PAMPAS GRASS

Mistake Leads to Invasion

Imported from South America as an ornamental plant due to its beautiful plumes, pampas grass is now threatening our wetland ecosystems. Originally nursery staff sold only female plant cuttings, a safe propagation technique. Recently, some nurseries began offering both male and female plants. Wind can carry loose seeds from mature plants up to 25 km (15 miles) away, allowing uncontrolled growth in sensitive areas like wetlands.

A large stand of pampas grass grows in the wetlands near the southeast corner of Palomar Airport Road and Paseo Del Norte in Carlsbad.

Plant Facts
Pampas Grass
Cortaderia jubata

Pampas grass is a large coarse-leaved grasslike bush that can grow up to 3 m (9ft.) high. Each female plant can produce up to 100,000 seeds per flower head.

What can you do?

Avoid using this grass in your yard. Ask your nursery not to sell it. Stop seeds from spreading by cutting plumes and placing them in plastic bags. Throw the bags in the trash. Do not mulch the plumes!

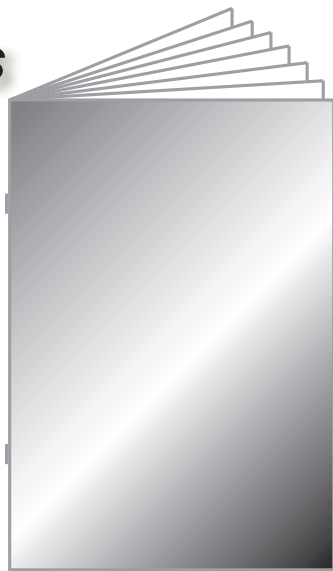

Funded by a grant by the City of Carlsbad to Agua Hedionda Lagoon Foundation in cooperation with the Carlsbad Watershed Network.

Additional Details

Prices effective 04/01/2014.

Prices and terms of sale are subject to change without notice.
Call for additional details.

Production Time:

Allow at least one business day to produce print proof for print approval. Each price set in the catalog includes one proof set. All additional requested proofs will be subject to additional charges. Shipping charges are not included in pricing.

Paper Stock:

With consistency in mind, we consider the quality, brightness and availability of each paper we choose for our products. If the stock paper becomes unavailable, we will replace it with a comparable stock. We reserve the right to do so without notice.

Color Accuracy:

We cannot match color as displayed on computer monitors; therefore, PDF proofs should only be approved for size and content, not for color. We, at Cornerstone Printing, do everything we can to match color as accurate as possible. We guarantee an 85% color match accuracy using CMYK digital printing technology. We have the latest in computer technology, color matching systems and printing equipment to ensure the clearest image, best color and highest quality printing possible.

Print Ready Files:

It is our goal to accurately reproduce your product from your file. We examine your electronic file for print quality, color consistency and print margins, not accuracy of content or spelling of information. We are not responsible for the accuracy of your Print Ready File. Please proofread your proof carefully, checking all of the type, bleeds, images and content thoroughly. For mailing pieces, it is your responsibility to verify that your artwork complies with current U.S. Postal Service regulations and restrictions
