RUGER RIFLES

Warner Glenn and Kelly Glenn-Kimbro are third and fourth generation cattle ranchers from Douglas, Arizona. This father/daughter team has hunted mountain lions in the rugged mountains of southeastern Arizona for three decades. They share a love of the land, family, and a way of life that is precious. Kelly has graced the annual Ruger poster for eighteen years. Kelly and Warner are shown here with the New Ruger Ranch Rifle and New Ruger M77® Mark II Frontier Rifle.

CENTERFIRE BOLT ACTION RIFLES

Loaded with patented Ruger technology

Since its introduction in 1968, the original Ruger M77® and its descendants have been recognized as the leaders in the field of centerfire bolt action rifles. The unique Ruger diagonal front-screw bedding system firmly anchors the receiver downward and rearward into the stock inletting. Its one-piece bolt has proven to be one of the strongest on the market, standing up over the years to such magnum cartridges as the .375 H&H, .416 Rigby, and .458 Lott.

Today, Ruger centerfire bolt action rifles are available in both blued and stainless steel, in right- and left-handed configurations, and in twenty-six calibers ranging from the flat-shooting .204 Ruger at 4,225 feet per second to the powerful .458 Lott. Ruger M77 Mark II rifles are suitable for a wide variety of shooting requirements. For hunters who trek far into the wilderness for their game, there are the 5 3/4 pound M77 Mark II Compact Rifles, the lightweight M77 Mark II Ultra Light Rifles, and the fast-shooting New M77 Mark II Frontier Rifles; for those who confront the largest and most dangerous game, the deluxe Ruger Magnum Rifle will fill the bill; and for long-range target shooters, the heavy-barrel, supremely accurate Ruger M77 Mark II Target Model with a two-stage target trigger is the rifle of choice.

CENTERFIRE BOLT ACTION RIFLES

A broad range of choices

When you choose a Ruger centerfire bolt action rifle, you have a wide range of options before you. All have precision hammer-forged barrels for superb accuracy, in lengths ranging from 16 1/2" for the Compact and Ruger Frontier Rifles to 26" for the supremely accurate Target Rifle. Material choices include blued or stainless steel barreled actions, and cut-checked American walnut, laminated hardwood, or All-Weather® synthetic stocks. All exposed stainless steel components on Target Grey® models feature Sturm, Ruger's unique, corrosion-resistant, low-glare finish. In total, the M77® Mark II family includes over 100 top-quality rifles to meet your exact needs.

All Ruger M77 Mark II Rifles feature the Ruger patented integral scope mounting system and include scope rings at no extra cost. Ruger scope rings attach directly to precision-machined mounting surfaces, eliminating a potential source of looseness and inaccuracy in the field. No other American rifle maker offers this system, but you get it free with every Ruger bolt action rifle.

New for 2005, Sturm, Ruger is proud to introduce the Ruger M77 Mark II Frontier Rifle. Ruger Frontier Rifles feature shorter stocks and 16 1/2" barrels like our Compact Rifles, but include front scope mounting barrel ribs. M77 Mark II Frontier Rifles allow for fast "eyes-open" target acquisition in a short, easy-to-carry package that is perfect for today's long-ranging hunts. Ruger Frontier Rifles also include patented Ruger scope rings and Weaver-style scope base adapters for even more options to mount today's advanced optics.

.17 CALIBER ROTARY MAGAZINE BOLT ACTION RIFLES

Higher velocity, flatter trajectory, superior accuracy

Since its introduction in 2002, the exciting .17 HMR cartridge has taken the shooting industry by storm. Sturm, Ruger is proud to introduce the next innovation in rimfire cartridges - the new 17 Mach 2™. The new .17 Mach 2 cartridge propels a 17-grain, jacketed, synthetic tipped bullet at 2,000 feet per second – over 50% faster than a typical .22 LR cartridge. This ultimately means a flatter trajectory and superior accuracy on the target range or for small game hunting, and it's even quieter and more economical to shoot than the .17 HMR. Ruger 77/17® rifles chambered in .17 Mach 2 feature 20-inch barrels, which are engineered to provide maximum muzzle velocity for this exciting new cartridge.

Sturm, Ruger offers two new rotary magazine bolt action rifles chambered for the .17 Mach 2 cartridge and three chambered for the .17 HMR cartridge. Choices include blued with cut-checked American walnut or synthetic stocks, or Target Grey® 77/17 Varmint models with low-glare stainless steel components and black laminate stocks. All Ruger 77/17 rifles feature precision hammer-forged barrels and incorporate a Ruger patented detachable rotary magazine; .17 HMR magazines hold nine rounds, while .17 Mach 2 magazines hold ten rounds. Sturm, Ruger's patented scope mounting system with integral scope bases and Ruger rings are included at no extra charge.

