business while holding to the highest ethical standards. The college encourages alumni to stay connected through communications and social media; to take advantage of events, Alumni Clubs, and Alumni Career Services; and to consider volunteer and giving opportunities.
