

Princess Di (e): Illuminati Ritual Sacrifice by Cainite Royals

Timothy Spearman *

Toronto International College

*Corresponding Author

Timothy Spearman

Article History

Received: 03.02.2020

Accepted: 11.02.2020

Published: 17.02.2020

Abstract: Many people are unaware of the fact that we are ruled over by an overarching global elite of interbreeding bloodline families, who have been referred to be various names. World Bank whistleblower Karen Hudes refers to these interbreeding bloodline families as a separate species of human she calls homo capensis. Secret societies like Freemasonry and Rosicrucianism allow these elites to keep their objectives secret, while initiating their bloodlines to the highest degrees within their aristocratic societies, ruling over us with an iron fist. The Royal Family of the United Kingdom is the Saxe-Coburg-Gotha German Royal Family in disguise. Their bloodline is the Cainite bloodline from antiquity. Their blood type as with all of the ascendant aristocracy of the world features the RH-negative blood type. Human mothers often reject the fetuses in the womb if the father is of the homo capensis bloodline. These bloodlines worship the dark forces and conduct Satanic rituals the world over. Fritz Springmeier's bloodlines of the Illuminati has exposed the 13 bloodline families of the ruling Illuminati elite. This essay exposes the fact that the Satanic British Royals sacrificed Princess Di(e) in a Satanic ritual in a Parisian tunnel beneath a hill, where for centuries children were sacrificed to the moon goddess Diana. This paper exposes the machinations surrounding the death of a princess.

Keywords: Illuminati, Cainite, satanic, satanist, ritual sacrifice, bloodlines.

INTRODUCTION

The final, haunting photo of Princess Diana, taken on the night she died, shows her sitting with her boyfriend Dodi Fayed in the back of a Mercedes car as it roars away from the rear entrance of the Paris Ritz Hotel, heading for the couple's secret love-nest near the Champs-Elysees.

Diana is looking intently out the back window of the Mercedes, as someone might if they worried that they were being tailed. The commonly provided explanation is that she was anxiously looking to see if her car was being chased by the paparazzi, who had been tracking her and Dodi since their arrival in Paris from a Mediterranean holiday eight hours earlier.

Chauffeur Henri Paul was at the wheel. His eyes look transfixed, resembling a man possessed. His blood alcohol level is said to have been excessively high in numerous reports, but this smacks of a cover story. Dodi's bodyguard Trevor Rees-Jones is in the front passenger seat. Rees-Jones is seen in the picture below raising his hand in an apparent effort to shield his eyes from a bright light, most likely from a laser, since it was the testimony of MI6 agent Tomlinson that a laser had purportedly been deployed in an MI6-directed operation to blind the driver, Henry Paul.

The haunting last picture taken of Diana shows her peering out the rear window to look for paparazzi. Trevor Ress-Jones and chauffeur Henri Paul are also pictured

What happened next is central to a new probe by Scotland Yard into an astonishing claim from an SAS sniper, known as Soldier N, that members of his elite regiment assassinated Diana seconds after the Mercedes sped at 63mph into the notoriously dangerous Pont de l'Alma road tunnel. Many will dismiss Soldier N's claims as yet another conspiracy theory related to Princess Diana's fatal car accident, August 31, 1997.

Two inquiries, by Scotland Yard and the French police, determined the deaths were the result of a tragic accident. An official inquest reached the same conclusion. The world had been led to believe the blame lay with the grossly negligent driving of an intoxicated driver, Henri Paul, and the pursuing paparazzi.

However, Soldier N's claims may be credible, especially in the light of the most recent death bed confession by an assassin employed by the British government, who targeted those who posed a perceived threat to British national security. There may be good reasons for the continued suspicions related to the case. For instance, the parents of the 41-year-old chauffeur Henri Paul insist that their son was not a heavy drinker, usually contenting himself with a bottle of beer or an occasional shot of Ricard, a liquorice-flavoured aperitif.

Diana in the Ritz hotel lifts with Dodi Fayed

According to investigative reporter Sue Reid, the paparazzi who are accused of pursuing and harassing Diana to her death were not even in the Pont de l'Alma tunnel at the time of the car crash. It has also been revealed that a high-powered black motorbike, which did not belong to any of the paparazzi, raced past Diana's Mercedes in the tunnel. Eyewitnesses say its rider and pillion passenger deliberately caused the car to crash. In addition, Sue Reid's inquiries unearthed the existence of a shadowy SAS unit that answers to MI6, as well as the names of two MI6 officers who were linked by a number of sources to Diana's death.

Were Henri Paul and the paparazzi being used as patsies and scapegoats in the usual manner of a whitewash and cover-up? Has there been a skillful effort to cover-up what is actually an assassination? In fact, it has been revealed that Henri Paul was working for MI6. It is known, for instance, that he received a total of 349,800 French Francs from an undisclosed source in his bank account. Why didn't the Inquiry investigate the source? The payments came in the form of individual cheques to the tune of 40,000 F.F. Why didn't the inquiry make a more concerted effort to establish who was writing these cheques? Why did Henri Paul go missing for 7 minutes at 10:36 at the Ritz Hotel in Paris, the night of the fatal car accident? Why did Paul appear to be signalling to someone moments before driving off in the Mercedes [1]?

And there was another strange anomaly revealed by the ITV documentary in 1998. The Haemoglobin in Henri Paul's blood was found to contain 20.7% carbon monoxide and this would have been at a much higher level earlier because the carbon monoxide content halves every four to five hours once exposure to it has stopped. Haemoglobin carries the oxygen. Debbie Davis of the Carbon Monoxide Support Group said that with these levels in his blood, Henri Paul would not have known his left hand from his right, because of the reduced oxygen reaching the brain. Dr Alastair Hay, an expert on carbon monoxide poisoning, agreed and could not explain why Paul showed no signs of the considerable symptoms that should have been evident: "I find it difficult to rationalise everything. A blood-carbon monoxide level of 20% and (a high blood-alcohol level) suggests this would be someone with a much slower reaction time, certainly be someone who would be slowed up in the way he did things, would probably also be somebody who was in some pain, but none of those things appear to be evident from the pictures that we see of him. It is a bit of an enigma [2]." There is a lot more to know about Henri Paul. His best friend, Claude Garrec, told the ITV documentary that Paul had contacts within the French and foreign intelligence services and maintained them throughout his time at the Ritz. This is no surprise because the intelligence agencies recruit the security men at the top hotels and the Ritz, with its VIP clientele and reputation for espionage and arms dealing would have been a prime target. Paul certainly had unexplained sources of income. He earned about £20- 25,000 a year at the Ritz and yet he was a keen pilot with 605 hours of flying time at about £300 an hour. He had a string of bank accounts. There were two in a bank outside Paris and three accounts, plus a safe deposit box, at the Banque Nationale de Paris near the Ritz. He had three accounts at the nearby branch of Barclays and one current and four deposit accounts at the Caisse D'Epargne de Paris. In the eight months before the crash, sums of £4,000 were paid into an account here on five separate occasions. In total he had £122,000 (1.2 million francs) and no-one knows where it came from. Then there is the question of where Paul was in the three hours between 7:00 pm when he went off duty and 10:00 pm when Dodi called him on his mobile phone and told him to return to the Ritz.

There is little doubt that Diana, who had recently divorced from Prince Charles, had become something of a thorn in the side of the Royal Family. Her romance with Dodi, though only six weeks old, was serious and there are claims she was pregnant, but that this could not be revealed by the autopsy, as the embalming fluid, which negates the results of a pregnancy test, had been administered with unseemly haste.

The Princess had given her lover her most precious keepsake — her deceased father's cufflinks — an heirloom of great sentimental value. She had also allegedly phoned friends, saying she had a 'big surprise' for them when she returned from Paris. Is it possible that, learning of this development through their MI6 spies, the British Royals in their desperation may have sought a more permanent solution to prevent the marriage and the inclusion of a Muslim and Arab in the British Royal Family?

Dodi was no less infected by the love bug and romantic impulse. He had purportedly slipped out of the Ritz Hotel, while Diana was having her hair done, to collect a jewel-encrusted ring adorned with the words "Tell Me Yes" from a chic Paris jeweller. This could not be anything other than an official engagement ring. In addition, rumours were widely circulating that the Princess was pregnant. Photographs taken fourteen days before the fatal car crash show she in a swimsuit while holidaying in the South of France, which, due to the revealing bulges, showed that she was expecting. She had also paid a secretive visit to a leading London hospital for a pregnancy test just before going on holiday. Adding to the threat posed to the British Royal Family was the fact that the mother of a future King of England and head of the Church of England was threatening to move abroad with her Muslim boyfriend and take the royal Princes, William and Harry, with her.

Dodi had bought an estate, once owned by film star Julie Andrews, by the beach in Malibu, California, and had purportedly shown Diana a video of it. This dream home was to be their future residence, where they would spend their married life. Ostracized by the Royal Family and stripped of her HRH title, Diana might have naively thought she could escape with her life, despite the enormous threat she posed to the Royal Family and British establishment. Her engagement and purported pregnancy had raised not just eyebrows among members of the British establishment, but their hackles to.

Dodi's father, Mohamed Al Fayed, the multi-millionaire former owner of Harrods, later revealed how Diana was pregnant by his son and preparing to tell her sons, Prince William and Prince Harry, about her marriage plans when she returned to Britain on September 1, the day after the fateful crash. She had hoped to share the news with her sons before they returned to boarding school.

The chronology of events begins with Princess Diana's black Mercedes departing from the back entrance of the Paris Ritz around 2:20 am. The car sped off in an attempt to avoid the paparazzi who were waiting at the front of the hotel. The couple were purportedly on their way to their love nest near the Champs-Elysees.

As the Mercedes entered the Pont d'Alma tunnel, witnesses claim that it was being tailed by a black motorbike, a dark saloon and white turbo Fiat Uno. Witnesses claim the saloon tail-gated the Mercedes, pressuring the chauffeur to drive faster and more erratically. The Uno then clipped the side of the Mercedes in an apparent attempt to make it crash.

Witnesses claim that when the black motorbike was 15 feet in front of the car there was a fierce flash of white light coming from the motorbike. Some have suggested the blinding flash came from a laser beam carried by the pillion passenger, which was directed at the driver of the Mercedes. According to witnesses, this appeared to temporarily blind the chauffeur, Henri Paul. This malicious homicidal act was followed by a loud bang, as the limousine swerved violently out of control before slamming into the pillar.

One witness, a French harbour pilot, took in the scene in his rear-view mirror. He reported that the passenger on the motorbike jumped off and ran over to peer in the Mercedes' window following the crash. The rider then turned to the motorcycle driver and gave a signal consisting of both arms crossed over the body, which is military body language for "Mission Accomplished." He then climbed back on to the back of the motorcycle and the pair raced off out of the tunnel.

The harbour pilot, whose wife was with him in the car, has described the scene as resembling a terrorist attack. Who was driving the bike and the other vehicles that follow the princess' car into the Pont de l'Alma tunnel that night?

CCTV camera footage of Diana and Dodi al Fayed

The testimony of fourteen independent eyewitnesses near the crash scene that night allege that the Mercedes she was traveling in was literally ambushed. They say Diana's car was surrounded at the entrance to the Alma tunnel by cars and motorcycles, which sped after the Mercedes. Direct evidence from fourteen eyewitnesses is hard to top. Direct evidence is considered the most reliable form of evidence in court, so why was this testimony not given more weight in the inquiry. It shows clear intent. In addition, the testimony related to the crossed arm military signal issued by the motorcycle passenger whose partner had helped because the crash is clear evidence of premeditated first degree murder. All litigation conducted in this case, which has been reopened multiple times is a disgraceful whitewash, proving that there is no one more above the law than the royals, who could not even be summoned as witnesses.

Conspiracy theories have long surrounded Diana's death in Paris in 1997 despite the official finding that it was an accident caused by paparazzi photographers

The assumption has always been that paparazzi were driving the cars and bikes. By the Monday morning after the crash, outside the Alma tunnel, a huge message had appeared. 'Killer paparazzi' had been sprayed in gold paint on the walls, conveniently framing the paparazzi for Diana's fatality, and further demonizing the press for hounding stars and celebrities.

No one knows who wrote the message or why they were not prevented from doing so by the French authorities. It is suspicious to say the least. In all likelihood, it was done by the very team that carried out the assassination to further implicate and scapegoat the paparazzi, while deflecting blame from themselves, the actual perpetrators within the British intelligence services. And since those in the intelligence services outrank those in the police services, any Parisian police officer who might have tried to stop the graffitist would have found himself outranked and silenced.

Far from being the actual culprits responsible for the fatal crash, the paparazzi following Diana did not reach the Pont de l'Alma tunnel until at least one minute after the crash, so they should be publicly exonerated, but never have been. They are still blamed for the fatality to this day, because once the fake news is repeated often enough people will believe it, as Goebbels, the Nazi propagandist always claimed.

Two years after the car crash, the accused paparazzi were cleared of manslaughter charges after the French state prosecutor said there was 'insufficient evidence' of their involvement in Diana's death.

What delayed the paparazzi and prevented them from being on the scene at the time of the accident was the fact that they had been tricked. In a clever ploy ostensibly devised by Henri Paul, the Ritz hotel, where the princess and Mr. Fayed had been staying, had placed a decoy Mercedes at the front of the hotel to confuse the photographers, which allowed the lovers to slip out the back door into another car that was an exact replica.

The picture of Diana looking out the rear window of the Mercedes was taken by a native French photographer, who had seen through the clever ploy and had taken the picture from near the hotel's rear entrance, as the limousine sped off.

One of the last flattering shots of Princess Diana ever taken

The Mercedes was definitely trying to evade pursuit by other vehicles as it entered the tunnel at high speed. The independent witnesses claim it was being followed by a black motorbike, a dark saloon and a white turbo Fiat Uno. No evidence has ever surfaced linking the pursuing cars or the motorcycle to the paparazzi who had been waiting at the Ritz. While the saloon tail-gated the Mercedes, to make Henry Paul accelerate and drive more erratically, the Uno accelerated and clipped the side of the Mercedes, a classic case of an assault vehicle attempting to make the target vehicle crash. This maneuver allowed the black motorbike to speed past the Mercedes holding the princess. The two motorcycle riders were wearing helmets with the visors pulled down, making it impossible to identify them.

Witnesses claim that when the bike was about 15ft in front of the car, there was a fierce flash of white light from the motorbike. The suggestion is that this came from a laser beam carried by the pillion passenger and directed at the car. This is the M.O. cited by the MI6 agent Tomlinson, who alleged that this murder M.O. was originally intended for Sloboban Milosevic, but was resuscitated for the Diana assassination attempt. The flash of light blinded Henri Paul long enough for him to lose control of the vehicle, causing the car to slam into the 13th pillar in the tunnel, where it was crushed like a tin can.

According to Richard Tomlinson, a renegade former MI6 spy, British MI6 plotted to murder Serbian leader Slobodan Milosevic in a staged car accident in a tunnel five years before Diana died in a similar fashion. Tomlinson, who worked for MI6 in the early 1990s, told the High Court he had seen a two-page document, drawn up in 1992, detailing three plans to kill Mr. Milosevic.

Slobodan Milosevic

The first plot involved a paramilitary group that would offer significant “deniability.” The second involved using operatives called the “increment,” a small group from the SAS or SBS, which would be used to infiltrate Serbia and kill Mr. Milosevic using a bomb or sniper ambush. A third plan was to direct a blinding strobe light on Mr. Milosevic’s chauffeur as his motorcade passed through a motorway tunnel during peace talks in Geneva. Mr. Tomlinson said the plan was shown to him by a senior MI6 officer referred to as “A,” who argued that a crash in a tunnel would mean fewer witnesses and a greater chance of deniability when it came to an assassination plot. Tomlinson believes the third plan was redeployed on the princess and her lover. He also claims he had been shown a strobe light by members of the SBS during his training in Poole, Dorset. He was told that the equipment was originally devised to blind enemy helicopter pilots if they tried to land at night.

Mr. Tomlinson was called as a witness at the inquest after he told a French magistrate that the Paris car crash involving the Princess and her lover, Dodi Fayed, bore an “eerie similarity” to the MI6 scheme to take out Slobodan Milosevic.

Mr. Tomlinson described MI6 agent identified by the code name “A” as being a “very ambitious and diligent” MI6 section sub-head in his early 30s. The same MI6 agent is referred to as “Fish” in Lord Stevens’ police inquiry into the crash. Mr. Tomlinson said that MI6 agent “A” or “Fish” had first shown him the “strobe light plan” at A’s office on the 11th floor of Century House. The plan cited Milosevic’s plans for a greater Serbia, a feared genocide of Albanians in Kosovo, and his support for Radovan Karadzic, the Bosnian Serb leader, as the major motives for the planned assassination of the Serbian leader.

The document had been circulated and had even been shown to the private secretary to the head of MI6. “There was no doubt in my mind that A was entirely serious about his plan,” Mr. Tomlinson said. “He was an ambitious and serious officer who would not risk his career by making such a proposal in jest.”

Mr. Tomlinson also revealed that Henri Paul was passing information to MI6. Tomlinson was reviewing files on an operation to smuggle weapons out of the Soviet Union, when he came across documentation mentioning a French security officer at the Ritz Hotel who he later concluded was Mr. Paul. “There is no doubt Henri Paul would have been of interest to the intelligence services,” he said.

As is often the case, it looks like Henri Paul was being set up as a patsy in a long line of such individuals that include such figures as Lee Harvey Oswald, Timothy McVeigh, Osama bin Laden (all CIA agents) among others employed by the intelligence services. It is common to set up agents who know too much or have become an “inconvenience” to the agency, so they can be taken out at some stage of the operation in order to eliminate any loose ends. If the intelligence services can eliminate unwanted members of the agency at the same time that someone else is in the crosshairs, both can be taken out simultaneously, effectively killing two birds with one stone.

Mr. Tomlinson was recruited by MI6 in 1991 after graduating from Cambridge University with a First-Class degree in aeronautical engineering. He was sacked in 1995 and jailed under the Official Secrets Act in 1997 after passing a proposal for a book to a publisher. His book The Big Breach was eventually published in Moscow in 2001[3].

A later disclosure revealed that a man-made “lightning bolt” was used by an SAS group nicknamed the Lamping Unit to kill Princess Diana. Following Soldier N’s claims of an SAS plot, other military sources have emerged alleging that a secret force existed with the ability to carry out an operation to kill the Princess. The elite Army detachment had developed a technique involving shining high density beams called “dazzler lasers” to take out their targets. The high intensity beams could be directed into the eyes of the driver or chauffeur of the target’s car. The technique was calculated to either cause road accidents or disorientate victims so they would be vulnerable to a secondary attack.

Normally, the licence to kill has to receive the approval of the Foreign Secretary under a Class Seven Authorization, but the order to kill the Princess came from deep within the intelligence establishment. Allegations passed on to the Royal Military Police were shared with Scotland Yard, which has interviewed the wife and mother-in-law of Soldier N in connection with the Diana murder claims. Allegations that Diana died after the driver of her Mercedes, Henri Paul, was “lamped” by an SAS unit on a motorcycle in the Pont de l’Alma tunnel have been corroborated by multiple witnesses at the scene.

Another driver in the underpass described seeing in his rear-view mirror a “major white flash,” which illuminated the Mercedes in a brilliant corona of light moments before the fatal accident. Francois Levistre testified that he saw a motorcycle pull up to the car and direct a light at the vehicle before it crashed. Levistre told the official inquest in 2007 that the light was so bright and intense it was like night turning into day, adding: “I just wondered what happened because the light was like you were caught in police radar. The light even came into my car.” This occurred despite the light not being directed at him, as he testified, “The light was not directed towards me. It was directed towards the car which was behind. When I saw the light, I looked into the mirror. I saw the car going from left to right to left again to get within the pillar. The car had no light any longer. Everything was switched off.”

Mr. Levistre’s evidence was dismissed as insignificant at the inquest and subsequent inquiry into the Princess’s death. It is now being reconsidered in light of testimony from former MI6 spy Richard Tomlinson and other disclosures.

Tomlinson’s claim that the same technique used in the Paris tunnel in 1997 was considered for use in the proposed MI6 plot to assassinate the Serbian leader Slobodan Milosevic has been corroborated by eyewitness testimony in the hearings.

Sir Richard Dearlove, former head of MI6, even confirmed under oath at the inquest into Diana’s death, that the spy agency’s “licence to kill” is issued under what is known as Class Seven Authorization by the Foreign Secretary. A Human Rights Watch report issued in 1998 not only confirmed the existence of “dazzlers,” but also substantiated their effectiveness: “In the case of an electro-optical device, the laser would work in the same way a driver’s night vision is overwhelmed by bright headlights[4].”

Much has been made of the significance of the 13th pillar by investigators of occult signatures in killings involving the global elite like the Diana murder. 13 is an important number to the Illuminati, whose intelligence services serve them and their agenda. 13 is a satanic number said to be the number of rebellion to Satanists, one of the reasons 13 was said to be the number of colonies formed in the original union of the United States of America following the rebellion, the American War of Independence.

Princess Diana and with Dodi Fayed (pictured together on the night they died) were killed alongside Henri Paul when the car crashed in a Paris tunnel

Could they really have been part of a plot designed to target Princess Diana and her lover, one orchestrated by MI6 or the SAS regiment, as the latest sensational claims suggest? After Diana's death, Sue Reid received a note in the post containing the names of two MI6 agents, who have spent their careers, representing the Government as senior diplomats, who she identifies simply as X and Y. Written in blue felt-tip pen on a piece of paper, the note said: "If you are brave enough, dig deeper to learn about X and Y. Both MI6. Both were involved at the highest level in the murder of the Princess." Whoever penned the note signed off with the words, "Good luck."

Of course, an unsigned note is flimsy documentary evidence at best that MI6 spies were actually involved in Diana's death, but it is certainly evidence of intrigue and the fact that her death may not have been an accident. The same names, which Sue Reid for safety, libel and other reasons, only identifies as X and Y, came up again when she received a call from a well-placed source within the intelligence services.

Dodi al Fayed pictured with Princess Diana

The unnamed source gave the names of the same two men, X and Y, who had overseen what was dubbed the "Paris operation" and said the crash was designed to frighten Diana into ending her romance with Dodi because he was considered an unsuitable partner. "We hoped to break her arm or cause a minor injury," said my informant. "The operation was also overseen by a top MI6 officer known as the tall man, who is now retired and living on the Continent. He admits it went wrong. No one in MI6 wanted Diana to be killed.”

The two agents’ names came up again during Sue Reid’s journalistic investigation, this time through the conduit of Moscow intelligence. According to the author of a new book, the Russian Foreign Intelligence Service, the SVR, knew that X and Y were in Paris the night Diana died. After the fatal crash claiming the life of the princess and her lover, the SVR set out to find out why these two agents were in town.

Gennady Sokolov, who published the book, The Kremlin vs The Windsors, told Sue Reid, “Of course our people were following your agents.” They were senior MI6 officers operating secretly in Paris that night, without the knowledge of even French counter-intelligence. They left again after she was dead. The agent added that.

Her relationship and possible marriage to Dodi was deeply worrying to senior royals in Britain. The Princess’s phone was constantly listened to and she was followed all the time. After the crash, public opinion was deliberately led astray. Scapegoats were created, such as the paparazzi and the drunk driver. There was a dance around Henri Paul, saying he was an alcohol addict, a virtual kamikaze, who helped to destroy them all. It is total nonsense. From the very beginning, it was clear to me it was not just an accident. My sources in the SVR and other Russian secret services are sure it was a very English murder. They have talked to me about an SAS squad called The Increment, which is attached to MI6, being involved in the assassination. These guys work on the top level without leaving a single trace, and — perhaps — one was on the motorbike following Diana’s car[5].

Sue Reid wonders why none of this came out at the inquest into Diana’s death. That’s an easy question to answer. It is for the very same reason that so many facts were suppressed in the Attorney-General’s inquiry into the Titanic disaster of a century ago, or far more recent events like the 1985 Air India Bombing trial and inquiry, the Warren Commission, the 911 Commission, etc. Obstruction of justice of this kind is common practice whenever there is a whitewash and cover-up.

It’s true that there were fourteen witnesses that were allowed to appear or send their testimonies to the inquiry, but much of their testimony was submerged under the oceanic weight of evidence presented over the six-month duration of the hearing.

The hearings revealed that chauffeur Henri Paul and Dodi Fayed were killed instantly. It was also disclosed that the sole survivor, bodyguard Trevor Rees Jones, suffered such serious amnesia that he has no memory of what take place in the tunnel. One might say “how convenient” in response to this disclosure. It was also revealed that Diana died nearly four hours later of heart failure and blood loss due to a torn pulmonary artery at Paris’s Pitie Salpetriere hospital.

Despite the many disclosures, other important evidence was kept under wraps and suppressed. More than 170 important witnesses, including the doctor who embalmed Diana’s body – a process that camouflages pregnancy in post-mortem blood tests – were never called to the inquest. This suggests that there was an order in place to grant no coverage whatsoever to the most important motive for the murder that has been dubbed an “unlawful killing”. The main reason Diana was killed is because she would be responsible for bringing an unwanted bloodline into the British Royal Family. This has been alleged by Dodi’s father, Mohammed Al Fayed, and he is most likely correct. Another piece of testimony that has been overlooked is that of the radiologist from Pitie Salpetriere hospital, who said that she had seen a small foetus of perhaps six to ten weeks in the Princess’s womb during an X-ray and a later sonogram of her body. She was never called as a witness at the inquest so could not be questioned on this important point. Instead, she was allowed by the presiding judge, Lord Justice Scott Baker, to send a statement giving her current address in America and no further details. This in itself is strong evidence of an obvious effort to suppress the truth regarding the true motive for the assassination.

Diana with Dodi's father, Mohammed Al Fayed, who has always said that she was pregnant

As it happens, the hearing was grossly unfair to chauffeur Henri Paul, who was clear scapegoat from the beginning. On the day after the crash, French authorities insisted that he was an alcoholic and 'drunk as a pig' when he left the Ritz that night to drive the lovers to Dodi's Paris apartment near the Champs-Elysees. It was later revealed that results of the blood tests on Paul's body had not even come in before the announcement was made to journalists. Furthermore, the chauffeur had just passed an intensive medical examination for flying lessons three days before the crash, which revealed absolutely no sign of liver damage associated with alcohol abuse.

Several witnesses at the Ritz reported that Paul drank two shots of his favourite Ricard at the bar before taking to the wheel, which was corroborated by bar receipts at the hotel. However, there was a claimed mix-up over his blood samples, probably deliberate, granting the medical expert plausible deniability should the truth ever come out regarding the false claim that Paul was way over the legal limit for alcohol consumption. The medical expert at the inquest alleged that Paul had downed ten of the Ricard aperitifs, putting two times above the British driving limit and three times over the French counterpart, when he was behind the wheel of the Mercedes that night[6].

Soldier N

The ex-wife of a soldier who claimed the SAS murdered Princess Diana virtually cut herself off from the outside world and went into hiding out of fear for her life. The woman alleges her former husband, known as Soldier N, told her an SAS hit squad killed Diana. The woman, identified only as Mrs. N, cut all links with friends. Her location is known only to her close family, lawyer and the police investigating the claims.

Soldier N, who denied the hit squad claim, probably out of fear for his life, was interviewed by Detective Chief Inspector Philip Easton of Scotland Yard, who worked on Operation Paget, the multimillion pound inquiry into Diana and Dodi Fayed's deaths. SAS officials warned Mrs. N that she had put her life at risk by going public with the allegations.

A source close to the investigation said Mrs. N was considered a "protected witness," claiming, "She is in fear of her life. She believed every word her husband told her when he said the SAS killed Diana. He's a highly trained killer and was in a regiment full of trained killers. No wonder she's scared."

Soldier N allegedly first told his then wife that the SAS had murdered the Princess, following a visit by Prince Harry at the regiment's Headquarters. Mrs. N told her husband how sorry she felt for Harry after losing his mother so tragically. At this, he purportedly responded: "The SAS killed her." Further corroboration for the SAS hit team using a high-powered light directed at the face of the driver Henri Paul by the husband's reported statement to his ex-wife.

Allegations that the SAS were responsible for Diana's death first emerged in a seven-page letter written in September 2011 by Soldier N's mother-in-law. The reference to Diana appears on page seven when Soldier N's mother-in-law writes: "He told her (his wife) it was the SAS who arranged Princess Diana's death and that has been covered up[7]."

