1 GLASS

1.1 CAULFIELD GLASS

Liam Caulfield is an extremely talented Dubliner, who works and lives in the North Dublin town of Swords.

Liam's main influences come from the Irish Arts and the fruits of his inspired work are sought and bought as far away as America.

But it is probably the sophistication of Liam's work that has business people, individuals and collectors scrambling to become owners of these elaborate gems.

Irish Celtic Souvenirs capture the beauty of the traditional and easily recognisable Celtic Images, through his chosen medium, glass

These pieces are hand chiselled to create a unique, bold and elegant look. The “look” can be represented through clear or frosted glass – the choice is yours.

Depending on your taste or purpose, the addition of a pen set, can turn the art into a desktop piece, which makes the gift practical as well as an intrinsically beautiful work of art.

While Celtic images are depicted here, the artist can represent any image required on to the chosen piece. Indeed, if you have any thoughts on the actual design, Irish Celtic Souvenirs will accommodate these to potentially give you a unique, bespoke and individual art piece - in essence designed by you - now that's uniqueness.

2 SILVERSMITHING AND JEWELLERY

2.1 SEAMUS GILL

Seamus Gill is a master of working in Silver. His work combines the vision of his designs, his mastery of technique and his control of the material.

His designs exploit the working qualities of Silver, bringing out the beauty of this wonderful and versatile material.

Using traditional Silversmithing Skills, he fully exploits the malleability and rigidity of Silver. Shaping the metal by bending, twisting and forming, each piece is finished using subtle textures or a high polish.

PRESENTATION PIECES

Silverware is ideal as a presentation piece.

We work closely with the client and can design and make a piece specifically to honour a person, achievement or event.

Silverware is always a joy to receive.

AWARDS

Throughout time, as an award, silver probably has the highest prestige.

We have made awards for many sporting events and competitions.

These are unique pieces that someone can be proud to win, they honour the sponsor's involvement and often become symbols of the event.

MEDALS AND CORPORATE JEWELLERY

Throughout time, jewellery has been presented as a gift, an award, to show appreciation or to mark an occasion.

We can make a unique one-off piece or several thousand pieces.

We can design and make an abstract form representing the spirit of an occasion or create an exact copy of your image or logo in precious metals.

3 LUXURY LEATHER GOODS

3.1 CHESNEAU

Established twenty-five years ago by French born Edmond Chesneau, when he relocated from Paris to Dublin – Chesneau Leathers is Ireland's leading Luxury leather goods house, based in County Kilkenny.

Both a designer and a craftsman, Edmond combines his early traditional training of meticulous finish, refined detailing and the use of exquisite quality leather, with his own unique vision of contemporary, elegant, understated functional design.

Chesneau is a luxury brand. Leather is a noble material; it ages with grace and character. Edmond does not consider himself as a fashion designer, more an architect. He creates something to survive time, something classical, with elegance rather than simply catching a passing trend.

Choose from a comprehensive collection of exquisitely crafted products, ideal for business, travel and everyday use.