Sturm, Ruger has more .17 caliber options to choose from, including the Ruger Model 96/17™ Lever Action Rifle (see page 17), and the Ruger New Model Single Six® and New Model Single Six Hunter single action revolvers (see pages 34 & 35).

Only Ruger rifles feature dependable Ruger rotary magazines, which provide reliable feeding without protruding from the rifle.

Patented Ruger scope mounting system's integral scope bases and Ruger rings are included at no extra cost.

ROTARY MAGAZINE BOLT ACTION RIFLES

Bolt action quality...rotary magazine convenience

In 1983, Sturm, Ruger responded to the many shooters who desired a high-quality, adult-size .22 rimfire rifle built to centerfire standards of strength, accuracy, and aesthetics. The result was the Ruger 77/22® rotary magazine bolt action rifle. Unique among rimfire rifles, the Ruger 77/22 incorporates Sturm, Ruger's patented detachable rotary magazine, which helps ensure smooth feeding of cartridges. It features a convenient three-position safety and precision hammer-forged barrel like that of the centerfire Ruger M77 Mark II. Also like M77 Mark II Rifles, Ruger rotary magazine bolt action rifles offer you many choices: five calibers; cut-checked American walnut, laminated hardwood, or synthetic stocks; and blued alloy steel or corrosion resistant stainless steel components. Elegant, innovative, and moderately priced, the Ruger 77/22 has brought a new level of quality and technical excellence to small-game hunting and target shooting.

Ruger patented detachable rotary magazines are made of virtually indestructible glass-filled nylon. They feature a unique rotor to separate cartridges and minimize misfeeding, and stainless steel lips and feed ramps to smoothly guide cartridges into the chamber.

Ruger Precision Hammer-Forged Barrels
 Sturm, Ruger is a technology leader in barrel manufacturing. Custom grades of ordnance steel are rifled by precision carbide mandrels in computer-controlled rotary hammer forging machines. These hammer-forged barrels are optimum in finish, dimensions, and material properties and provide superior velocity and accuracy.

Solid, heat-treated alloy steel action features right-hand turning, stainless steel one-piece bolt with ultra-fast lock time for improved accuracy.

SINGLE SHOT RIFLES

The best modern single shot... More than 20 calibers to choose from Today, one name stands out far above the rest in the challenging sport of single shot marksmanship – the Ruger No. 1.

The No. 1 is the ultimate evolution of the single shot rifle. Its smooth, sculptured lines are reminiscent of the hand-made firearms of a less hurried era. The breech mechanism is strong, simple, and compact, and is ideally suited to handle both today's powerful cartridges and the classics of yesteryear. The ejector mechanism, which can be adjusted to provide extraction only, is designed to provide maximum leverage at the point where the ejector engages the cartridge case. The sliding tang safety provides instant visibility and accessibility.

The Ruger No. 1 is available in a wide variety of chamberings, from the flat-shooting .204 Ruger to the powerful .458 Lott. Configurations range from Light Sporter to Varminter to Tropical and International. Whatever the caliber, the Ruger No. 1 is a rifle attuned to the needs of a very special class of shooter...one who is confident in the ability to deliver the goods with one well-placed shot.

RUGER CARBINE

Time-tested concept. Modern refinements and materials.

Lightweight and compact, the Ruger Carbine is a versatile firearm that fully accommodates the needs of sporting use, personal defense, and law enforcement. Sturm, Ruger engineers combined 10/22 and P-Series features to create a reliable autoloading rifle that uses the same magazines and ammunition as Ruger P-Series pistols.

The Ruger Carbine has built-in innovations including a combination firing pin block and bolt lock. The firing pin and bolt lock is deactivated only when the trigger is pulled. In addition, a manual cross-bolt safety is located at the rear of the trigger guard. For inspection and cleaning, a slide stop locks the slide open. 9mm Ruger Carbines are available with 15-round magazines, the same as those used in Ruger P-Series pistols.*

Sturm, Ruger has made full use of its expertise in precision manufacturing techniques and advanced synthetics to maximize the Carbine's performance and keep it within your budget. The Ruger Carbine features a chrome-molybdenum steel barrel, receiver, slide and music-wire recoil spring, and features a high-impact synthetic stock with a rubber recoil pad. Integral scope mounts are part of the receiver design, and rear sights include either open or Ghost Ring aperture sight options.

Receivers are machined to accept patented Ruger scope rings.