Let us never forget that, when the Inquest into the deaths of Princess Diana and Dodi Al Fayed was concluded in 2008, the jury returned a verdict of "unlawful killing," which is Orwellian Newspeak in the "post-truth" age of whitewashing and cover-ups for cold-blooded "murder." Scotland Yard last night said they were assessing the credibility of new information relating to the deaths of Princess Diana and Dodi Fayed, including an allegation that they were murdered by a member of the British military.

It said it was 'scoping' the information, which surfaced in the second court martial of Sergeant Danny Nightingale, the SAS sniper convicted of illegally stashing a pistol and 338 bullets in his bedroom. The allegation was contained in a letter from the parents-in-law of Soldier N, Sgt. Nightingale's former housemate, which was sent to the SAS's commanding officer in September 2011. The information was then passed on to the Metropolitan Police through the Royal Military Police. The letter indicated that Soldier N had implicated the SAS in being "behind Princess Diana's death," but that it had been "covered up." The letter also revealed something even more damning, which is also being suppressed: "He (soldier N) also told her (his wife) that it was XXX who arranged Princess Diana's death and that has been covered up."

Scotland Yard claimed that The Metropolitan Police Service was looking into the matter to assess its relevance and credibility, but insisted that it was not a re-investigation and was not to be considered a part of "Operation Paget."

The hearing into the deaths of Diana and Dodi lasted more than 90 days with evidence from some 250 witnesses reviewed. The inquests concluded on April 7, 2008, with the jury reaching a verdict that the "People's Princess" and her boyfriend were victims of an "unlawfully killing."

Former Met Police Commissioner Lord Stevens' Paget investigation was launched in 2004 at the request of Michael Burgess, the Royal Coroner, who was then overseeing the future Diana inquest. The former Chief of Police published his report in December 2006, rejecting the murder claims, including those of Dodi's father, Mohamed al Fayed. Lord Stevens' investigation found that Diana was not murdered by British spies or by the Duke of Edinburgh and she was not pregnant nor engaged to boyfriend Dodi. Those findings could only be arrived at through the suppression of key evidence like that of the radiologist from Pitie Salpetriere hospital who testified to Diana being pregnant and the testimony of the pathologist who said he had embalmed Diana's body, which would negate the results of any pregnancy test.

It was also revealed that Diana's reproductive organs had been removed during the autopsy under the watchful eye of the Michael Burgess, the Deputy Coroner of the Queen's household.

In addition, Operation Paget concluded, as had the French investigation in 1999, that driver Henri Paul was speeding and drunk, though the claim of profound inebriation has been discredited by other evidence brought forward, like the testimony of eyewitnesses at the Ritz, who claim he had only two shots of his favourite aperitif. Still the lies persist because the public is used to hearing them and most have come to accept them.

Lord Stevens released his report after three years of investigation - it concludes the couple and their chauffeur died in a traffic accident in a Paris underpass in August 1997

Mr. Paul is reported to have had a blood alcohol level of around 1.74 grams per litre at the time of the crash, which is about twice the British drink-drive limit, which is far from being at a level one could define as “drunk.” The black type S280 Mercedes was being driven through the Pont de l’Alma tunnel in Paris at around 61 to 63mph, twice the speed limit for that section of road.

The investigation dismissed the abundant conspiracy theories related to the case. Lord Stevens dismissed allegations that Diana was murdered, referring to them as “unfounded,” and that he found no justification for launching further inquiries involving members of the Royal Family.

The jury in the 2008 inquest concluded its verdict as ‘unlawful killing, grossly negligent driving of the following vehicles and of the Mercedes’, he Met said

Timeline of events leading to the Diana report

August 31, 1997 - Diana, Dodi and their chauffeur Henri Paul die when their S280 Mercedes crashes in the Pont de l'Alma tunnel in Paris after leaving the Ritz Hotel. Bodyguard Trevor Rees-Jones is badly injured but survives. A number of photographers and a press motorcyclist are held for questioning.

September 1, 1997 - Analysis of blood samples indicate Paul was drunk.

September 2, 1997 - French prosecutors open an official inquiry headed by Judge Herve Stephan. And Dodi's father Mohamed al Fayed files a civil action in Paris and asks for a widening of the inquiry to include possible charges of violation of privacy against Dodi and Diana.

September 6, 1997 – Diana's funeral is held at Westminster Abbey, watched by millions around the world. Her son Princes William and Harry walk through the streets behind her coffin.

September 17, 1997 - Examination of debris found at the scene of the crash suggests the involvement of a white Fiat Uno. Identity checks are carried out on 40,000 Fiat Uno owners, but it is never found.

March 1998 – Mr. al Fayed tells investigators he believes the crash was part of a plot to kill Diana by MI6

July 1999 - A French appeals court rejects a request by Mr. al Fayed for further official inquiries into the crash.

September 1999 - Judge Herve Stephan's reports finds that that Diana and Dodi were killed because their chauffeur, Henri Paul, was driving at high speed under the influence of drink and anti-depressant drugs. The photographers and press motorcyclist are formally cleared of manslaughter charges. Mr. al Fayed announces he will appeal.

July 2000 – Mr. al Fayed loses his High Court battle for joint, or concurrent, inquests into the deaths of Diana and Dodi.

November 2001 – Mr. al Fayed loses a £100,000 claim for damages over what he had called a 'flawed' part of the inquiry into Diana's death.

October 2003 - Three photographers who snapped pictures of Diana and Dodi at the crash scene go on trial in Paris accused of invading the couple's privacy. They are cleared a month later.

November 2003 - A privacy violation civil case, brought by Mr. Fayed against three of the photographers who were following the Princess's car on the night she died,

January 6, 2004 – Separate inquests into Diana and Dodi's deaths are finally opened and adjourned. On the same day, the Daily Mirror publishes a letter from Diana to her butler Paul Burrell 10 months before her death in which she claimed her former husband, the Prince of Wales, was plotting to kill her in a crash.

January 7, 2004 - Former royal coroner John Burton, who was present at the princess's autopsy, says she was not pregnant when she died. The Scotland Yard inquiry - codenamed Operation Paget - is stepped up.

July 6, 2004 - The Diana memorial fountain opens in Hyde Park.

August 2004 - A French court orders a new investigation into the alleged falsification of alcohol and drug tests on Henri Paul, his parents have always rejected the original post-mortem examination's findings.

May 2005 - Detectives are said to have quizzed Britain's two most senior spy chiefs John Scarlett, the head of MI6, and Eliza Manningham-Buller, the MI5 director general.

July 2005 - The wrecked Mercedes is brought to Britain for forensic examination.

December 2005 - The Prince of Wales is finally questioned by Lord Stevens, signalling that the investigation is drawing to a close. He is said to have been asked if he ever plotted to assassinate the Princess.

July 2006 - Royal coroner Michael Burgess quits the inquests, blaming a 'heavy and constant' workload. He is later replaced by Britain's top female judge Lady Butler- Sloss

December 2006 - Lord Stevens finally releases his report after three years of investigation – it finds that there was no conspiracy to murder the Princess lover and no cover-up afterwards. Instead it concludes that the couple and their chauffeur Henri Paul died in a simple traffic accident in a Paris underpass in August 1997. Lord Stevens stressed that if the Princess had been wearing a seatbelt she might have survived the crash [10].

Dying MI5 agent John Hopkins confesses to murdering Princess Diana. Hopkins is a retired MI5 agent who was employed as a hitman for the UK government and claims to have carried out 23 assassinations between 1973 and 1999. He was a 33-year veteran and claims his job often involved discretely assassinating individuals who posed a “threat to national security.”

During his time serving the UK government, he trained as a mechanical engineer and munitions expert and claims to be seasoned in unconventional murders involving poisons and chemicals. He claims to have worked as part of a cell of seven operatives who were entrusted with political assassinations during a period when, as he describes, “MI5 operated with less external oversight.”

Many of his secret cell’s victims were politicians, journalists, activists, and union leaders. He claims that Princess Diana was the only female target he was ever given, adding that “She was the only target where the order came directly from the Royal family.”

When asked about how he felt about the “People’s Princess,” he claims he felt ambivalent about her death, describing her as “a beautiful, kind-hearted woman,” who had her life cut tragically short, but that “she was also placing the British Crown at risk,” adding, “The Royal family had evidence she was planning to divorce Charles.” He added that, “She knew too many Royal secrets. She had a huge grudge and she was going to go public with all sorts of wild claims.” He goes on to explain, “My boss told me she had to die – he’d received orders directly from Prince Philip – and we had to make it look like an accident.” He entertained reservations, stating, “I’d never killed a woman before, much less a princess, but I obeyed orders. I did it for Queen and country.”

He claims the operation was run under strict control directly from Buckingham Palace, in order to “square their stories, make sure everyone was on the same page. It was a well-run operation. When speaking on the conspirators involved in the operation, Hopkins said, “British journalists all answer to editors who answer to oligarchs who all want knighthoods from the crime family at Buckingham Palace.” He added that, “There is no free press in Britain.” He also stated unequivocally, “We got away with the murder.”

After being given his prognosis, he has resolved to spend his last weeks at home, but believes he will probably be arrested after his admissions, or “silenced” before the end comes through natural death. He added, “I can’t say I care an awful lot. If they try to take me out, they’ll be doing me a favor now.” He also claimed he would be “long gone” should another investigation be opened as it would “take forever” and be “very complicated” due to the limited records available on the operation. He also made the claim “most of my colleagues were already dead.”

He added that the main conspirator in the murder was Prince Philip, but said he “will never be charged with anything, of course.” Hopkins is also alleged to have made a startling claim about Prince Philip: “If Prince Philip ever allowed himself to be analyzed by a psychiatrist I’m sure he’d be diagnosed a psychopath. He has all the dark triad traits.” Should the case ever be investigated, the most important witness would be Mr. Hopkins’ boss, who apparently died of a heart attack back in “the early 2000s.”

When asked why he hadn’t come forward with information earlier or why he hadn’t turned down the assignment, he explained, “MI5 agents swear allegiance to the Crown. We can’t be impartial when it comes to the Royal family,” adding, “At best I would have been done for treason; at worst Philip would have designed a grisly fate for me [11].”

Mohamed al Fayad is connected to the three most infamous dates in the conspiracy annals of the 20th century. He was connected to many of the main players in the JFK assassination as well as 9/11. Mohamed al Fayad was business partners with George de Mohrenschildt, one of Lee Harvey Oswald’s handlers. It is believed George de Mohrenschildt was suicided before he could be called to testify before the House Select Committee on Assassinations. Mr. Al Fayad also represented Mohamed Atta’s grandfather el-Amir Atta in 1964. That is another link to one of the world’s most dubious crimes. He was alleged to be a member of The Pinay Circle, a shadowy private intelligence service with links to the deaths of Aldo Moro and Olaf Palme.

In the early 1980's, Mohamed al Fayad was dating the daughter of Papa Doc Devalier of Haiti. He was given authority over Haiti's ports and was Haiti's official shipping agent. George de Mohrenschildt was his in-country business partner. There were allegations that al Fayad was embezzling substantial funds in the process. He was revered in Haiti for outfoxing the foxes and outcheating the cheaters.

Al Fayad was a born opportunist, who knew the value of connections, and was naturally gifted at using his womanizing proclivities to establish connections with powerful people through women he could use his charms on and seduce. Al Fayad was married to Samira Khashoggi. Her brother was one of the most notorious arms dealers the world has ever known. Of course, it goes without saying that both men most likely have deep connections with the intelligence services, in Al Fayad's case, most likely British MI6.

Then there is Mohamed Atta, one of the alleged hijackers involved in the September 11 attacks. Al Fayad had direct links to Atta's family. Al Fayad represented Mohamed Atta's grandfather el-Amir Atta in 1964. This comes as no surprise, since his funding activities include Hamas, Al-Qaeda, and the Al-Aqsa Martyrs Brigade. French and Portuguese intelligence are even looking into his selling of Uranium-235 to Iran. Why is he not being investigated for terrorist activity? Obviously, it is because the intelligence services have given him a free pass.

Al Fayad purportedly cajoled his son into dating Diana. Was that as a paternalistic opportunist trying to set up a beneficial arranged marriage or was it as an intelligence asset who needed to lure her into the lion's den? Al Fayad is adamant that that intelligence services were behind the murders of Diana and his son. As an agent of MI6 himself, he is diverting attention from himself. Standard procedure for someone wishing to avoid investigation. The best strategy is to point the finger of blame at someone else. Framing someone else, especially one's enemies is an effective ploy. Though in this case, he is probably secretly on very friendly terms with the British Royals, despite the theatrics, where the entire world's staged and we are merely played.

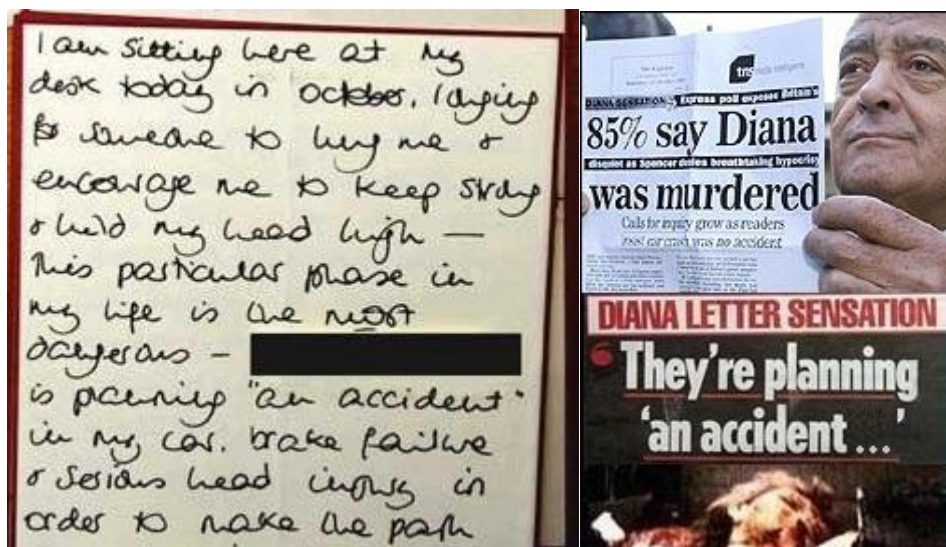

The chief of Al Fayad's personal security detail is former Scotland Yard Chief Superintendent, John MacNamara. He believes he was turned down for promotion to Commander because he wasn't a Mason, so he left the British police force in disgust. The British media have implicated him in a series of plots in which Mr. Al Fayad's Harrods business empire required the elimination of certain people of inconvenience through the extrajudicial use of the police. Mr. MacNamara gradually earned the nickname Mac the Knife for the kind favors he did for Al Fayad.

Harrods had a string of police and journalists at its disposal who were happy to fulfill obligations in exchange for shopping privileges. Mr. MacNamara appears to have broken the cardinal rule of personal close protection security. He revealed the whereabouts of Dodi and the Princess in an interview with the media. Slips like that can get people killed, which was probably the intention behind the Freudian slip of August 31, 1997. That is a major security breach and can only be explained as a deliberate slip because Mr. Al Fayad wished for their whereabouts to be known.

Who would suspect the grieving father of Dodi Fayad, whose son purportedly died in the crash? Who would suspect the father, who appears to be driven to find those responsible for his son's apparent demise, of involvement in the Paris car crash? However, when you consider Mr. Al Fayad Sr.'s terrorist activities, funding of terrorist groups, arms dealing and shady activities behind the scenes in the JFK assassination and 9/11, a pattern begins to emerge that would tend to implicate him in Diana's murder. It is possible that Dodi had come to know too much about his father's shady activities and lacked his father's discretion. Is there such a thing as paternal love or any sort of love, when one's father is a psychopath? Like the Mercedes car, Dodi might have been written off.

Al Fayad is suspected of holding membership in the Pinay Circle, a private intelligence network set up by Antoine Pinay, France's past president. Using assets from Operation Gladio, NATO's special terrorist task force, nothing was off-limits that Al Fayad could his dirty little hands in. Al Fayad's past involvement in the assassinations of JFK, Aldo Moro, and Olaf Palme could never come to light. Princess Diana was loose cannon and tended to shoot her mouth off. Daddy Al Fayad might have found her to be a bad influence on Dodi, and may have found they had both become a significant risk [12].

Princess Diana wrote a letter to her butler that she feared her husband was planning to kill her. That doesn't leave much room for doubt that premeditated first degree murder was at play and not simple "unlawful death" as the Inquiry verdict stated:

I am sitting here at my desk today in October, longing for someone to help me & encourage me to keep strong & hold my head high. This particular phase in my life is the most dangerous. My Husband is planning 'an accident' in my car. Brake failure & serious head injury in order to make the path clear to marry Tiggy. Camilla is nothing but a decoy [13].

In addition to the apparent threat posed to her life by Prince Charles and the Royal Family, Diana had received a threatening phone call related to her anti-landmine campaign. "Don't meddle in things you know nothing about; accidents can happen." Due to this warning and other perceived threats to her life, Diana was convinced the British Secret Service was monitoring her phone calls. They were not alone, as the American intelligence services were also doing so, eventually admitting to having compiled a dossier of some 1,200 pages, which they refused to make public.

In September, 1997, Diana's funeral was held in Westminster Abbey, where her son would later marry Kate Middleton on April 29, 2011. William had apparently insisted on Westminster Abbey and not St. Paul's Cathedral, where his parents had married. When he proposed to Kate, he presented her with his mother's engagement ring from her ill-fated, loveless marriage to his father, Prince Charles. He is reported to have said on the occasion, "It is my way to make sure my mother did not miss out on today [14]."

The French report into the accident fatality was kept secret, while the British report was riddled with contradiction. It was called "The Diana Inquest" by the press. The inquest was held at the Royal Courts of Justice – a misnomer in its own right – where the judge, Lord Scott Baker, who had previously sworn an oath of allegiance to the Queen and Royal Family, was put in charge of leading the inquiry. Lord Baker announced at the outset of the proceedings that he'd been instructed not to call senior Royal Family members to the inquest.

Henri Paul and Dodi Fayed died immediately at the scene. According to the autopsy report Diana was clinically dead within 20 minutes and this was long before she arrived at hospital. Trevor Rees-Jones survived the crash because he was wearing a seat belt and Diana and Dodi were not. This could be highly significant. Rees-Jones was not wearing a belt when they left the Ritz in accordance with normal practice for body guards, and when Romuald Rat took a photograph at the lights at the Place de la Concorde; Rees-Jones still did not have a seat belt on. But little more than a minute later when the car struck the pillar, he was wearing a seat belt. Why? If he donned the belt because for some reason he sensed danger, why did he not scream at Diana and Dodi to put their seat belts on? After all it only takes a second and the whole reason he was in the car was to protect them. Rees-Jones has some serious questions to answer here and he is giving no answers. Some bodyguards do put a seat belt on when the car is on a fast road, but Rees-Jones is not saying this. He says he doesn't know why he strapped himself[15].

Jean-Marc Martino was the physician who arrived at the crash. He took an inordinately long time – 37 minutes in total – to remove the still conscious princess from the Mercedes and transfer her to the ambulance. It took another 81 minutes before the ambulance even set out for the hospital. It took an inexplicable 143 minutes for the ambulance to reach the hospital following the crash. By the time, she reached the emergency ward, her life was already ebbing away. The delay would have been inexcusable and unfathomable for an ordinary patient, but for so protracted a delay in reaching the hospital in the case of a V.I.P., the delay alone points to something irregular, as the delay alone could be considered criminal negligence causing death.

A new autopsy reveals Princess Diana was not fatally injured when the Mercedes carrying her and boyfriend Dodi Fayed crashed in Paris. The coroner found traces of the deadly poison saxitoxin in Diana's organs. "A lethal injection of saxitoxin was administered while [Diana] was still alive — shortly after the crash — which caused paralysis and respiratory failure," said the coroner in the new report. "We must conclude the subject was the victim of a homicide [16]."

Immediately after the late Princess Diana was murdered, an anonymous source called and stated that the place where Diana was killed was the site of an ancient Temple devoted to the pagan Goddess Diana, and that the 13th pillar where she met her death was explicitly chosen for occult ritual purposes. Add to this certain witnesses actually hearing a large explosion just before the actual impact of the car which initially led them to believe a bomb may have been detonated, and we have the hallmark of something much more sinister going on than what was initially reported. It has been determined on the one hand that the car was driving anywhere from 65 to 90 mph, yet the extreme level of the car's destruction knowing it was heavily reinforced with armor plating has raised some perplexing questions. How for example could a Mercedes that heavily armored fold upon impact like an aluminum tin can at 65 mph? Other investigations attempted to smooth over the original 'lower speed-great damage' report by altering accounts of the purported speed to a traveling speed of 120 mph from the hotel to the tunnel. It was the French police who claimed that the speedometer inside the Mercedes had frozen at a very high speed. This supported the claim that the driver, Henri Paul, had been speeding, laying most of the blame at his feet, which only added to the credibility of allegations that he was substantially drunk.

One of the most obvious signs of a conspiracy directly involving the French authorities was that the Paris security cameras in and around the tunnel were all switched off just before the accident, with the official word being that they were shut down for repairs. Blaming technology offers considerable plausible deniability and is one of the most effective ploys in an inside job orchestration. All one has to do is turn off the electronic device or equipment and claim that there had been a mechanical failure or repairs being conducted and one has the perfect alibi.

The same was the case with the London 7/7/7 Bombing, where all three cameras on the London bus were said to have failed, so that footage of what took place when the bomb went off inside the bus is conveniently unavailable. Of course, the cameras may not have failed at all. All we have is the say-so of British police, who act as the official spokespersons we are supposed to trust, who share information or disinformation with the media.

The same was the case with World Trade Center black boxes, which were said to have been irrecoverable following the building collapse, even though a witness at the scene reported seeing them intact.

Another example is the 1985 Air India Bombing, where the baggage inspection machines at Toronto Pearson International Airport failed for the first time in their history the day that Canada experienced its worst act of terror in its history. The baggage-handlers purportedly had to use handheld sniffing devices to inspect the baggage, and were too ill-trained in using them properly to be able to detect an anomaly, or so the official account goes.

Not long after the fatality was reported, allegations surfaced that Henri Paul, the driver of the Mercedes must have been intoxicated, the media stating that a blood alcohol content of 0.25% was found in his bloodstream. This was later found to be a complete fabrication of the French investigative teams because, as were the claims that the French ambulances lost their way en route to the accident scene. And why such a lengthy delay in getting Diana to the hospital? More importantly, there is Diana's own prediction about her death, just 11 months before the fatality, where she worried her husband was arranging to have her killed in a car accident. A wiser person would see that such a coincidence cannot be dismissed [17].

In the case of the driver, no excessive doses of alcohol were detected in his blood in the autopsy, despite the 0.25% ratio claimed by the press. More startlingly, his blood was determined to have been accidentally 'switched' and later even 'lost', by the time his next of kin launched its own investigation into the suspicious nature of Henri's own death. They met only with further cases of obstruction, their own questions never being answered. Those who attempted their own personal independent investigations, such as Mohammed al Fayed, or even security advisor and veteran of Scotland Yard, John McNamara, hit a wall. Both of these individuals encountered serious obstruction from the British authorities. McNamara himself was threatened with an impending arrest and long-term imprisonment if he continued his investigation. Amazingly, while encountering nothing but obstruction of justice from the British authorities, it was he who was accused of obstructing justice by the authorities, who threatened to press charges unless he dropped his investigation.

Many will recall the white Fiat Uno seen by multiple witnesses as it sped away from the scene just after the underground crash, its paint even found on the front passenger side of the Mercedes. This confirms that the Fiat Uno collided with the Mercedes. James Anderson is suspected of being the driver, a millionaire paparazzi with known connections to the intelligence services. Anderson denied being in Paris the night of the crash, but gave two contradictory alibis. His wife and son also provided contradictory alibis for Anderson. He granted himself an alibi with the statement, "On Saturday, 30th of August I was at Le Manoir in the company of my wife and my daughter Kimberly." Yet, he admitted to friends privately that he had been in the tunnel that night. He owned a white Fiat Uno at the time[18].

In the year 2000, his body was found in a field on land belonging to the Ministry of Defense. His body was discovered in a car that was burnt out, but with no keys found in the car or his pocket. The police classified it as a suicide, even though the two firefighters who were at the scene reported finding Anderson with two bullet holes in his head[19].

The same people who claimed to have witnessed the white Uno at the scene that night were equally assured that this was vehicle directly responsible for causing the fatality. Some even reported hearing what sounded like a bomb going off, the deep impact of a dual explosion before the sound of the actual crash.

One American witness, Tom Richardson, appeared on national television giving his own account of hearing an explosion seconds before the car's impact. However, there was one lone witness in particular who stated that he saw a dark car, driven by an indiscernible figure or figures who had in their hand a small device which flashed a strobe-like beam just before impact. All witnesses agree there was absolutely no sound of breaks being applied before the car hit the thirteenth pillar. So many questions were left unanswered on that August night in 1997, but what's worse is how every investigation that subsequently looked into the deaths were fraught with so many overwhelming inconsistencies that its become that the so-called investigation into her death were never meant to come with answers, but only to obscure the facts and whitewash the case[20].

Princess Diana and her fiancé, Dodi Fayed, were fatally injured in the Pont de l'Alma tunnel. The site is ancient, dating back to the time of the Merovingian kings (ca. 500 - 751 A.D.), and even before. In pre-Christian times, the Pont de l'Alma was a pagan sacrificial site. According to the pagan practice, sacrifice is not to be confused with murder: the sacrificial victim had to be a willing participant. In the time of the Merovingian kings, the Pont de l'Alma tunnel was a catacomb where the corpses of those who were sacrificed were entombed.

According to traditional Satanic rites, Diana had to die in that underground chamber on the ancient sacrificial site and it had to happen at night under the Moon in the goddess month of August, ruled according to legend by the Roman version of Isis, Diana, etc: Juno Augusta. The Satanists in the emergency team simply ensured that Diana would not leave the tunnel (sacrificial chamber) alive. We are told she bled to death and, if this is correct, it was precisely in accordance with their blood rites and sacrificial rites. But was the bleeding caused in the way we are told, or by some other chemical means? We now know that Diana was clinically dead about 12.45 am, yet she was taken to the La Pitie Salpetriere Hospital and kept in the operating theatre for an hour and a half while the medical team, Professor Bruno Riou, Professor Pierre Coriat, Professor Alain Pavie and Professor Jean Pierre Benazat, cut open her chest and "battled to save her". Save a woman who had already been clinically dead for an hour and fifteen minutes when she arrived at the hospital? When they had finished, the French Minister of the Interior, Jean-Pierre Chevenement, decreed, according to his senior advisor, Sami Mani, that there would be strictly no admittance to the room in which her body was laid out. (Dispatches, referenced in The Biggest Secret) Chevenement was one of several 'VIPs' who rushed to the tunnel and observed the medical operation at this former sacrificial site[21].

Another name for the goddess Diana is Hecate. One of the ancient 'triads' or 'trinities' was that of Diana, Luna and Hecate who were said to be three aspects of the same female energy. It was called Diana on Earth, Luna in Heaven, and Hecate in Hell. Hecate is one of the premier deities of Satanism and she is a version of Aphrodite and Venus, different names for the same energy. After her husband's death, Jackie Kennedy travelled to the Greek island of Delos in the south west Aegean Sea, the legendary birthplace of Diana and Apollo and the considered domain of Hecate, the goddess of the 'infernal arts'. Delos is known for this reason as the Island of the Dead. Hecate was portrayed as both the virgin and the whore and crossroads are the sacred places of Diana-Hecate. It is at crossroads that the witches and the Grand Masters and sorcerers of Freemasonry perform their rituals. Crossroads are symbolic of the vortex points created where ley lines cross. In ritual sex magic, the wearing of clothes of the opposite sex and the performance of bi-sexual acts are called 'Crossroad Rites'. The women involved were called 'dikes'. Crossroads are also places of human and animal sacrifice and Hecate is known as a 'sex and death goddess' and the goddess of witchcraft and sorcery. At the Pont de l'Alma, right at the spot where Diana died, the road that goes through the tunnel is crossed on the surface by another road which leads onto the Pont de l'Alma Bridge. In fact, this spot is a maze of crossroads. And Diana died in the early morning of August 31st. Hecate's Day in the Satanic calendar is August 13th, but under the Satanic law of reverse symbolism and reverse numbers, Hecate's day of sacrifice is... August 31st [22].

