INTRODUCTION

2016 sees Postcards For Peace running their Postcard Design Competition for the third year running. This year we are asking children to use their imagination to design a postcard based on “peace & unity”.

THE COMPETITION

We believe that with greater unity, the world could become free of war, terrorism, prejudice and bullying and could also help to ease the refugee crisis, poverty and hunger, and help us all become more equal. We want children to design a postcard that we can use to promote peace and unity around the world. They can use your own experiences or ideas of what the phrase “peace & unity” means to them. They are free to come up with as many ideas as you like. Their designs should be colourful, eye-catching and, importantly, all their own work.

The competition is open to all children aged 5-16 around the world to take part. This year there are three age groups: 5-8, 9-11 and 12-16. The best entries may be printed and sold to raise awareness of the work of Postcards For Peace and help fund our important work in teaching peace. The closing date for entries is Friday 5th August 2016.

THE PRIZE

We will look at all entries we receive and will post them on the Postcards For Peace website. A judging panel made up from Postcards For Peace trustees and ambassadors will choose one winning entry from each age group as a winner. Each winning entry will be printed. The winner's name will appear on the reverse of each postcard. We will make sure that the winner of each age group receives plenty of postcards to give and send to their friends and family.

WHAT DOES PEACE & UNITY MEAN TO YOU?

Everybody has their own idea of what peace means to them. To many of us it might be an end to war in a distant country but it could also mean that you want bullying to stop in your school or an end to violence on the streets of your town. Perhaps you have been affected by fighting at home or in the street, or you have been called names because of your race or religion. Or maybe you have been affected by pictures worse off than you in newspapers or on the TV.

ABOUT POSTCARDS FOR PEACE

Postcards For Peace was founded in 2013 as a way of using postcards to promote peace and non-violence around the world. We also want to make sure that nobody is treated differently because of their race, religion or personal beliefs. Our supporters around the world have designed postcards for us to sell from our website and in shops. Many famous people support our work and some have even designed postcards for us.

In 2016 Postcards For Peace is applying to become a registered charity when our focus will be on teaching peace to children and young people the world over.

RULES & GUIDELINES

1. These rules apply to the Postcards For Peace Day Postcard Competition 2016 ("Competition").
2. All entrants must be aged 5-16 years of age at the date of entry.
3. To enter the prize draw, submit your design by post to: Postcards For Peace, 6 Rayford Close, Peacehaven, East Sussex BN10 8JY, or by email to: competition@postcardsforpeace.org
4. Emailed entries must contain a high resolution scan of the entire entry form. If the scan is not high resolution (we suggest 300dpi) it will still be considered for the competition but may not be suitable for printing.
5. Children may enter as many original designs as they wish.
6. The closing date for entries is midnight on Friday 5th August 2016. The winner will be announced at the beginning of September.
7. No purchase of any sort is necessary to enter the Competition.
8. Your postcard designs must be original, and created only by the named entrant. Please ensure that the design does not infringe the copyright, trade mark or other right that may be owned by a third party. Entries may be rejected in the sole discretion of Postcards For Peace, including, without limitation, for reasons of obscenity, defamation, invasion of privacy or in the event that Postcards For Peace deems the entry to be in anyway inappropriate. If the design is submitted by a parent or guardian on behalf of a child, it must be a wholly original work by that child.
9. All eligible entries will be put on our website along with the child's name, age and location. It is essential that the form is signed by a parent/guardian/teacher giving us this permission. Any entries without this authorisation cannot be entered into the competition. If the entries are signed by a teacher, it is that teacher's responsibility to ensure that suitable permission is granted for the child's photograph, design and details to be used by Postcards For Peace.
10. Postcards For Peace may print any designs at their discretion to be sold as an official Postcards For Peace postcard except, as noted above, a scan supplied for entry is not high resolution. All children will receive an entrants certificate, providing an email address is supplied. Any further prizes will be confirmed before the closing date.
11. The design of the postcard is up to each entrant: however, it must promote "Peace & Unity".
12. The result of the competition will be final and no correspondence will be entered into.

Postcards For Peace is a Community Interest Company, a non-profit social enterprise. All money raised from the sale of our postcards, and other merchandise, goes back into the running of the organisation and funding our projects.