Adjustable "Ghost Ring" large aperture rear sight is available on PC4GR and PC9GR models.

MODEL 96™ LEVER ACTION RIFLES

The speed you need... in rifles that are rugged, reliable, and ready

For those seeking a rifle with the practical performance demanded on the American frontier, Sturm, Ruger offers Ruger Model 96 lever action rifles. Ruger lever action rifles are compact, rugged, and reliable, and offer quick follow-up shots when needed, with just a short flick of the wrist. The enclosed action design protects against dust, rain, or snow, making these lever actions dependable companions for the open range.

Ruger lever action rifles are designed to accommodate low, centrally mounted scopes for comfortable, instinctive, and accurate shooting. On the 96/44, the patented Ruger scope-mounting system is manufactured integrally with the steel receiver, so that today's advanced optical sights can be solidly mounted. A pair of medium-height Ruger scope rings is included at no extra charge. The .17 HMR and .22 WMR caliber lever action models feature a combination scope base that accommodates either Weaver-style or .22 tip-off accessories, so you can mount the optical sight of your choice.

Time-tested concept. Modern refinements and materials.

For over 25 years, Sturm, Ruger has been producing high-quality, American-made over-and-under shotguns that offer the unique combination of classic beauty and legendary Ruger reliability. You can choose a Ruger Red Label shotgun in 12, 20, or 28 gauge, each with a frame perfectly scaled to its gauge and a choice of three different barrel lengths. Or, if you prefer .410 bore, a tube set is available for your 28 gauge Ruger shotgun. 20 and 28 gauge shotguns can be ordered with either a pistol grip stock or a straight grip English-style stock. Standard models feature plain or engraved brushed stainless steel receivers, alloy steel barrels and premium cut-checked American walnut stocks. Target Grey® All-Weather® models feature corrosion-resistant, low-glare stainless steel components and black synthetic stocks. In total, Sturm, Ruger offers a family of 20 superior over-and-under shotgun models that provide dependable service for every shotgun sport.

Ruger Red Label over-and-under shotguns feature finely polished receivers with no exposed pins, hammer-forged steel barrels, virtually unbreakable firing pins, and dovetailed, free-floating ribs. The locking system, sleek and compact, is considered among the strongest ever built for over-and-under shotguns, and the barrels are back-bored for softer recoil and more uniform patterns. In every detail of styling, fit and finish, Ruger Red Label shotguns approach those of handmade guns...at a price that fits well within your budget.

GOLD LABEL® SIDE-BY-SIDE SHOTGUNS

Perfect weight, perfect balance

At last, there is an American-made side-by-side in production that can compete with the finest European and British handcrafted double shotguns. In the Ruger Gold Label, Sturm, Ruger's modern manufacturing techniques and materials combine precision and durability with aesthetic and dynamic harmony, once achieved only through months of skilled hand labor. The result is a premium quality shotgun with the performance and reliability you expect from Ruger.

At only 6 1/2 pounds, the Gold Label balances gracefully, with the lively responsiveness demanded by the upland game hunter. The boxlock, round action is light and slender with no exposed pins. Lightweight hammer-forged barrels, relieved forcing cones, and thin, steel-shot-compatible screw-in choke tubes ensure uniform patterns, pattern flexibility, and superb handling dynamics. A matte steel rib and gold bead sight draw the eye naturally to game or clays as surely as the graceful stock and splinter forend guide the hands toward the target.

The Gold Label is a work of art, to be cherished during your lifetime, then passed on to another who exults in the joy of being afield on a crisp fall day.

.22 CALIBER RIMFIRE PISTOLS

Raising the bar

For over a half-century, Ruger .22 pistols have been the standard by which all other rimfire pistols are judged. Now, Sturm, Ruger proudly raises that standard by introducing a new family of .22 pistols: the New Ruger Mark III™ pistols - loaded with new features.

Available in Standard and Target models, Ruger Mark III pistols incorporate a magazine release conveniently located just to the rear of the trigger guard. They feature improved front and rear sights, an internal lock, a loaded chamber indicator, and a magazine disconnect. All adjustable sight Mark III pistols are drilled and tapped and include a Weaver-style scope base adapter.

The New Ruger Mark III Hunter sets a new standard for precision, small-bore hunting pistols. This exciting new pistol features a 6 7/8" fluted barrel, offering the rigidity of a heavy-barreled target pistol with reduced weight that makes it superb for carrying afield. Its high-visibility front sight is ideal for hunting small game in the woods.

Best of all, the Ruger Mark III is built to the same industry-leading standards to which all Ruger firearms are made. Rugged, reliable and accurate, the Ruger Mark III is the new standard for all your small-game hunting, plinking and training needs.