The founder of the Merovingian dynasty was Merovaeus, said to be descended from the union of a sea creature and a French queen. Merovaeus adhered to the pagan cult of Diana. The word Pont most likely derives from pons, pontis meaning 'bridge' or 'passage'. Alma comes from the Latin almus, meaning 'nourishing'. Pont de l'Alma as a whole has been translated as "bridge of the soul" as well as the "passage of nourishment." All true European royalty descend from the Merovingians, who are wrongfully thought to be descendants of Jesus Christ.

During the Merovingian era, if two kings had a dispute over property, it was settled in combat at Pont de l'Alma. According to legend, anyone killed there went straight to Heaven and sat at the right hand of God, where they watch over earthly affairs. The person killed in combat was actually considered the "winner," since he had developed Divine insight and even had the power to influence earthly events.

The current British royal family are imposters. The House of Windsor is a fraud. But the lineage of Lady Diana Spencer goes back to Charles II of the House of Stewart. The House of Stewart is of true royal blood. Diana's sons, William and Harry, have three-quarters true nobility in their blood.

Princess Diana was in a powerful position. Two main factions vied for control over her: firstly, the New World Order faction, founded on an alliance between King William III (Bank of England, modern system of finance, and "national debt" all beginning during his reign) and secondly, the true nobility of Europe.

Within the New World Order faction, there are smaller, warring factions, exemplified by the Rothschilds versus the Rockefellers. The plan of the New World Order faction was to marry Lady Diana to an American. Even though Bill Clinton is an illegitimate child with Rockefeller roots, he has been rejected by them and has aligned himself with the Rothschilds. Bill Clinton was the designated future husband for Lady Diana, which would have been achieved through Hillary Clinton's removal through divorce or murder. The Rockefellers were furious when they learned of this plan. There was no way they were going to permit a marriage between Bill Clinton and Lady Diana. In Britain, the plan was to have Prince William assume the throne.

Whoever controlled the two royal princes – Prince William and Prince Harry – would control the world.

But in her last visit to the White House, in January of 1997, Lady Diana purportedly spurned Bill Clinton; informing him that there was no chance in hell she would ever marry him. While in America, she also met with John Kennedy, Jr., but she chose to marry for love instead, choosing Dodi Fayed.

Dodi Fayed was a cousin of Adnan Khashoggi, a CIA asset who had been involved in arms sales to Iran, along with Oliver North. Adnan Khashoggi is part of the Saudi royal family. Through marrying Dodi Fayed, Diana would have been marrying into the Saudi royal family. This most likely would have required her to convert to Islam.

British intelligence (MI-6) arranged the deaths of Lady Diana and Dodi Fayed. It was imperative that the Saudi royal family not have control over Diana. The driver of the ill-fated Mercedes, a product of MK-ULTRA and was under complete mind control, had connections to the French military. How did so much alcohol get into his system? The amounts suggested in mass media reports are truly staggering, so much alcohol in fact that it would cause a complete lack of motor control and cognitive ability. Apparently, Henri Paul had been made to swallow special slowly-digestible balloons containing high-potency alcohol. While he drove, the balloons were slowly digested and he became dangerously intoxicated behind the wheel.

But even within British intelligence there are factions. A rogue faction in MI-6, powerless to prevent the assassination, arranged for the deaths of Lady Diana and Dodi Fayed to happen at Pont de l'Alma. Cleverly, it was known that her death at that historic location would carry enormous occult significance and power. In Roman paganism, Diana is the Queen of Heaven. Al-mah, in Arabic actually means "moon goddess." One aspect of the Roman triple-goddess is that of "the chaste huntress of the moon," the "lunar virgin." The al-mahs served as maidens of Diana, the lunar virgin. In France, the Cult of Diana was so powerful that it wasn't until the Middle Ages that the French gave up worship of the pagan goddess [23].

In association with her death, the world slowly learned about things such as the Merovingian kings, bloodlines, and Royal Secret Societies, as if Diana's made the time somehow ripe for the release of such information. It soon became apparent even to the lay person that Diana met her fate at the hands of some shadowy organization which manipulated events within British intelligence, and that it somehow related to the Merovingian Bloodline, that Diana herself descended from.

The Spencers are an elite bloodline family. They are cousins of the Spencer Churchills and related to the Marlborough family at Blenheim Palace in Oxfordshire, where Winston Churchill was born. Other forebears included the Duke of Marlborough, Sir Robert Walpole, and the Spencer family inherited a considerable fortune from Sarah, Duchess of Marlborough. They also married into the Cavendish family, the Dukes of Devonshire at Chatsworth House, and that offshoot became known as Spencer Cavendish. Diana shared common ancestors with Prince Charles in the 3rd Duke of Devonshire and, most significantly, King James I, the first Stuart king of England and Scotland and sponsor of Francis Bacon. It was King James who played a highly influential role in the expansion of the Brotherhood, the formation of the Virginia Company which still controls the United States, and the creation of the King James Version of the Bible. Diana was also descended through several lines from the Stuart kings, Charles II and James II, which connected her, as with James I, to the Merovingian bloodline in France. Charles II had so many children out of wedlock that goodness knows where some of their bloodlines are today. One thing's for sure, the Brotherhood will know. As Elite families go, the Spencers are an important bloodline and Diana was related to countless aristocratic lines, including the Earls of Lucan. Further afield the Spencers have blood ties with many leading American families and they are distantly related to the Rockefellers. They have a long history of serving the monarch and the tradition continued with Diana's father. He was equerry to King George VI (who was married to the Queen Mother) and to Queen Elizabeth. Diana's sister, Jane, is married to Sir Robert Fellowes, the Queen's Private Secretary at the time of Diana's death. Both of Diana's grandmothers, the Countess Spencer and Ruth Lady Fermoy, were inner circle members of the Queen Mother's court, as were four of her great aunts. The Spencers and the Queen Mother were very close and it was Lady Fermoy and the Queen Mother who manipulated Diana into her marriage with Prince Charles. This could be most significant when you hear about the true nature of the Queen Mother. The countdown to the marriage began when Diana met Prince Charles at Althorp while he was having a relationship with her sister Sarah, in 1977. Diana was 16, but it was three years later that the Windsors really made their move on her. With the Queen Mother and Lady Fermoy manipulating behind the scenes, she was invited to a dance at Buckingham Palace to celebrate Charles' 30th birthday. Then, in July 1980, a friend of Charles, Philip de Pass, asked her to stay with them while the Prince was there. In Diana's own words, Charles was all over her and "He lept on me practically[24]".

In the same way, Diana's birth to the bloodline family the Spencers in 1961 could have led to her being chosen as a symbol of the goddess Diana who would be led to a ritual death in an ancient sacred place of Diana worship and sacrifice, the Pont de l'Alma tunnel in Paris. Her life was fated with an already predetermined path. The same can be said of her two sons and for the same reasons. In fact, her two sons are connected to the bloodline as well through their mother's Stuart ancestral royal line, with one of them, William, slated to be the next king, his fate decided completely as a result of his bloodline.

It was all planned from the very beginning of her life, and probably even from before she was born. Living at Sandringham she knew the Queen from the time she was a little girl and she used to play with the royal children. It is said that Charles first saw Diana when she was still in her pram. She remembered, with less than affection, being shunted over to the Queen's residence during the holidays year after year to watch the film Chitty Chitty Bang Bang. The choice of movie is interesting because it was written by Ian Fleming, the intelligence agent, friend of Aleister Crowley and author of the James Bond novels. The movie features a king and queen who hate children. They employ a child catcher to lure children, abduct them, and put them in a cage. They are then taken to the castle and locked in a dungeon. It is all symbolism for what is actually happening and there is no way that the Windsors played this for Diana so often by accident. Certainly, Diana was already picking up the Windsor 'vibes' at Sandringham. She told Andrew Morton in his book, Diana: Her True Story: "The atmosphere was always very strange when we went there and I used to kick and fight anyone who tried to make us go[25]"

Diana and Charles were married in St Paul's Cathedral on July 29th 1981. That morning at Clarence House she said she felt calm, deathly calm: "I felt I was a lamb to the slaughter. I knew it, and I couldn't do anything about it[26]". One of Diana's royal duties in 1982 was to represent the Queen at the funeral of Princess Grace of Monaco, another victim of Brotherhood murder when the brakes on her car failed. Princess Grace, formerly the actress Grace Kelly, ran the Monaco branch of the Order of the Solar Temple with Jean Louis Marsan, the close friend of her husband, Prince Rainier. The Windsors got what they wanted when Prince William was conceived. Diana was told that the birth had to be induced to fit in with Charles' polo playing programme and the blond-haired, blue-eyed William was born on June 21st 1982, the summer solstice. Now first of all, what kind of father and husband insists that his wife and son be given needless drugs to suit his polo diary? And secondly, does anyone believe that was really the reason? The Windsors are obsessed with astrology and the esoteric arts to such an extent that the psychic-astrologer mother of an Irish friend of mine could predict with uncanny accuracy the colours the Queen and Queen Mother would be wearing every day. She was correct again and again because she knew the colours connected to each day according to esoteric law. A family so steeped in Satanism, the esoteric mysteries, and the Sun cult, induce the heir to ensure he is born on the summer solstice, when the Sun is at the peak of its power, and that's just a coincidence? No way. He was christened William (after the Black Nobility William the Conqueror) Arthur (after the Sun God symbol, King Arthur) Philip (after the Duke of Edinburgh) Louis (after Louis Mountbatten)[27].

Everything seemed to point to the Knights Templar being involved, from the location of the accident, its name, right down to the 13th pillar involved in the accident, the number 13 being a sacred number to the Templars. This is mainly due to the fact that the Templar Order was officially dissolved on October 13, 1307, a date that will live in everlasting infamy as far as they are concerned. All kinds of eerie connections can be made to the accident. First, Diana was killed after her armored car struck the 13th pillar under a Paris bridge, which in ancient times was called Pont de l'Alma, loosely translated as "A Stairway to Heaven." The catacombs now occupied by the tunnel were used by the Merovingian Kings of France 13 centuries earlier as a place where sacrifices were held in honour of the Roman Goddess Diana. The occult Merovingian bloodline Diana carried is known as the all-powerful 13th Bloodline of the Illuminati, an extremely ancient Serpentine lineage that can be traced back to Eden. It should be noted that, while the names of God's people are multiples of 8, those of His enemies are multiples of 13. The numerical value of names falling under the line of Seth collectively is a multiple of 8, while those of the Cainite line, or line of Cain, are collectively a multiple of 13. It is said that there are 13 bloodlines that comprise those of the Luciferian "Illuminati."

By meeting in groups of thirteen Witches were following an ancient tradition: Christ had twelve Disciples, making Judas the 13th person in the entourage, when counting Jesus himself. Likewise, King Arthur seated twelve Knights around the Round Table, making himself the 13th. King Edward III enshrined the number 13 in his Order of the Garter, England's highest Order of Chivalry. One can still see it encircling the Coat of Arms of the British Royal Family. The Order comprised twelve Knights under the King and twelve under the Prince of Wales, making up two 'covens' composed of thirteen members. The King as its leader wore a mantle covered in a total of 168 Garters which with the one he wore on his leg came to 169 (13 x 13). This comprised the Sacred 13 found at the heart of British aristocracy and shows clearly that the Garter is a symbol of rank amongst Witches [28].

The number thirteen itself is intrinsically linked to the Knights Templar as they were known to be finally found guilty of Satanic worship on Friday the 13th, 1307, a day that has lived in mystery and superstition ever since. In addition, the last full year of the Templar's mission on Earth was 1313. Until that date, the Templars had laid the foundation and were active in preparing the world for the coming of the Merovingian Antichrist. In fact, first mention of the Antichrist in the Book of Revelation is made in the 13th Chapter.

The 13th Illuminati Bloodlines also known as the Merovingian bloodline is considered the purest of the satanic lineages going right back to Cain. The descendants of this most ancient of bloodlines have given birth to some of the most infamous world leaders as well as the oldest of occult fraternities steeped in arcane, esoteric practices conducted in the outmost secrecy. Not all are known by name yet most are known by the pagan religions and organizations they developed, including Celtic Druidry and Witchcraft, as well as the ancient Mystery Schools of Europe, Egyptian sorcery, Templar black 'magick', and Satanism itself. As their own history states, they are direct descendants of Satan's first son, Cain, the first murderer as well as the great architect and Masonic builder of ancient cities. When God banished Cain from the area of Eden's east, after killing Abel, He placed a unique mark upon him known as the "Mark of Cain." The purpose of the mark was to ensure that no one would harm him or his offspring, allowing for them to carry out the ancient prophecy pertaining to the 6,000-year-old Great Work, an endeavor which ends in the reign of the Antichrist, first prophesied in Genesis 3:15-16. Some of the very earliest attempts to account for and trace this seed line of Satan were found in books containing extensive research and genealogy on the 13 Tribes of Cain.

Egyptian symbology remains strong and reveals much about their expansive migrations while in the ancient world. Likewise, the occult number thirteen (13) itself represents Cain and his lineage, from Cain's thirteen sons to the date of the Knights Templar dissolution on Friday the 13th of October, 1307, right into modern times with the blood sacrifice of Princess Diana, killed after hitting the 13th pillar in an ancient tunnel where the Templar's had conducted Satanic human sacrifices to the goddess Diana, considered in occult circles to be the bride of Lucifer.

Amazingly, the date of Diana's death is precisely 18 (6+6+6) days after August 13th, which according to author Charles Leland's Aradia: Gospel of the Witches, it was the date ascribed to the ancient "sacred" (Witchcraft) festival day of the Roman and Celtic Moon Goddess Diana, with the number 13 representing the Moon and Diana herself. Furthermore, according to the Italian branch of the Craft referred to in Gospel of the Witches, Lucifer and his consort, Diana, were believed to have produced a magical Child, a daughter named Aradia on August 13, in the year 1313, and that Aradia served as a type of Maiden/Messiah, or feminine version of the Antichrist, at least to those witches who worshipped her along with Lucifer and Diana. This same Italian sect of witches who have ancient roots going back to the Roman Empire, congregated in covens of 13, with 13 becoming the basis for covens ever since. Much like their spiritual kin in ancient Briton, the Celtic Druids, they also held their worship in groves of trees near an ancient lake located east of Rome called Lake Nemi, where the ancient Temple of Diana once stood. The stream that flowed into Lake Nemi was said to contain a water nymph called Egeria, which is believed by some scholars to have been an early expression of the "Lady of the Lake," a title that also contains 13 letters, as does Princess Diana, as does Prince William. At its core of origin, the number 13 relates directly to Satan and the son he conceived through Eve, named Q'ayin (Cain). Afterward, it was the original 13 Tribes of Cain that spread throughout Europe (and early America) to secretly rule the world; from a Trans-Atlantic alliance they called the New Atlantis.

American expatriate journalist and author, Charles Leland in his investigation into ancient Witchcraft traditions in Italy which culminated in his authoring Aradia: Gospel of the Witches (1899) details at length the importance of Diana and Lucifer as the main God and Goddess of true, hereditary, European Witchcraft. Aradia also recounts the legend of The Children of Diana in which it is stated that Diana created the Great Spirits of the Stars, with stars being a known Biblical metaphor for Angels. Italian Witches believed therefore the Grigori (Watchers) as Lucifer's demonic fallen Host of Angels, were the literal offspring of Diana and Lucifer. Richard Cavendish in his book, The Powers of Evil, makes references to the Watchers as Fallen Angels of Satan that magicians would call forth in their ceremonial magic. Similarly, Celtic Irish legends inform us that the Goddess Dana is the mother of the Tuatha de Danaan. Aradia: Gospel of the Witches by Leland goes on to explain that the Goddess "Diana initially had by Lucifer, who had fallen, a daughter whom she named Aradia which Diana had sent to the earth to be the first witch to teach witchcraft to those who would learn, thus setting up a secret cult in opposition to Christianity." [A History of Witchcraft p. 150] Leland's book would probably not have had the influence it did if not for the credibility allegedly bestowed on it by the work of Margaret Murray who startled academics and historians with her book Witchcraft in Western Europe. Murray who lived in Glastonbury, England received mysterious information by what she called an "unknown informant" whilst living in Glastonbury, the reputed Avalon (and burying place of King Arthur) which proved to be the key that unlocked the door to the whole mystery. Murray believed that she discovered the secret meaning behind the religious history of Europe, and so did others. Her theories created an enormous stir when they first appeared. In two later books: The God of Witches and The Divine King in England she extended her theories even further claiming that the Witch religion of the God that is reborn not only survived but actually dominates British Royalty to the point that many English Kings were ritually murdered according to the rite of the cult[29].

Thus, the All-Seeing Eye of their Masonic Sun God, Lucifer, placed over an unfinished pyramid, also represents the furthering of the Great Work of the Occult that can only be achieved thru the Antichrist. All of this work toward a Secular Empire under a 'God' that is not God, has taken on mythic status thru the ages, even as various myths created by Cain's lot were the perfect place to hide Satan's eventual goals. As such, Horus is the son of the sun-god, while also the son of the dark Underworld deity, so the message was always clear. The usage of Greek, Roman, Celtic, and especially, Egypt's deities have always represented the Masonic plan behind the Great Work, the plan that brings Antichrist and Satan together, in their march toward God's Throne for another installment of War in Heaven. This will complete the Masonic vision of a New Secular Order of the Ages, or New Age, as represented in the (Twin Towers) Jachin and Boaz pillars and their implied fusion of Light/Sun (Diana-Lucifera) with Dark (Satan) that adorn the Masonic interpretation of Solomon's Temple. For just as the Horus myth parallels the Satanic trinity thru its Egyptian counterparts in the Father Osiris, Mother Isis, and their magickal Child Horus, we know that the exact same Occult archetypes are actually represented in reality by Lucifer, Diana, and young Prince William-Arthur of Wales, whose own 1982 Royal birth was heralded by Occult-adept witches of the time, to be their Pagan Messiah, i.e., the Biblical Antichrist. Returning back to the ongoing British Masonic experiment that is The New Atlantis, called America, it was ultimately decided that the Roman Eagle should best represent the new nation, while also depicting their All-Seeing Eye overseeing an unfinished 13-stepped, pyramid (13 is both Satan's and Cain's prime number). In total, The symbolism carefully chosen and portrayed on the back of our Satanic Anglo-American currency represents their Cainite history, of where they have been, from Atlantis to Egypt, from Rome to the Americas, as well as where they are taking the entire world, from Cain to the Antichrist. In other words, the Masonic dollar is pictorial history of Satan's children, who have been at the creation of every pagan empire since the dawn of man, including that of the United States of America, itself. This is precisely why, right up unto today, we are seeing America's true hand at work, as it quickly shifts to just another pagan empire in these latter days, among many before it, and this despite the still large majority of Christians living within its Occult-dedicated borders, where Christ and Christianity are no longer tolerated, where pagan Witchcraft, avowed Satanists, and now homosexuals are given increased status in everything from the military to the teaching your children their evil in public schools. A pagan nation that from its very inception allowed Freemasonry to infect its once Puritan Christian idealism, toward rampant Luciferianism protected by the demonically inspired "Separation of Church and State."

Ultimately, thirteen is the Master Number of Satan, with '13' being the occult signature that displays ubiquitous signs of his millennial Great Work. Diana died on the 31st of August, 31 being the inverse or reverse of 13. Reverse imagery and mirror writing, reverse coding and spelling in reverse are all satanic practices. The witch's pagan calendar is divided up into four 13-week sections, divided within the Winter Solstice, Spring Equinox, Summer Solstice, and finally the Autumnal Equinox. There are eight major nights when human sacrifices are held within the occult holiday system: Dec 21, Feb 1, March 21, May 1, June 21, Aug 1, Sept 21, Oct 29-31 (Samhain/Halloween being the most important). The other four nights are only observed (the equinoxes/solstices), and if you add six weeks to each you obtain the sacrifice night. Add seven weeks to the sacrifice night and you get the next equinox/solstice. Thus, 13 also belongs to the Cainite Antichrist himself, P-r-i-n-c-e-W-i-l-l-i-a-m (13), the earthly completion of Satan's attempt to achieve all that is God's Trinity, whereby 3 are 1, and 1 become 3, "Satan as God" concept. The Venusian number 13 also denoted the stages of the alchemical process leading to death and rebirth. Then there are the 13 stages inscribed by Thoth-Hermes as 13 concepts on a tablet called the Emerald Tablet that was made of solid emerald.

The festival of Diana celebrated by ancient witches on August 13th was always marked by a torch that reflected their light off the waters of Lake Nemi, which must have only added to the overall magical aura of the ceremony. The Encyclopedia of Wicca and Witchcraft states that the Moon Goddess Diana belonged to the "torch-bearing class of deities who themselves were always connected in some manner with the Underworld." While virtually anyone can visit the 'supposed' gravesite of Princess Diana in Paris that overlooks the tunnel where she was killed in 1997, only a select few can visit the Althorp Estate in northern England. The gravesite itself is reminiscent of Avalon, a small island surrounded by mystical waters – making Diana the Lady of the Lake of Arthurian legend – with a white-pillared Greco-Roman-like Temple nearby that stands in her honor and is altogether very much like the original ancient Temple that once served ancient paganism and its Diana-serving patrons of the original witchcraft cult. The lake shown below appears to be an attempt to replicate Lake Nemi.

Diana's brother, Charles, Earl Spencer, made a memorable, if not deeply hypocritical speech, on the occasion of Diana's funeral, in which he blamed the paparazzi for her death. Earl Spencer is actually the Queen's god-son. Remarkably, when he made his maiden speech in the House of Lords in 1993, he rather amazingly broached the taboo subject of Satanism, specifically related to the Spencer's Althorp Estate in Northamptonshire, where he admitted it was being practiced. He acknowledged that it was taking place, but stated, while lying through his teeth, that he was doing all he could to eradicate it. It is utterly unfathomable why anyone would introduce a topic this taboo in one's first speech in the Houses of Parliament. One is left wondering, what was he thinking? Or better still, why was he put up to it? Earl Spencer and his father have been witnessed taking part in sacrificial rites presided over by a Mother Goddess named Arizona Wilder, who has broken free of her programming and gone public with what she knows. It was Earl Spencer who announced that Diana's body would not be interred, quite against her wishes, in the family tomb at the local village church at Great Brington near the estate. Earl Spencer said he had decided that Diana would be buried on a man-made island in the centre of a lake on the Althorp Estate, making the paltry excuse that the family wished to prevent the church in Great Brington from being swamped with tourists[30].

Princess Diana's Burial Site

Interestingly, the very first Hollywood film that portrayed the Biblical Antichrist was a film more about his mother, than the actual Beast. Satanist Roman Polanski's film Rosemary's Baby told the story of a very naïve mother of the Antichrist, Rosemary Woodhouse, played by Mia Farrow, who is made to experience intense paranoia at the hands of an elderly couple living next door – rather akin to Diana and her in-laws the Queen and Prince Philip – who appear to be conspiring with her own husband to have her killed. Her feelings are found more or less true when she discovers their involvement with the occult, and a global satanic witchcraft coven, akin to the Ninth Circle Satanic cult. As she slowly puts the pieces together of why she was made pregnant and closely monitored like Diana, she undergoes a deep psychological breakdown upon learning that her own child will ultimately be used by Satan to bring about his kingdom on Earth.

This pioneering film delving into Satanism and the role of the Antichrist appeared to mirror the events in director Roman Polanski's life. Was life imitating art or art imitating life? Was the price of selling one's soul for fame and artistic success exacting a toll on the director's life or was the director himself a full-fledged Satanist and willing participant? To any outside observer, it would have appeared as if Polanski had fallen under a curse for taking on the project. The director's wife, Sharon Tate, was made pregnant during the final days of filming Rosemary's Baby, and in early August 1969, was brutally murdered while pregnant by Charles Manson's cult followers. Both Sharon Tate and Princess Diana were murdered in August, and both, indirectly, by a man named Charles.

Also noteworthy is the fact that it was just 40 days before the Tate murder, on July 1, 1969, that Charles was made Prince of Wales. The coronation ceremony happened to coincide with Diana's birthday. She was only eight at the time. She was already under close scrutiny, being observed for her suitability as a prospective bride for Prince Charles.

As for Charles Manson's satanic agenda, his murders were intended to bring about a race war, and subsequent Apocalypse, in which he would afterward establish himself as the Antichrist. Adding to this series of deeply disturbing coincidences, Diana's son now has a wife, named Kate, which just happens to have the same name as the mother of Damien Thorn in the original Omen film, as well as in the recent 2006 remake, starring Mia Farrow from Rosemary's Baby, not coincidentally. In the film, Kate is conspired against and finally murdered, helping to pave the way for the Beast's path to power. As is often the case, Hollywood fiction appears to reflect factual events that are unfolding within the world's satanic power structure. For instance, in book one of Shakespeare's Codex explored the link between the Beatles, Roman Polanski, Charles Manson, Helter Skelter, and the Dakota, where John Lennon and Yoko Ono lived and where Rosemary's Baby was shot.

The events affecting the satanic royals are enmeshed in satanic symbolism and numerology. The Queen Mother expired on 3/30/2002. Since 15 in numerology means 6,  $1+5 = 6$ , the numerological significance of her time of death cannot be overstated. She died on the 15th month of the new millennium, at 15 minutes past the 15th hour, which totals 6-6-6. It was also Saturday (Saturn's Day or Satan's Day), the 6th day. Diana died in a Mercedes 600 in a 660-foot-long tunnel, again 666[31].

Diana told Christine Fitzgerald that the Queen Mother was the power behind the Windsors, along with Prince Philip. But Philip was subordinate in the hierarchy to the Queen Mother, Diana said. The Queen Mother is connected to a long list of Brotherhood groups and societies and she is the head of the Inner Temple, the elite and highly secret society for the upper levels of the legal profession on the former Knights Templar land at Temple Bar in London. (David Icke, the Biggest Secret) There are strong indications that the five Inns of Court – the Inner Temple, Middle Temple, Outer Temple, Gray's Inn and Lincoln's Inn – have a deep connection to the intelligence services.

In volume one of Shakespeare's Codex, it was revealed that Mohandas Gandhi attended law school at the Inner Temple in the City of London. While attending the Inner Temple, he maintained a diary called The London Diary, which was his Freemason diary, of which only 20 pages of the original 120 survive. Gandhi is not what he seems, serving rather than working at odds with the British Empire and the British Raj, contrary to the popular view. He was a sergeant-major in the British Army and acted as an apologist for the abuses of the British military in South Africa through his daily editorials in the opinion column of his newspaper the Indian Opinion. He forestalled Indian independence from Great Britain for forty years, according to Nathuram Godse, and is personally responsible for the partitioning of India and Pakistan. Was the Inner Temple the place where he completed his training as an agent for British MI6? It seems very likely, as anyone would conclude after reading Shakespeare's Codex, volume one, as well as my co-authored book Gandhi Under Cross-examination.

Adding more fuel to the hellfire, it was reported recently that Princess Diana will go down in history as the one to restore the Stuart bloodline to the British Royal Family. According to Laurence Gardner, the Stuart branch are the inheritors of the Holy Grail. As the Grail Queen (Queen of Cups), it seems that Diana's son, William, may be the Grail Prince (Knight of Cups). The last time the mystical Grail made such an appearance was when King Arthur – the once and future king – was on the throne in Britain.

For an Antichrist to assume power, a King who unites the globe in a universal religion and government, declaring him to be the embodiment of God, it stands to reason that he would probably come from the Grail bloodline. He would be descended from Satan, which would explain his predestined predilection for evil, but he would also be a descendant of Christ, as well as the Israelite and Hebrew prophets of old, namely, King David, Abraham, Jacob, Noah and Adam. He could use all of these lineages as credentials to convince members of all the world's religions that he is not only their king by divine right, but the final avatar, or messiah, which their prophets have been anticipating. He would in essence be the embodiment of the Merovingian Anti-Christ.

Note the flaming torch on her tombstone. The burial site of Diana consolidates her association with the ancient Goddess Diana who was worshipped in sacred groves outside of urban areas.

