NEW TEST PROCEDURES (WLTP)

Stated fuel consumption and CO₂ emissions are measured pursuant to EU Regulation 715/2007 in its applicable version. From 1st of September 2018 the Worldwide Harmonized Light Vehicles Test Procedure (WLTP) has replaced the New European Driving Cycle (NEDC). Regardless of the applied test procedure, it is currently still mandatory to state fuel consumption and CO₂ emissions according to NEDC, hence stated values are determined based on the WLTP test procedure and are converted to NEDC for comparison purposes. Depending on your country, vehicle related taxes or other duties may be based on fuel consumption and CO₂ emissions data which differs from that stated here. The provision of additional fuel consumption and CO₂ emissions as determined according to WLTP is currently voluntary until their provision becomes mandatory by law.

Further information on specific fuel consumption and CO₂ emissions of new passenger cars is provided by the ‚Leitfaden über den Kraftstoffverbrauch, die CO₂-Emissionen und den Stromverbrauch neuer Personenkraftwagen‘ which can be obtained free of charge at all points of sale and from the Deutsche Automobil Treuhand GmbH (DAT) or online <https://www.dat.de/co2/>.

Emergency Call

If an accident takes place involving the activation of an airbag or the belt tensioners (for example), the system automatically issues an emergency call. Relevant details such as the exact position of the car, the severity of the accident and the possible risk of injury to occupants are transmitted to the BMW call centre via the car's built-in SIM card, i.e. independent of a private mobile phone. The BMW call centre will inform the nearest rescue coordination centre and provide assistance over the phone until the rescue services arrive. The emergency call can also be triggered manually, in case other road users require help.

ALPINA RECYCLING

Your BMW ALPINA is part of an all-embracing recycling concept. Recycling demands are already considered early in the development process of a BMW ALPINA. An example of this is in the selection of materials – they are chosen, such that they are environmentally friendly and easily recyclable, using a minimum of resources to do so. Every BMW ALPINA is built so that it is easily and cost-effectively recyclable at the end of its useable life span. All this occurs in close co-operation between BMW and ALPINA. BMW Group has built a European-wide redemption and recycling infrastructure, and require high quality and environmental standards. For return of your automobile for the purpose of recycling, please contact your BMW ALPINA partner. They are ready to help. For further information about recycling firms and redemption locations, please see www.bmw.com.

This is an information brochure which fulfils the requirements of German law. All technical data in this brochure apply to right-hand drive models, additional international units of measure shown in the technical data are for the purposes of information only. The models illustrated in this brochure may show the specifications of vehicles produced for Germany or another market. In part, the specifications include optional equipment and accessories not fitted as standard. According to the specific requirements of other markets or countries, alterations in models, technical data, standard and optional equipment may occur. Not all model versions may be available in your country. For precise information on model features, equipment, fuel consumption and CO₂ emissions as they apply to your country please contact your local BMW ALPINA dealer or importer.