NEW RUGER MARK III™ PISTOLS

.22 CALIBER RIMFIRE PISTOLS

The best of both worlds

Since its introduction in 1992, the Ruger 22/45™ has offered shooters the familiar feel of a 1911 pistol with the performance and value of a Ruger rimfire pistol. In 2004, Sturm, Ruger introduced a thoroughly modern autoloading pistol, which combined the best of both – the New Ruger 22/45 Mark III.

The Ruger 22/45 Mark III's slim polymer grip frame features checkered grip panel areas, a serrated front strap, and a checkered back strap. Sturm, Ruger has engineered the very first visible loaded chamber indicator for a .22 rimfire pistol (patent pending) and a more streamlined, tapered bolt head. An unobtrusive internal lock and magazine disconnect add to the many new features that make the New Ruger 22/45 Mark III series the most advanced products in their field. New for 2005, Sturm, Ruger introduces the P45GCMKIII, featuring a 4 1/2" barrel, which, together with the redesigned grip frame, replicates the size and feel of the original 1911 pistol.

SINGLE ACTION REVOLVERS

The top choices in single action revolvers

The Ruger Blackhawk single action in .357 Magnum was Sturm, Ruger's first-ever centerfire revolver and is the foundation of the legendary Ruger single action family. Available only in 2005, the 50th Anniversary New Model Blackhawk offers a unique opportunity to own a revolver with the look and feel of the original "Flat Top" design and all the benefits of 50 years of continuous refinements. Like the 1955 Ruger Blackhawk, the 50th Anniversary New Model Blackhawk is chambered in .357 Magnum with a 4 5/8" barrel. It offers many original features including a blued, original Blackhawk-size "Flat Top" frame with a micro-adjustable rear sight, and a smaller pre-1962 "XR-3" grip frame with checkered "hard rubber" grips bearing original-style black Ruger medallions.

The 50th Anniversary New Model Blackhawk includes important new features, including a unique reverse indexing cylinder pawl, which aligns the cylinder with the loading gate cutout for easier loading and unloading, and a new hammer spring to make cocking easier than ever.

Since its introduction in 1993, the Ruger Vaquero has dominated the cowboy action shooting world. The Vaquero has earned its reputation for rugged reliability because of its strength and mechanical superiority. The New Vaquero combines the original "Old West" single action look and feel with new features demanded by competitive shooters.

The New Vaquero incorporates Sturm, Ruger's slimmer pre-1962 "XR-3" style grip frame, "color-case" finish mid-size cylinder frame, and unique reverse indexing pawl. The New Vaquero features a recontoured hammer and a new hammer spring for the smoothest, easiest cocking ever. Other new features include a beveled cylinder for easier holstering, checkered "hard rubber" grips, and a crescent-shaped ejector rod head.

SINGLE ACTION REVOLVERS

The top choice of single action shooters

Introduced in 1953, Sturm, Ruger's pioneering Single Six® .22 caliber revolver had the familiar look and wonderful feel and balance of traditional "Old West" single actions. Among the New Model Single Six's companions are the Ruger New Bearcat®, Bisley, and Old Army® models...all combining outstanding good looks with significant mechanical refinements.

The New Bearcat fulfills the ideal of a smaller "kit gun"-style .22 caliber single action revolver, a favorite of hikers and campers. Its styling and one-piece frame are reminiscent of the old Remington® Civil War-era revolvers. The unfluted cylinder displays a rollmark with a bear and cougar design. The New Bearcat is available in traditional blued steel or corrosion-resistant stainless steel to meet the demands of the trail.

The Ruger Bisley is immediately recognizable by its distinctive grip style, for added shooting comfort with powerful cartridges. The hammer and trigger are gracefully curved for the needs of the target shooter. The Ruger Bisley is chambered for popular target and hunting calibers from .22 LR to .45 Colt.

A consistent winner at blackpowder matches, the Ruger Old Army .45 caliber cap-and-ball revolver is available with a choice of 5-1/2" or 7-1/2" barrel, blued alloy or stainless steel, and fixed or adjustable sights. Old Army revolvers are easily disassembled without special tools, making blackpowder clean-up quick and easy, especially in stainless steel versions.

DOUBLE ACTION REVOLVERS

Advanced, heavy-frame revolvers for hunting and target shooting

Ruger double action revolvers are the top choice among shooters that shoot frequently for one simple reason: reliability. Both Redhawk® and Super Redhawk® designs emphasize extra metal in the top strap and in the critical areas surrounding the barrel threads. With no side-plate, both sidewalls serve as integral parts of the frame for maximum strength and rigidity. Sturm, Ruger also patented a mechanism to lock the cylinder into the frame at the front, rear, and bottom of the cylinder for positive alignment and increased strength. More than just big revolvers, these are strong revolvers designed to handle the stresses imposed by powerful handgun calibers.