It was precisely seven lunar months after the Jewish New Year (5771), and 77 hours, that Prince William wed Catherine Middleton at Westminster Abbey in London. April 29th was chosen as the date of the wedding, because of its infamous associations with pagan, neo-Nazi, and within Satanic circles as Walpurgis Eve, the same date Adolph Hitler married Eva Braun. The Satanic date of April 29th is the date given by Cainites in the veneration of Abel's murder or satanic sacrifice by Cain, in order to please Satan, and to blaspheme against God. After all, God was not satisfied with Cain's offering of that year's harvest, and only accepted Abel's blood offering of a sacrificed lamb, which God knew was the perfect quantum match for His Son's own Holy Sacrifice on the Cross. According to the Cainite tradition, because Cain grew furious at Abel and God, he conjured his father, Satan, and sought to please only him by sacrificing Abel as the perfect blood sacrifice. In so doing, Cain became the First Murderer and Sorcerer (male witch), while Abel's holy blood watered the fields, which Satan celebrated by blessing Cain with a robust Spring crop. From that day forward, witchcraft has always taken a unique view of plants, fields, and trees, especially those cultivated in the "nurtured soil" of an animal or human sacrifice. Furthermore, April 29th is certainly a date that bonds both Cain and Lillith together as one in an arcane satanic marriage. This date connects to William's and Kate's own Cainite lineage, while honoring the satanic holiday of Walpurgis, a most apropos date for Satanic Royals to unite in unholy matrimony.

The date of the Royal Honeymoon of Prince William and Kate Middleton commenced on April 30th and carried into May 1, the well-known Germanic, pagan and satanic holiday of Walpurgisnacht culminating in Beltane in the Celtic tradition, or as we call it, May Day. No doubt the mayday distress call in emergencies commemorates this same satanic holiday celebrated through ritual sacrifice. By declaring mayday during an emergency, one is creating a satanic curse, further ensuring death and disaster. According to one very illuminating pagan witchcraft website: “In our tradition, Beltane is one of the two times of year when we pay homage to Tubal Cain. This is Qayin (Cain) in his fiery aspect rising in the east, Lucifer, the morning star, the bringer of light and enlightenment to mankind.” Beltane is named after the pagan demon-god Belinos, otherwise known as Baal or Belial, the fearsome divinity of the ancient world to whom children were sacrificed in great numbers, set ablaze in large, roaring bonfires. Animals too were often sacrificed and cooked, and divination practiced by cracking their bones on the flames, from where we get the word, ‘bonefire’. In the Celtic Irish tradition, May Day bonfire sacrifice ritual was an essential aspect of the holiday.

From their holiday of Belinus and going forward, witchcraft covens often met through Walpurgis Eve, and Walpurgis on April 30th, holding human sacrifices dedicated to Satan. This just happens to be the same date when Anton LaVey founded his Church of Satan, in 1966, all of which lead up to May 1st in honor of Satan’s unholy sex rituals in the form of May Day. May Day is the time at the very end of April to the beginning of May, culminating in the pagan holiday of Beltane, a day in which the veil separating the realm of spirits and this world were at their thinnest, in much the same way as Druidic Samhain or Halloween.

Pagan holidays such as Beltane or Samhain have strange rituals all their own, depending on the nature of the specific coven holding the rituals, that is also dependent on whether an animal or an innocent child, i.e., a human girl of virgin status, is sacrificed to the Dark Lord of the Wood, Cerunnos (Satan), her virgin blood sprinkled across a stone altar in a sacred nemeton (Druid grove), a spectacle shielded from the curiosity of locals by tall hedgerows. May Day is also meant to initiate an unseemly orgy, an occasion of rampant promiscuity, unabashed sexuality, satanic rites of homosexuality, as well as fertile intercourse between a man and woman, where pagan “handfast” marriages lasting only a year and one day were conducted. Young couples could spend the entire “Honeymoon night” in the woods taking part in paganized Sex Magick rituals until the Sun came up, at which point they danced around a towering phallic Maypole, representing the sun-god’s fertility. The same sun-god (Lucifer) was similarly worshipped in ancient Egypt of whom where giant obelisks, whose architecture later came to Masonic Britain and America, were build in honor of Baal. Some who joined the May Day ritual were even allowed to remove their wedding rings for this one night, representing Eve’s dishonoring of Adam and her willing seduction by Satan, which spawned that very first Sex Magick ritual that resulted in the first so-called “magical child” being born, Cain, the ancient forerunner of the future Antichrist.

By the time the Dark Ages arrived, Eve’s shadow had already worked her way into the ancient Celtic and Druid tradition as the pagan Goddess Diana, the May Queen, who was sacrificed to the sun-god, giving even more credence to the inescapable Diana-Lucifer connection, from whom Aradia was spawned, adding yet more credence to Princess Diana’s murder being a planned ritual sacrifice.

By 1644, May Day came under a fierce attack by the Puritans who banned it through an Act of Parliament, only for it to later return with the restoration of Charles II in 1660. By this time, satanic and pagan revelry was pushed further underground in the form of Black Mass, while the common folk kept but a shadow of the old traditions alive in their so-called “holiday merry-making.”

There are sinister overtones suggestive of death auguries in the Royal Wedding, where Prince William invited Kate to the gravesite of his mother one week before the ceremony. This must have come across as strangely macabre to Kate. Death, murder, and conspiracy have haunted the British Royal households through so many generations that it surely must have crossed Kate’s mind that she was being subtly ensnared as the mother of the groom had once been as a satanic sacrifice. Indeed, the Royals seem to invoke only death and destruction whenever they induct an outsider into their fold. Kate may have unwittingly taken on much more through marriage to Prince William than she had ever imagined. Hindsight provides us with a clear understanding that, if Princess Diana had chosen not to marry Prince Charles, she would still be alive today, but sadly, it seems her fate was sealed from childhood, when she was selected as a playmate for the royal princes. Indeed, Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip had already handpicked her for a future arranged marriage from the time Diana was born, knowing Diana would provide them with a grandson and prince that would one day rule not only Britain, but the world.

The Knights Templar were under oath to protect the ancient Merovingian Bloodline to ensure the arrival of their once and future King, he whose arrival Satan had been anticipating as the culmination of the Great Work orchestrated over millennia: the perfected man, the Masonic Christ, better known as the Beast or Antichrist. His faithful knights concealed within the various satanic secret societies, have been charged with protecting the Cainite/Antichrist lineage for centuries, so as to ensure their goal of seeing the bloodline descendent of Cain, the false Messiah or Antichrist assume the throne in the rebuilt Temple in Jerusalem.

Furthermore, their entire belief system that all ethereal gods, earthly teachers, and messiahs of all other faiths are all as one under Freemasonry clearly shows the inauthentic teachings they uphold. Placing all religious teachings on the same altar, as holding the same status while granting each the same reverence is a false mandate from the outset. The Freemason degree system is nothing but a sophisticated deception orchestrated by the military knighthood Order to lure the gullible neophyte into Satan's fold through a series of enigmatic and arcane rituals that appear to hold some hidden import of great value. To the more discerning it would be plainly apparent that the naïve initiate is not serving God, but is in service to Satan. In fact, it is Cain and Tubal Cain, and their ancestral father, Satan, who are the main deities venerated by modern Freemasonry, as was the case with their antecedent organization, the Knights Templar.

The truth is that most of these secret societies or so-called mystery schools were founded by the descendants of Qayin (Cain). If they did not have to hide anything, why would they be so secretive? To this very day, Freemasons hold a special reverence for Tubal-Cain, whom they regard as the "Grand Architect" or "Master Mason." Moreover, Masonic rituals, such as the three degrees are derived from Celtic Druidism, and its darker, feminine counterpart known as Witchcraft. Thus, the links between Satan, Cain, druidism, witchcraft, occult mystery schools, Templarism, Catharism, Freemasonry, and the modern New Age Movement, all find their source in the Cainite mystery traditions of the ancient world.

Down through the ages, the secret of the Holy lineage has assumed many names and disguises like the Merovingian bloodline, the Holy Grail, the san graal, etc., strange metaphors, and occult symbols meant to hide the truth even from the Grail Knights committed to the quest, some of which might have abandoned their mission had they discovered the truth about their unholy quest. Meanwhile, those under Lucifer's spell were "hoodwinked" – a Freemason term – to believe they were the rightful guardians of the Temple in Jerusalem, having been duped into believing they were serving the Kingdom of God on Earth out of devotion to a divine monarchy who ruled the world by divine right. Their false claim is that a soon to be revealed king of the lineage of King David would assume the throne in the newly built Temple in Jerusalem to preside over the whole world. And all this would come to pass at a time when a savior figure was most needed due to the state of desperation in which the world's populous found itself.

In an effort to fulfill the prophecy, the British Royal Family sought a young Virgin to act as the womb or vessel for bringing the long anticipated prince into the world, who would be a descendent of both sacred and profane lineages, the sanctified bloodline of David and the desecrated bloodline of Cain. The arranged marriage between Diana and Charles was devised for one purpose only, for the Merovingian ancestry of Lady Diana to be seeded in the Royal household, knowing the firstborn child would be an heir to the Merovingian-Grail lineage wrongfully thought to be the rightful claimant to the throne of David. However, for those deceived into rejecting Jesus, by such false prophets as Pope Francis, who has deemed Christ a failure, they would do well to heed the prophetic warnings found in scripture, which speak of an earthly king that arises in place of Christ, one who has all the qualifications of a worldly Messiah, but who is actually his antithesis, the Antichrist. The scriptures refer to this personage as the Beast, who together with his Prophet, deceives the nations, and especially Israel into a covenant proposed not for the sake of preserving peace, but as a pact with the devil, bringing nothing but bloodshed, and for which there is hell to pay. The trans-Atlantic Anglo-American Empire serves is only an instrument of the monarchy to bring about the Luciferian New World Order of the Antichrist, and the royal ascension of their Moshiach, who after the collapse, will be venerated by the majority of the hoodwinked and deceived as the greatest humanitarian leader the world has ever known.

This Once and Future King, as he has been called, has been firmly rooted in the western psyche since the time of the Crusades, and even before to the times of the Druids and their legendary monarch, King Arthur. From occult literature to the mystery schools that authored such works, his presence can be detected, as he affirms his place, beckoning us toward the Luciferian light, the false light to be found amid eternal darkness, where he stands at the gate of the colosseum poised like a lion, waiting to devour the next Christian coming through the gate. He is Arthuris Rex, the son of the Sun-King, whose power as the Morning Star once shook the ramparts of Heaven itself. As Rex Mundi, history will show that no Arthur in line to the throne has ever occupied it due to the curse placed on any lesser mortal who dared challenge the Sun-King's royal ascension. Amazing as it may seem, throughout the history of British royalty, all royal subjects named Prince Arthur mysteriously died before becoming king, before assuming the throne, before they received the royal anointing and the crown. However, it would seem with Prince William Arthur that is all about to change. The Sun-King was venerated even before in Rome under the religion Sol Invictus. Even today, we can see the legacy of this ancient Sun-King cult in the Invictus Games held in Canada in 2017 with Prince Harry, William's brother, presiding. This is because the games are held in honour of his princely brother, the current incarnation of the Sun-King Lucifer, as it wouldn't do for him to preside over the Games staged in his honor.

Small wonder then that the Royals of Great Britain have arranged for the destruction of Christianity. The Holy Grail is quite blasphemously represented as being the bloodline of Jesus, said to be safely housed with the House of Windsor, the British Royal Family, who bill themselves as the heirs to the Throne of Jerusalem. The Protocols of the Elders of Zion, which a Cainite text wrongfully attributed to “the Jews,” which speaks of a New King of the Holy Seed of David, who will preside over a “Masonic Kingdom.” Who might this heir to the Royal Bloodline of Jesus worthy of being seated on the royal throne chair of King David be deemed to be? Diana was married to Prince Charles to combine the House of Windsor with the House of Stuart to achieve the purpose of giving birth to this false Davidic royal claimant.

There is a prophecy by Michel de Nostradame from Centuries that describes an astronomical event that occurred in 1999. The astronomical event described in Quatrain 34 refers to an omen that seems to predict the arrival of the Antichrist.

The Eclipse of the Sun will then be
The Beast’s Omen will be seen in the daylight
One will interpret it much different from the rest
(Nostradamus, Century III, Quatrain 34)

There are various coincidences concerning the time and location of the Solar Eclipse of August 11, 1999. For example, the time, 11:11 am, has extensive coincidental associations, while the location of the Eclipse’s shadow strikes land at Cornwall, the southwestern tip of England, known appropriately as “Land’s End.” Cornwall has a number of noteworthy historical associations, including the Arthurian legends associated with the quest for the Holy Grail.

There is another prophecy of Michel de Nostradame pertaining to the arrival of a king, who will be crowned following a ruinous war, who will bring a false peace to pacify the people, but is only the calm preamble before a gathering storm that will bring about calamitous events on a scale the world has seldom experienced.

Mars and the Scepter will be found conjoined
Under Cancer shall there be a calamitous war
In the time afterwards a New King is anointed
Who will bring a [false] peace to pacify the earth.
(Nostradamus, Century VI, Quatrain 24)

The Solar Eclipse of August 11, 1999 at 11:11 a.m. over Tintagel, England was considered by many occultists to be the pivotal moment for the advent of the “New Aquarian Messiah.” In fact, the period between August 11 to 13, the time between the eclipse on August 11 and the Moon Festival of Hecate on August 13, was a time of great celebration (and sacrifice) for satanic witches across Britain, who connected the stellar events not only with King Arthur, their ancient pagan King, but also with the Hecate sacrifice of Diana, Prince William’s mother, which had occurred on the same month two years previously in 1997. Appearing exactly one week later on August 18 1999, over Britain, a Celtic Cross was configured by the astrological signs of Leo the Lion, Eagle, Taurus the Bull, and Aquarius the Man, the four Holy Beasts of Revelation (Rev. 4:7). The Celtic Cross was popular at the time of King Arthur and found everywhere throughout the ancient British Isles. However, it is of far more ancient design. Occultists claim this Cross is not a Christian symbol at all, but an ancient pagan rune dedicated to their Sun-God, Lucifer, which later became associated with the Mark of Cain. Others have likened the Grand Cross alignment to an imperfect “crooked Cross” or Solar Swastika, over Britain, another satanic symbol. Still others have linked this UK “Anglo-Cross” with the future Grail King and/or the Lost Tribes of Israel.

Occult author and practicing metaphysician, Kathy Doore, claimed that the August 1999 Cross in the heavens formed the Hebraic Tau, the emblem of the initiate who triumphs over death. It also signifies the 22nd and last letter of the Hebrew alphabet denoting the end and perfection of the Kabbalistic Great Work, as well as the soon to be rebuilt Third Temple in Jerusalem and the return of a Grail King to oversee it, who is symbolized by the 22nd letter of the English alphabet, “V.” These signs lead to only one suspicion. The “Great Work” of Satan propagated by his occult religion, is no less than the fulfilling of his ancient plan to conquer Zion in order to “become like God,” a goal referenced in his 5th “I Will” of Lucifer from the Book of Isaiah, which declares, “I Will Be Like God.” It would appear for those with eyes to see or the vision to countenance that the Fallen Angel is using “King WILL-I-AM V” to achieve this aim. It also leaves little doubt regarding the meaning of the Quatrain above that, “the Great King of Terror,” whose planet is represented by Mars (Satan), will descend so that the spirit of “King Angolmois” can ascend, as a “New King” anointed, since, The Beast that thou sawest was, and is not, but will be again, shall ascend out of the Bottomless Pit and go into [the Son of] Perdition.

In a hauntingly disturbing confirmation of the foregoing, Princess Diana made a statement concerning the future destiny of Prince William, which suggests that she may not have been as naïve about his status as we might be led to believe: "I believe Wills can rebuild Camelot and I will be his Merlin. Together we will return to the chivalry, pageantry, and glory that was King Arthur. William will remake the Monarchy by showing love, leadership and compassion [32]."

Interestingly, right after the Crucifixion, it was the ancient Romans who created the necessary port city of Lodonium, (London) a place where they could land their ships and storm onto the English shore in search of its last territorial land grab before Rome's impending demise, it became the most important trading port from Rome to this new world, this 'New Rome.' When Rome did die and eventually broke up into the various European nations, Great Britain, over time, ultimately took the globally dominant position in the world, raising itself up to be the new Anglo-Roman Empire, later to be called the British Empire. Intriguing. Scripture tells us that the Antichrist "Roman Prince" will be born out of one of the nations of the former Roman Empire, whose power as we now know was then given over to London, a Roman city. In other words, what we are quite possibly reading in Daniel 9:26-27 is that the Antichrist is a Prince of London. Interesting also is that the rest of the prophecy in Daniel and Revelation describes the Antichrist, no longer as a mere "Prince" rising from the Roman Empire of a United Europe, but as a "King." Clearly then, this man slated to be the Antichrist follows the natural path from a European Prince, to one of Europe's Kings. As such, there are only so many Kings in Europe today, quite rare individuals as they are. One of them in the future, at the time of the end, will become the Antichrist, the Angel Gabriel who gave Daniel the Antichrist prophecy, has made that abundantly clear, and he shall rule the world, initially, via 'the Whore of Babylon' a Kingdom of its own that rules over many waters, and seemingly from the city girded by seven hills, the city of Rome.

The Red Dragon is used only once in the Book of Revelation to denote Satan, yet also conjures up the image of the Serpent in the Garden of Eden which tempted Eve with lust and death's curse. It also conjures up the ancient sea dragon Leviathan mentioned in Job. However rare the Red Dragon may be in Scripture, it certainly is not rare to see this symbol of a Red Dragon (and its curled tail in the form of either an "S" or 6) to represent those who have Welsh blood and ancestry, as the Red Dragon is the national symbol of Wales and of King Arthur. Indeed, the ancient symbol of this blood crimsoned Beast did adorn the banners of Arthur (being his ancient ensign), and it was the same Red Dragon that also adorned the Roman standards of Titus' army, the same army which destroyed Jerusalem and the Temple, of whose "people" were prophesied to return in the end of time to repeat that same historical event, under the future Antichrist, even as Daniel 9 references the Antichrist's European army as "the people of the Prince that shall come (against Israel)," to destroy both the city (Jerusalem) and the Sanctuary (future Third Temple). As we see from the above Scripture, the Antichrist Prince receives his (earthly) throne, (supernatural) power, and (political) authority from the Red Dragon, which is to say directly from Satan. Drawing a parallel from early Celtic literary sources attributed to ancient Druid prophecies, The Prophecies of Merlin makes an interesting assertion tied into this, as well. In one such prophecy, Merlin looks far into the future to reveal: a "last World Emperor from Wales who shall lead the world under the banner of the Dragon." The Antichrist couldn't have a more fitting title than a "last world emperor," leading the world, of whom Merlin attributes to none other than King Arthur. All of this becomes very intriguing when you consider that the current ruling British Royal Family has made the Red Dragon their official ensign in London as clearly displayed also on their Coat of Arms, with the words "I Serve" written next to the Red Dragon's image. Prince Charles was made the Prince of Wales at his 1969 Royal investiture, in Northern Wales at the accursed Caernarfon Castle. The Red Dragon of Wales was clearly presented everywhere at the now infamous ceremony. There was even a large Red Dragon cut into the backrest of the throne in which Charles sat while swearing his oaths as Queen Elizabeth II spoke to Charles with hauntingly familiar Scriptures as if reading, word for word, straight from Revelation 13.

The Book of Revelation provides a parallel yet expanded view of the nature of Antichrist which is hauntingly familiar of Daniel's vision, and perhaps adds something more. In it we see the Beast is a four-fold creature, being a Dragon, Bear, Leopard, and Lion, exactly the same creatures from Daniel's vision, however, in Revelation, we now see added features of the Wild Beast, who now takes on more detailed attributes of a Red Dragon. From these we can understand there is a mystery to solve in these, very different, amalgamated and merged [Lion/Leopard/Bear] Beasts which make up the totality of the future post-apocalyptic Antichrist Beast-King.

The Antichrist's Symbolic Depiction of a Lion/Leopard in Bible Prophecy

First, it speaks with great authority, as a roaring Lion, as a King. The Lion is the symbol of a nation, which is in fact Britain, from which this King will arise from, the Leopard speaks to his strength and youth, the Dragon denotes his true power, while the Bear reveals his kingly name. And so England is well known to be represented by its national heraldic symbol of a Lion, the Dragon represents his power and coronation base, as in the Red Dragon which is the national symbol of Wales. The Leopard can be interpreted as his heritage, even denoting his connection to the young Macedonian war general, Alexander the Great, who was himself represented by the Leopard because of his quick conquering of Asia Minor & Europe. Interestingly, William even has a connection to Greece via his grandfather, Prince Philip, who was born in Greece on June 10, 1921, as nephew to the King of Greece, King Constantine I.

As mentioned earlier above in this website, God is clearly using 6's, 66's, and 666's, throughout history, most notably the 1666 Great Fire of London, to announce quite loudly to mankind to sit up and take notice of this Babylonian-like, Roman-born city of London, its usurped aristocracy of purported blue-bloods, called the Windsor's as well as its future heir to the so-called the British throne of King David. Moreover, Ezekiel Chapter 38 informs us that at a time when Israel is to be attacked by Russia and Iran, in the Last Days, the "Young Lion[s]" shall rise up and ask why it is attacking Israel. This of itself becomes intriguing only when you understand that Prince William's Royal Crest has recently been revealed to be a powerful, young lion, with the body of a leopard, feet of a bear. Were William to decide to use his first name as his regal name, he would be known as King William V. However, William is free to use any one of his Christian names as a regal name, as per Edward VII and George VI have done in calling themselves Prince Albert.

William - The Conqueror (The King of England) = LION / Mouth / Speaking / Charismatic / Leader
 Arthur - King Arthur Pendragon (Celtic, Rome) = BEAR / Feet / Strength / Resurrection / Spirit
 Philip - Alexander the Great (Macedonia, Greece) = LEOPARD / Body / Conquering / Youth
 Merovingian/Stuart - (Scottish Royal Masonic) Unicorn = Little Horn / Human Eyes / Man
 Windsor-Wales - (Celtic Royal Druid Masonic) = Red Dragon / Satanic Power / Possession

Godfroi de Bouillon; Grail Family and actual scion of the Merovingians was installed in everything but name as "King of Jerusalem." This incident is recounted in a modern history of Lorraine, printed in 1966. This work contains a special introduction by Otto von Hapsburg – who today is titular Duke of Lorraine and "King of Jerusalem." It might be that the Merovingians were ultimately of Judaic origin, but if this were so it seemed to us essentially incidental. However important it might be, there was something of even greater importance involved. We were still overlooking something.

Nostradamus Century III Quatrain 34
 When the Eclipse of the Sun will then be
 The Beast's Omen will be seen in the daylight
 One will interpret it much different from the rest

Solar Eclipse 1999 final quest of the Holy Grail

There are various coincidences concerning the time and location of the August 11th 1999 Solar Eclipse. For example, the time, 11:11am, has extensive coincidental associations, while the location [of] where the Eclipse Shadow strikes land [is upon] Cornwall, the southwestern tip of England, [which] has incredible associations, including the Arthurian legends of the Quest for the Holy Grail.

Mars and the Scepter will be found conjoined
Under Cancer shall there be a calamitous war
In the time afterwards a New King is anointed
Who will bring a [false] peace to pacify the earth.
Nostradamus Century VI Quatrain 24

The Solar Eclipse of August 11, 1999 at 11:11am over Tintagel, England was considered by many in the Occult to be the literal "seeding moment" for the spiritual [re]birth of the "New Aquarian Messiah." In fact, the period between August 11-13, that is to say between the Eclipse on August 11th and the Moon festival of Hecate on August 13th, was a time of great celebration (and sacrifice) for Satanic witches in Britain, who connected the stellar events with not only King Arthur, their ancient pagan King, but also with the Hecate sacrifice of Diana, Prince William's mother. Appearing exactly one week later on August 18 1999, over Britain, a Celtic Cross was seen formed by the astrological signs of the Lion, Eagle, Bull, and Aquarius/Man, the same four (1+1+1+1) Holy Beasts of Revelation (see Rev. 4:7), [See also Four Horseman of the Apocalypse] who pour out Hell on earth during the time of the Beast. The Celtic Cross was popular at the time of King Arthur and found everywhere throughout the ancient British Isles. However, it is of far more ancient design. Occultists attribute this 'Cross' to not being a Christian symbol at all, but a very ancient pagan rune of their Sun God, Lucifer, even as it later became 'the Mark of Cain.' Others have likened the Grand Cross Alignment to an imperfect 'crooked Cross' or Solar Swastika, over Britain. Still others have linked this UK 'Anglo-Cross' with the future Grail King and/or the Lost Tribes of Israel. Occult author and practicing metaphysician Kathy Doore, stated "The August 1999 Cross in the heavens will form the Hebraic Tau; the emblem of the initiate who has triumphed over death. It also signifies the 22nd and last letter of the Hebrew alphabet denoting the end and perfection of the Kabbalistic Great Work, as well as the soon rebuilding of the Third Jewish Temple in Jerusalem and the return of a Grail King to oversee it, who is symbolized by the 22nd letter of the English alphabet, as 'V.' Taking all of this into account leaves only one conclusion. The 'Great Work' of Satan and propagated by his Occult religion, is no less than the fulfilling of his ancient plan to conquer Zion in order to 'become like God,' a goal referenced in his 5th "I Will" citing "I Will Be Like God." His using King WILL-I-AM V (the Fifth) to achieve this also leaves no more question as to the meaning behind the Quatrain above regarding 'the Great King of Terror' whose planet is represented by Mars (Satan), that descends so that the spirit of "King Angolmois" can ascend, as a 'New King' anointed. "The Beast that thou sawest was, and is not, but will be again, shall ascend out of the Bottomless Pit and go into [the Son of] Perdition."

The astronomical event coming in September 23rd 2017, which so happens to be the first day of the Jewish New Year 5778 "is the representative or rebirth of the Arthurian archetype, an old Avatar for a New Age" Fitting description, because according to other meta-physician, the rising of Arcturus represents the cosmic return of King Arthur himself, As if to connect this 2017 event to that of the aforementioned 1999 total Solar Eclipse that took place over Tintagel, England (the birthplace of King Arthur), it should be noted that at the precise moment of mid-eclipse, Arcturus, known as "Arthur's Star" rose to its highest point in the sky. (Arcturus is also known as the star of Satan) Remember, in all Scriptures pertaining to Jesus Christ and His eternal Kingship, there will be another interpretation that places, not Christ, but Antichrist as central to its more esoteric interpretations. This is also extended to the Woman that bears the World King as seen in Revelation 12. For just as the Woman actually represents both Mary and Israel itself, in the truest Biblical sense, she could also be interpreted by some to represent the mother of the Antichrist, who 'bears a King to rule all nations.'

Hitler believed that obtaining and owning such Occult relics from each of these would provide him the power to not only win his racial war against the world, but also secure his place in history as the ultimate Teutonic Knight in service to the most ancient and Germanic pagan gods that he believed once ruled Atlantis. The Spear of Destiny which pierced Christ would infuse him with powerfully occult magic and immortality. Meanwhile, Himmler sought to find the Ark of the Covenant, the Holy Grail, and evidence of an Aryan Atlantis, and went about to establish an Occult-infused 'Kingdom' patterned after King Arthur's Camelot, named Wewelsburg Castle, where these Occult relics of power were to be stored. Within this same Nazi Camelot is found what was described as a "Round Table" that was to become a vortex of Satanic power by which the souls of long dead Teutonic Aryan Knights would lead Germany to world dominance. There was also a room dedicated to König Artus (King Arthur) surrounded by 12 Knights of whom Himmler believed that Arthur's power would possess Hitler (and later, himself) to become the King of the World (Rex Mundi). In other words, it would appear that Hitler and Himmler knew of the Satanic prophecy regarding King Arthur's Return as Satan's last World Emperor that would rule the world for 1,000 years (the counterfeit of Christ's coming 1,000-year Millennial reign) and decided that they were going to make the prophecy become fulfilled, in themselves. This becomes most intriguing when considering that Adolph Hitler openly stated that his Third Reich and Germanic New Jerusalem would last for 1,000 years). It is not mere coincidence that Hitler's goal matches exactly that of Satan's own, even as both sought to subvert then supplant Christ. In that same light, just as the earthly Ark of the Covenant is not what it seems to be, so too it is with the Grail. For what is called the mystical and Holy Grail is actually something of much more ancient design, being neither a relic of Jesus Christ or His supposed lineage. What the Holy Grail actually represents is an extremely ancient Satanic relic of great power called the Lapsit Exillis, which fell from Heaven with Lucifer, as it was the same Heavenly Emerald that once adorned the fallen rebel Cherub Lucifer himself, and made by the Hand of God on the day Lucifer was created (Ezekiel 28:12-18). It is believed by Satanists that once found, the Lapsit Exillis or 'Grail Stone' would reinstate Lucifer's original Heavenly office and power as the Morning Star, next to God's Throne.

Were William to decide on any of the three names given him: Arthur, Philip, or Louis, their usage would be the first for a regal name in usual reckoning. Although Philip II of Spain was a King consort of England, and Louis VIII of France was proclaimed King of England in London in 1216. Hence, should Prince William decide to take the name of the semi-mythical King Arthur, he would certainly add to the legitimacy of both the legend and historical relevance to the one notoriously dubbed The Once and Future King. Finally, there is the symbol of the Leopard. History informs us that it was none other than Alexander the Great whose own attributes of tactical prowess, charismatic youth, and battlefield swiftness that bestowed upon him the nick-name of "The Leopard." In fact, He conquered much of the known world before the age of 25, making youth a certain attribute of the future Antichrist, yet his other attributes may contain within them something more than just what has been formerly interpreted on face value, as the entire symbology of the amalgamated Beast of Daniel and Revelation may in fact be a code for the Beast's names...

For the rebirth of King Arthur to take place in young Prince William Arthur Philip Louis Windsor, born on the summer solstice of 1982, would require arcane ritual magic of a significantly potent variety, which occultists believe is only achievable through the ritual murder of a "Divine King" or a "Royal substitute." It is entirely possible that Diana was sacrificed as a Royal substitute for another Royal, who would ordinarily be the one first in line to inherit the throne. Hence, Diana may have been sacrificed in place of Charles, which might explain why he is the Royal most often linked directly to her murder, as he had the most to gain. As with any homicide, even an royal occult satanic ritual murder, one looks at who benefits. Also, telling in this regard is the fact that for the ritual sacrifice to be effective, it would have to be done in close proximity to but before the Harvest feast. August 31, the day of Diana's accident, is close to the autumn festival. The missing piece of this odd puzzle is that the Garter is a symbol of a Witch Queen, and Prince Charles and other male members of the Royal Family are highly placed initiates of the Order of the Garter, one of the most elite secret societies and the very pinnacle of Freemasonry in British society, and perhaps one of the highest, if not the highest, Masonic Lodges in the world. The Garter itself appears on the Coat-of-Arms of both the Queen and Prince Charles. This is why the Masonic symbolism associated with Diana's death cannot be overlooked [33].

The New World Order and the Holy Grail Bloodline

What is behind the Dragon Court and those who promote it? Chancellor Sir Laurence Gardner and Sovereign Grand Master Prince Nicholas DeVere von Drakenberg revealed much about their occult philosophy and belief system. Having been appointed Sovereign Grand Master by the House of Habsburg DeVere caused a stir with his website Dragoncourt.org, where he openly discussed the values of the Order, specifically vampirism, witchcraft, and Satanism. He also admitted that their forefathers, the Knight's Templar, were a satanic organization.

This would be of little consequence were it not for the fact that the Knights Templar are also the founding fathers of modern Freemasonry and the role model for the Ivy League secret society Skull and Bones of which Prescott Bush, George H.W. Bush and George Bush Jr. were all members, even though it only inducts 13 new members each year. That's a pretty exclusive club to belong to, especially for three generations of Bush's. However, with their claims that a "child of pure Blood was born in the 1980's and is being raised by the Jesuits" and that "two Royal children with even purer Blood are residing in Great Britain, the plot twists are becoming less Shakespearean and more like The Omen everyday." Nicholas DeVere

The Beast that was, is not, and yet will be, shall ascend out of the Bottomless Pit and go into [the man of] perdition: And they that dwell on the earth shall marvel, whose names were not written in the Book of Life from the foundation of the world, when they shall behold the Beast that was, and is not, and yet is. Here is wisdom. Let him that hath understanding count the number of the Beast: for it is the number of a man; and his number is 666.

If that is not shocking enough to contemplate, there is an even more shocking prophecy to be found in Michel de Notredame's that seems to bear an unmistakable reference to Mohammed al-Fayed and Princess Diana, even defining the respective roles they would play in the drama that leads to her death:

Le penultiesme du surnom du Prophete,
Prendra Diane pour son iour & repos:
Loing vaguera par frenetique teste,
En deliurant vn grand peuple d'impos.

(Son of the one who is named after the Islamic Prophet [Mohammed] shall take [Princess] Diana to her final day of rest.)

(Nostradamus, Centuries II. Quatrain 28)

Mohammed Al-Fayed is an unscrupulous agent in the employ of the intelligence services. He did not make his money honestly, and has obviously been set up through his connections to be fabulously wealthy. While he became wealthy by the standards of the rest of the population, he did not have nearly enough of his own money to buy Harrods and he used the wealth of the Sultan of Brunei, one of the richest men in the world. It was the Sultan who provided the money for Harrods and Al Fayed also acted for him in the purchase of the prestigious London hotels, the Savoy and the Dorchester. Al Fayed may act the big tycoon, but in the biggest game he is a 'gofer' who takes orders and does as he's told. This is fascinating because we are led to believe that Mohamed Al Fayed and the Queen are on different sides and oppose each other over what happened to Diana. Funny, then, that Mohamed Al Fayed is subordinate to the Sultan of Brunei and the Queen of England is a friend of the Sultan of Brunei. She went to stay with him between September 16th and 20th in 1998[34].

Another source of income for the Fayed, again interconnected with the Sultan of Brunei, is arms dealing. Al Fayed's former brother-in-law and Dodi's uncle, Adnan Khashoggi, the infamous Saudi arms dealer and fixer, has arranged weapons sales, legal and illegal, worth multibillions of dollars. Many of the discussions for such deals take place at the Ritz Hotel in Paris owned by Mohamed Al Fayed, if not his Sultan of Brunei benefactor. This is one reason why Al Fayed has the Ritz bugged to eavesdrop on his VIP guests. In fact, he has everything bugged, as we'll see. He is deeply involved in brokering arms sales and Dodi was often an unofficial broker for arms-for-oil deals between the Gulf states and America. (Simon Reagan, Who Killed Diana?[35].

Diana was being set up in a sting by an unscrupulous agent and was completely oblivious to the fact. El-Fayad Sr. had a history of duping and taking advantage of young naïve girls. He is a sexual predator probably unrivaled in the annals of recent history, and is notorious for praying on his female staff at Harrods of London. One girl, 17-year-old Samantha-Jane Ramsay, said that when she complained to her supervisor that she had been groped by Al Fayed, the supervisor sighed: "Another one". Al Fayed sacked her for making the complaint, as he does all those who speak out against his sexual molestation and style of business 'management'. John Monks the general secretary of the Trades Union Congress said that at Harrods there was "A regime of fear and terror". When Samantha-Jane took her complaint to the local Marylebone Police Station, she said that the officer told her: "You're not the first to come to us. We have files inches high on Mr. Al Fayed, but no proof. It would be your word against his" A file inches high of different girls making the same complaint about the same man would, I suggest, constitute rather more than "No proof". But Al Fayed, the man we are told the establishment would love to crush, survives untouched. So this is just some of the background to the liar, double-dealer, sexual molester, Satanist and Sultan of Brunei frontman, who had complete control of Diana's security in the days and hours leading up to her death[36].

The person in charge of security deployment should be considered a prime suspect in any criminal investigation into an assassination of a prominent figure. In Diana's case, who was in charge of her security detail? Mohammed Al Fayed, and the security was wholly inadequate. It could have been increased considerably if support from the French High Protection Police Security Service (SPHP) had been requested. It is there to protect VIPs visiting the city, but a request for their services must be made. It wasn't. All Diana's security was provided by Al Fayed's people from start to finish. If they had enlisted the protection of the French police, Diana would still be alive. When a celebrity like Madonna visits Paris, the French Police have one car in front of hers and another behind, together with two motorcycle riders front and back of the motorcade. The cars are driven by trained drivers and they carry armed security men. According to reports, the SPHP made three, possibly four, offers to protect Diana, but each one was refused by Dodi. Was he, himself, under instruction to reject these offers from someone to whom he could not say no? An officer of the SPHP told Dodi: "If you will not use our car, we recommend that two police cars accompany you on your excursions around the city[37]." A little after 7 pm, the couple were driven in the Mercedes along the Champs Elysees to Dodi's apartment on Rue Arsene-Houssaye close to the Arc de Triomphe. Here they unpacked and prepared for dinner. Again the back up Range Rover was there and so was another car carrying bodyguards for added protection. Why was this level of security thought necessary in the early evening, but not in the early hours of the morning at the time of the crash?[38]

And what happened in the crucial last minutes of Diana's life? They withdrew her security on the orders of Mohamed Al Fayed via his son. That is a fact. All day she had travelled in the same Mercedes with the Range Rover as a back up vehicle. Now she would transfer to another Mercedes with no back up support whatsoever. This was an extraordinary decision for a man obsessed with his own security. Bob Loftus, the former Head of Security at Harrods, said: "Compared with the protection that Al Fayed affords himself, which is very professional, of a very high standard, that which was afforded to the mother of the future King of England was a Mickey Mouse operation [39]."

A director of Etoile, Niels Siegel, told the inquiry into Diana's death that he delivered the car to the rear entrance of the Ritz, but the Dispatches programme showed that this is a lie. It was delivered by a driver called Frederic Lucard and he can be seen doing so on the security video. Lucard said he found it very strange that Etoile would allow Henri Paul, a man not qualified as a chauffeur, to drive one of their cars. So why did they do it? Because Mohamed Al Fayed told them to, that's why. Brian Dodd, the former Head of Security for Al Fayed in the 1980s, gave his assessment of the situation to Dispatches: "It's a new car that's come into the system. They wouldn't have had time to check that car out. It should have been checked out. There could have been a bomb on the car, for instance. It was a most stupid plan. It shouldn't even have been considered. The backup vehicle is there, not just to avert the paparazzi, but for instance, a motor cyclist with a pillion rider to pull up and shoot, or put a magnetised bomb on top of the car. That's why the back-up car is there – to stop any of that. Why they never had a back-up car, God only knows [40]."

The Mercedes which was brought to the rear entrance of the Ritz had been stolen some weeks earlier - before the Diana-Dodi relationship began - and when it was recovered it underwent extensive repairs. It had been standing outside the exclusive Taillevent restaurant when the driver's door was flung open and the chauffeur pulled out by three Arabic-speaking men with hand guns. The vehicle was missing for two weeks and when it was found the wheels were missing, the door ripped off, and the electronic system and equipment controlling the braking system had gone. Al Fayed, as we have seen, controlled the company, Etoile Limousines, which supplied the vehicle. No wonder the French authorities turned down the offer by experts from Mercedes to examine the car after the crash[41].

Everyone is agreed that the couple were being driven back to Dodi's flat near the Arc de Triomphe when the crash happened. Well there is one glaring problem with that: The Pont de l'Alma tunnel is not on the way to Dodi's flat. It takes you away from that area. The normal route would be to go to the Place de la Concorde and, half way around, you turn right into the Champs Elysees and drive straight up to Dodi's flat on the right near the Arc de Triomphe. Had the driver taken that route it would take only a few minutes. But Henri Paul did not do that. He drove past the turning for the Champs Elysees, jumped the lights on red and sped down the dual carriageway to the Pont de l'Alma. This took them away from Dodi's flat. I have heard it said that Paul was going a long way round to avoid the photographers and traffic, but the photographers would have been waiting at the flat anyway by the time they got there. What is most important to stress here is that Henri Paul's route was not the direct one to Dodi's apartment, but it did ensure that it took them through the Pont de l'Alma Tunnel, the significance of which is fantastic, as you will soon appreciate. Interestingly, it was after Paul went past the turning to Les Champs Elysees and headed towards the Pont de L'Alma that Rees-Jones put his seat belt on[42].

On the eve of June 21, 1982, Satanic witches all over the world celebrated the birth of William Arthur, the Future King, with his birthday falling on the day of the pagan's summer solstice, a day celebrated for centuries as a satanic Sabbat. The summer solstice of 1982 was unique for other reasons, in Britain particularly, as it was prophesied by the ancient Druids that their Sun-King would return one day on some future summer solstice "to bring the balance back," as they saw it. Therefore, much like Christ's own birth that was foretold by certain prophecies as well as signs in the heavens, the same was the case with Prince William. Where Christ was known to have an alignment of stars foretelling His birth as the new King of Israel, the omens surrounding William's arrival were no less revealing. At precisely 9:03pm, June 21st, Princess Diana of Wales gave birth to Prince William, Britain's future king. Earlier that day, the summer solstice celebration had taken place at Stonehenge, with Pagans honoring the ancient tradition of their Druid ancestors who centuries before performed a sacrifice of a child just before the golden dawn. They were in effect commemorating the rebirth of Lucifer.

Prince William's birth took place just after a solar eclipse on the summer solstice, an especially powerful moment when the Sun, Moon and North Node aligned in the Seventh House under the rulership of Cancer. Eclipses are points of considerable power in the Zodiac. They occur in space and time in a regular series called Saros cycles. The Saros cycles take about 1,200 years to travel from the North to the South Pole, and vice-versa, with each cycle having a different founding horoscope as well as a different theme.

William was born into a cycle called 2 Old North, which began in 792 AD, just before the first recognized English King was crowned. It is due to end in 2036 A.D. when King William is 54 years old. The first ponderous question this begs is, when William becomes King, will he be the last King of Britain? The meaning of the Saros 2 Old North Series is said to be that of “separation or ending of unions,” a recurring theme of the young prince’s life thus far. The time allotted for this period of ‘Saros’ is 18x37, the equivalent of 666 years.

Just a few hours after his birth, there came an unusually dark night in the form of a completely blacked-out New Moon, a time traditionally known since ancient times as a time of death, and in occult circles, as a time of sacrifice. Also, prominent in the sky overhead was the constellation Orion. In Masonic writings, the constellation Orion is sacred, representing the “Return of a Conquering Messiah,” just as it was for their spiritual forefathers, the ancient Egyptians. To the Egyptians, Orion represented Horus. As described in the last chapter, there is an island in the Persian Gulf off the coast of Abu Dabi called Jamalah Island that has a glyph on the surface of the island that is an exact representation of Orion-Horus. Mohammed prophesied that the Dajjal would reside in the east and Jamalah Island is due east of Medina, where Mohammed made his pronouncement. Certainly, the Book of Revelation confirms that there will be many Antichrists, not just one. The being residing on Jamalah Island may be another.

The Egyptians believing that their first King and Pharaoh, Khufu, was an incarnation of the Sun and had “ascended to the stars” to be reborn in the future. Coincidentally, Prince William has also been connected to the demonic star Algol, which the ancient Hebrews called Rush he Satan or “Satan’s Head,” a star that has embodied a strong negativity since ancient times. These deeply significant stellar events, occurring all on the same day, seemed to herald something of great significance taking place. Keep in mind that Pagans from all over the world descended upon Britain in 1982 to mark these events, not unlike the Three Wise Magi attending the birth of Lord Jesus in Bethlehem, by following the astrological signs they observed in the heavens.

The fact that the moon goddess Diana was giving birth that day to the astrological Sun-King, made the eclipse all the more significant. It meant the union of the two most important Royal Bloodlines within the occult world, Saxe-Goth, seen as the Grand Dragon Royalty of all witch covens worldwide, and the Stuart Merovingian bloodline, whose lineage is traced back to Cain himself. Largely kept secret within coven circles, it was already known before it was reported in any media circles that their male heir to the throne and future king would be named Arthur, drawing from one of the middle names of William’s father, Prince Charles. In the days following the birth of the future king, a news item was being circulated among the media citing that, when Prince Charles was visiting the Princess and newborn Prince for the first time at St. Mary’s hospital, a member of the public questioned Charles about the heir to the throne’s name. The Prince of Wales replied hastily, “You’ll have to ask my wife; we’re having a bit of an argument over that!” A few days later, the name William was officially given to a waiting world. Afterward, it has been speculated that, if Charles had his way, his first-born son and heir to the throne would have been given Arthur as his first name. In the article “No More Sacrifice,” the London Psychogeographical Association Newsletter reminded us that there are some British Christians who have already pointed out that should William become King, he would be called King William V and by taking the W as two V’s with the I’s as Roman numerals for one, a most unsettling anagram emerged for the future King of England: I AM VI VI VI (666) or “I AM the Beast.” “WILL-I-AM V” also strongly suggests the “Five I Wills” of Lucifer found in the Book of Isaiah, which Prince William’s name seems to imply:

How art thou fallen from Heaven, O Lucifer, and Morning Star! How art thou cut down to the ground, you which corrupted the nations! For thou hast said in thine heart...

- 1] I WILL ascend into Heaven [Heavenly Zion].
- 2] I WILL exalt my throne above the Angels of God.
- 3] I WILL also sit upon the Mount in the Sides of the North [Earthly Zion]. 4] I WILL ascend above the heights of the clouds.
- 5] I WILL become like God [as a false Christ]

(Book of Isaiah 14:12-14)

The numbers 666, 66, and 6 have been used prophetically throughout history as a numerological signature for revealing the Antichrist’s identity, and the timing of his arrival on Earth. For example, King Arthur’s reputed burial site at Glastonbury Abbey measured exactly 666 feet in length. The city of London burned in the year 1666. Using Greek gematria, William’s name and future title “V” add up to 666. William’s astrological solar sign, being the Sun, is stranger still, as every ancient and modern occult work connects the number 666 to the Sun. In addition, Prince William was born during a celestial event known as the 666 Saros cycle. The connections to the number 666 do not end there. The Order of the Garter, of which Prince William has been made the 1,000th Knight since its founding, celebrated its 666th year of existence in 2014. Then there is the fact that the number 66 itself relates directly to Israel and Britain in very unique historical ways. There were a total of 66 members of Jacob’s family who came into Egypt, according to Genesis 46:26. In the year 66 AD, an ill-fated comet appeared over the skies of ancient Israel, coinciding with the Jewish revolt against the Roman occupation, which led to the destruction of Israel as a homeland for the Jews for the next 1,882 years. Amazingly, both Jewish Temples were destroyed on the same day – the 9th of Av in the Jewish calendar, but exactly 656 years apart. The Anglo-Saxons came to Britain in 666 A.D. In September 1066, William the Conqueror conquered Britain.

In the same year, 1066, the first wave of Jewish migrants arrived in England under William the Conqueror. Six hundred years later, on September 2, 1666, the entire city of London caught fire and the city was forced to rebuild. Going further back into the 1600's, the ancient manuscripts of the Bible came to Britain, and by 1611, Francis Bacon's team of scholars, recruited primarily from Cambridge University, had successfully translated them into Middle English. The King James Bible consists of 66 books. The sum of numbers from 1 to 66 equals 2211, the Kabbalistic representation of God in the Temple.

The coming Antichrist will claim to be God sitting in the Temple, and become the "Abomination the Maketh Desolate," a prophecy initially made by the Prophet Daniel in 606 BC, who referred to the Antichrist as "The Prince who is to come." Israel was reborn in 1949, and 66 years later Prince William turned 33 in the year 2015, the same age that the true Prince of Peace, Jesus Christ became known as "The King of the Jews," albeit mockingly at His Crucifixion. In addition, Prince William's full name William Arthur Philip Louis is equal to 666 in numerology; while King Arthur's Messianic return occurs according to Anglo-Celtic legend, "at a time when his country needs him most."

Countless spells were cast by covens to bring this occult prophecy to pass: When a woman would sit on the English throne bearing the name of the Great Mother Goddess [Diana], the child she would bear would be a reincarnation of the celebrated King Arthur. The satanic witches conjured tirelessly to bring this event to pass. It would be analogous to Christians waiting intently for the Second Coming of their Lord.

There are various occult tales about the origins of le san graal royale (the Royal Grail bloodline) and the "Divine Right of Kings." Among them is the concept that Jesus had children through Mary Magdalene and that this Royal Merovingian bloodline descends directly from Jesus and the Magdalene. This is a complete lie that Satanists have gone to great lengths to fabricate.

There is no question that Diana's charm was evident from the moment she stepped onto the world stage. When she appeared, many hoped that she would become the living embodiment of the prophecy. Events seemed to reach a crescendo when the Royal wedding took place in Lammastide. Lammastide, which is held from late July to early August, is the traditional time for witch weddings. Whether Diana was aware of any of these things is something we will probably never know. From her public persona, interviews and leaked letters, the evidence would suggest Diana was kept completely in the dark about her occult status. It is a safe bet that is the case with most that are destined to become sacrifices. Remember that as the darling of the media, she was always referred to as Lady/Princess Di (e). The endearing abridgement of her name forms a disturbing phoneme to say the least.

In all probability, she was manipulated by the Spenser's and the Windsor's for their own ends and occult purposes. She seemed a sweet and innocent young lady. Many people with high-level occult backgrounds raise their children with no knowledge of their dark heritage, and then covertly arrange marriages with other families possessing carefully guarded bloodlines. Few bloodlines are as carefully guarded as the Cainite Royal bloodlines of the British aristocracy. This notwithstanding that "British Israelism" promotes the false ideology that the British monarchy is actually the House of David. They adhere to the doctrine that when Jesus returns, the throne of David will be in Westminster Abbey over the Stone of Destiny. Hence, Diana's firstborn son, William would be viewed as holding a special destiny from an occult perspective. He would not just be the heir apparent to the throne of England, but would represent the confluence of two sacred rivers descending from the same source in the ancient world, namely the Spenser and Saxe-Coburg-Gotha (Windsor) line. And quite fittingly, he would be assuming the "Throne of David" as King of the United Kingdom.

On the weight of the virtually boundless occult connections linking Diana and William to ancient occult prophecy; it becomes obvious that the fatal crash that claimed Diana's life was not just an assassination, but a ritual sacrifice. It was certainly convenient for Charles and the Queen that Diana would be out of the way, so the palace would assume total control over the rearing and grooming of the Princes. It would also remove Diana from the fray and prevent her from absconding with her sons to some foreign destination as she purportedly intended, which would have effectively ended the Windsor Royal Dynasty.

The racial bait and switch (Cain as Seth), freed the Cainites to more easily set their evil plans in motion. In many cases, they even adopted Jewish sounding names to hide their true roots, as Cainite Aryans. This removed from history the increasing knowledge about them, their true identities, who they were and what the nature of their Great Work. Going back through time one confronts a murky Aryan lineage derived from an Edenic, pure-blooded Satanic sect who resided in Germany until the Victorian era called Saxe-Coburg-Gotha (Windsor), whose ancient satanic bloodline and vampirical heritage can be traced back to Gothic Eastern Europe. It was this lineage that produced Prince Vlad the Impaler, an ancestor of British Royals, including Prince Charles of course, and his son, Prince William.

Diana's own heritage can be traced back to the Merovingian Kings of France, and back to a sea-creature known as the Quinotaur, made her the perfect vessel for the seed of Satan. This made Prince William the living embodiment of the two main branches of the ancient lineages of Cain and/or the Fallen Anunnaki, who were deliberately brought together for the specific aim of producing the Antichrist. The aptly-named "Beast" therefore, has a dual lineage of the most pure-blooded evil surviving since Eden, but now reunited once more, in him. The Old Testament itself issues a warning of Cain's unique connection with Satan, in Genesis, and his presence among us throughout history, hiding under Jewish names, as Christ exposed within the first chapters of Revelation, the very same book that also exposes the Antichrist.

There are 22 (11+11) cards in the Major Arcana of the Tarot, 22 Crenels constructed for Magdalen's Tower in Merovingian France, 22 Chapters in the Book of the Revelation, 22x3 (66) books in the Bible, and if Prince William is ever given the title "Prince of Wales," he will be the 22nd to have it. In the book, The Templar Revelation by Clive Prince, he reminds us that "There is a good reason for the emphasis on eleven and twenty-twos: these numbers are both Master Numbers within the occult Great Work. They are particularly significant in Cabalistic studies." To the theistic Satanist, 11:11 is coded language to represent the Age of Aquarius, a time when the world will be under the Antichrist's rule. The individual numbers 9 and 11 themselves are easily found within LaVey's Satanism, known to have satanic statements and Eleven Rules. It should also be mentioned here that the Ten Sephirot globes connected by 22 paths on the Kabbalistic Tree of Life also correspond to those worlds in our own Solar System (9 planets + 1 Sun). One should also remember we have already seen 11 directly relating to Antichrist before, in Scripture: "And the Ten Horns out of this Kingdom are Ten Kings that shall arise; and another shall arise after them and he shall be diverse from the other Ten." (see Daniel 7:24). So the Antichrist, represented as the 'Little Horn' that arises after Ten Kings, makes him the 11th King even by way of Scripture. At every level, 11:11 represents a powerful threshold (or Stargate) from which Satan will again pass through the dimensional threshold into our world, having his full destructive powers restored to attain his ancient goal of sitting upon God's Throne at Zion.

Not insignificantly, Page 202 of the Necronomicon collectively seem to refer to the spirit of Antichrist rising up from its ancient Abyss to assume the throne of the future rebuilt Temple of Solomon in Jerusalem, which oddly enough displays two sets of pillars on either side of its entrance seemingly forming a perfect 11:11 doorway into the Inner Temple. 1_1 represents the Holy Trinity itself (two seen, one unseen) of which God (1) and His Son (1) are represented, with the Holy Spirit being the shared Soul between them, thus 1_1). The Unholy Trinity (1_1) that stands in complete opposition to the Holy Trinity (1_1) would indicate that 11:11 is the final phase of the War in Heaven taking place on Earth, known as the war of Armageddon. This is why the Astrological Age of Pisces (Christ) moving into Aquarius (Antichrist) is so strongly connected with 11:11. The numbers themselves represent the transitioning from the Age of the Holy Trinity into the Age of an Unholy Trinity - from God and His Son, to Satan and his son, with the Kabbalistic Ein Sof (counterfeit God/Holy Spirit) between them. "As above so below." That said, perhaps many have all too quickly put away the work of Nostradamus and his Quatrain about a Great King of Terror from the skies above, bringing forth the "King of Angolmois" from below, an event highlighted by the total solar eclipse of 1999 connected to King Arthur. In a later chapter called "The Grand Chessboard's Ultimate Contest," the significance of the Twin Towers, which form an '11' and 9/11, Flight 11, Flight 77 (7 multiplied by 11) will be seen.

KING ANGOLMOIS = ANGLO [KING] + LION + SANG + SOLOMON

Anglo-English King [believed] Descendant of the Blood[line] of Solomon

The Solar Eclipse of August 11, 1999 at 11:11am over Tintagel, England was considered by many in the occult field to be the catalyzing moment for the spiritual rebirth of the Cain as the New Aquarian Messiah or false Messiah known as the Antichrist. In fact, the period between August 11-13, that is to say between the Eclipse on August 11th and the Moon festival of Hecate on August 13th, was a time of great celebration (and sacrifice) for Satanic witches in Britain, who connected the stellar events not only with King Arthur, their ancient pagan King, but also with the Hecate sacrifice of Diana, Prince William's mother. Appearing exactly one week later on August 18 1999, over Britain, a Celtic Cross was seen formed by the astrological signs of the Lion, Eagle, Bull, and Aquarius/Man, the same four Holy Beasts of Revelation (see Rev. 4:7), who pour out Hell on Earth during the time of the Beast.

The Celtic cross was popular at the time of King Arthur and found everywhere throughout the ancient British Isles. However, it is of far more ancient design. Occultists claim this 'Cross' to not a Christian symbol at all, but a very ancient pagan rune of their sun-god, Lucifer, even as it later came to be the symbol known as "the Mark of Cain." Others have likened the Grand Cross alignment to an imperfect 'crooked Cross' or Solar Swastika, over Britain. Still others have linked this UK 'Anglo-Cross' with the future Grail King and/or the Lost Tribes of Israel. Occult author and practicing metaphysician Kathy Doore, described the August 1999 Cross in the heavens as forming the Hebraic Tau, the emblem of the initiate who has triumphed over death. It also signifies the 22nd and last letter of the Hebrew alphabet denoting the end and perfection of the Kabbalistic Great Work, as well as the soon to be rebuilt Third Jewish Temple in Jerusalem and the return of a Grail King to oversee it, who is symbolized by the 22nd letter of the English alphabet, as 'V.' Taking all of this into account leads to only one conclusion. The Great Work of Satan propagated by his occult religion is no less than the fulfilling of his ancient plan to conquer Zion in order to become like God, a goal referenced in the Book of Isaiah's 5th "I Will" of Lucifer, which is "I Will Be Like God." The name "King WILL-I-AM V" (the Fifth) leaves little room for doubt as to the meaning of the Quatrain above regarding "the Great King of Terror" whose planet is represented by Mars (Satan), that descends so that the spirit of "King Angolmois" can ascend, as a 'New King anointed. "The Beast that thou sawest was, and is not, but will be again, shall ascend out of the Bottomless Pit and go into [the Son of] Perdition."