Super Redhawk revolvers feature a six-shot cylinder capacity, making them the ideal choice when using a revolver to hunt large or dangerous game. These potent revolvers are also popular among metallic silhouette shooters. Super Redhawk models feature an extended frame, longer barrel threads, cushioned grips, and a number of improved mechanical features. The Super Redhawk is available in .44 Magnum, .480 Ruger and .454 Casull and incorporates integral scope mounts and free Ruger scope rings (except Alaskan models). The .480 Ruger cartridge offers approximately one-third more energy than the powerful .44 Magnum with less recoil than the powerful .454 Casull. Models chambered in .454 Casull also offer the choice of shooting lower-recoiling .45 Colt cartridges for more enjoyable practice sessions.

The New Ruger Super Redhawk Alaskan™ is the only compact big bore magnum revolver that provides the confidence of a six-shot cylinder in a size and weight that is practical enough to conveniently carry afield. The Super Redhawk Alaskan is chambered for six rounds of either the mighty .454 Casull and .45 Colt, or the powerful .480 Ruger, and is equipped with a Hogue® Monogrip® to help cushion recoil. The Alaskan features a 2 1/2" hammer-forged barrel fitted inside the extended frame and weighs only 42 ounces, making it the most compact revolver ever offered in these calibers. The stainless steel Alaskan features the famous Ruger triple locking cylinder mechanism, which provides legendary reliability and strength. The Ruger Super Redhawk Alaskan provides the confidence necessary when trekking into dangerous game territory.

DOUBLE ACTION REVOLVERS

Sophisticated engineering and quick takedown

Ruger GP100® mid-frame double action revolvers and their smaller-framed counterparts, the SP101® series, offer an array of sophisticated design features that make less innovative revolvers obsolete.

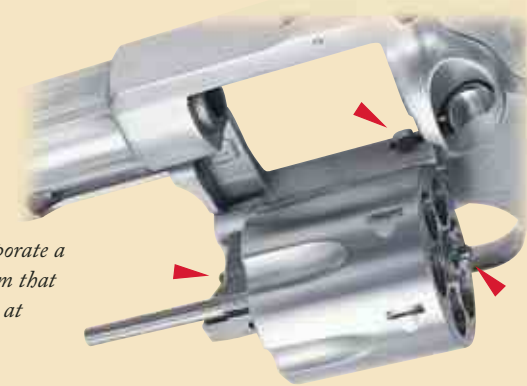

Strength, simplicity, and ease of maintenance are keys to their design. The cylinder is triple-locked by latches at the rear and bottom of the cylinder, and at the front of the crane by a locking bar that engages a matching slot in the frame. Frame widths are increased in critical areas that support the barrel; both sidewalls are solid, integral sections of the frame, with no removable side-plates to compromise the frame's integrity. While some may say that Ruger double action revolvers are over-built, we say that only the best revolvers get to bear the Ruger name. Ruger revolvers are built to perform reliably, shot after shot.

Because these revolvers consist of a group of integrated subassemblies, takedown for cleaning is quick and simple, requiring no special tools. The grip portion of the frame is a post onto which standard or custom grips in a variety of sizes, shapes and materials can be fitted. GP100 and SP101 revolvers feature unique cushioned grips to provide comfort, with no exposed metal to impact the shooter's hand during recoil.

All Ruger double action revolvers incorporate a patented Ruger triple-locking mechanism that securely locks the cylinder into the frame at front, rear and bottom.

The patented Ruger Conversion Kit is an entirely new operating system for these revolvers. It can help prevent accidental discharges caused by a drop or blow to the hammer if the user has failed to take the basic safety precaution of keeping the hammer down on an empty chamber. That's very important!

This mechanism can be factory-installed without any further alteration. The frame and other major parts will not be affected by this conversion. The value of the gun will not be impaired, and we will return your original parts for collector's purposes.

To receive a free factory safety conversion, write to us at Sturm, Ruger and Company, Inc.; Lacey Place, Dept. KC; Southport, CT 06890. We will provide you with a shipping container and instructions. You only pay initial shipping to our factory. We will cover all other charges including return shipping costs. Please write to us without delay if you have one of these guns, and tell your friends about the availability of this kit. Remember that the safest way to carry any older single action revolver, regardless of manufacturer, is with the hammer down on an empty chamber.