To the occult mindset, Satan is the sun-god, Diana is the moon goddess and their tantric union is represented by the symbol of the Baphomet, yet also by the symbol of the Solar Eclipse, which symbolizes the Once and Future King, who according to the prophet Nostradamus, is to be born under the Astrological sign of Cancer, with Mars active and Sagittarius rising, the exact astrological sign of Prince William.

The pagan moon goddess Diana was known to wear the Amulet of Cancer. Nostradamus' reference to Mars reigning supreme before and after the 1999 event alludes to the fact that in both 1988, 2003, and again in March 2012, Mars was closer to Earth than it had been in many centuries. In the occult realm, and equally within God's own end-time portents, the close proximity of the planet Mars marks of time of great change, catastrophe, upheaval, war, even as it did in the ancient world, even as the ancient world also saw the red planet as a symbol of the devil himself, the Red Dragon. Mars being so close was thought to herald the time of Satan being in his power and choosing his Antichrist King.

Eleven months after the August 11, 1999 Arthurian Solar Eclipse came the eclipse of July 1, 2000, on what should have been the 39th birthday of Princess Diana. As if God uses more than one kind of interstellar portent above in our skies to highlight and foretell the next event that is linked to His prophetic timing, the appearance of comets, like eclipses, also figure most prominently as omens predicting tumultuous events in the world. As such, comets have been historically viewed as harbingers of destruction, often foretelling the death of a Royal. In ancient times, their presence blazing across the night skies were considered messages sent by the gods. The ancient Babylonian Epic of Gilgamesh described fire, brimstone, and flood with the arrival of a particular comet. During his time, the Roman Emperor Nero is reported to have saved himself from the "curse of the comet" by having all possible successors to his throne executed en masse.

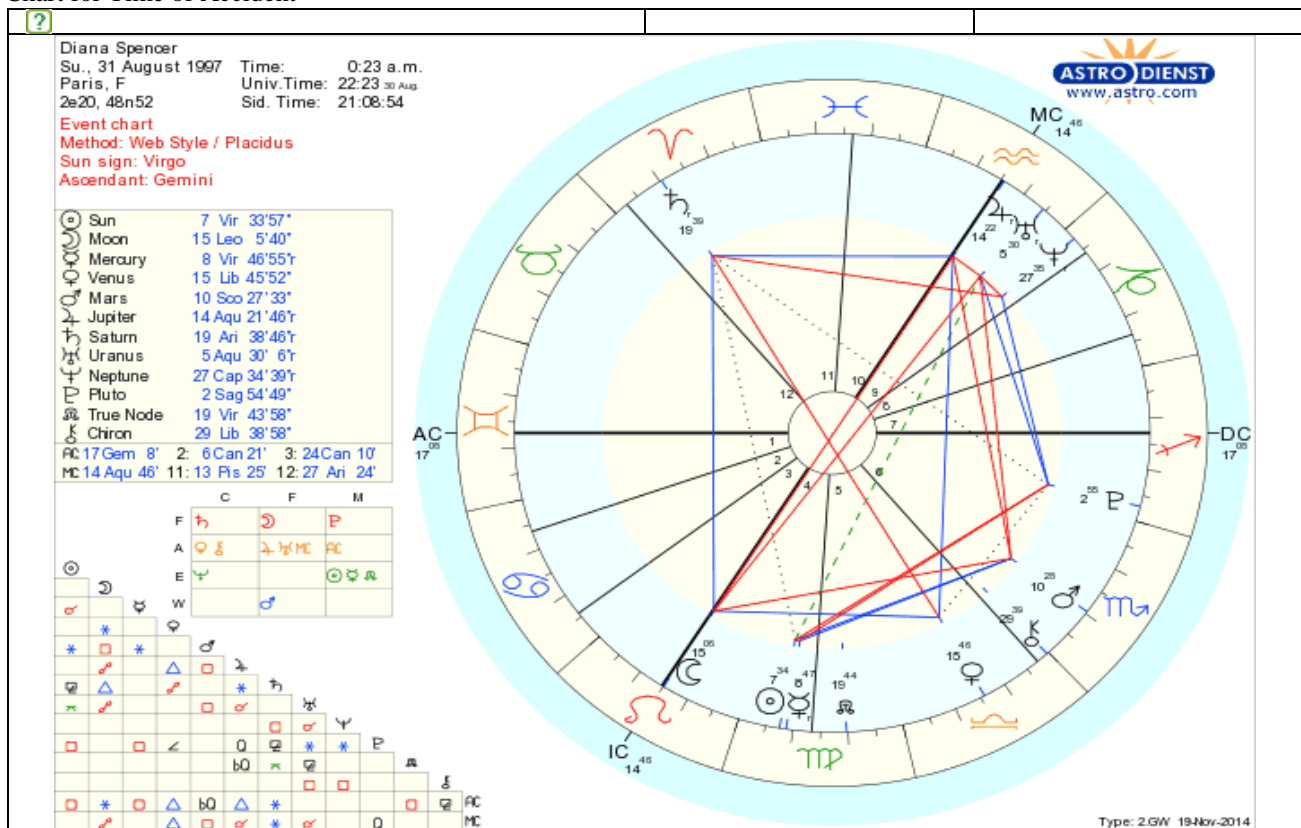

Taking heed of these harbingers and applying them to the modern era, it was March 1997 that the comet "Hale-Bop" appeared and carved a path through the constellation Cassiopeia, the Queen, as if to foretell that a future Queen was about to be 'crossed out' of existence. Five months later, Diana was dead. It stands to reason, therefore, that the Antichrist would have both eclipses and other signs from above surrounding events in his own life. The following timeline illustrates the extent of the signs associated with Prince William, directly or indirectly: 1) The birth of Prince Charles saw the first of 13 eclipses that later mark the Future King. 2) There was a Total Solar Eclipse after the marriage of Prince Charles and Lady Diana in July 1981. 3) There was a partial Solar Eclipse during the birth of Prince William on June 21, 1982. 4) There was a Total Lunar Eclipse that highlighted the painful divorce proceedings of William's parents in December 1992. 5) The following hours after Princess Diana died were a Partial Solar Eclipse 6) Two years later came the "Arthurian" Total Solar Eclipse of August 1999. 7) There was a Total Lunar Eclipse in January 2001 with its shadow cast over Patagonia Chile, where William was visiting while on gap year. 8) While William was in Africa on his 19th birthday, there was a Total Solar Eclipse over Africa on June 21st 2001. 9) Exactly one year later, on June 21, 2002 (Prince William's 20th Birthday) saw Mars closer to the Earth than it had been in thousands of years, shining from the constellation of the Sword, fulfilling Nostradamus prophecy in C6Q24 regarding a New King rising. On the same day, an unexpected 'killer asteroid' had just missed the Earth coming within 1/3 the distance between the Earth and the Moon. 11 days before was an Annular Solar Eclipse. 10) There was a rare 'Supermoon' during the birth of Prince William's firstborn son in July 2013. 11) There was a rare Blood-Moon Eclipse that occurred during Prince William's trip to New Zealand and Australia, with his new wife and son. 12) There will be an Annular Solar Eclipse again on Prince William's 38th birthday, June 21st in the year 2020. 13) There will be a Solar Eclipse again on Prince William's 66th birthday, June 21st in the year 2048. 14) Exactly ten years later, on Prince William's 78th birthday, there will be a Partial Solar Eclipse on June 21, 2058.

Leon Marchal, former secretary general of the Council of Europe, confirmed that the 12 Stars on the European Union flag are representative of the Goddess Isis. The Goddess is seen with the moon at her feet indicating that the Moon Goddess [Diana] has appeared. Diana is the mother of the Moonchild of Babylon. This Beast motif is guided astrologically by the Arcturus star. It is known as "the Great Bear" and is associated with the House of Isis [and Sirius].

The Arcturian meme is that of the man-beast or the Bear. On the inside of the dome of the European Union Parliament building in Strasbourg there is a colossal painting of “The Woman Riding the Beast,” and outside the Council of Europe building, there is a large bronze statue of the same figure. This forms the trident of an unholy trinity, which is Satan, the Antichrist and the False Prophet.

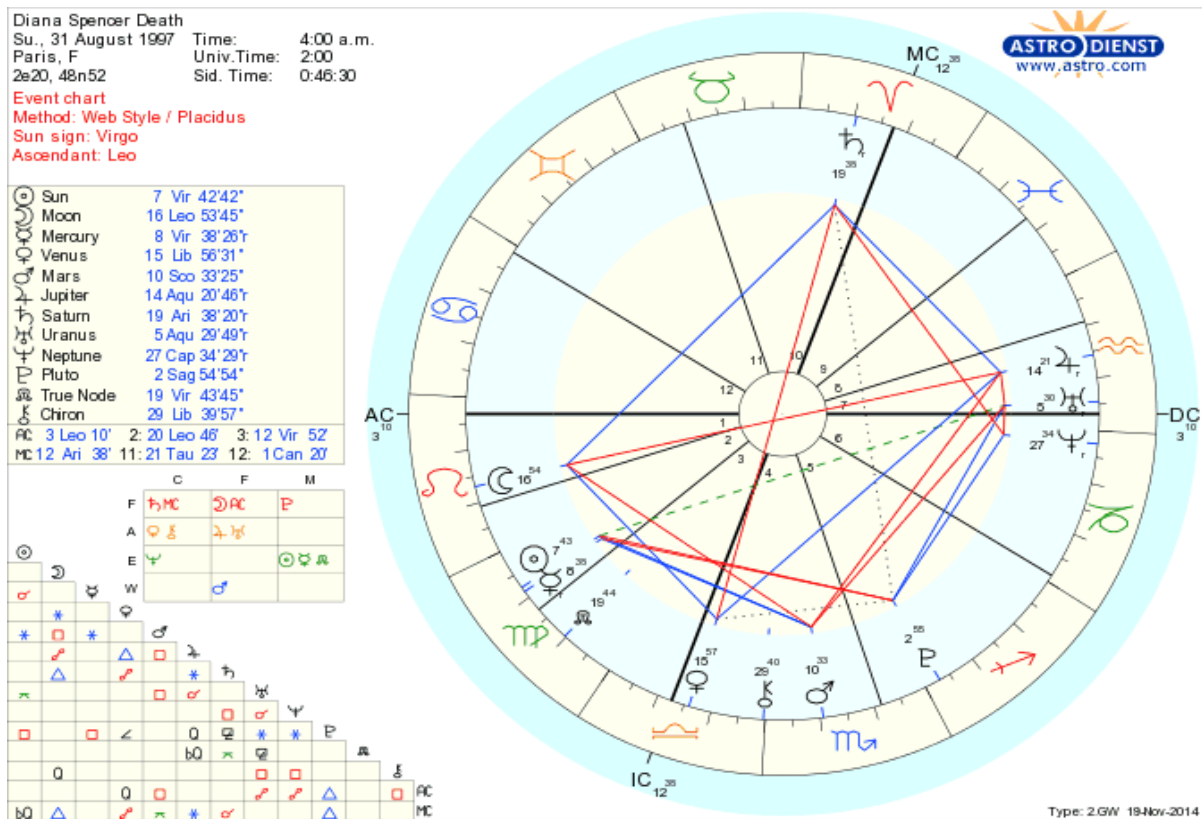

The name Arthur is also associated with Arcturus. Prince William’s full name is William Arthur Philip Louis (Mountbatten) Windsor. He can use any of those names when crowned King. Using the name Arthur as King would send a message to his kingdom. Satan has deceived the entire world, but he was never alone in that grand effort. There are legions of followers at this beck who have done his bidding, happy to gain a kingdom at the price of their souls. The spell he exerted over humankind could not have occurred without human agents casting spell as his behest right here in this third-dimensional reality, something Satan and his fallen flock could never have accomplished on their own from their spiritual abode and dimensional lair. Satan’s work via his human agents of destruction will not be for not, for humans have assisted in the Great Work of Ages from the time of Cain, in the beginning, unto the time of the Antichrist, at the end.

Chart for Time of Accident

Estimated Time of Death Chart

Diana: Moon Goddess Sacrifice

At the time of her death at 0023 Hours, the chart cast for the time of Diana’s car accident shows her AC (Ascendant) in Gemini at 17°. This suggests that the seeding motivating factor behind the event was communications under the rulership of the communicator Gemini. The fact that this media event was broadcast worldwide was one thing, but then there is the fact that the Paparazzi were represented as the precipitating factor behind the accident. The three Paparazzi motorcyclists were merely agent provocateurs placed at the scene by design. In part, the event was meant to cast aspersions on the media’s penchant for harassing to the point of driving them around a perilous bend toward their demise and ruin. This combined with Masonic-Illuminati ritual, in which the incarnation of the moon goddess was meant to die at Pont de l’Alma, the traditional site of Diana worship over the course of the centuries. At the same time, the three Paparazzi motorcyclists played their part in a Masonic passion play based on the Third Degree of Freemasonry as the Three Unworthy Craftsman.

This is a common signature in Masonic assassinations. The killing of John F. Kennedy, for example, also staged the appearance of the Three Unworthy Craftsman in the form of the three so-called Railway Hoboes, who were subject to a mock arrest never recorded in the Dallas police records, designed to convey them safely from the scene of the crime. All this had the effect of reigning in the power of the media to pry where it was not wanted, i.e. into the private lives of the elite.

In addition, the AC at 17° of Gemini represents the Sabian symbol of “The head of a robust youth changes into that of a mature thinker”. One is tempted here to think of Prince William, who at the time of his loss would have had many sobering realizations to confront, which would have doubtless made him come of age prematurely. The experience of suffering the loss of his beloved mother at so early an age would have had the effect of giving him “old head on young shoulders” so to speak as the Sabian symbol suggests.

The chart cast for the time of her death shows that Diana’s (AC) Ascendant is at 3° of Capricorn, representing the Sabian symbol, “The human soul in its eagerness for new experiences seeks embodiment”. This is fascinating in its implications as it implies that Diana’s purpose in this incarnation had been accomplished and that her soul was in process of migrating to a new body that might possibly have invited new hopes and a happier existence. What the position of the AC does confirm is that her soul was in migration at the moment the chart was cast for the time of her death, which is startling in terms of confirmation.

The DC (Descendant) at 17° of Sagittarius shows that under the rulership of Sagittarius the traveler, there is the presence of the malefic scorpionic planet Pluto, which often brings change through death and destruction. The fact that Diana's fatal accident occurred by means of travel is reflected in the outcome in the Seventh House under the rulership of the sign of travel. The Sabian symbol for 17° of Sagittarius is "An Easter sunrise service". This is an obvious allusion to the fact that the accident is a fatal one and that a solemn funeral service will be the outcome. The DC then transforms to 3° of Aquarius, which is the Sabian symbol for "A deserter from the Navy". Could it be that one of the covert ops was a former Navy man or an intelligence operative recruited from the Navy? Military intelligence involvement is well known. MI6 intelligence agent Tomlinson was the first to make the public disclosure that there were plans to murder Diana by using the same M.O. that had formerly been planned to take out Serbian leader Slobodan Milošević, in which a bright beam of laser-guided light would be used to blind the driver.

The position of the MC (Midheaven) at the time of the accident was 14° of Aquarius, which symbolizes "A Train entering a tunnel". The import of this Sabian symbol is complimented by the fact that Jupiter is also at 14° of Aquarius, lending it a double aspect also representing "A train entering a tunnel". It is also worth mentioning that the migration of the soul after death is also depicted as the soul entering a long tunnel, not of darkness usually but of light. Jupiter also rules rulers and kings and since the princess was a royal princess, it speaks of someone of royal lineage being the one to enter the tunnel however one might view the tunnel, whether literal or figurative.

Certainly, it was a speeding juggernaut entering a tunnel, not a train perhaps but a vehicle resembling one in its relentlessness and dauntlessness. The position of the MC (Midheaven) at the time of Diana's death was in Aries, the god of war, under the rulership of Saturn, the malefic planet oft associated with death. Since the Midheaven represents effects on public and social life, it seems evident that a large portion of the public would quickly realize that this was a malefic and aggressive action homicidal in its implications. With the MC at 12° of Aquarius in the chart cast for her time of death, under the rulership of the malefic planet Saturn, there is the implication that the Aquarian influence of freedom was dealt a blow in the public domain. This was of course true, since Diana was perceived as a vibrant free spirit who embodied the very principle of freedom. With her gone, there was the feeling and genuine reality that freedom had left the world with her. In addition, the agents provocateurs disguised as Paparazzi photojournalists dealt freedom of speech a blow as well, for it called into question the powers of the media, and led to curbs being placed on them in terms of how far they would be allowed to go in the coverage of the lives of celebrities and people occupying positions of real power in society.

The MC at 12° of Aries also represents the Sabian symbol of "A bomb which failed to explode is now safely concealed". There are two possible implications here. Either it represents the fact that a bomb was also deployed in the apparent assassination attempt and was found to be unnecessary and therefore disposed of or Diana herself represented a "bomb" that was figuratively set to detonate with a public disclosure that would have been explosive in its ramifications. However, since she failed to explode as a result of her death, the "bomb", in this case Diana's disclosure, "is now safely concealed" from public view. The latter possibility seems the more likely alternative, since revelations have come out that Diana planned to go public with information damaging to the Royal Family of Britain, but in the event of her death that mission was derailed.

Chiron at 29° of Libra reveals the Sabian symbol, "Mankind's vast effort to reach for knowledge transferable from generation to generation, and knowledge". Chiron represents weakness and debility, a condition where an Achilles' heel exists, leading to injury or death. Perhaps the weakness lies in humanity's inability to learn from its mistakes, causing it to have to relive these experiences in one form or another karmically from generation to generation. The fact that Chiron is in Libra is significant because Libra rules justice and the principle of achieving balance in terms of law and order. With Chiron here, our collective weakness is revealed. We as a people have a great deal of trouble achieving law and order and the principle of justice tends to allude us generationally, so that we are destined to relive the same experiences and exhibit the same patterns of behaviour until we finally learn to transcend and overcome.

Hegel expressed the condition by claiming, "We learn from history that we learn absolutely nothing from history." But perhaps eventually we do. When the truth of our machinations and wicked ways finally comes out, there is perhaps a time when we do learn. It is a desperate struggle, in which some of us express a "vast effort to reach knowledge from generation to generation". These represent the initiated few who endeavour to discover the truth and convey it to others, but the weakness lies in our collective psychological denial, our fear of the truth, our inability to face our dark side, our shadow personality, the unpopular part of our psyche. So instead we tend to subvert the truth, suppress it, push it into the subconscious and refuse to allow it to come to the surface. Lord and Lady Macbeth express this tendency perfectly.

Macbeth even received an advanced warning from the subconscious part of his psyche before he even commits the heinous act of murder and high treason, but fails to listen, plunging headlong into the action that would lead to his demise. It is not until he is haunted by the ghosts of his own action as in the scene where he asks, "Is this a dagger I see before me?" that the truth of his actions and the suppressed guilt he experiences is forced to the surface. In the meantime, he and Lady Macbeth put up a false front in public, playing out the hypocritical role necessary to feign innocence. But it is in the night, in the somnambulant sleepwalking of Lady Macbeth that the truth comes out. It is in her sleep that admissions of guilt are made.

Mars at 10° of Scorpio reveals the Sabian symbol of "A fellowship supper reunites old comrades". The fact that Mars is the ruling planet in Scorpio suggests that the planet governing the war drive is behind this little gathering and that their deeds are scorpionic in design. Scorpio is a vengeful sign and the implication is that a conspiracy has been hatched with revenge as the motivating factor.

Diana had a reputation for getting her own back on the Royal Family, who had treated her so abominably. She had publicly embarrassed the Royals, most particularly her ex-husband Charles, on numerous occasions. She had cuckolded Charles by having a love affair with Mark Philips. The coup de grâce was her planned betrothal to Dodi Fayed.

Rumors that she was carrying his child would have made the public embarrassment for the British Royals intolerable, since it would have led to the entry of an unwanted foreign and Muslim line into the British upper caste.

Whether or not Diana was actually pregnant may never be proven, since the embalming fluid she was given with unseemly haste would have prevented a conclusive pregnancy test from being performed. The collective embarrassments she had created for the Royals and the British establishment had reached such a crescendo that the drive to silence her and curtail her activities had reached a fevered pitch.

Since MI6 is charged with protecting the Royal Family, it is probable that this was the agency in charge of orchestrating her execution. Perhaps this was the "fellowship supper" which reunited "old comrades". It is disturbing to think that the conspiracy might have been hatched over dinner, but then there is also the allusion to the possibility of a symbolic "Last Supper" for the victim in question. Ironically, she had been dining at the Ritz the night of her death and of course it was to be her last supper.

Pluto at 2° of Sagittarius reveals the Sabian symbol "The Ocean covered with white caps". Pluto, the malefic scorpionic planet under the rulership of Sagittarius, suggests that an accident or a destructive event might result from travel.

Death did occur by a vehicle of travel. The Sabian symbol indicates that the event involved a storm and an associated tempest of activity. In fact, the media frenzy that erupted in the aftermath of the event was oceanic in scope. The world's citizenry was caught up in the furor for weeks, immersed in gossip about the Royal Family, many blaming them for her death, and others criticizing them for their withdrawal from the public eye and caginess during this period.

Saturn at 19° of Aries reveals the Sabian symbol of "The magic carpet of oriental imagery." Many researchers have referred to the seduction of Diana by Mohamed Al-Fayed, who seduced her with his glamorous charms. It is probable that he was hoping to wend his way into the British establishment by courting a relationship with Diana in order to introduce his son as a suitor. It is probable that Diana was seduced by "The magic carpet of oriental imagery" in both father and son.

The fact that Al-Fayed went to such lengths to wine and dine her and lavish her with gifts whenever she came to Harrod's Department Store indicates that he was doing his level best to impress her. And there is every indication that it worked, since Diana appeared to be taken with the oriental charms of father and son. In short, she was seduced. The fact that the malefic planet Saturn is aspected here suggests that she was lured to her death by a seducer's lair. While the intention may not have been malevolent on either of their parts, the outcome was and that is the point.

Seduction seems to have led in this instance to death. The simple and horrible fact is that there was no way a racist British aristocracy was going to accept a Middle Eastern bloodline into their genetic pool any more than an aristocracy allied to the Church of England were going to let a Muslim line into their midst. The seduction of a British princess by an Arabic Muslim foreigner was tantamount to her death knell. In fact, the knell was ringing from the moment they exchanged love vows. If it were discovered she was carrying his child, it would spell her end.

The conspiracy known as the Great Work continues to this day. Down through the ages it has had a single malevolent goal of global enslavement, as the Georgia Guidestones would attest. It is so diabolical in its intent that the Bible issued a warning about it as early as Genesis 3:15, where the epic war between Christ and Satan is foretold. How does this cataclysmic End Times battle come about? Through the preservation of the bloodlines, where the descendants of each would attempt to stake their claim upon Zion. Thus, there are two warring factions behind the spiritual veil that is daily leading this world toward Armageddon. The signs are all around us, though many are too blind to perceive events more discernible than the graffiti on the wall. What has brought us as a civilization to this sorry pass? Largely, it is the result of the descendants of Cain, who worship Satan within ancient secret societies dedicated to his will, who have increasingly exploited the ignorance of humankind as their greatest weapon, dividing and conquering this world in honor of the deceiver who took the kingdom by plunder.

While these same hidden controllers have proven themselves to be the arch-enemies of God, they carry out unimaginable acts of perversion, occult works and rituals that they so wantonly dedicate only to Satan and his demons. How can anyone be oblivious to the systematic removal of God from every facet of our lives? Not only is it linked to their vain pursuit of power by the secret societies, but more insidiously these same societies seek to subtly erode and attack the means by which mankind can be freed from their increasing subjection to global authority and rule. Since the dawn of civilization, they have existed, and while hiding under Semitic names since the time of Enoch, have created the world's most infamous secret societies, including The Council of Celtic Druids, the Priory of Sion, The Roman College of Architecture, the French Cathars, the Knights Templar, the Knights Hospitalier, the Knights of Columbus, The Knights of Malta, the York Scottish Rite of Freemasonry, the Jesuit Order, (Society of Jesus), Grand Orient Freemasonry, the Bavarian Illuminati, Opus Dei, the Hermetic Order of The Golden Dawn, Ordo Templis Orientis, the Rosicrucians, the German Thule Society, and the Anglo-American Skull and Bones, to name but a few of the more influential. It is these organizations that have worked in concert down through the ages to corrupt the world's education system to the point where it indoctrinates students to become a tool of the fascist liberal far left.

Satan devises a series of counterfeit measures to emulate God's Creation, even attempting as an imposter to be God, while counterfeiting the Word of God, His religions, His Chosen People, His Messiah, His Zion, and even Creation itself. While God's Chosen People reside in Israel, the land of their ancestors, Satan's Cainite Empire resides largely in Europe and the United States. While the most literal definition of 'Zionism' is the promise that the Jews will one day return to their ancient homeland, where they over flourished some 4,000 years ago, the corrupted counterfeit version of 'Zionism' is based on the Cainite elites seeking the destruction of Israel, first through the propaganda war, and later, through actual war.

Not coincidentally, within the windowless halls of Masonic Lodges, Christ is shunned completely in favor of the ancient and demonic gods of Canaan, Babylon, Persia and Egypt. Furthermore, Freemasonry literally names Lucifer, and not Christ, as their god of light, while instilling into each of its adherents the exalting of the sun-god Lucifer over god, as the result of beliefs adopted from the same pagan cultures that were known to worship demons as gods. For the most part, the Templar/Masonic belief system and Freemasonry as a whole is Luciferianism. It upholds the Great Work of Ages of the Cainite elite on a global scale. Moreover, when it becomes obvious through their own writings that they venerate such evil biblical characters as Cain, Tubal-Cain, and Judas, it becomes abundantly clear that Freemasonry is the religion of the Fallen Angel, Lucifer. For just as Cain was the First Murderer as well as the Father of the Craft, Freemasonry ultimately implies that Cain's father was not God, but Satan. For if Christ had a Holy Lineage, so too must the Antichrist have an unholy lineage from Cain to Antichrist.

Thus, the reality of Cain's bloodline, which many of the Templar elite themselves maintain, is misrepresented as "Christ's Bloodline," and the Church, being somehow convinced and believing this heresy, knew such a possibility of Christ having a wife and children needed to be kept in strict confidence among the ruling elite hidden within the Vatican's secretive religious Orders, along with the French Priory of Sion, Jesuits and Templars. It was a secret never intended for the consumption of the masses by either faction. In essence, what the occult secret societies were undertaking, even then, was an attempt to grant Satan a counterfeit 'holy' lineage, that would attempt to hide Cain's lineage behind the façade of a Messianic "Christ (Davidic) lineage." By this means, the future Antichrist King would be able to lay claim to a "holy" and "divine" pedigree. Through this strategy, Satan would ultimately be accepted by a future Israel (modern Israel) as the Messiah, because the only two prerequisites the Messiah need satisfy, is one, that he performs miracles; and two, that he descends from the bloodline of King David.

However, and this is what is most important, this man, born to be a King, is actually a bloodline descendant of Q'ayin (Cain), the First Murderer so revered by Satanists today, as the Antichrist of tomorrow. By the time we arrive at Genesis, with God restoring a previously ruined world into an Edenic paradise, Satan had already planned on how he would create his counterfeit Messiah from his own blood in opposition to the Divine bloodline that leads to the actual Messiah, he who is the redeemer and salvation of humanity. Thus, Satan believed he could thwart God's plan for an eternal Savior of Mankind, by tempting the only two people in the world who were the carriers of God's holy bloodline through which Christ would eventually be born. As a result, Satan planned to impregnate Eve before Adam was able to even own his own sexuality. Thus, Eve was quickly beguiled, setting in motion the war between the bloodlines, one of Cain, through which the Royal Anglo-European blueblood elites descend, and the other of Seth, which ultimately became the Jews. In so doing, their earthly war mirrored the First War between the Two Morning Stars, Christ and Satan, that is still being waged between the angels of God and Lucifer's fallen host to this day.

In time, while Seth survived Cain, and went on to carry his legacy of Holy lineage that eventually became Christ, Cain went on to found a city, from which he taught the inhabitants of the surrounding kingdoms how to wage warfare, how to engage in demon worship, unholy sacrifices of virgin children, how to serve Satan, by enticing those who would join with ever-increasing degrees of knowledge, wisdom, riches, and power through what became the first of his elitist secret societies and mystery schools. This is this same Cainite lineage that has succeeded in controlling and enslaving the entire human race as a result of this covert attack upon human civilization. While some are aware of their presence, seeing their malevolent influence in the political, financial and banking sectors, they may or may not realize that their power is derived directly from the Fallen Angel, despite these elitists worshipping the ancient sun-god Lucifer, whom they venerate in their secret society fraternities.

Understand, that the New World shall come about as the result of a global grassroots effort among the survivors of the coming collapse, who will band together to form increasingly linked communities of similar laws and common cause that shall play out according to plan. Behind it, however, will be the same secret societies who have existed for centuries that will seed the so-called Green communities, UN Agenda 21 Districts and "communitarianism" societies of tomorrow. As such, their plan is to divide the world into 10 regional Districts, with a new European Union overseeing it all. Out of that New Europe, that arises like a phoenix from the ashes of the old, defunct and failed EU, a Masonic King will arrive to oversee the building of the world's last great superpower from the ashes of the old EU. In that emerging world, governed by a newly anointed Philosopher King, the exhausted multitudes, who had already passed through the destruction of the previous European Community, will be ready to embrace a new leader who arrives on a platform of peace, prosperity and a New Global Constitution deceptively pretending to promote harmony and balance between all living things. He will create a new rule of law that seemingly favors peace over war, a new global financial system, unlimited clean energy, as well as the establishment of a goddess-centered green religion that blended witchcraft, druidism, and Talmudic sorcery with paganist Earth religions.

Thus, the One World King, the Antichrist, while currently just a man, not yet fully embodying the Fallen Angel, he may not even be aware of the destiny that awaits him. But when the world is at its weakest, it is likely that he will be presented with a choice, and that he will most probably choose absolute power. In that single moment, Satan shall take possession of the Son of Perdition, the product of years of generational interbreeding of occult bloodlines and Cainite blood lineages emerging from ancient Nod, Babylon, Assyria, Egypt, Greece, Rome, and ultimately Roman Britannia.

In fact, it was the ancient Romans that first settled and created London, in the years following Christ's crucifixion. Therefore, when we read the Antichrist prophecy in Daniel about "the Prince that shall come," who arises out of the same people that destroyed the Holy City and the Sanctuary (Solomon's Temple), we can easily discern that the reference was to the ancient Romans, who, amazingly enough, at the very same time Prince Titus was destroying both Jerusalem and the Temple, Rome was already building a major port city called Londinium in its furthest western province of Britannia. The port city that the Romans built? It eventually became the City of London. In other words, what the Book of Daniel was telling us all along, is that the future Antichrist would arise out of a revived Roman Empire – today's European Union – as a prince and future King to be born in the City of London. One should also remember that the European Union itself emerged from a 1957 trade agreement signed in Rome between the nations of Europe that led to creation of the European Common Market. Thus, ancient Rome's connection with today's EU, and Britain specifically, that will one day lead to a 10-nation "Resurrected Roman Empire," which is to rise phoenix-like following a period of economic collapse.

The year 1982 proved to be another pivotal year in the Illuminati plan to unleash the Beast upon this world. Interestingly enough, six months after the Royal Wedding, while Diana was already three months pregnant with William, came the release of The Holy Blood and the Holy Grail in 1982, with its three authors, Baigent, Lincoln and Lee, making shocking claims, exposing long held Templar secrets provided by a mysterious French Illuminati agent named Pierre Plantard, posing as the Grand Master of the Priory of Sion, that European royalty descended from the Merovingian bloodline. The secret divulged to the world at the time, contained the genealogical record of the Davidic (Messianic) bloodline descending through Jesus and his purported bloodline descendants, to become the ancient Merovingian Kings who ruled France, and later created the Templars and Freemasonry itself, with the underlying occult message that we should be anticipating the prophetic fulfillment of the birth of a King, a Messianic royal descending from this Merovingian-Cainite lineage, who would take charge of the planet in the coming New Age, that would arrive after a contrived Armageddon that would involve radical Islam.

The Holy Blood and Holy Grail was the first global attempt to advance the Priory of Sion lie that a Satan's Cainite, Merovingian lineage is the Messianic lineage of Israel, by way of France, where it is claimed Mary Magdalene and the bloodline descendants of Jesus had come two millennia ago. While the book had its critics, the vast majority of its readership became intrigued, despite the entire premise being based on a series of lies that concealed one of the greatest deceptions ever advanced. By this means, the satanic elites have successfully managed to exploit mankind's ignorance, so the next stage of their diabolical plot to emerge. It is these Cainites, who seek to control this world just long enough to hand it over to the Antichrist, who will bring the Great Work of Ages to culmination, the world-historical plan to establish Lucifer's reign upon Earth. Not long afterwards, Prince William was born, which seemed innocent enough to the ignorant and unsuspecting world at the time. A decade later, the Royal genealogist, Lawrence Gardner, who refused to endorse the Messianic Grail lie with his own series of books, but pushed it even further to espouse that the Merovingian lineage had migrated to Scotland, through Templars like William and Henry Sinclair, where the Scottish Royal House of Stuart was established and presented it as the rightful royal line of England, Scotland and Wales.

Add to this the fact that the aforementioned Stuart lineage (aligned with Scottish Rite of Freemasonry for centuries), had produced the intended future Queen, in the late Diana Spencer. While there is some discrepancy over whether the Windsor claim to the Throne of England is even legitimate, seeing that they are descendants of the Germanic house of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, most scholars agree that the Stuart lineage is not only the rightful royal line of England as well as Scotland, but is also the rightful claimant to the Throne of David, and Israel itself. Therefore, this intriguing and most infamous of all arranged marriages between Prince Charles and Grail Princess Diana was not hatched solely by the Windsor's themselves. It was of far more ancient design and connected to the Knights Templar, which later spawned the Blue and Red Factions of Freemasonry, of whom the British aristocracy owe their claim to rule by the Divine Right of Kings, the goal of which was always to bring about a proper human vessel, of a far more wicked and ancient heredity, by which their god, Lucifer, could assume human form, just as the Father had done through Christ, and contrived to counterfeit his every holy work, ultimately to compel Israel to see him as the "King of the Jews." The fact remains that this is the work of the Antichrist, not Christ.

On the other side of the coming Armageddon, there shall arise a New Age of global reconstruction, false religion, and peace, defined by the conspicuous absence of Christ and godliness in general – something we are already witnessing and experiencing – with those venerating and teaching the Antichrist, espousing outrageous doctrines of racial hygiene among the Cainite elect, when it is actually a tainted bloodline of the worst kind. In this, Satan is already gaining ground. The delusional dogma being more deeply embedded in the psyche of an increasingly misguided western civilization, much of it by way of archeology and the finding of false artifacts to support the claims. As the Satanists continue to attempt to connect the two distinct racial profiles of England/Europe and Jewish/Israel, as sharing a common lineage, with a commonly shared Messiah who would preside over both peoples. In light of this, it was therefore of paramount importance that the Windsor's, and their secret handlers, seek out a virgin of the Merovingian bloodline to marry into their royal line with the aim of legitimizing their long-held position of supremacy as descendants of Crusader Godfrey de Bouillon, who himself was given title over the Kingdom and declared "King of Jerusalem" in 1099, as well as laying the ground for the emergence of a Prince descending from their draconic lineages that would legitimize their grip on the false Zionist claim within the British Monarchy well into the twenty-first century and beyond.

Juxtaposed against the backdrop of the known Islamic evil arising out of the Middle East, and the grievous war increasingly waged against it, as well as the dark age that shall result in a world having been struck by a global disaster, Satan will produce his Western-born Antichrist King to come on the scene at precisely the right time, to seemingly stem the rise of global chaos and usher in a new age. In all likelihood, the Antichrist will not appear after the Apocalypse as many believe, but after the coming global collapse that will be falsely depicted as the Apocalypse. Many survivors, starving and vulnerable, will find they are easily misled, and will easily fall for Satan's grand deception due to lack of knowledge and proper discernment. The very fact that Occult, Masonic, Satanic, and even some badly misguided Christian organizations are heavily involved in promoting the idea of a Holy Grail bloodline descending from Christ, knowing that Christ himself actually descends from the royal bloodline of King David, only goes to show that Satan's ancient plan to deceive the world is already convincing many to re-evaluate their beliefs about the identity of a modern-day Messiah.

The Messiah has been described as follows: "The Jewish messiah is a leader anointed by God, physically descended from the Davidic line – the Bloodline of ancient Israel's King David – who will rule the united tribes of Israel and herald the Messianic Age of global peace also known as the World to Come." The article goes on to explain that a Messiah doesn't even have to be Jewish, and cites its evidence from a Scripture that claimed Persia's Cyrus the Great himself was a Messiah. Due to this belief that God will choose someone completely outside of the Jewish culture to become the Messiah, there are major implications because such wrongful claims as Western Europeans, specifically royal lineages and those of Cainite origin, are Davidic in origin are a complete travesty. This is tantamount to suggesting that today's British Royal Family have a lineage that can be traced back to Israel's King David, which implies that any future king in line to the British throne could be a candidate for Israel's Messiah. Furthermore, since the equally dangerous belief that Israel's future Messiah doesn't even have to own any supernatural qualities whatsoever, truly sets the stage for the rest of Satan's plan to manifest. We are already being subjected to false prophecy, specifically concerning reputed bloodlines, a doctrine we were warned would come from false prophets.

This ancient secret that included a unique bloodline supposedly descending from King David, so powerfully wrought with arcane knowledge, that it threatened the ruling classes of Europe and the Roman Church, formerly granted the Templars enough power to rival both Europe's nobles and the Church itself. The Knights Templars, Merovingian knights descended from Cain, known for their worship of Satan and engaging in an early form of Black Mass, came to power and prospered greatly after the Crusades. In fact, the Knights Templar quickly became the formidably rich banking cartel in Europe, to the extent that the Templars actually had many of the Crown heads of Europe in debt to them. As a result, the Church, feeling somewhat displaced, as well as the new King of France, eventually had enough and conspired to execute the once untouchable Templars, at least according to the official version of history.

While the majority of the Templar leadership were summarily arrested and executed, rumors abound that a good many more fled France, taking with them their vast wealth, power, and occult knowledge. It wasn't long after that several stories arose about a strange heretical group gaining power in the rural highlands of Scotland, bringing with them a familiar heretical lineage, masonic architecture, occult science and secrets, where they continued to work in secret, through the assistance of a n already established organization native to Scotland. Many of today's secret fraternal Orders, including the Scottish Rite of Freemasonry, as well as the cunningly devised metaphysical movements preparing for a New Age, even Satanic cults themselves, can all trace their spiritual roots to Grail Templarism with its veneration of the Divine Feminine and Baphomet worship.

While in Scotland, the Templars created the Jacobite movement, which placed Freemasons and Templars in control of the British Throne, as well as laying the groundwork for what later became British-Israelism, a heretical doctrine that falsified ancient genealogical charts to make it appear that the British, and specifically, the British Royal Family, could trace their roots back to Israel's King David. Thus, the Merovingian claim of being a Davidic bloodline had now secured the British Crown, in what was becoming the most powerful country in the world, allowing the Knights Templar, the Royal House of Stuart, and the Scottish Rite of Freemasonry to be connected to the British Royal Throne ever since. This is largely due to the fact that, when Queen Elizabeth I died without an heir, and James Stewart VI of Scotland becomes King James I of England the Stewarts were firmly established in the British Royal's family tree. As such, the Merovingians, via the Royal House of Stuart, and its later descendants, eventually produced, Diana, the late Princess of Wales and mother of the future king.

Diana Frances Spencer (Stuart) was born on July 1, 1961, in Norfolk, England, the third of the Lord and Lady Althorp's four children. Diana's mother, the Honorable Frances Shand-Kydd, is the daughter of a wealthy Anglo-Irish baron. Lady Fermoy, Diana's grandmother, was for many years, the chief lady-in-waiting to the Queen Mother herself. Diana's father, the Viscount Althorp who became an earl in 1975, was a remote descendant of the Stuart kings and a direct descendant of King Charles II (1630-1685). The Spencers have long served the Crown as courtiers for generations and are related to the Sir Winston Churchill and at least eight U.S. presidents, including George Washington, John Adams, and Franklin D. Roosevelt. Diana's younger brother Charles is Queen Elizabeth II's godson, and her father was the late Queen Mary's godson and former personal aide to both King George VI and Queen Elizabeth.

Due to all these illustrious connections, Diana grew up at Park House, a mansion in Norfolk located next door to the Royal Family's Sandringham estate. It was likely the Queen herself who ensured her own children had other Royal playmates, of which, Diana is known to have frequently played with the Royal princesses and princesses, except for Charles, is rather odd considering their later intimacy. Although Prince Charles had known Diana for virtually all of her life, and had actually dated Diana's older sister, Lady Sarah, for a short time, it wasn't until 1977 that Charles and Diana formally met at a family hunting trip at Althorp, an event arranged by both the Queen and Prince Philip.

Charles was later reported to have told his mother that Diana "was adorable...full of vitality and terribly sweet." Charles was also purportedly struck by "what a very amusing and attractive 16-year-old she was." In July of 1980, then 19-year old Diana visited the Royal Family's Balmoral Castle in Scotland to see her sister, Lady Jane, who was married to the Queen's assistant secretary. Once again Charles just happened to run into Diana, and it wasn't long after this final chance encounter that the two became hounded by the local press at first and then the global media. After an initial visit to Buckingham Palace, Diana was invited back two months later in September. With the assent of both his parents,

Charles proposed to Diana at dinner in his Buckingham Palace apartment on February 3, 1981. According to a later Time interview with the Royal couple, Charles said the courtship was conducted “like a military operation.”

It is believed that the British Cainite Royals assassinated Diana because she had become a thorn in the side of the British Royal Family. Add to that the more recent reports that Diana had become pregnant by Egyptian Dodi Fayed and planned to marry him, provides the Royal Family and their security services, with motive and opportunity. Another fact that isn't much reported in the media is the fact that, since the 1992 separation and subsequent divorce between Prince Charles and Diana Spencer, the Royal Family fenced her behind a vast network of security forces that monitored her every move, including wiretaps and agents following her to ensure that she did not become a serious liability.

Whilst the specific Windsor lineage was known to be of lesser Cainite stock, being derived partly from Germanic nobility, Princess Diana's lineage can be traced back to the Merovingian kings, they being the Templar's link to the Satanic Cainite lineage purporting falsely to be of the Messianic Christ lineage and European Royalty, including the Hapsburgs, Plantagenets, Sinclairs and Stuarts, the Spencer's bearing a relation to all of them. Thus, as it is believed by the occultists, her 'divine womb' would bring forth a powerful Merovingian king to rule over the United Kingdom and ultimately the world, via a young, wealthy, charismatic and beloved Son of the Dragon through whom Satan could adroitly deceive the world. This ultimately means, therefore, by which the British Throne would have its Royal Monarch, a purer blood descendant of Cain, rather than Christ. This is precisely why Lady Diana was selected by the British Royal Family for the most infamous of arranged marriages.

To those of an occult leaning, she practically was the Holy Grail, the receptacle of Cain's holy blood rather than Christ's, it being the embodiment of “the Divine Feminine,” which was always an occult code word for Lucifer, referring to his original status among God's Sons as the “most beautiful,” just as the Holy Grail was never about any cup of Christ, but of the much more ancient fallen Crown of Lucifer, a literal emerald-laden artifact that fell to Earth with him, and has been missing ever since. It is believed that once this Grail is found, the feminine balance to God's overwhelming masculine power would be put in check, thus leaving the universe in a state of apparent harmony.

According to one of the most prominent heresies promoted by the Cainite contingent, Jesus did not die on the cross as someone took his place. Instead, it is claimed that Jesus survived the Roman crucifixion, and lived to father at least one, or a number of Divine children through his marriage to the Magdalene, the firstborn said to be a son named Judah, or Merovee, depending on the source, a name later given to the first Merovingian King of France (447 to 458 AD). Others believe the child was actually a daughter, given the name of Tamar, which became the name of an ultra-secretive organization whose assigned task was ostensibly to protect future Merovingian descendants. Regardless of the names, royal titles, or genealogies, there is an ancient bloodline that has passed down through the ages to a final candidate, one who would rule in the name of Christ, but who would be an imposter. Such a being could only be the long anticipated Antichrist. What will be said of the fraudulent claim that Christ had divine children is that the facts were kept hidden from the world, having been suppressed by the Catholic Church and revealed only to the original Knights Templar, who then passed these shocking revelations on through a series of secret societies, such as the heirs of such arcane secrets, the British Freemasons. The fact that this false claim is becoming more widespread indicates that the time of the Masonic Antichrist's reign is near.

The Holy Grail bloodline media industry, therefore, disseminates these lies in order to lay a foundation of false beliefs that will later help promote the idea that this same Future King could also, via his supposed Davidic lineage, be considered a strong candidate for the office of the Jewish Messiah. Under the guidance of their masters over a span of six millennia, secret societies such as the Knights Templar and others each have their role as protectors of the ancient bloodline as Guardians of the Holy Grail. This bloodline was destined to survive until the End Times, through the vanquishing of ancient civilizations, through the rise and fall of great empires, through violent crusades and times of inquisition right into our own modern age and into its intended final recipient, who, due to the secretive nature of the efforts to nurture this bloodline, seems to have much more in common with an Antichrist figure than anything remotely resembling the Christ.

Could it be that this bloodline, being the secret held by all the ancient secret societies, is currently being made public and purposefully released into the mainstream as a way of laying a foundation for further secrets to emerge, in an apparent effort to mislead and deceive the masses? Among other damaging effects, these secrets tend to erode the divinity of Christ, while promoting a questionable lineage that is actually connected to the Antichrist. The Scriptures warned us about a false doctrine pertaining to a bloodline and genealogy that conveniently places Satan in position as the ultimate false Messiah, allowing his Antichrist to appear as Israel's long-anticipated Davidic Messiah. In other words, Satan is taking his own satanic, ancient, and evil Cainite lineage, and superimposing it upon King David's ancient, Holy, and Messianic lineage, in order to deceive Israel and the world. In the course of orchestrating this fraud, many false demonic signs and wonders will be used to back up these absurd claims. For just as Christ emerged from David's lineage, and was Israel's true Messiah, so Satan, by way of a counterfeit genealogy, will be embraced by Israel as its false Messiah.

In order to understand how the way has been prepared for the most likely candidate, Prince William, more should be said about his mother, and how the ritual sacrifice of Diana, helped prepare the way. Point de l'Alma hill and tunnel where Princess Diana died, means "Bridge of Souls." In fact, Pont de l'Alma was an ancient Merovingian sacrificial site honoring the goddess Diana. It was believed that anyone who died there, while serving the unholy bloodline of Cain, would be considered satanically blessed. This meant that, according to their occult belief system, their souls would be taken directly to heaven. It logically followed that, descendants of these divine souls, would also become divine, the equivalent of a saint or messianic figure. Therefore, according to the ancient mythologies, Prince William would be considered a divine progeny, fit to be the holy heir to the kingdom of the Earth. The death of Diana appears to have been a ritual designed to pave the way for her Antichrist progeny. The interchangeable goddesses and their namesake play a pivotal role in identifying the Antichrist and establishing his kingdom at the time of his advent. The "Queen of Witches" and the "Death-Bringing Goddess" is the bearer of the child who is to be Prince of the Kingdom of the Antichrist. Hence, Prince William is the most obvious choice. The era of the Once and Future King is upon us and "Brexit," the British exit from the European Union, is meant to scatter the lost sheep of the EU that they might be reassembled under a single shepherd, a satanically appointed King.

Genealogies attempting to establish how the British Royals are descended from the same holy lineage as Jesus remain at the heart of British-Israelism ideology. This false genealogy depicts King Arthur and King David, as well as King David's son, Solomon; the builder of the First Temple, in the Windsor Family Tree, a ridiculous claim that only the naïve would swallow, but will later be used to establish one arising out of the Windsor's Cainite lineage as Israel's true Messiah. As mentioned, some Rabbis and Jews within Israel are already preaching this deception.

This is not the first time that strange ideas about King Arthur returning have been promulgated, pacts made with Satan to obtain power, as well as demonic contact being established through angelic Enochian languages, or forbidden magical rites performed in an attempt to fulfill prophecy. It was Princess Elizabeth, later Queen Elizabeth I, who while being held under house arrest by her sister, Queen Mary Tudor, first encountered John Dee, a noted occultist and mathematician, who was himself imprisoned by Bloody Mary for a horoscope that he cast to determine when she would die. Within a few short years Mary was dead, and her sister, Elizabeth, was crowned Queen Elizabeth I, and the Elizabethan era was born.

Once establishing herself as Queen, Elizabeth wasted no time in employing John Dee, as her Royal Advisor in all the most important matters of state. In subsequent years, Elizabeth's Court occultist had made several key discoveries concerning magic and the occult, the most prominent of which was the discovery of a powerful "structured" language used to contact and control Fallen Angels, called Enochian. The Enochian language's actual origins are still unknown, but are believed to have been given to Dee by a demonic entity while the occultist was screeching with the assistance of a black onyx mirror. This notable occult language, like the Tables of Abramelin, and the Good-Evil knowledge of Kabbalah's Sephiroth "Tree of Life," served as the basis for much of the occult practices of the modern era. The language is still used by many Satanists today due to its unique ability to achieve desired results. As Royal Advisor, Sir John Dee held considerable influence over Elizabeth I, and is credited with no less than the creation of the British Empire itself, after he foretold that her destiny was to create a powerful navy through which she could systematically rule the world. Dee believed such control over world affairs was Elizabeth's due, because she was a direct heir of the legendary King Arthur, and that her first conquest should be the "New Atlantis," Dee's name for the Americas, the land located across the Atlantic. In time, while Elizabeth had a world to conquer, Dee went on to further his occult knowledge through his own travels in Europe, where he met Edward Kelly.

At the same time, various Fallen Angels, disguising themselves as gods, were dispatched by Satan to act as conduits for spreading every kind of falsehood under the guise of Gnosis. Just as the Fallen Angels had taught Cain's children how to build the first in a now long series of satanic pagan empires, so Dee and his disciple, Bacon, were taught the same falsehoods at the hands of demons. In like fashion, Master Masons teach their younger neophytes that they are merely the human representation of Jerusalem's Temple, meaning, they are representatives of Zion in the flesh. Of course, they fail to mention the reason that so much emphasis is placed on Solomon's Temple in Freemasonry. In effect, it is because Lucifer's ultimate goal is to be enthroned in the Temple through his own human embodiment. Such teachings are only hinted at in the lower degrees, and are only referred to less obliquely and more concretely at the 32nd Degree level. Neophytes go through the process of ascending the degrees, obtaining the ultimate secret through an arduous study of the occult, by way of the Satanic Kabbala, Luciferian metaphysics, or other Gnostic teachings, completely subverting the proper course which is to know and love one's Creator, the Divine Author of all there is.

Instead of the Truth that Christ is the only way, truth a light by which humankind can come to have intimate knowledge of the Father, lower degree Freemasons are taught no concept of Sin or of any godly process of redemption from sins, as all their Gnostic teachings are designed to steer them away from a Christian God, in order to promote the godless ideology of “Do what thou wilt.” In fact, this is the very definition given by Satanists for Satanism itself “Do as thou wilt, shall be the whole of the Law,” the law that bids one to commit sin, the law that brought ruin upon Eden and caused its inhabitants to sin. The apprentice Mason (magician) therefore, goes about his days studying all of the metaphysical and occult works provided him by his masters of higher degree, deludedly imagining he is doing himself, and the world around him a measure of good. This continual brainwashing continues until the Mason undergoes the teachings of the Master Mason, where by that time, he is ready to believe that Lucifer, as the God of Light, is not only the god of Freemasonry, but the god of all. Freemasons aim to achieve Lucifer’s goal of replacing God, by falsely portraying this as “restoring the balance in the Universe,” as the one currently in control of the universe is depicted as a tyrant and evil.

The Bible warns us about those who call good evil, and evil good, and it so happens that Freemasonry takes this to its ultimate conclusion by rendering Satan as God, and God as Satan. Instead of the most ancient God of Israel, Freemasons are taught by their satanic elders to worship Lucifer as a hybrid deity consisting of two ancient pagan gods attached to Jehovah. In this way, they can worship Lucifer as God, in the form of Satan’s two primary attributes which are represented most prominently by the male and female gods, Baal and the pagan-Egyptian Mother Goddess, Isis. With this strange unholy trinity of the Masons known as JA-BUL-ON (that was also reflected in the older god of the Knights Templar known as BA-PHO-MET) Freemasonry openly mocks the actual Triune Godhead of both Father and Son (I AM That I AM) and their shared Holy Spirit that unites the three as One.

Of all the apocalypse scenarios from various cultures, the Judeo-Christian one is by far the most specific in terms of predicting what religio-political events will lead up to the calamity. For prior to the return of the “King of Kings,” Jesus Christ, the Bible tells us that the majority of the Earth’s population will unite under a single monarch, the spawn of the Devil himself, the Antichrist. He will rule over a kingdom depicted in Revelation as taking the symbolic form of a dragon, “with seven heads and ten horns, and upon his horns ten crowns, and upon his heads the name of blasphemy.” (Revelation 13: 1.) This is the same beast that is described earlier in Chapter 12 as having been cast out of Heaven. “And his tail drew a third part of the stars of Heaven, and did cast them to the Earth.” (Revelation 12:4.) This is, of course, the same story as the biblical “War in Heaven,” in which Lucifer, God’s most beloved angel (and according to Jewish apocryphal tradition, God’s firstborn son) was cast out of Heaven for his rebellious nature, along with a third of the other angels, who had decided to rebel with him. This is represented in the Old Testament as preceding the Flood, and indeed, the whole event sounds like a mythologized account of a celestial occurrence, one that probably accompanied a catastrophic polar shift. The “Dragon” is Draco, a constellation that encircles the whole of the night’s sky, and is depicted as swallowing his own tail. A polar shift caused it to appear, from the perspective of ancient man, that he, along with one-third of the stars, had been cast out of the sky and into the sea – the sea that the Dragon would eventually rise out of again at the End of Time. This beast became thereafter known as Leviathan, “the Dragon of the Deep,” and the ocean itself, known also as “the Abyss,” was thereafter associated with him.

Many Bible prophecy preachers today are quite certain that the Beast of Revelation represents the rising European Union, which is quickly coalescing from an economic partnership into a true political empire of nations, a process that has been greatly facilitated by the events of September 11. Many see in this union a revitalization of the old Holy Roman Empire, held together in the Middle Ages by the Roman Catholic Church, as well as other Vatican-approved monarchs. Most of these monarchs, as well as their supreme head, the Holy Roman Emperor himself, came from royal houses descending from the family that first held the title “New Constantine,” a prototype of the Holy Roman Emperor title. That family was the Frankish line of the Merovingians, a line that most modern European royals, as well as all 45 of the U.S. presidents, descend from. The Merovingians, including their modern-day descendants, consider themselves to be inheritors of the blood lineage of Jesus Christ himself, through his consort, Mary Magdalene.

As the story goes, Christ survived the crucifixion, and fled with his pregnant wife to an area of Southern France friendly toward adherents of Judaism, where a substantial number of his kinsmen were already settled. There his descendants intermarried with local Visigoth nobility, giving birth to the royal line that would provide Europe with all of its subsequent monarchs, as well as the heads of the Holy Roman Empire. The proclaimed lineage of these Merovingians makes these people not only descendants of Christ, but also of the Judaic King David in their fabricated genealogy. Indeed, the royalty of Europe mimic the royalty of ancient Israel in form, symbol and ceremony very closely, cherishing their Davidic heritage as the source of their “Divine Right” to rule. For the throne of David was installed by God himself, who decreed that the office would be passed down to David’s descendants until the end of time. As the Bible states, “The scepter shall not depart from Judah... until Shiloh come.” (Genesis 49:10.)

Perhaps this is why our Anglo-European culture, presumed by most to be made up of Gentiles with pagan ancestry, is the world's main proponent of Judeo-Christian theology. In fact, many, such as Herbert W. Armstrong of the Worldwide Church of God, believe that it is not just our political leaders, but the majority of our population that carries the blood of the Israelites. Armstrong maintains that the ten "lost tribes of Israel" in fact can be found today scattered across Europe, Britain, and the former colonies like the US, Canada, and Australia. He makes a convincing case by analyzing words and place-names found throughout Europe that appear to be based on Hebrew. He argues that the word "brit" comes from "berith," the Hebrew word for "covenant," and that the word "Saxons" (as in "Anglo-Saxons") comes from "Isaac's Sons." He also points out a number of locations throughout Europe and especially Ireland that could have been named after the tribe of Dan, such as Dundalk, Dundee, Donegal, and of course, Denmark, meaning Dan's Mark." He even examines historical Irish legends stating that sometime prior to 700 B.C., a tribe called the "Tuatha de Danaan" (Tribe of Dan) arrived on the coast of Ireland and settled there, driving out other tribes along the way, and later becoming fixed in Irish legend as a fantastical race of giants. He then recounts a rather significant Irish folk tale regarding a supposed visit by the Prophet Jeremiah in 569 B.C. In that year "an elderly, white-haired patriarch," whom the locals referred to as a "saint," came to Ireland with a young woman named "Teia-Tephi," who was the daughter of an Egyptian king, and her husband, Simon Brach. Simon was the son of the King of Ireland, and the two had met in Jerusalem shortly before that city was sieged. They then went back to Ireland, along with Jeremiah, bearing a harp, an ark, and something called the "Lia-fail," which later became known as the "Stone of Destiny," the stone upon which all British monarchs must sit at their coronation. This is the same one that the Brits believe to be synonymous with Jacob's fabled pillow-stone, upon which he slept as he dreamt about wrestling with an angel. Armstrong finds significance in the fact that the word "lia-fail" reads the same forwards and backwards, perhaps an indication of its Hebraic origin.

It is the tribe of Dan that is named by many Bible prophecy preachers as being the tribe from which the Antichrist will spring. For one thing, Dan is the only tribe not mentioned in Revelation as having been "sealed" on their foreheads as "Children of God." One must assume, then, that the Danites are "sealed" with that other mark, the number of the Beast, 666. Furthermore, as J.R. Church writes in Guardians of the Grail: ...and the men who plan to rule the world!, "Four symbols are used in the Bible in relation to the Danites – a serpent, an eagle, a lion, and the bees." The first three are symbols now commonly used in European heraldry by Merovingian descendants, the serpent often being depicted as a dragon. The bees, however, are a symbol quite specific to the Merovingian dynasty. Church continues:

In the biblical story of Samson, who was a Danite, we find the famous riddle of the bees who made honey in the carcass of a lion, which had been killed by Samson. The symbolic nature of the bees could represent the concept that the descendants of the tribe of Dan would one day try to bring about the destruction of Judah, whose symbol was the lion, and from the carcass of the lion the tribe of Dan would attempt to produce the golden age of a world empire, symbolized by the honey.

Samson is further connected symbolically to the Merovingians because he, like the Merovingian kings, had hair with magical powers that disappeared when it was shorn. As for the serpent symbolism, this is supposedly based on the association of Dan with the astrological sign of Scorpio, although a scorpion is not quite a serpent. The Priory of Sion, the modern organization dedicated to the propagation of Merovingian interests, has published a poem with the suggestive title of Le Serpent Rouge – The Red Serpent. It contains thirteen stanzas, each written for a different sign of the zodiac, with a thirteenth sign called "Ophiuchus" – "The Serpent Holder," inserted between Scorpio and Sagittarius. Perhaps, in addition to referring to the red dragon of Revelation, this poem alludes to a thirteenth sign that is the real zodiac house of Dan, and perhaps also a thirteenth tribe of Israel that has been hidden from the public record. Dan is further associated with the serpent because of Genesis 49:17, which states: "Dan will be a serpent by the roadside, a viper along the path, that bites the horse's heels." But perhaps the tribe of Dan wished to do more than merely destroy the lion of Judah. It seems just as likely that Dan wished to unite with Judah, to intermarry into his bloodline and rightfully assume his God-given throne. After all, both tribes are referred to in Genesis as "a lion's whelp," perhaps indicating a connection between the two. And author Harold Camping has suggested that, "The king to come, the Messiah, will be of the House of David (Judean), but his mother will be a Danite." Does this refer to the fact that David's consort, Bathsheeba, was a Danite? Or to a more recent union of the tribes in the form of the Merovingian bloodline?

More evidence for a Danite origin of the Merovingians lies in the fact that Meroveus, the founder of the dynasty, is traditionally a descendant of Odin, linguistically connected with Dan, and that the Merovingians claims descent from the royal house of Troy, which was founded by Dardanos, son of Zeus, a figure we have associated with the Biblical figure of Cain, and with the origins of the Tuatha de Danaan. The tales of the Tuatha de Danaan have a mythic quality about them, and match almost precisely those of the Nephilim, the fallen angels who according to the Bible, and to other ancient legends, intermarried with mortal women to create a royal bloodline that comingled mortal genes with divine ones. This was, according to tradition, the cause of the War in Heaven in which Lucifer was cast to Earth. Among the offspring of this human-angel union was Cain, who was, say the legends, the son of Eve by Lucifer himself. Cain went on to become the father of a race of giants, called Cainites or Canaanites, who built civilizations all over the world. Cain founded a number of cities himself, and we have argued that he is essentially synonymous with Nimrod, who built the Tower of Babel. Although the race of Cain is popularly thought to have been cursed by God, the Bible says that God placed a mark upon Cain and all his descendants cursing those who would do them harm, even after the murder of his brother, Abel. In fact, the Cainites are remembered by every other culture as magnificent kings – teachers of wisdom and builders of nations. Even the word “king” comes from “Cain.” He was worshipped by his people as a god, depicted in the form of a sea-bull, or a “dragon.” This was the Babylonian religion that the Hebrews found so idolatrous and offensive. It even included the sacrifice of babies in a fiery pit. And yet many of the Hebrews, including their kings, practiced this religion, and intermarried with Canaanite women. Thus, it is conceivable, if not certain, that the bloodline of Cain interbred with the Davidic bloodline that eventually resulted in Jesus. The Merovingian Franks alluded to their Cainite descent with their legend that their founder, Meroveus, was the spawn of a sea-bull called the “Quinotaur,” a word not to be found in any dictionary, but which is etymologically linked with the name of Cain. Perhaps it is this intermingling of holy and infernal bloodlines that the Merovingian descendants known as the Angevins were referring to with their use of the double-barred Cross of Lorraine, said to represent both the blood of Christ, and of Satan, “the same artery and the same vein.”

Interestingly, the worship of Jesus as God incarnate has led to the formation of a religion that is, in all outward forms, a resurrection of the old Babylonian religion of Cain. Many of the ceremonies of Christianity, including Mass, Communion, Baptism, and Confession, are taken directly from the Babylonian priesthood, as well as many of the symbols and idols used by Catholicism. The construction of the Cathedrals resembles the ancient pagan temples of Babylon, and even the structure of the priesthood is the same, along with the requirements of celibacy and wearing black. But most importantly, the deities are, at heart, the same. All of the saints are said to possess powers that correspond with those of various pagan deities, and are worshipped as such by many people, especially throughout the Third World. The familiar statues of Mother Mary holding the baby Jesus mimic precisely those of Babylon’s Ishtar holding her baby. She, like the Virgin Mary, was called the “Queen of Heaven,” and the “Mother of God.” The traditional Catholic depiction of Mary ascending to Heaven matches that of the Babylonian goddess in every detail. This depiction is also precisely described in the twelfth Chapter of Revelation: “And there appeared a great wonder in heaven, a woman clothed with the Sun, and the Moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of 12 stars.” This woman gives birth to, “a man child, who was to rule all nations with a rod of iron.” This person is either the Anti-Christ, or his ancestor, Cain. Both would match this description.

The seven-headed dragon, as we know, is Europe. But what of the “Scarlet Whore” referred to in Revelation as riding on the back of the Great Beast, the one called “Mystery, Babylon the Great, Mother of Harlots and Abominations of the Earth”? There can be little doubt that Rome is the Scarlet Whore. This is made clear when it is specifically stated that, “The seven heads [of the Beast] are the seven mountains on which the woman sitteth.” (Revelation 17:9.) Rome was built upon seven hills. The ten crowns represent the ten kings who will be in charge of the European Union, presumably descendants of the ten lost tribes of Israel. The scarlet woman is also said in Revelation to be in possession of “a golden cup in her hand, full of the abominations and filthiness of her fornication.” (Revelation 17:4.) It would be no stretch to equate this cup with the Holy Grail, a traditional symbol of the bloodline of Christ, and of the womb that bore his descendants – the womb of Mary Magdalen (whose name, “Magdol” in the Babylonian tongue, means “Tower,” as in the “Tower of Babel.”) She too is traditionally thought of as a whore, and is worshiped in Southern France as an incarnation of Ishtar, in the form of the “Black Madonna.” She also is depicted in Catholic iconography as holding a vase, “filled with healing balm,” as it says in the poem Le Serpent Rouge, which she used to anoint Christ as the King of Judah just prior to his crucifixion. And we know that the “filthiness of her fornication” with Jesus is what beget the Merovingian bloodline that shall once more rule the European empire in the coming age.

Euro coin featuring Europa riding the sea-bull or Quinotaur. Is this the scarlet woman who rides the Beast in St. John's Revelation?

To be sure, the resurrection of the Holy Roman Empire via the European Union is in fact a stated goal of the modern Merovingian mouthpiece, the Priory of Sion, which has been manipulating European politics behind the scenes for decades now. As early as 1942, the Priory began publicly calling for a "United States of Europe," to be ruled over by kings of Merovingian descent. They even proposed a flag for the new empire, a circle of stars, like those which adorn the crown of the Queen of Heaven, and which adorn the flag of the EU today. An illustration from the Priory's official publication, Vaincre, depicts a person holding this flag and riding towards a sunset that is marked with the astrological sign of Aquarius, and mounted upon a white horse. Behold the pale horse below.

Illustration from Vaincre featuring proposed flag for the United States of Europe

Flag of the European Union

Interestingly, although supposedly at odds with orthodox Catholicism because of their claim to be descendants of Christ, and to be in possession of his “true teachings,” the Priory is also known under the official subtitle, “C.I.R.C.U.I.T.” – an acronym for French words which translate to, “Chivalry of Catholic Rules and Institutions of the Independent and Traditionalist Union.” It is easy to see how the Catholic Church could be “reformed” by descendants of Christ, armed with his as-yet-unrevealed teachings, and formed into a true “Universal Church” that could assimilate Protestants, Jews, and even pagans. This could then be used as the theological basis for a revised Holy Roman Empire, ruled by an emperor with descent from Christ, King David, and Cain, making him acceptable to all three religious groups, a Messiah to all cultures, ushering in an era of spiritual revival and global unity. He may even function as a priest-king, and because of his lineage, might be worshipped as an incarnation of God. This all sounds, to Bible prophecy preachers, a heck of a lot like the Antichrist. The “False Prophet” who initiates the worship of the Antichrist, described in Revelation as a beast with “two horns like a lamb” may be the Pope, who wears a miter with two horns – which, by the way, is modeled after a hat that was traditionally worn by Nimrod.

In addition to the European empire, the Merovingian descendants also covet the throne of Jerusalem, which is rightfully theirs through Davidic (and Messianic) descent. Through their military arm, the Knights Templar, the Priory of Zion initiated the Crusades to capture Jerusalem from the Saracens, aiming to make it a part of the Holy Roman Empire. The Templars were initially chartered (and their headquarters hosted on) the Temple Mount itself, with the help of Merovingian descendant Baldwin I, who held the title “King of Jerusalem.” This title is held today by Merovingian descendant Otto von Hapsburg of Austria, a member of the dynasty that last held the throne of the Holy Roman Empire. The Crusaders ultimately lost the Holy Land, which remained under Muslim influence until Britain (Israelite descendants) and the World Zionist Congress created the modern state of Israel, a homeland for apostate Jews which officially came into existence in 1948 with the assistance of military might. This was one of the major signs of the coming of the Apocalypse, according to Bible prophecy preachers, laying the groundwork for the creation of the “New Jerusalem.” Since that time, there has been nothing but conflict between the occupying Jewish settlers and the uprooted Palestinians, a group named after the Bible’s accursed “Philistines,” who worshipped Cain in the form of the fish-god, Dagon. This conflict threatens now more than ever to erupt into a massive world war between the Islamic East and the Occident, a conflict that could result in the predicted Final Battle of Armageddon. Another great sign of the End Times will be the re-building of the Temple of Jerusalem, and the erection of the “Abomination of Desolation,” an idol of the Anti-Christ to which sacrifices will be made within the temple’s inner sanctum. Interestingly, some have claimed that this is already in the works.

Guy Patton reports in his book, Web of Gold that: “Rabbi Ariel Bar Tzadok, and expert in the Torah and cabalistic prophecy, reported in 1997 that a cornerstone for the future third temple has already been laid less than 50 metres from the mosque at the centre of the Temple Mount.” Patton believes that if any of the lost treasures of Solomon’s Temple were to be discovered and publicly revealed, “the effect on the Jewish communities in Jerusalem, and elsewhere, would be dramatic, almost certainly resulting in a call from the Orthodox to rebuild the great Temple...” The Priory of Zion has publicly announced that they have possession of these items. And although they have yet to be revealed, something of a temple reconstruction did take place on April 18, 2001, when, as David Hatcher Childress writes in A Hitchhiker’s Guide to Armageddon, “Israel unveiled the ‘Virtual Temple’, a computer replica of the ancient temple and what it was like to visit the holy sanctuary.” The press release put out for the event reported that, “The computer simulation is just part of a new interactive museum that opened Wednesday just outside the Al Asqa Mosque, which sits on the land where Jews believe the remains of their two temples – one built by King Solomon, and the second, by King Herod – are buried...” This rebuilding of the Temple seems to be part of a plot, not only by the Jews, but also on the part of the Vatican, which appears to be commencing an effort to unite with Judaism and form a true one-world religion. Writes Tim Cohen in The Antichrist and a Cup of Tea: “In September, 1993, [Shimon] Peres signed a secret deal with the Pope promising Vatican hegemony over Jerusalem’s Old City by the year 2000.” Peres’ friend Mark Halter, who was apparently in charge of delivering the message to the Pope, was quoted as saying that, “The city will stay the capital of Israel, but will be administered by the Vatican. The city will have an Israeli mayor and a Palestinian mayor, both under orders from the Holy See.” A few years later, the Pope, barely able to stand, made the difficult journey to Jerusalem to make a formal reconciliation with the Jewish nation, apologizing for the Vatican’s seeming complicity with the Nazis during the Holocaust. And on March 11, 2001, Israeli President Moshe Katsav was named by the Bild newspaper as saying that he was “firmly in favor of his country joining the European Union.” One can see the above-mentioned actions initiating a backlash from the entire Muslim world that could result in the prophesied Battle of Armageddon.

But is the Bible being literal when it speaks of the Anti-Christ as a “king” who will sit on the throne of David, or will he be a mere “President” or “Prime Minister”? Tim Cohen, who believes that the Merovingian descendant Prince Charles of England is the Anti-Christ, claims that the Prince (who, by the way, has been asked to be called “Defender of All Faiths,” instead of the traditional “Defender of the Faith” when he assumes the throne of England) has put in a formal request to become the King of the European Union as well. But monarchy is an anachronism of the past, is it not? Indeed, both patriotism and religious faith were thought of as anachronisms before September 11. Now they are back with fury. How far away is a revitalization of the monarchical system? It is hard not to notice that our current President did not win his office by popular vote, but by a twist of fate that allowed him to assume the “throne” once occupied by his father, President Bush Sr., the equivalent of a monarchical succession. He even appears to be carrying on with the work of his predecessor, fighting a continuation of his father’s battle with the Islamic world, complete with many of the same cabinet members. Bush Jr. has achieved an unprecedented unification of the public behind himself and his agenda, and acquired a loyalty from the populace not seen since the institution of representational government replaced that of monarchy. Bush even sees his “reign” in messianic terms, and has been quoted as saying that he believes himself to be on a “divine mission. He speaks of our enemies as “evildoers,” and of the current war against them as a new “crusade” – rather like the ones initiated by his ancestors, the Knights Templar. Indeed, we do have a home-grown royal family, and it’s not the Kennedys, but the Bushes – a royal family that intends to lead us into the New World Order (George Sr.’s terminology), and the Final Battle of Armageddon. Ronald Reagan, who preceded George Bush Sr. in the White House, was quoted as saying during his Presidential campaign that, “I sometimes believe we’re headed very fast for Armageddon right now.”

So the men in charge of the Western World, who have the power to manipulate the world events that would make Armageddon possible are aware that the prophecies of the End Times are being fulfilled, and they are doing nothing to stop it, but in fact are working to bring them to fruition? Could it be that they are consciously fulfilling what they see as their apocalyptic destiny, and are purposely commencing steps to hasten the rise of the Anti-Christ? Are the leaders of the Western world willingly serving the powers of evil?

Perhaps. We know that the Merovingian kings are associated with a bloodline that has long practiced religious rites absolutely forbidden to the Israelites by their god, but which nonetheless captured the allegiance of many of their kings. We know that these religious rites are still practiced today by the secret societies to which many of our leaders belong, and that these leaders come from this bloodline as well. We know that this bloodline, although it includes Jesus Christ, ultimately stems from Cain, who was believed by the Israelites to have been cursed, the son of the Devil himself. And this is also a trait that the prophecies say will be shared by the Anti-Christ. The Mark of Cain, which God placed upon his forehead as a seal of protection against the vengeful tendencies of his countrymen, may be the equivalent of the Mark of the Beast, which the Anti-Christ will one day force his subjects to be branded with. From an orthodox Christian perspective, any global government set up by such a person would be the Kingdom of Satan, and any religious images that he might erect in a newly-rebuilt Temple of Solomon would be called the “Abomination of Desolation.”

But perhaps it is more complicated than that. Evidence indicates that these Merovingian descendants see themselves as fulfilling a cosmic destiny that is beyond good and evil. To them, fulfilling one’s pre-ordained role in history is a sacred duty, whether for good or for evil, and that end justifies any means. This is one of the most basic and universal tenets of the secret societies and mystery schools to which our global leaders belong. In fact, the value of achieving a balance of good and evil energies is one of their most treasured secrets, and they seek to embody that principle in everything they do. They see the Devil as a brother of Christ, and some even see that Anti-Christ as a sort of “second Messiah.” In The Koran, there is a tradition which states that there will be two messiahs at the End Times, the “Messiah ben David,” and his arch-rival, the “Messiah ben Joseph.” Since the appearance of both messiahs is necessary in order for the return of the Kingdom of God to ensue, those who bring about the rise of the “Anti-Christ” figure are actually playing a vital role in God’s plan.

This, it appears, is what the members of the “bloodline of the Holy Grail” have set about to do, and it certainly does not appear that they intend to sit back and let destiny unroll before them like a carpet. They actively work, plot, and conspire to actualize their prophesized destiny. Evidence indicates that Jesus Christ conspired with others to fulfill the traditional messianic prophecies of his culture, and actually became the Messiah by means of his action and will. This concept was explored in the 1960s with the publication of Dr. Hugh Schonfield’s The Passover Plot, and is a major component of the theory that Christ faked his death on the cross so that he could go on to father a royal dynasty in France. Might not his descendants now be enacting an “Apocalypse Plot” in order to hasten the return of God’s kingdom on Earth? They also see themselves as descendants of Cain, destined to bring about a new “Golden Age,” with a global empire much like that which existed during his reign. Eastern tradition says that every new age is opened by an “avatar,” an incarnation of the “Lord of the Earth” (one of the titles used by Cain), who overthrows the old order and institutes a new order throughout the world. Since the prevailing order today is mainly Judeo-Christian, any avatar of a new age would be perceived by adherents of the old order as necessarily “Anti-Christian,” even if he is of the same bloodline as the previous avatar, Christ. Indeed, throughout history, kings have most often had their kingdoms overthrown by their own children. Orthodox Christians might find it a sickening irony that the Anti-Christ would actually be one of Christ’s descendants, but to the servants of the Holy Grail, it is seen as poetic and pre-ordained. They also understand the necessity of Apocalypse in between ages, to cleanse the Earth of anything that is unfit to exist within the new paradigm. This is the burden of destiny that the members of the Grail family have evidently taken upon themselves, and they stand poised to lead us into a golden sunset marked, as it is in the Vaincre illustration, with the sign of the Age of Aquarius.

It is this astrological age which our globe is currently heading into, the sign of the water-bearer, fresh on the heels of the previous age of Pisces, the fishes, another water sign. This, according to many interpreters, signifies that the previous age from which we are just emerging was dominated by Christian ideology, since Christ's major symbol (prior to the imposition of the paganized cross as his insignia) was the "Ichthys" fish sign. But why are there two fishes in the zodiac sign of Pisces? If Christ was one of the fish, who is the other? An interesting interpretation can be found in C.G. Jung's Aion: Researches into the Phenomenology of the Self, in a chapter called "The Ambivalence of the Fish Symbol." In it he explores Jewish cabalistic traditions which state: "The time preceding the coming of the Messiah falls in twelve parts, and the Messiah will appear in the twelfth. As a time division, the number twelve points to the Zodia, of which the twelfth is the Fishes. Leviathan will then rise out of the sea." Jung argues that the Pisces were originally not mere fishes, but the two sea-monsters mentioned in the Bible, Behemoth and Leviathan. These two beasts, eternally locked in conflict, represent, he says, the Lord Yahweh struggling with his split-off shadow self, the Devil. They also symbolically allude to Christ and his twin brother, the Anti-Christ. These two shall in the end fight one final battle, equivalent to battle of Gog and Magog mentioned in Revelation, says Jung. Afterwards, apocryphal tradition teaches that Leviathan will be cut up and served as Eucharistic food to the righteous few who survive the Tribulation. This symbolizes the end of the Age of Pisces, and any kingdom that would be established afterwards would rule during the Age of Aquarius.

The importance of all this fish and water symbolism should be obvious to any Dagobert's Revenge reader. For as we have argued numerous times before, the messianic Merovingian bloodline descends not only from Christ the fish, and the Judeo-Christian line of David, but also from the Tribe of Dan, the Philistines, the Canaanites, the Phoenicians, the Babylonians, the Sumerians, and ultimately, the Atlanteans, whose world-famous monarch, Cain, "the Quinotaur," is the Merovingians' most celebrated ancestor. All of these groups were known in their times as "sea peoples," who had built their empires largely with their mastery of the skills of navigation. Also, Cain, as you will recall, was the inspiration for the legendary figure of Leviathan. Cain's glorious Atlantean empire was destroyed in the previous apocalypse, and sank beneath the salty green waves of the sea. But the stated goal of Cain's Merovingian descendants, and the current world leaders who serve them, is to build a new Atlantis. This resurrection is often pictured as actually involving the continent of Atlantis literally rising up out of the sea – sort of like Leviathan is prophesized to rise out of the sea at the end of the world. Perhaps this prophecy merely symbolizes the rising global empire that the Merovingians are bringing to fruition right now. Such an unbridled beast will need to be reined in by a strong master, a messianic king who will "rule the nations with an iron scepter," and hold dominion over the Earth. God willing, you and I will be among the lucky few to witness this unveiling of the ages, the crowning glory of the generations.

REFERENCE

1. Kieth, A.(2011). "Unlawful Killing," Associated-Rediffusion Allied Stars Ltd.
2. Diana - Secrets of The Crash, ITV, 1998, quoted in The Biggest Secret, p.429.
3. Nick, A.(2008). "Diana inquest: MI6 plotted tunnel murder," <http://www.telegraph.co.uk/news/uknews/1578498/Diana-inquest-MI6-plotted-tunnel-murder.html>.
4. Donal, M. (2013). "SAS's lamping unit used laser to dazzle Princess Diana's driver," Sept. 15, 2013, <http://www.express.co.uk/news/uk/429536/EXCLUSIVE-SAS-s-lamping-unit-used-laser-to-dazzle-Princess-Diana-s-driver>.
5. Agent quoted in Sue Reid. (2013). "Diana, that SAS murder claim and why it may not be as mad as you think: 16 years on, the conspiracy theories won't go away. Sue Reid, who's studied all the evidence, has found tantalising new clues," Published August 30, 2013, Updated August 31, 2013, <http://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-2407571/Princess-Diana-SAS-murder-claim--mad-think-says-SUE-REID.html#ixzz2dUJbdmtH>.
6. Ibid.
7. "Princess Diana: Ex-wife of soldier who claimed SAS murdered royal now in hiding," October 13, 2013, <http://www.mirror.co.uk/news/uk-news/princess-diana-ex-wife-soldier-who-2367737#ixzz2ikr4TZ73>.
8. James Rush and Francesca Infante, "Was Princess Diana MURDERED by British soldier? Metropolitan Police 'assessing credibility' of new claim made in court martial of SAS sniper Danny Nightingale," Published August 17, 2013, Updated August 18, 2013,
9. <http://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-2396208/Was-Princess-Diana-MURDERED-British-soldier-Metropolitan-Police-assessing-credibility-new-claim.html>.
10. Kieth, A. (2011). "Unlawful Killing," Associated-Rediffusion Allied Stars Ltd.
11. James Rush and Francesca Infante, "Was Princess Diana MURDERED by British soldier? Metropolitan Police 'assessing credibility' of new claim made in court martial of SAS sniper Danny Nightingale," Published August 17, 2013, Updated August 18, 2013, <http://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-2396208/Was-Princess-Diana-MURDERED-British-soldier-Metropolitan-Police-assessing-credibility-new-claim.html>.
12. "Dying MI5 Agent Admits to Killing Princess Diana in Deathbed Confession," https://worldtruth.tv/dying-mi5-agent-admits-to-killing-princess-diana-in-deathbed-confession/?utm\_source=facebook&utm\_medium=social&utm\_campaign=SocialWarfare

13. George Freund, "Death of a Princess: The Case for a Case against Mohamed Al-Fayad," May 15, 2011, <http://www.conspiracy-cafe.com/apps/blog/show/7052323-death-of-a-princess-the-case-for-a-case-against-mohamed-al-fayad->
14. Princess Diana's letter to her butler, Oct., 1996, quoted in "Unlawful Death," documentary Youtube.
15. Kieth, A. (2011). "Unlawful Killing," Associated-Rediffusion Allied Stars Ltd.
16. David Icke, The Biggest Secret, 426, 427.
17. Radar Staff, "The Queen: Amazing Secret Life!" Feb 3, 2017, <http://radaronline.com/videos/queen-elizabeth-secret-life/>.
18. <http://www.cainite.net/>.
19. Ibid.
20. "Unlawful Death," YouTube.
21. <http://www.cainite.net/>.
22. Peter Hounam and Derek McAdam, Who Killed Diana? p 145. 57, referenced in The Biggest Secret, p.443.
23. The Biggest Secret, pp.443,444.
24. "Whoever Controls Princess Diana Controls the World," <https://web.archive.org/web/20111106011145/http://www.warbaby.com/PSYCHOPUSSY/diana.html>.
25. Andrew Morton, Diana: Her True Story, quoted in David Icke, The Biggest Secret, pp, 413, 414.
26. Ibid.
27. Ibid.
28. Ibid.
29. Lawrence Gardner, Witchcraft Out of the Shadows: A Complete History p. 172-173.
30. A History of Witchcraft p. 152-154.
31. David Icke, The Biggest Secret, p.448.
32. Charles Cameron, "She Became an Icon: The Life and Death of Princess Diana in Millennial Discourse," <http://home.earthlink.net/~hipbone/Diana.html>.
33. Ibid.<http://www.withoneaccord.org/store/DivineKing.html>.
34. David Icke, The Biggest Secret, p.417.
35. Ibid., p.418.
36. Ibid., p.418, 419.
37. Peter Hounam and Derek McAdam, Who Killed Diana? p 64. 44 Ibid, pp 73, 74, sourced in The Biggest Secret, p.422.
38. Ibid., p.423.
39. Ibid., p.425.
40. "Dispatches," sourced in David Icke, The Biggest Secret, p.426.
41. David Icke, The Biggest Secret, p.432.
42. Ibid., p.427.